WASC visiting team on campus March 28-31

A team of representatives from other institution will visit campus March 28-31 to discuss with selected individuals, groups arriving from the campus' re-accreditation self-study.

The team will end with an exit session at which the team representing the Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC) will discuss their preliminary findings with President Baker, Provost Zingg and the campus community. The session is tentatively set for 11:30 a.m., March 31, in UU 226.

The self-study, conducted over the past two years by the faculty, staff and students, is part of the process of reaffirming Cal Poly's WASC accreditation.

Accreditation not only recognizes the quality of an institution's degree programs but also is a prerequisite for certain federal and state financial aid.

The self-study can be reviewed at the website at http://www.wasc.calpoly.edu or through the Computing Laboratory.
Sollicitation of sick leave, vacation

Julia Walter, a student services professional in Financial Aid, has qualified for portional catastrophic leave. Eligible state employees may donate vacation credit and sick leave to help her retain in-full pay status during an extended disability.

Those interested in donating leave may request the Catastrophic Leave Donation form from solicitation coordinator Danume C. Smith in Financial Aid at ext. 6-5879 or by e-mail.

CSU employees (Units 2, 5, 7 and 9) may donate up to 32 hours, and all other eligible state employees may donate up to a total 16 hours sick leave and vacation credits per fiscal year in increments of one hour or more.

Two-day workshop set for families with teenagers

Parents and their teenage children are invited to participate in a two-day retreat April 1 and May 5 designed to improve communication and relationships.

The workshop, offered by ASH Chumash Challenge and Extended Education, will include "family-building" exercises at Cal Poly's "outdoor campus" off Stearns Creek Road.

Participants will gain a better understanding of their unique family structure. The cost is $60 per family through April 27. To register or for general information, call Extended Education at ext. 6-2023. For details about retreat activities, call Chumash Challenge at ext. 6-7628.

"According to the U.S. Census Bureau, in the United States almost 21 percent of children under the age of 18 are poor and 25 percent of children under age 6 live in poverty," said Season Conlan, advisor to Student Community Services.

"In San Luis Obispo County, half of the estimated 4,000 individuals living in poverty are families in need of assistance from community agencies," Conlan said.

For more information, call Student Community Service and Learning Centers ext. 6-8584.

Credit Report deadline May 1: photos invited

A deadline to submit copy for the spring issue of The Credit Report will be May 1, and those submitting information are invited to send pertinent photos for possible publication.

To complement a planned new format that will include photos, and as part of an effort to keep the catalog of staff and faculty accomplishments and to honor a more manageable length, the editors will apply their discretion to longer submissions. It is recommended that those submitting entries list several publications, presentations, etc., put the most important first, list others in descending order and, if more than five, say, five or six, summarize remaining items.

Text must be submitted by e-mail to polynews@polymail (adding calpoly.edu if necessary). An on-line form is expected to be available early in April. Photos should be mailed to Public Affairs.

Complete guidelines for what items are appropriate are available on the Web at www.calpoly.edu/~commext/credit_report. For more information, contact Bob Anderson (ext. 6532).

Hans Mager, 81

Hans Mager of San Luis Obispo died at home Feb. 28.

Mager was born in 1918 in Tallinn, Estonia. He came to the United States in 1949, the same year he became one of the original charter members in the then-new School of Architecture.

He taught architectural engineering at Cal Poly for 39 years.

Last CPR for winter

This is the final winter quarter Cal Poly Report.

Publication will resume the first Wednesday of spring quarter, March 29. Articles for that issue are due to Public Affairs by 10 a.m. March 22.

Items can be e-mailed to polynews@polymail (adding calpoly.edu if necessary), faxed to 6-6533, or mailed to Public Affairs, Herron Hall.

For more information call ext. 6-1511.

Enroll through April for voluntary life insurance

Effective Jan. 1, the CSU awarded the voluntary life insurance contract to Standard Insurance Company, and a special open enrollment is under way through April 28 for eligible employees who wish to enroll in the new plan or to disenroll from CIGNA Universal Life Plan to the Standard Plan.

This is the only open enrollment scheduled for current eligible employees for the foreseeable future. Information packets containing information being sent to all eligible employees via campus mail.

The plan offered by Standard Insurance replaces CIGNA Universal Life voluntary life for participating employees. As a result of collective bargaining negotiations, all represented, executive, managerial, professional personnel, and confidential employee groups — except Academic Support (Unit 14) — are eligible to enroll in the plan.

Representatives from the Standard Insurance Company will give presentations to employees on campus in the new plan. Those interested in disenrolling from CIGNA Universal Life Plan may call 805-756-2140 for information.

Further information is available from the Benefits Office, ext. 6-8534 for employees or 805-756-2140 for the public.

WASC visiting team on campus March 28-31

A team of representatives from other institutions will visit campus March 28-31 to discuss, with selected individuals, issues arising from the team's re-accreditation self-study.

The visit will end with an exit session at which the team representing the Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC) will discuss their preliminary findings with President Baker, Provost Zingg and the campus community. The session is tentatively set for 11:30 a.m. March 31 in UU 220.

The self-study, conducted over the past two years by the faculty, staff and students, is part of the process of reaffirming Cal Poly's WASC accreditation.

Accreditation not only recognizes the quality of an institution's degree programs but also is a prerequisite for certain federal and state financial aid.

The recently completed self-study, characterized by WASC as an "innovative self-study," studies those conducted in the past by focusing on a topic chosen by the university itself, namely "Cal Poly as a Center of Learning."

The self-study can be reviewed at the website http://www.wasc.calpoly.edu/wasc/office/evaluations/reports/reports_index.htm.

Appearance of "WASC visiting team on campus March 28-31" does not imply university endorsement of either the event or the content presented.

"Earned hours" clarified

To alleviate confusion between the total number of hours a student has earned and the hours that count toward the student's degree, Academic Records has added a note to undergraduate transcripts: "Not all units appearing in Higher Education Earned Hours (EHRS) are necessarily applicable to student's current degree program."

This notation will also appear on the Official and Unofficial Undergraduate Transcript as degree credit evaluations are completed.

For more information, call Kathi Peterson in Evaluations at ext. 6-5923.
