

ACADEMIC SENATE
of
CALIFORNIA POLYTECHNIC STATE UNIVERSITY
San Luis Obispo, CA

AS-708-10

RESOLUTION ON ADDITION TO ACADEMIC SENATE BYLAWS OF THE ACADEMIC SENATE
TO INCLUDE PROCESS FOR FIRST AND SECOND READINGS

1 WHEREAS, The Academic Senate of Cal Poly conducts its meetings in accordance with 2 Robert's Rules of Order; and

4 WHEREAS, The protocol for CSU Academic Senates as well as the statewide Academic Senate
5 is to submit an item in the form of a written resolution which is then deliberated
6 over two meetings as a first and second reading; and

8 WHEREAS, First and second readings allow for reflective consideration of issues brought 9 before the Senate; and 10

11 WHEREAS, Robert's Rules of Order does not address the deliberative process for first and 12 second readings; therefore be it
13

14 RESOLVED: That Article V, paragraph D, of the Bylaws of the Academic Senate be added to 15 include the following provision:
16

17 First reading: First reading is a time for suggestions to be made to a resolution for 18 its improvement. The resolution still belongs to its author and is not yet
19 amendable. Voting on substantive resolutions (i.e., those involving University 20 policy or those in which the Senate takes a position on an issue) takes place in two 21 stages: first reading and second reading. In first reading, the resolution is 22 introduced and suggestions for improvement or clarification are in order in first
23 reading, but not amendments. The first reading of a resolution is concluded if (1)
24 there is no one remaining who wishes to speak on the resolution, (2) a motion to 25 close debate is passed (requires a two-thirds vote), or a motion is approved to 26 move the resolution to second reading (requires a two-thirds vote, is debatable,
27 and requires a compelling reason [determined by the Senate Chair, can be 28 overruled by the body]). If a matter is noncontroversial, rather than a motion to 29 suspend the rules unanimous consent can be given by the body.

Second reading: The motion to adopt a resolution must be moved and seconded before debate ensues. It then belongs to the body and may be amended. Documents attached to a resolution are not amendable. Voting on substantive resolutions shall take place only after a second reading of the resolution at a meeting subsequent to the meeting at which it was first introduced, except that the Academic Senate, by two-thirds vote of the senators present, may waive this requirement. After the motion has been moved and seconded, amendments may be presented for action by the Senate.
