Below are all the new, previously unadvertised openings at the university. You may receive full information about these and other previously advertised positions at www.calpoly.edu/hoover/ccbhub/categories.htm.

FACULTY (Adm. 312, ext. 6-2844). Candidates are asked to contact the appropriate department office at the phone number listed for more information and an application. Please submit all application materials to the department head/chair unless otherwise specified. Rank and salary are commensurate with qualifications and experience, and timeframe where applicable, unless otherwise stated.

493026: Lecturer(s), Statistics Department (756-7709). Two lecturer positions, full-time, for 2000-01 academic year, with possible renewal. Salary commensurate with qualifications and experience. Primary responsibility: teaching undergraduate courses. M.S. in statistics or equivalent graduate level training required. Preferred demonstrate excellence in teaching and/or industrial experience involving statistics. Contact Jay Devore, chair, Statistics Department, or e-mail jdevore@calpoly.edu. Reference required.

493031: Lecturer, Physics Department (756-2448). Lecturer position, full-time, for 2000-01 academic year. Salary range $40,480-448,000. Primary duties and responsibilities are to teach undergraduate physics (and possibly astronomy) courses. Ph.D. in physics or astrophysics, or closely related field with strong physics background required by Sept. 15, 2000. The successful applicant must provide evidence of (or potential for) efficacy in teaching, an excellent letter of application, resume, statement of professional goals (10 pages maximum), and three letters of recommendation supplied directly by Chair, Lecturer Appointments Committee, Physics Department.

493030: Lecturer, Modern Languages and Literatures Department (756-1205). Lecturer position, full-time, for 2000-01 academic year. Salary commensurate with qualifications and experience. Native or near-native fluency in French and English required. Ph.D. or ABD preferred. M.A. required. Preference given to candidates with experience in teaching lower-division Spanish language classes. Evidence of outstanding teaching and experience with comprehensive instruction required. Contact Bianca Rosenfeld, chair, Modern Languages and Literatures Department at rosenfeld@calpoly.edu. Reference required.

493030: Lecturer on all materials. Closing date: Feb. 11.

...DATELINE...

Monday, January 17 (continued)

Music: "Show Boat," Harman Hall, 8 p.m. (Pre-concert lecture, Alyson McMamore (Music), Philip Hall, 7 p.m. Also Tuesday and Jan. 19.

Tuesday, January 18

Music: "Show Boat," Harman Hall, 8 p.m. (Pre-concert lecture, Alyson McMamore (Music), Philip Hall, 7 p.m. Also Jan. 19.

Wednesday, January 19

Books at High Noon: Frank Owen (Mechanical Engineering) and David Braun (Electrical Engineering), "Depicting on the Right Side of the Brain" by Betty Edwards, Vernanda Cafe, noon.

Music: "Show Boat," Harman Hall, 8 p.m. (Pre-concert lecture, Alyson McMamore (Music), Philip Hall, 7 p.m. Also Jan. 19.

Thursday, January 20

Physics Colloquium: Dave Hafemeister (Physics), "Energy Economies." Science E-45, 11 a.m.

Speaker, Music: Dwyte Webster (Santa Southern) "Science-era. - Martin Luther King and the New Calvinism." Also pianist Cecil Lyte (UC San Diego), "Rags to Other Riches." Theatre, 11 a.m. Lyte also to perform at Mt. Carmel Lutheran Church, San Luis Obispo, 7:30 p.m.

Speaker: David Braun (Electrical Engineering) and Kevin Kingsbury (Chemistry and Biochemistry), "Polymer LED (light-emitting diode) Research," Vernanda Cafe, noon.

Music: Basketball: Nevada, Matt Gym, 7 p.m. (5)

...Servatius...

Continued from page 1

Servatius served as Management Department head for 19 years and as acting dean of the College of Business for more than 9 years.

After retiring in 1984, he remained an active supporter of the Alumni Association, which awarded him its first Distinguished Service Award in 1999.

"Owen was one of a small group of people who early on helped to develop a curriculum designed for students at Cal Poly," said President Baker. "His insightful, humorous and sensitive interactions with students are remembered with great fondness by thousands of Cal Poly alumni."

It was his wish that his life and contributions be honored through a scholarship program named for him in 1998. Send donations for the Owen Servatius College of Business Scholarship Fund to the Dean's Office, College of Business.

...York...

Continued from page 1

During the memorial service, candid photos of York were displayed. Anyone who has pictures of her is asked to bring them to the International Education and Preparation Program Office, Room 106 in the Mathematics and Science Building. Those who would like to speak at the memorial service may call Barbara Andres at ext. 6-5837.

Contributions in York's memory may be made to the Marilyn York Endowment Fund for International Students. Checks should be made payable to the Marilyn York Endowment Fund and sent to Planned Giving and Endowments, Heron Hall 113.

A college scholarship fund has also been set up at Mid-State Bank on behalf of her two daughters. Checks should be made payable to the Britannia and Allie York Memorial Fund and mailed to 1356 Isoback St., San Luis Obispo, CA 93407.

Ticket information to performances on campus are on sale at the Performing Arts Ticket Office Monday through Friday 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Monday to Saturday 4 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.

Call ext. 6-2787, or fax your order to ext. 6-6088.

...TICKET INFORMATION...
Library expands access to remote users

Because of overwhelming demand, the Kennedy Library has implemented the use of a "proxy server," allowing all Cal Poly computer users to access the library's subscribed databases regardless of which Internet provider is used.

In the past, those using AOL or TheGrid or any other non-Cal Poly service were denied access.

The process will be seamless for the user coming in from the Cal Poly modern pool. However, when users from other services attempt to use a subscribed database, they will be prompted for their last name and 14-digit barcode number found at the bottom of campus ID cards.

That's the good news. The bad news is that making links and bookmarks within the subscribed databases is a tricky task.

Call the library's Reference Room staff members for help at ext. 6-2649. Instructions available at http://www.lib.calpoly.edu/proxy/linking.html. The instructions are also located under the Faculty Services section of the Library's Home Page at http://www.lib.calpoly.edu.

Obituaries

Cheryl A. (Dorethy) Clay, former secretary in the Admissions office, died Dec. 29.

Clay was hired as a clerk-typist in 1962 and retired as a secretary to the head of the Admissions office in 1975. During her 13 years, she earned three promotions.

Rollings, Tony

Rollings taught at Cal Poly from 1968 until 1989. He also taught English literature at Eastern Michigan University and the University of Wisconsin.

Critic of U.S. policy in Central America to speak

A Maryland priest and outspoken critic of U.S. foreign policy in Central America will speak Thursday (Jan. 13) about his campaign to close a school where the United States trained Latin American military personnel.

Father Roy Bourgeois will talk on the School of the Americas at 7 p.m. in Chumash Auditorium.

Bourgeois founded School of the Americas Watch, an organization that focuses its attention on the U.S. Army training program based at Fort Benning, Ga. The school was founded in 1991 by the Peace University.

Bourgeois says the school has taught more than 60,000 Latin American soldiers and military personnel combat skills, commando tactics, military intelligence procedures, anti-narcotics operations and torture techniques.

The school spends approximately $20 million of U.S. taxpayers' dollars each year to train 900-2,000 soldiers.

Bourgeois, the so-called "priest-soldier," spent seven years in prison for civil disobedience. He has protested the School of the Americas since 1990. At the first protest, about 10 friends joined him. More than 10,000 participated in a November 1999 protest.

For more information, call Sister Mary Pat White at the Newman Center at 543-4103. D

Nominations sought

The Statue of Woman Committee is seeking nominations for five scholarships, all designed to recognize students who have demonstrated a commitment to the rights and welfare of women.

• The James M. Duenez Scholarship is targeted for an individual who has demonstrated a commitment to the rights of women and who is considering a career as a feminist attorney. Preference will be given to a liberal arts major.

• The Vicki and Darell Farrar Scholarship is for a student with a minimum over-all GPA of 3.0 and who is enrolled in the College of Engineering or the chemistry, physics, or statistics major in the College of Science and Mathematics. In addition, the student must have served as a leader in organizations that have the primary purpose of promoting women’s rights.

• The Robert S. Harmon Scholarship is for a student who has demonstrated commitment to the rights of women and is considering a career as an investigative reporter.

• The Jane Ryan Scholarship is given to a student who has demonstrated commitment to the rights of women and has been identified as having the potential to provide moral leadership in the workplace of the future.

• The Dr. Shirley H. Walker Scholarship is given to a student with a minimum overall GPA of 3.0 and who has been identified as having provided leadership on projects that promote women's rights.

Only nominations submitted by faculty and staff members will be considered. Eligible students must be enrolled through fall 2000, when the awards will be disbursed.

Nominations are due Jan. 21, should include the student's name and an explanation of why the student is being nominated.

For more information, call Stefano at ext. 6-2670. D

Foundation Board to meet

The Foundation Board of Directors will meet Thursday (Jan. 21) in the Academic Administration Conference Room 124. This is a public meeting. For more information, call Sister Mary Pat White at the Newman Center at 543-4103. D

‘King and the millennium’ topic of Jan. 20 talk

Sankarapantula, Martin Luther King and the New Millennium‘ is the topic of a lecture scheduled in observance of Martin Luther King’s birthday at 8 a.m. Thursday, Jan. 20 in the Interfaith Chapel. Keynote speaker Dwight Webster, director of the Center for African and African-American Studies at Northeastern University at New Orleans, will speak at 11 a.m. in the Theatre.

Also appearing are Cecil Lytle, concert pianist and provost of the Thurgood Marshall College at UC San Diego. Lytle will present a preview of his Rags to Other Riches' collection, a selection of works written by founders of the music programs at historically black colleges and universities.

Lytle will give the complete recital at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 20 at Mt. Carmel Lutheran Church. (See related story, left.)

Pianist Cecil Lytle

‘Rags to Other Riches’ title of Jan 20 concert

Cecil Lytle, internationally acclaimed pianist and Provost Thurgood Marshall College provost at UC San Diego, will give a concert titled “Rags to Other Riches” at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 20 at Mt. Carmel Lutheran Church in San Luis Obispo.

The program will look at the music that generated pop music - jazz — and will examine the effects of 19th century ragtime, then move into the music of the 20th century. The concert will include works by Duke Ellington, Scott Joplin, Fats Waller, Herb Hancock and Eddie Harris.

Before becoming a teacher and scholar, Lytle won first-prize in the Franz Liszt International Piano Competition.

He has performed with such jazz musicians as 'Bad' Jones, James Newton and Anthony Braxton, as well as with gospel singers Edwin Hawkins and James Dicos.

His recordings range from gospel to jazz, from traditional to contemporary.

The concert is being presented in conjunction with Cal Poly activities celebrating Martin Luther King Jr’s birthday. (See related story, left.)

The concert is sponsored by the Music Department and is partially funded by the Cal Poly Plan. For more information, call the Music Department at ext. 6-2607.

Books at High Noon continue Jan. 19

Frank Owen, a professor in the Mechanical Engineering Department, and David Braun, professor in Electrical Engineering, will be present at “Drawing on the Right Side of the Brain” as the first winter quarter Books at High Noon presentation Jan. 19.

The book, by Betty Edwards, claims that drawing is natural and easy if what is seen by the right brain can be recorded without intervention by the left brain.

Six additional book reviews are scheduled winter quarter, all in the Veranda Cafe at 10 a.m.

• Jan. 24: Mary Kate Harrington (Writing Skills), ‘Blindness’ by Jose Saramago. The tale of redemption and love — and the tenousness of both — takes place in an unnamed country where everyone, one by one, goes blind.

• Feb. 3: Carl Rutlin (Political Science), ‘Paradise Lost’ by Peter Schrag. The book discusses the rise and decline of California at the end of the century.

• Feb. 17: Harry Hellenbrand (College of Engineer­ing), ‘The Shape of the River: Long-Term Consequences of Considering Race as the Variable in U.S. History’ by William Bowen and Derek Curtis and ‘The Big Test: Secret History of the American Meritocracy’ by Nicholas Lemann. These books describe how America’s select institutions “have defined and delimited the meritocracy.”

• Feb. 24: Richard Kranzdorf (Political Science), “We wish to inform you that tomorrow we will be killed” by Philip Gourevitch. The book provides an account of the 1994 genocide in Rwanda and in aftermath.

• March 1: Barbara Morningstar (English), ‘The Bloody Chamber’ by Angela Carter. This 1979 collection of short stories is a “quirky retelling of old tales.”

For more information on Books at High Noon, call political science Professor Phil Fetzer at ext. 6-6147. D

Programs scheduled on various topics

Pathways into a Better Life: A Lecture on "Granites and Volcanoes" by Bennetta Young, geology professor at the University of Wisconsin, will be presented in the Founders Hall Lecture Room on Monday (Jan. 17) at 11 a.m.

The program will focus on "The Evolution of the Lithosphere" with topics ranging from the history of Earth's crust to the evolution of the ocean floor and the dynamics of plate tectonics.

The lecture is sponsored by the Academic Senate Office, Math and Science 143. D
Library expands access to remote users

Because of overwhelming demand, the Kennedy Library has implemented the use of a "proxy server," allowing all Cal Poly computer users to access the library's subscribed databases regardless of which Internet provider is used. In the past, those using AOL or TheGrid or any other non-Cal Poly service were denied access.

The process will be seamless for the user coming in from the Cal Poly modem pool. However, when users from other services attempt to use a subscribed database, they will be prompted for their last name and 14-digit barcode number found at the bottom of campus ID cards. That's the good news. The bad news is that making links and bookmarks within the subscribed databases is a bit tricky.

Call the library's Reference Room staff members for help at ext. 6-2649. Instructions are available at http://www.lib.calpoly.edu/proxy/linking.html. The instructions are also located under the Faculty Services section of the library's Home Page at http://www.lib.calpoly.edu.

New deadline for CPR

Public Affairs reminds campus offices that the Cal Poly Report deadline has been moved up by one day — from Thursday to Wednesday. Information should be sent to polynews@polymail, faxed to ext. 6-5533, or mailed to Public Affairs in Heron Hall.

Remember, we need to have your article by 10 a.m. the Wednesday before you'd like it to appear.

For more information, call Public Affairs at ext. 6-1511.

New topic for Jan. 20 Physics Colloquium

The Jan. 20 Physics Colloquium Series has been changed: Physics Professor Dave Hafemeister will discuss "Energy Economics."

The program will begin at 11 a.m. in Room F-45 in the Science Building. The previously announced presentation on "Gravitation and Volcanoes" by Bennett Schmidt has been cancelled.

For more information, contact Hafemeister at ext. 6-2205 or dhafemei@calpoly.edu.

Oblivious

Dorothy Clay, former secretary in the Admissions office, died Dec. 29. Clay was hired as a clerk-typist in 1962 after being accepted as a student to the head of the Admissions office in 1975. During her 13 years, she earned three promotions.

Rollings, 78

Critique of U.S. policy in Central America to speak

A Maryknoll priest and outspoken critic of U.S. foreign policy in Central America will speak Thursday (Jan. 13) about his campaign to close a school where the United States trains Latin American military personnel.

Father Roy Bourgeois will talk on the School of the Americas at 7 p.m. in Chumash Auditorium.

Bourgeois founded School of the Americas Watch, an organization that focuses its attention on the U.S. Army training program based at Fort Benning, Ga. The school is run by the University of Oklahoma's School of American Watch Literature, over the years the school has taught more than 60,000 Latin American soldiers and military personnel combat skills, commando tactics, military intelligence procedures, anti-narcotics operations and torture techiques. The school spends approximately $20 million of U.S. taxpayers' dollars each year to train 900-2,000 soldiers.

Bourgeois, the so-called "priester priest," spent seven years in prison for civil disobedience. He has prosecuted the School of the Americas since 1990. At the first protest, about 10 friends joined him. More than 10,000 participated in a November 1999 protest.

For more information, call Sister Mary Pat White at the Newman Center at 543-4103.

Nominations sought

The Statue of Woman Committee is seeking nominations for five scholarships, all designed to recognize students who have demonstrated a commitment to the rights of women and who is considering a career as a feminist attorney. Preference will be given to a liberal arts major.

The Vicki and Darel Farrar Scholarship is for a student with a minimum overall GPA of 3.0 who is enrolled in the College of Engineering or the chemistry, physics, or statistics major in the College of Science and Mathematics. In addition, the student must have served as a leader in organizations that have the primary purpose of promoting women's rights.

The Robert S. Harmon Scholarship is for a student who has demonstrated commitment to the rights of women and is considering a career as an investigative reporter.

The Jane Ryan Scholarship is given to a student who has demonstrated commitment to the rights of women and has been identified as having the potential to provide moral leadership in the workplace of the future.

The Dr. Shirley H. Walker Scholar­ship is given to a student with a minimum overall GPA of 3.0 and who has been identified as having the potential to provide leadership on projects that promote women's rights.

Only nominations submitted by faculty and staff members will be considered. Eligible students must be enrolled through fall 2000, when the awards will be disbursed.

Nominations are due Jan. 21, should include the student's name and an explanation of why the student is being nominated. Send nominations to Carolyn J. Stefanco, History Department. For more information, call Stefanco at ext. 6-2670.

Foundation Board to meet

The Foundation Board of Directors will meet Monday Jan. 21 in Education Administration Conference Room 124. This is a public meeting. For more information, call Sister Mary Pat White at the Newman Center at 543-4103.

'King and the millennium' topic of Jan. 20 talk

"Sanctuary: Martin Luther King and the New Millennium" is the topic of a lecture scheduled in observance of Martin Luther King Jr.'s birthday. Keynote speaker Dwight Webster, director of the Center for African and African-American Studies at UNO, will speak at 11 a.m. in the Theatre.

Also appearing is Cecil Lytle, concert pianist and provost of the Thurgood Marshall College at UC San Diego. Lytle will present a preview of his "Rags to Other Riches" recital, a collection of works written by founders of the music programs at historically black colleges and universities.

Lytle will give the complete recital at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 20 at Mt. Carmel Lutheran Church. (See related story, left.)

More than 10,000 participated in a November 1999 protest.

A take on the violence of the 1994 genocide in Rwanda defined and admitted the meritocracy." - Nicholas Lemann. These books describe what Lemann calls "the brave new world of the global marketplace and its aftermath.

Curtis Bok and "The Big Test: The Secret of Liberal Arts), "The Shape of the River: Race in College and University Admis­sions" by William Bowen and Derek Race, (Writing Skills), "Blindness" by Jose Saramago. The tale of redemption and love — and the tenuousness of both — takes place in an unnamed country where, by one, perhaps, goes blind.

Feb. 3: Carl Lukin (Political Science), "Paradise Lost" by Peter Schrag. The book discusses the rise and decline of California at the end of the century.

Feb. 10: Steven Marx (English), "The Environmental Imagination" by Laurence Belfer. A leading example of "ecocriticim," the book explores the hu­man condition in relation to nature and the environment, placing Thoreau at the center of an American tradition.

Feb. 17: Harry Hellenbrand (College of Liberal Arts), "The Shape of the River: Long-Term Consequences of Racialized Education and Cultural Am­issions" by William Bowen and Derek Curtis Bok and "The Big Test: The Secret History of the American Meritocracy" by Nicholas Lemann. These books describe how America's select institutions "have defined and married the meritocratic ideal."

Feb. 24: Richard Kranzoff (Political Science), "We wish to inform you that we can't accept your love" by Philip Gourevitch. The book provides an account of the 1994 genocide in Rwanda and its aftermath.

March 1: Barbaras Morningstar (English), "The Bloody Chamber" by Angela Carter. This 1979 collection of short stories is a "quirky retelling of old tales."

For more information on Books at High Noon, call political science Professor Phil Fezter at ext. 6-1417.
Position vacancies

Below are the new, previously unadvertised open positions at the university. You may access full information about these and other previously advertised positions at www.afd.calpoly.edu/serve/cobcob/categories.htm.

Position vacancies

Servatius

Servatius

Continued from page 1

Servatius served as Management Department head for 19 years and as acting dean of the College of Business for more than a year.

After retiring in 1984, he remained an active supporter of the Alumni Association, which awarded him its first Distinguished Service Award in 1999.

"Owen was one of a small group of people who early on helped to develop a curriculum for students at Cal Poly," said President Baker. "His insightful, humorous and sensitive interactions with students are remembered with great fondness by thousands of Cal Poly alumni."

It was his wish that his life and contributions be honored through a scholarship program named for him in 1998. Send donations for the Owen Servatius College of Business Scholarship Fund to the Dean's Office, College of Business.

D ATELINE

Monday, January 17 (continued)

MUSICAL: "Show Boat," Harman Hall, 8 p.m. (5) Pre-concert lecture, Alyson McManus (Musical), Harman Hall, 7 p.m. Also Tuesday and Jan. 19.

D ATELINE

Monday, January 18

MUSICAL: "Show Boat," Harman Hall, 8 p.m. (5) Pre-concert lecture, Alyson McManus (Musical), Harman Hall, 7 p.m. Also Jan. 19.

D ATELINE

Wednesday, January 19

Books at High Noon: Frank Owen (Mechanical Engineering) and David Braun (Electrical Engineering), "Drawing on the Right Side of the Brain" by Betty Edwards, Veranda Cafe, noon.

MUSICAL: "Show Boat," Herman Hall, 8 p.m. (5) Pre-concert lecture, Alyson McManus (Musical), Harman Hall, 7 p.m. Also Jan. 19.

D ATELINE

Monday, January 24

D ATELINE

Monday, January 24

Physics Colloquium: Dave Braun (Electrical Engineering), "Polymer LEDs (light-emitting diodes)," Science E-45, 11 a.m.

Speaker: Father Roy Bourgeois, "Cove the School of the Americas," Bliss, 7 p.m.

WRESTLING: Boise State, Mott Gym, 7 p.m. (5)

Lectures, Kenzo Terrie Manoo (Moorehead State University), "Red-White-Blue: A Celebration of Americans in the 1940s," Davidson Music Center 218, 7:30 p.m.

Saturday, January 15

WRESTLING: BYU, Mott Gym, 5 p.m. (5)

Women's Basketball: Nebraska, Mott Pool, 1 p.m.

Women's Basketball: Idaho, Mott Gym, 7 p.m. (5)

D ATELINE

Saturday, January 15

HOLIDAY: Martin Luther King Jr. Homecoming Parade.

Sunday, January 16

Women's Basketball: Boise State, Mott Gym, 2 p.m. (5)

D ATELINE

Monday, January 17

Holiday: Martin Luther King Jr. birthday observed. Campus closed except for emergency services.

Women's Swimming & Diving: Pepperdine, Mott Pool noon.

D ATELINE

Monday, January 17

Owen Servatius, 78; served more than 50 years

Owen Servatius, management professor emeritus and the first recipient of the Cal Poly Alumni Association's Distinctive Service Award, died Dec. 30.

A memorial service is planned in February. When finalized, details will be published in the Cal Poly Report.

Memorial service for Marilyn York

Staff and faculty members, students and the public are invited to a memorial service for Marilyn R. York, associate director of international education and programs, 1-3 p.m. Jan. 26 at the Smith Alumni and Conference Center, York, 47, died Dec. 16.

Continued on page 4