Little Darlings Urged To Write Momma

It has been said that the most heart melting thing that could happen to a child is to receive a letter from home and after skipping the envelope, find nothing but words of love. In case you are not aware, your mother is expressing her love for you by writing letters to you. If your case, you are urged to grab a pen and write a reply letter to your momma. Send money.

While doing that writing, you are gaining new knowledge in literature, grammar, and spelling. Future authors, editors, journalists, politicians, and other notable figures were once students who wrote letters to loved ones.

ASB Faced With Problem Of Electing Vice Proxy

Mette Resigns; Forces Pro-Tem Appointment By Smith; Balloting

"Unprecedented was the vice presidential special election issue faced by the Student Affairs Council last Wednesday, at their first special meeting of the year, according to Bob Smith, Associated Student Body President. The special election question was brought about by Vice President Mette's resignation last June. The Student Affairs Council was forced to make the decision in a letter of resignation to the R.A.S. that June, stating that Mette would be taking a leave of absence due to personal reasons.

Under the present election code, the Student Affairs Council will elect a person of the opposite sex to run for the office. Whether or not that may be your case, you are urged to vote for the person you think will best carry on your father's hopes.

In the event a vice president is elected for both the male and female positions, it is possible it could happen in that position until the special election is held. In this case, the Student Affairs Council will not be able to run a special election, and the regular or special meeting after the regular term for the student body will be the site of the election.

Cruikshanks Covers Wide Area In Summer Travels

Distinction of having covered more territory during his summer vacation than any other Cal Poly faculty member was this year to Norman Cruikshanks, head of the college's social science department. Cruikshanks covered more than 30,000 miles, visiting scores of cities in more than 15 different European and Mediterranean countries.

Back to his job as head of the social science department, Cruikshanks is one of the few professors in the nation to have gained firsthand contact with government officials, labor leaders, educators, newspaper men, military leaders and politicians in England, Ireland, France, Yugoslavia, Greece, Turkey, Israel, Italy, Switzerland, and the Netherlands.

Cruikshanks left San Francisco on June 31 by plane as assistant director of a Mediterranean Cruise East Tour sponsored by San Francisco State College. He was one of the few persons in addition to Cruikshanks and the tour director, Louis Wasserman, were included in the touring group. In Washington, D.C. visiting the Senate, House, and several other government agencies, the group left New York by plane on July 9 for London. After conferring with government officials, editors, labor groups, educators, and press representatives in England, Cruikshanks spent four days in his native country, Northern Ireland, visiting relatives whom he had not seen since his last visit 16 years ago.

From London the group went to Yugoslavia where the had conferences with ministers of the government, including an air force general and the minister of religious affairs. Cruikshanks said that the Yugoslavian government was an effort to encourage tourism travel not that travelers are not run on through the country, but rather, that the travel is for the benefit of the visitors themselves and their countries.

"If you don't try to buy anything except restaurant meals, hotel accommodations, travel in that country is rather inexpensive, but the natives pay plenty for clothing, etc." Cruikshanks said.

In both Greece and Turkey the group was impressed with the rehabilitation work that was being done, in addition to the new government officials, labor leaders, educators, newspaper men, military leaders and politicians in England, Ireland, France, Yugoslavia, Greece, Turkey, Israel, Italy, Switzerland, and the Netherlands.

POLY STADIUM TO HOST
'S2 'PIGSKIN PARADE''

'Pigskin Parade' may well be a term to describe Cal Poly's football stadium this fall. The Mustang turf will be used for 18 games this season. Seven will be at the famed Arroyo Grande park, while San Luis Obispo high school plans four games in the local stadium.

Cal Poly's varsity will play six home games while the junior varsity will host five teams. This will be the busiest season in the history for Cal Poly's stadium. "This will be the busiest season of Roos Bowl games," says Gene Brendlin, general manager, "and the stadium will be home to the most games yet." The 18-game schedule will take the stadium's capacity from 3,500 to 7,500.

An idea? Submit it

Here's your chance to win two free tickets to the Rose Bowl game on New Year's Day.

The annual contest is open to all students of the three campuses of the Cal Poly system. Entry blanks are available at the Student Body office, not later than Sept. 20. An outside theme of the parade will be judged to select the winner.

New Cal Poly Coach
Has Pro Background

By Frank Tours, Jr.

There's a new look gracing the Poly athletic plant, and though most Mustangs have noted same, the oft-repeated question still crops up in the minds of many when they reflect on the new coach. "Who's the new coach?" In a few choice words, the new man is Tom Lee, and he comes to Cal Poly (athletically speaking) from San Jose State, class of '49 where he earned his B. B. in Physical Education. A year at Stanford ('50) added a Master's degree to the Lee name, followed by a season with the basketball pros, and then — Cal Poly.

Correspondent asking "George" Press to the JV football boys, coach Lee's chief duty is to handle the varsity basketball team, and judging by the fall schedule, he's got his hands full. Formerly with the Mustangs, Tom Lee was left vacant when Paul Flasebeck went to study for his master's in PE. The athletic story behind Lee can hardly be called "average." Starting in Miss City, Montana, Lee's travels found him playing football, basketball, track and baseball and making time for his high school's debating team. With the aid of an outstanding scholarship in Golden Gare, being a part of the Gettysburg National football championship in '28, he attended Colby College, playing third base on the school's baseball team. From there, he moved on to the professional Bismarck Phantoms, a top-notch baseball team for two consecutive years, playing third base with the club. Returning to Montana, Lee was re-employed by the high school in Miles City, Montana, where he coached basketball, track and baseball at the same time. He got married and, after graduating in '27, moved on to Bismarck High in North Dakota, turning down an offer to hook up with the professional Bismarck Phantoms, three years later. He was playing basketball on the Lee "Clowns" team in Texas until his last year in high school, touring the miles in a pull-down trailer when he ran for Oakland's McLinn and High in 1933.

Some new men who should press the Mustangs harder in the coming years include Harry Quackenbush, a J. C. transfer from Hart's Lake, and more recently Korea. In '51, Quackenbush won the National AAU 6000 and the National AAU 882. He has also turned in a credible 4:09.5 time at 1500.

Another man who is not expected to do well is Jensen in Caliente. Last year he placed second in the southern A.A.U. 6000 meters, and he was still in high school. Add Jerry Page, from Mark Keppel High school, and old timers Don Drum, George Martin and Jim Roberts, and you have the nucleus of the current Mustang varsity. The top man in the 5000-meter run is Fred Simmons, formerly with the University of North Dakota, and playing softball with a North Dakota team that won the state championship four years running.

If that wasn't bad enough, Tom Lee's troubles with the Mustangs have continued. In his first year at Poly, he had to face the hard task of organizing and coaching the Poly track team. He also handled the conditioning program for the basketball team, and took part in the wrestling program. This year, he is also handling the conditioning program for the basketball team, and taking part in the wrestling program.

FIRST PREMIUM QUALITY CIGARETTE TO OFFER BOTH REGULAR & KING-SIZE

BOTH regular and king-size Chesterfields are premium quality cigarettes and come in the smart white pack.

BOTH contain only those proven ingredients that make Chesterfields the best possible smoke: the best tobaccos, pure, moistening agents (to keep them tasty and fresh), the best cigarette paper that money can buy — nothing else.

BOTH are much milder with an extraordinary good taste and, from the report of a well-known research organization — no unpleasant after-taste.

BOTH are exactly the same in all respects. There is no difference except the size and length — contains considerably more of the same tobaccos — enough more to give you a 21% longer smoke, yet costs little more.

Texas Outfit Hangs 28-7 Loss On Poly

In a game described in various circles as a "jammed brawl," Cal Poly dropped their football season opener to Sul Ross State last Saturday night, 7-28. The game was played in Alpine, Texas.

No less that seven Mustangs were sidelined in the Texas fracas, with Poly's placekicker sticking around for two plays—hardly long enough to say "beautifully." According to wire reports from the panhandle state, the game was closer than the score indicated. However, a big 51 Mustangs kept the Mustangs ground attack in low gear all night, although the lone local score came as a result of a 4-yard broken-field run by "Boom Boom" Bravo.

BRADLEY NEXT FOR POLY VARSITY

"Our goal the fry pan into the fire," is the Mustang's football team this week as the barnstorming gridders move into the camp of the Bradley Braves tomorrow night—way back in Peoria, Ill., home of the Bradley Braves.

Leading the Poly squad will be Alex Bravo, the "frying pan boy" whoismaned 42 yards against Sul Ross last week to pick up the terrific pace he set during the '41 campaign.

Hurler Romero Home From Tour

Back on the Poly Campus after a thrilling baseball tour of Japan in Frank Romero, the ace Mustang hurler who brought acclaim to the green and gold by posting three wins against an assortment of Japanese college all-stars. The big right-hander picked up valuable experience on his Pacific tour, experience that will make him a cut above the local conference next season. In all probability, his marked games in front of devoted numbering as high as 50,000 persons—all of them rabid baseball fans. "We were treated like kings everywhere we went in Japan," he remarked. "Those people over there would do justice to the Ethels Park fans." He added that the ball was hit hard and all of the opposition was up for the two when they played the Yankees. "We played every other day against the Japanese boys," added Romero, "and it soon became evident that our biggest job was keeping our batting schedule. The American club was staffed with six hurlers and the pluggers did double duty. Frank spent a lot of his time in the outfield.

Record Turnout For Mustang Water Polo

Coach Dick Anderson's water polo team turned out in full force this week when a record turnout of 15 men began vying for berths on the "aquatic basketball" team.

Breezy MadNeil is back at his old post, as are forwards Dave Mark, Jim Janson, Jack Black and Paul Sullivan. Talented newcomers are Jerry Jonhson, from Redwood City, and his high school teammate Tom Kibbier. The Poly natators are scheduled to meet Cal, USC, UCLA, Santa Clara and San Jose State.

It's Your Boat—Row It

What would be the first thought to enter your mind if your sociology teacher, or, for that matter, your agriculture, English or physics instructor, stopped you on the campus to-day and said, "You're a nice guy; tell you what I'm going to do." Well, right away you would naturally start thinking, "What's with the old boy? What goes through his mind?" But yet there are too many of us at Poly who overlook the fact that everyday a similar opportunity is ours for only the participation.

Right here in our own backyard, we are being given tools with which to develop a product that isn't for sale on the open market. That's right, lifelong friendship. Priceless is too small a word to describe it. It's true that basically we come to college to prepare ourselves for the future. But, inasmuch as we try to have some fun unless we start out right now, today, to make friends during our re- maining college time.

How to go about this is simple. Get active! Participate in your campus activities. Remember that the backbone of every organization is the student activity, whether social or educational, whether it be at Poly or Purdue is the students that make it work and those that make it work make it work.

There are clubs and groups on the campus offering entertainment and opportunities to satisfy the time and desires of practically every member of the AIB. In the nondepartmental sponsored groups, activities range from bowling to going aloft with the flying Mustangs. Also, the best way to keep abreast of the latest developments in your chosen field is to be a part of the departmental clubs and their affairs. Their successful existence depends upon your participation.

You wouldn't say no to that mythical teacher we referred to earlier. And, also, you can't afford to miss this opportunity of making the future happier. Pass through your college career; you are experiencing some of the best years of your life. Learn to sing the song title goes, "Enjoy yourself. It's later than you think." Start now! Start today! Get active and remember... It's your boat. Row H. J. S. B.

Rally Assembly 11 A.M. Thursday

Next Tuesday's rally assembly will be held in the campus auditorium. It will take place the 29th of September. This assembly will include music, songs, and the presentation of the latest in football and basketball. The Mustangs will take on Brown's Little Brown Jug on November 26th. A great day to be Poly student, to be Poly student.

WANTED: A Trustee!

The Student Body needs a Trustee to be able to carry on with some important activities. The Trustee is responsible for overseeing the Student Body's budget. If you are interested, please contact the Student Office for more information.

Lunchtime at the Mustang at 11:30 A.M. on October 3rd. The Mustangs are looking forward to a record-breaking year. Come out and support your team.
