Position vacancies

Below are all the new, previously unadvertised employment openings at the university. You may access full information about these and other, previously advertised positions at www.calpoly.edu (scroll down and select "employment opportunities").

STATE: For a complete listing of employment opportunities for state staff and management positions, you can:

- Check the Human Resources and Employment Equity Website at www.calpoly.edu, under Employment Opportunities;
- Come to the HREE office, Admin. 110, and view the posted positions;
- Call the HREE Job Line at ext. 6-1533.

For a listing of new openings, check the Tribune's Tuesday edition. If you have questions, please call HREE at ext. 2-2237.

FAULTY Candidates are asked to contact the appropriate department office at the phone number listed for more information or to request an application. Additional information and qualifications for each position may also be obtained on line at http://www.academic-personnel.calpoly.edu.

Please submit all application materials to the department head/chair unless otherwise specified in the ad. Rank and salary are commensurate with qualifications and experience (and time base where applicable), unless otherwise stated.

#03110: Part-Time Lecturer Post, Chemistry (ext. 6-2893) Closing date: May 15.

#03112: Part-Time Lecturer Post, Modern Languages & Literatures (ext. 6-2025) Closing date: May 15.

#03114: Part-Time Lecturer Post, Electrical Engineering (ext. 6-2781) Closing date: July 28.

#09106: Part-Time Lecturer Post, Civil & Environmental Engineering (ext. 6-2947) Closing date: May 12, 00.

... Draft Master Plan

Continued from page 1

plan calls for expansion of nonresidential enrollment and use of technology to serve more students throughout the entire year.

In mapping out land uses, some 500 recommendations made by 10 task forces were considered, including:

- Developing a student-friendly, learner-centered instructional core that would be compact, use the land more efficiently and increase open space.
- Maintaining outdoor teaching and learning laboratories.
- Protecting environmentally sensitive areas.
- Increasing the student residential community to minimize community impact and providing services for those students.
- Improving circulation and access to the university.

The preliminary draft was presented for review to the 10 task forces the last week of March. Public review will be from May 1 to June 10.

The draft Master Plan will be available, beginning May 1, for review at www.calpoly.edu or at the Assembly Library. Comments about the plan can be e-mailed to: janders@calpoly.edu.

... Open forums

Continued from page 1

of South Dakota Board of Regents, will be on campus Thursday and Friday (April 6-7). The open forum is planned from 2 to 2:30 p.m. Thursday in UU 205.

- George Lopez, dean at Mifflin Fisichella College at the State University of New York, will visit campus Monday and Tuesday (April 11-12). The open forum will be 2:2-2:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Veranda Café.

Dean, College of Business

Patricia Petterson, a candidate for the position of dean of business, will be on campus April 13-14.

Paterson is associate dean of the College of Business and chair of the Management and Marketing Departments at the University of Wyoming.

An open forum will be 4:30-5:30 p.m. April 13 in Business Building Room 341.

Please submit all application materials to the appropriate department office unless otherwise stated.

CPR schedule

The Cal Poly Report is published every Wednesday during the academic year. Articles are due to Public Affairs by 10 a.m. Wednesday for the following week's edition.

Items can be e-mailed to polynews@calpoly.edu or faxed to 6-6533, or mailed to Public Affairs, Heron Hall.

For more information, call ext. 6-5111.

... DateLine

Continued from page 1

Tuesday, April 11 involvement

Play: "The Rivals," Cal Poly Theatre, 7 p.m.; ($)

Wednesday, April 12

Philosophy Colloquium: Stephen Ball (Philosophy), "Philosophical Arguments For and Against Affirmative Action," 9-10:30 a.m.; Scott Allen (Philosophy), "Oxon Hertogenbosch: Scitulu and Creationism, Then and Now," 10:40 a.m.-noon; Jim Croehn (English) and Paul Milowski (Philosophy), "Reading Nothing's "The Boy Science,"" 7-8 p.m., UU 205.

Thursday, April 13

Philosophy Colloquium: Simon Emani (Philosophy), "Learning from One's Mistakes: Epistemic Modesty and Rational Dilemma," 9:30-11 a.m.; invited presentation to winner of philosophy essay contest and student and faculty panel discussion, "Who Needs Philosophy?" led by student Ronald McCrett, 11:10 a.m.-12:30 p.m.; Laurence Houlgate (Philosophy), "Twelve and Thirty in Zrion Embryos Custody Disputes," 1:23-10 p.m.

Friday, April 14

Open House: Campuswide; all day.

Community April 15

Music: Shival Experience, Cal Poly Theatre, 7 p.m. ($)

Saturday, April 15

Open House: Campuswide, all day.

Music: Open Hours Festival Wind Orchestra and Cal Poly Brass Choir, Harman Hall, 2:30 p.m. ($)

Sunday, April 16

Music: Open House Festival High School Wind Orchestra and Cal Poly Brass Choir, Harman Hall, 2:30 p.m. ($)

Draft Master Plan to be released for review

A preliminary draft of Cal Poly's new Master Plan will be available May 1 for campus and community review.

The draft plan, designed to balance land uses with enrollment demands for at least the next 20 years, is the result of two years of deliberation among key campus groups, deans and community task forces, and planning offices.

Review of the initial document will take place throughout spring quarter, and it will be refined and reviewed again next fall and winter. The final Master Plan will be presented to the CSU Board of Trustees for approval in spring 2001, Cal Poly's 100th birthday.

"The Master Plan will be designed to meet emerging needs of our academic programs," said Linda Dawes, vice president for institutional planning, who is leading the effort. "Critical physical resources and development plans have been identified areas for program growth so the Master Plan can include appropriate buildings, laboratories and technology to meet those needs."

This plan is designed to accommodate, over the next 20 years, enrollment growth during the academic year of about 17 percent over present capacity. In addition, the plan...

Open forums set for three job candidates

Two candidates for the position of dean of extended studies and one for the position of dean of business will be on campus for interviews in April.

Open forums are planned to give the campus community an opportunity to meet the candidates and hear a short presentation.

Jean, Extended Studies

- Janet W. Bower, who serves as administrative assistant to the University...

On a musical note...

Louis Goldstein, a professor of music at Wake Forest University and artist-in-residence in the Music Department, will perform April 18 in the Davidson Music Center. See story on page 7.

... on page 8

California Polytechnic State University
San Luis Obispo, CA 93407
Pub. 54, No. 27 • April 6, 2000
PAGE 8
Target donates $3,000 to Career Services
Target Stores has pledged $3,000 to Career Services “in appreciation of the partnering relationship that has developed over the years,” said Mark Quintana, Target’s senior recruiting manager.

Target Store’s selected Cal Poly as a grass recipient because of the significant number of management and business courses offered within the college, the diversity of the campus’s population, and the store’s relationship with Career Services.

Target has hired more than 20 Cal Poly graduates in the last five years and offers internship and career opportunities to Cal Poly students and graduates.

Target specified that the grant be used to help students in exploring and implementing career plans. Career Services Director Richard Eanes plans to use the grant to add computer workstations in the Career Resource Center.

Students use the center to explore career options, conduct Internet research, and participate in Web Walk-Up, Career Services’ on-line interview scheduling and job listing service.

Philosophy Department plans spring colloquia

A spring Philosophy Colloquium series is planned for April 13, with five presentations each day in UU 205.

On April 12:
- Stephen Ball (Philosophy) will present “Philosophical Arguments For and Against Affirmative Action,” 9-10:30 a.m.
- fun Cushing (English) and Paul Miklowitz (Philosophy), “Reading Nietzsche’s ‘The Gay Science,’” 2-4 p.m.

On April 13:
- An award presentation for the winner of the philosophy student essay contest and a student poster panel discussion on “Who Needs Philosophy?” led by student Ronald McCorkle, 11:10 a.m.-12:30 p.m.
- Frank Cushing (English), “Philosophy,” 1:30-2:30 p.m.
- sun Justice and Utility in Frozen Environ Custo Disputes,” 12:20-1 p.m.

For more information, call the Philosophy Department at ext. 62304 or Harvey Levenson, head of the Graphic Communication Department, at ext. 62168.

Spring plant sale, arboretum tours on tap

The Environmental Horticultural Science Unit will hold its annual Spring Plant Sale and tours of the Learning Pine Arboretum on April 29.

The plant sale, 8 a.m. to 3 p.m., will offer quality discounts on landscape shrubs, hardy flowering perennials, succulents, hedges, ornamental grasses and more.

Most of the plants come in 4-inch pots and are produced by the award-winning Associated Landscape Contractors of America student team.

The Learning Pine Arboretum tour will showcase the springtime beauty of the 5-acre arboretum, including the newly developed 2-acre expansion that includes a colorful garden of South African plants and recent additions to both the California and Australian gardens.

The plant shop and arboretum are located at the Environ-Horticultural Science Building.

For more information, call ext. 6-2888. Proceeds from plant sales will support the development and advancement of the Learning Pine Arboretum.

Foundation Board to meet April 14

The Foundation Board of Directors will hold a public meeting at 9 a.m. April 14 in the Foundation Administration Building’s Conference Room.

For more information or to obtain a copy of the mailing agenda, call the Executive Secretary at 509-582-6111.

A copy of the agenda packet is available for review at the Kennedy Library Reserve Desk, the Academic Senate Office, Math and Science 143.

Simply Marly

Jazz, country, western and cabaret music, May 23 and 25.

Fitness classes offered at Rec Center

Cal Poly is offering two new, state-of-the-art computer laboratories equipped with donations from Sun Microsystems to teach students how to create software for the Internet and World Wide Web.

The Java Center Instructional Lab and the Java Center Projects Lab will be open to classes from every department at the university for instruction and research in all types of Internet applications, from business to family activities.

The labs will teach programming in Java, a programming language developed by Sun that allows the same software to run on many different kinds of computers, countless gadgets and other devices.

With Java, different machines can communicate with one another more easily than before.

That flexibility has sped up the process of developing software for the Internet, said Robert Clovis, director of integrated media services and intramural director of the two new facilities.

To equip the labs, Sun donated $180,000 worth of computers, both servers and workstations, as well as related software. Often Java components are designed specifically for business; applications were donated by IBM.

"The goal is to provide high-quality instruction in Java with state-of-the-art systems and software and to provide students with opportunities to work on multidisciplinary teams to develop Internet applications, particularly in the professional fields for which Cal Poly is recognized," Clover said.

In the Java Center Projects Lab, a charter member of its Authorized Academic Java Campus program, which fosters collaboration with industry to give students hands-on experience with Java technology in a realistic business environment.

The university is the second in the United States and one of 15 in the world to receive that recognition.

In the Java Center Projects Lab, located in the campus’s Engineering East, teams of students, professors and staff members will work on computer-based software development and research projects.

The Java Center Instructional Lab, located in the Business Building, will be used by courses offered by several departments.

Providence Bank and officials from Sun Microsystems, Cal Poly’s Information Technology vice president, and the colleges of Architecture and Environmental Design, Business, and Engineering will dedicate the two labs earlier this week.

Applicants sought for pre-doctoral program

April is the deadline to apply for the CSU’s 2000-2001 California Pre-Doctoral Program, designed to increase the diversity of CSU students who will continue their studies at the doctoral level and become eligible for teaching positions.

A special emphasis will be placed on increasing the number of CSU students who will participate in the graduate programs at UC campuses.

To be eligible, upper-division or master’s degree students must be enrolled at a CSU institution as of spring 2000 and at least one term in 2000-2001.

Each of the 20 selected scholars will work closely with a CSU faculty sponsor to develop a plan that leads to enrollment at a California or other university for instruction and research in the professional fields for which Cal Poly is recognized.

"The goal is to provide high-quality instruction in Java with state-of-the-art systems and software and to provide students with opportunities to work on multidisciplinary teams to develop Internet applications, particularly in the professional fields for which Cal Poly is recognized," Clover said.

In the Java Center Projects Lab, a charter member of its Authorized Academic Java Campus program, which fosters collaboration with industry to give students hands-on experience with Java technology in a realistic business environment.

The university is the second in the United States and one of 15 in the world to receive that recognition.

In the Java Center Projects Lab, located in the campus’s Engineering East, teams of students, professors and staff members will work on computer-based software development and research projects.

The Java Center Instructional Lab, located in the Business Building, will be used by courses offered by several departments.

Providence Bank and officials from Sun Microsystems, Cal Poly’s Information Technology vice president, and the colleges of Architecture and Environmental Design, Business, and Engineering will dedicate the two labs earlier this week.
Artists-in-residence provide piano recital

Louis Goldstein, professor of music at Wake Forest University, will present a recital as part of his artist-in-residency for the Music Department at 7:30 p.m. April 18 in Room 218 in the Davidson Music Center.

Goldstein will perform John Cage's Sonatas and Interludes, which require a "prepared piano" in 1947 Cage invented the prepared piano, which requires placing diverse objects between the strings of a grand piano to create an effective percussion orchestra under the control of two hands.

Goldstein's composition for the Sonatas and Interludes was ranked in the "10 Best of '96: Classical Albums" by Stereo magazine.

Goldstein has been a member of the Wake Forest University music faculty since 1979. He has performed widely as a piano soloist in the United States; notably at the Hollywood Bowl, Orchestra Hall in Chicago, and Carnegie Hall in New York City.

The recital is sponsored by the Cal Poly College of liberal arts and Music Department.

For more information call the Music Department at ext. 6-2595 or visit the department's Web page at www.calpoly.edu mu.

Writing for GE courses to be taught in workshop

Cal Poly's first Writing to General Education (WINGED) Workshop, a series of six sessions designed for faculty members who now include writing in General Education courses or who will incorporate writing into GE 2001, will begin Friday (April 7).

Topics will include how to design effective assignments for new discipline and how to grade those assignments efficiently.

Trainees Seguy Dills and Jim Howard, both English Department faculty members, have taught writing for more than 20 years. Both of them have undergraduate degrees in science.

The workshop will meet from 9:30 a.m. to noon in room 209 in Business Room 104.

For more information or to sign up, call Kentool at the General Education office at ext. 6-2235 or e-mail monal@calpoly.edu.
Learn-at-Lunch Series to continue Tuesday
The ESL Study Skills Program is continuing its Learn-at-Lunch series of talks from noon to 1 p.m. Tuesdays beginning May 9 with "Mindfulness-Based Stress Reduction" by Mark Sheckter, a "mindfulness" practitioner from the University's Counseling Center.

Statistics consults on research, data analysis
The Statistics Department provides a consulting service to help with research design and analysis. Faculty, graduate students and undergraduate senior project and graduate research.

Walk-in Consulting Hours:
Monday and Wednesday, 4:15-5:15 p.m.
Tuesday, 4:50-6:15 p.m.
Office Hours for Students:
Monday, Wednesday, Friday, 3:15-4:15 p.m.
Tuesday and Thursday, 4:15-5:15 p.m.
Appointment can be scheduled by calling during walk-in consulting hours or during office hours for students.

Two festival concerts planned at Open House
The Spring Festival Winds, featuring 150 members, during Open House will highlight the talents of the university's wind, jazz and brass musicians as well as high school wind musicians from throughout the state.

Statistics consults on research, data analysis
The Statistics Department provides a consulting service to help with research design and analysis. Faculty, graduate students and undergraduate senior project and graduate research.

Walk-in Consulting Hours:
Monday and Wednesday, 4:15-5:15 p.m.
Tuesday, 4:50-6:15 p.m.
Office Hours for Students:
Monday, Wednesday, Friday, 3:15-4:15 p.m.
Tuesday and Thursday, 4:15-5:15 p.m.
Appointment can be scheduled by calling during walk-in consulting hours or during office hours for students.

Two festival concerts planned at Open House
The Spring Festival Winds, featuring 150 members, during Open House will highlight the talents of the university's wind, jazz and brass musicians as well as high school wind musicians from throughout the state.

Statistics consults on research, data analysis
The Statistics Department provides a consulting service to help with research design and analysis. Faculty, graduate students and undergraduate senior project and graduate research.

Walk-in Consulting Hours:
Monday and Wednesday, 4:15-5:15 p.m.
Tuesday, 4:50-6:15 p.m.
Office Hours for Students:
Monday, Wednesday, Friday, 3:15-4:15 p.m.
Tuesday and Thursday, 4:15-5:15 p.m.
Appointment can be scheduled by calling during walk-in consulting hours or during office hours for students.

Two festival concerts planned at Open House
The Spring Festival Winds, featuring 150 members, during Open House will highlight the talents of the university's wind, jazz and brass musicians as well as high school wind musicians from throughout the state.

Statistics consults on research, data analysis
The Statistics Department provides a consulting service to help with research design and analysis. Faculty, graduate students and undergraduate senior project and graduate research.

Walk-in Consulting Hours:
Monday and Wednesday, 4:15-5:15 p.m.
Tuesday, 4:50-6:15 p.m.
Office Hours for Students:
Monday, Wednesday, Friday, 3:15-4:15 p.m.
Tuesday and Thursday, 4:15-5:15 p.m.
Appointment can be scheduled by calling during walk-in consulting hours or during office hours for students.

Two festival concerts planned at Open House
The Spring Festival Winds, featuring 150 members, during Open House will highlight the talents of the university's wind, jazz and brass musicians as well as high school wind musicians from throughout the state.
Learn-at-Lunch series to continue Tuesday
The Education and Outreach Program continues its Learn-at-Lunch series of talks from noon to 1 p.m. Tuesdays beginning today and Thursday, 11/1 with “Mindfulness-Based Stress Reduction” by Mark Schecter, a “mindfulness” practitioner from UC San Francisco. Further presentations include:

- April 25 “Back Basics — Maintaining Healthy Backs” by Ken McNair, an exercise physiologist, personal trainer and group exercise instructor.
- May 9 “Managing Burnout” by Ken Martz, a doctoral intern with the Employee Assistance Program and Counseling Services.

Sessions are open to employees and their family members. Attendees are welcome to bring or buy lunch. For more information, call the Employee Assistance Program at ext. 6-0327.

Statistics consults on research, data analysis
The Statistics Department provides a consulting service to help with research design and analysis. The service is intended to support faculty and staff projects and research, as well as student theses and research projects. Heather Smith, the main consultant, spring quarter, is available to discuss, collect, experimental design, and analysis of research projects. She is also available to lead seminars on requested topics and advise on computer packages available at Cal Poly. If some special area concerning statistical information is not of interest to a department or group, contact Smith to arrange lectures on the subject.

Walk-in Consulting Hours:
Monday and Wednesday, 1:15-3:15 p.m.
Tuesday, 11:15-2:15 p.m.
Office Hours for Students
Monday, Wednesday, Friday, 3:15-4:15 p.m.
Tuesday and Thursday, 11:15-2:15 p.m.
Appointment can be scheduled by calling during walk-in consulting hours or during office hours for students.

Sixteen students selected as Poly Reps
Sixteen students have been selected as Poly Reps and will help promote university to prospective students, alumni and friends of the university for the 2000-2001 academic year.

Poly Reps are sponsored by the Admissions and Alumni Relations department and the Student Affairs division.

The new members are:
- Melissa Rebolfi, a sophomore biology major;
- Alan Callaghy, junior, forestry and natural resources;
- Amy Christensen, senior, agriculture business administration;
- John Conn, junior, biological sciences;
- A. Cruz, sophomore, computer engineering;
- Veronica Cull, junior, agriculture business administration;
- Kristy Doolen-Hansen, junior, speech, communications, and business administration;
- Janette Dennelly, junior, business administration.

Other new members are:
- Laura Falla, sophomore, economics;
- R. Jane Fernandez, senior, computer engineering;
- Dejana Forrester, sophomore, architectural engineering;
- Taryn Le Fort, junior, mathematics;
- Virginia Madsen, senior, human development;
- Lauren McDowell, junior, child development;
- Misty Miller, sophomore, biological sciences;
- Kathleen Oneil, sophomore, political science.

The Poly Reps are a community orchard
A new “community orchard” is planned on campus to help the public learn about growing a variety of fruit trees. A planting ceremony is set for 2 p.m. Saturday, April 8, across the street from the Crop Units, just west of Searles Creek. After a short planting demonstration, community members will be invited to plant a tree. Approximately 50 deciduous fruit trees will be planted, under the supervision of Crop Science Professor Robert McNeel.

Created by the College of Agriculture and the Central Coast Chapter of the California Rare Fruit Growers (CRFG), the orchard will also be used by Cal Poly Poly agriculture students. Many of the fruit trees are commercially grown on campus or in nearby orchards, according to Joe Sobel, director of outreach services for the College of Agriculture.

The fruit trees were donated by Dave Wilson, owner of Wilson Nurseries. The demonstration orchard is at the northeast corner of the new lemon tree orchard located at the corner of Highland Drive and Santa Rosa Street. Parking is available on Highland at the Crop Units.

For more information, call Sobel at ext. 6-7225.

Managing pests focus of lecture series
The Crop Science Department is bringing in experts to discuss “Pest Management in Coastal Wine Grapes” for a spring quarter seminar series open to growers, licensed pest control applicators (PCA), and anyone else interested.

The lectures will be 3:10-6 p.m. Thursday, and will be followed by two-hour discussions.

Guest lecturer include experts from Cal Poly, UC Davis, UC Berkeley, Allan Hancock College, the San Luis Obispo County Agricultural Commissioner’s Office, and the Lodi-Woodbridge Wine Grape Commission.

PCAs credits are available.

For more information, call Michael Castello at ext. 6-4232. Non-Cal Poly students may enroll on a space-available basis by contacting the Extension Education office at ext. 6-2053.

Two festival concerts planned at Open House
The fall festival concerts during Open House will highlight the talents of the university’s wind, jazz and brass musicians. The April 15 concert with Cal Poly’s Wind Orchestra and 16th and the University Jazz Band will be at 8 p.m.

The April 16 event featuring the All-State High School Festival Wind Orchestra and the Cal Poly Brass Choir will be at 2:30 p.m.

Both concerts are in Harmon Hall in the Performing Arts Center.

The All-State High School Festival Wind Orchestra is composed of 95 of California’s most talented young wood and percussion musicians, selected on the basis of taped auditions.

The musical selections are different for each concert. The April 15 show will include “Godspeed” and “Speeches of Angels” by Stephen Melillo, “Man” by the Planets” by Gustav Holst, “The Stars and Stripes Forever” by John Philip Sousa, “Toccata” by Girolamo Frescobaldi, and “The Hounds of Spring” by Alfred Reed.

The April 16 concert will include “Festival Overture” by Darius Milhaud, “Irish Tune from County Derry” by Percy Grainger, and “Suite for Brass” by Darryl O’Ristea.

In addition, guest conductor Ralph Primo, one of the world’s leading wind conductors, will conduct the All-State High School Festival Wind Orchestra in original band wind music and the University Wind Orchestra in Leonard Bernstein’s Overture to Candide.

Marinzel piano and biology justice
Sue Finkle will be performing in the April 15 program, playing Ney Rosano’s Concerto for Marimba and Wind Ensemble. Ticket prices range from $5 for students to $15.

Music lovers can save 15 percent by buying tickets to the concerts this season at least two weeks in advance: Wind Orchestra and University Jazz Band events. In addition to the two Festival Concerts April 15-17, “Taz Night” is scheduled for May 13, and the Spring Concert will be June 3. Call the Performing Arts Office for details.

Ticket information
Tickets are available in person at the Performing Arts Ticket Office 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. weekdays and 10 a.m.-4 p.m. Saturdays. Call ext. 6-7277, or fax your order to ext. 6-6088.

Information on Cal Poly Arts events, including audio and video samples of artists’ work, can be found on the Web at www.calpolylights.org.
Artistic-in-residence to give piano recital

Louis Goldstein, professor of music at Wake Forest University, will present a recital as part of his artistic-in-residency for the Music Department at 7:30 p.m. April 18 in Room 218 in the Davidson Music Center.

Goldstein will perform John Cage's Sonata and Interludes, which require a "prepared piano," which involves placing objects between the strings of a grand piano to create an effective percussion instrument. The recital will include two "Consider a Fulbright" international sessions — one for students and another for faculty members — which will be held April 24 in Room 302 in the Kennedy Library.

The students' session, "Applying for a Fulbright Fellowship," will be held from noon to 2:45 p.m. The faculty's session, "Applying for a Faculty Fulbright Lectures or Research Award," will run from 1:30 to 3:45 p.m. The Fulbright Program also offers a teacher exchange program.

For more information see http://www2.calpoly.edu/grants/fulbright.html and http://www2.calpoly.edu/grants/fulbright.pdf.

Karen Adams, assistant director, European/Newly Independent States for the Fulbright Program, will present the April 24 sessions, which are sponsored by the Grants Development and International Education and Programs departments.

Those planning to attend are asked to call ext. 6-2982 to reserve a spot.

Nominations sought for scholarship, awards

Student Affairs would like to remind the faculty and staff that the deadlines for one scholarship and two awards are due April 12.

Inquiries should be directed to Polly Harrington, student affairs assistant ext. 6-1621.

• Courtney Elizabeth Smyth Scholarship — Faculty and staff members are encouraged to submit letters of nomination for the Courtney Elizabeth Smyth scholarship. The scholarship committee is seeking "outstanding, unusual students who have overcome personal tragedies, adversity or hardship, suggesting an inner strength and determination to maintain academic progress."

• The Quest for the Best Award and the M. Jerry Miller Jr. Leadership Service Award — Employees are asked to encourage students to apply for these two leadership awards. Applications are available in Adm. 209. The recipient of the Land award receives $1,100.

For more information call the Music Department at ext. 6-4206 or visit the department's Web page at www.calpoly.edu/муц.

Books at Alhambra continues in spring

Six book reviews are planned for spring quarter, all at noon in the Veranda Cafe:

• Monday, April 10: Jim Cushing (English) will review "Live as Variously Prepared Piano" by Robert Wright. The book is described as "at the very heart of New York's literary and artistic life during the 1950s and 1960s."

• April 20: Phil Vetzer (Political Science), "The Moral Animal" by Robert Wright. Through the "new science of evolutionary psychology," Wright discusses topics such as marriage, materials, friends, food, violence, sex and religion.

• April 27: Laura-Mae Smith (Library), "The Science of Love: Understanding Love and its Efforts on Mind and Body" by Anthony Walsh. The book reviews research in the biological and neurological sciences to explain how and why love is vital to the healthy functioning of both individuals and societies.

• May 4: William Strohbohlen (City and Regional Planning), "From Art to Hightech: Architecture and Landscape Across the Mexican Border" by Lawrence A. Herdoc. The book examines the tension of Mexican-U.S. relations through the lens of architecture and the economy on the built environment, particularly in the area around Tijuana and San Diego.

• May 11: Michael Orth (English), "River Horse: A Voyage Across America on the Mississippi," the "River Horse's" story is of a journalist's trip in a small cruising boat from New Orleans to Astoria, Ore., "at the mouth of the Columbia River.

• May 18: Bob Wolf (Math), "The Cover Against the Global Electronic Economy" (for a Turn Toward the Local) by Jerry Messer and Edward Goldsmith. The book presents a compelling critique of the global economy imposed on the earth and its citizens through such agreements and organizations as the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, World Trade Organization, North America Free Trade Agreement, International Monetary Fund and World Bank.

For more information, call Phil Vetzer at ext. 6-6147.

April 12 reception set to honor campus authors

The Kennedy Library and El Cerral Bookstore, in collaboration with the offices of the president and provost are planning a 5 p.m. reception April 12 in the Kennedy Library atrium to honor 20 faculty members who will be published in 1999.

The reception, titled "Global Reach, Local Touch," also commemorates National Library Week.

Welcome remarks by Majan Davis, dean of library services, and Frank CWank, director of El Cerral, will kick off the event.

President Baker and Provost Zing will talk about scholarship in higher education. Myron Hord, chair of the Academic Senate, will present the authors with certificates.

The honorees' academic departments, and the titles of their books, are:

For information, call Swifty Talip Bowen at ext. 6-5350.
Target donates $3,000 to Career Services

Target Stores has pledged $3,000 to Career Services "in appreciation of the partnering relationship that has developed over the years," said Mark Quinlan, Target Stores area recruiting manager.

Target Stores selected Cal Poly as a grant recipient because of the significant number of management and business courses offered within the college, the diversity of the campus population, and the store's relationship with Career Services.

Target has hired more than 20 Cal Poly graduates in the last five years and offers internship and career opportunities to Cal Poly students and graduates.

Target specified that the grant be used to help students in exploring and implementing career plans. Career Services Director Richard Equian plans to use the grant to add career workstations in the Career Resource Center.

Students use the center to explore career options, conduct Internet research, and participate in Web Walk-Up, Career Services' on-line interview scheduling and job listing service.

Applicants sought for pre-doctoral program

April 15 is the deadline to apply for the CSU's 2000-2001 California Pre-Doctoral Program, designed to increase the diversity of CSU students who will continue their studies at the doctoral level and become eligible for teaching positions.

A special emphasis will be placed on increasing the number of CSU students enrolled in doctoral programs at UC campuses.

To be eligible, upper-division or master's-degree students must be enrolled at a CSU institution as of spring 2000 and at least one term in 2000-2001.

Each of the selected scholars will work closely with a CSU faculty sponsor to develop a plan that leads to entitlement in each student's specific graduate program at UC campuses.

For more information, call ext. 6-2888.

Foundation Board to meet April 14

The Foundation Board of Directors will hold a public meeting at 9:30 a.m. April 14 in the Foundation Administration Building.

For more information or to obtain a copy of the meeting agenda, call Executive Assistant Tammy 6-2326.

A copy of the agenda packet is available for review at the Kennedy Library Reserve Desk and the Academic Senate Office.

Philosophy Department plans spring colloquium

A spring Philosophy Colloquium series is planned for this spring, with three presentations each day in UU 205.

On April 12:

Stephen Bull (Philosophy) will present "Philosophical Arguments For and Against Affirmative Action," 9-10:30 a.m.

Keith Almy (Philosophy), "Galileo's Hermeneutics. Science and Creativism, Then and Now," 10:40 a.m.-noon.

Jim Cushion (English) and Paul Mitkowski (Philosophy), "Using Nietzsche's 'The Gay Science,'" 2-7:45 p.m.

On April 13:

An award presentation for the winner of the philosophy student essay contest and a student government panel discussion on "Who Needs Philosophy?" led by student Ronald McCorkle, 11:10 a.m.-2:30 p.m.

On April 14:

John Garrison (Philosophy), "Justice and Utility in Frozen Enviroby Cynosure Disputes," 3-2:30 p.m.

For more information, call the Philosophy Department at ext. 6-2328.
Position vacancies

Below are all the new, previously unadvertised employment openings at the university. You may access full information about these and other, previously advertised positions at www.calpoly.edu (scroll down and select "employment opportunities").

STATE: For a complete listing of employment opportunities for state staff and management positions, you can:
- Check the Human Resources and Employment Equal Rights Web at www.calpoly.edu, under Employment Opportunities;
- Come to the HREE office, 8th Floor, 110, and view the posted positions;
- Call the HREE Job Line at ext. 6-1533.

For a listing of new openings, check The Tribune's Tuesday edition. If you have questions, please call HREE at ext. 6-2237.

FAVOURITE candidates are asked to contact the appropriate department office at the phone number listed for more information or to request an application. Additional information and qualifications for each position may also be obtained online at http://www.admission.hawaii.edu. Please submit all application materials to the department head/school unless otherwise specified in the ad. Rank and salary are commensurate with qualifications and experience (and time base where applicable), unless otherwise stated.

03/30: Part-Time Lecturer Post, Food Science and Nutrition (ext. 6-2660) Closing date: April 22.
04/07: Part-Time Lecturer Post, Liberal Studies Program (ext. 6-2393) Closing date: May 1.
04/09: Part-Time Lecturer Post, Electrical Engineering (ext. 6-2781) Closing date: July 28.
04/19: Part-Time Lecturer Post, Civil & Environmental Engineering (ext. 6-2947) Closing date: May 12.

... Draft Master Plan

Continued from page 1

plan calls for expansion of nonresidential enrollment and use of technology to serve more students throughout the entire year. In mapping out future uses, some 500 recommendations made by 10 task forces were considered, including:
- Developing a student-friendly, learner-centered instructional core that would be compact, use the land most effectively and increase open space.
- Maintaining outdoor teaching and learning laboratories.
- Protecting environmentally sensitive areas.
- Increasing the student residential community to maximize community impact and providing services for those students.
- Improving circulation and access to the university.

The preliminary draft was presented for review to the 10 task forces the last week of March. Public review will be from May 1 to June 30. The draft Master Plan will be available, beginning May 1, for review at www.calpoly.edu or at the Assembly Library. Comments about the plan can be e-mailed to masters@calpoly.edu.

... Open forums

Continued from page 1

of South Dakota Board of Regents, will be on campus Thursday and Friday (April 6-7). The open forum is planned from 2 to 3:30 p.m. Thursday in UU 220.
- George Lopos, dean at Miami University, College at the State University of New York, will visit campus Monday and Tuesday (April 14-15). The open forum will be 2-2:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Veranda Café.

Dean, College of Business

Patricia Pettison, a candidate for the position of dean of business, will be on campus April 13-14.

Meetings are scheduled to meet the candidates and other open forums for additional candidates will be announced as they are scheduled.

... DATELINE

Continued from page 1

Tuesday, April 11 investment

Play: "The Rivals" by Cal Poly Theatre, 7:30 p.m. (3) and 6 p.m. (3). (Theatre, Science E-45)

Wednesday, April 12

Philosophy Colloquium: Stephen Ball (Philsophy), "Philsophical Arguments For and Against Affirmative Action," 9-10:30 a.m.; Scott Acheson (Philsophy), "Good Heteromorphism: Sciology and Creationism, Theos and Now," 10:45 a.m.; Jim Cushing (English) and Paul Miklowitz (Philosophy), "Reading Nietzsche's 'The Gay Science,'" 2-4 p.m., UI 205.

Thursday, April 13

Open House Festival High School Wind Orchestra and Cal Poly Brass Choir, Harman Hall, 2:30 p.m. (3) (Music, Arts, Science, Education)

Saturday, April 14

Open House: Campuswide, all day.
- Community April 15.
- Music: Shaerl Experience, Cal Poly Theatre, 7:30 p.m. (3)
- Hearst Lecture: Michael Storlak, "Architecture as Now," Chumash, 7 p.m.

Saturday, April 15

Open House: Campuswide, all day.
- Heart Lecture: Peter Paulin, "Architects for Bill Gates," Chumash, 7 p.m.
- Music: Open Hours Festival, Veranda Café and University Jazz Band, Harman Hall, 8 p.m. (3)

Sunday, April 16

Music: Open House Festival High School Wind Orchestra and Cal Poly Brass Choir, Harman Hall, 2:30 p.m. (3) (Music, Arts, Science, Education)

On a musical note...

Louis Goldstein, a professor of music at Wake Forest University and artist-in-residence in the Music Department, will perform April 18 in the Davidson Music Center. See story on page 2.

On musical note

DRAFT MASTER PLAN TO BE REVIEWED

A preliminary draft of Cal Poly's new Master Plan will be available May 1 for campus and community review. The draft plan, designed to balance land uses with enrollment demands for at least the next 20 years, is the result of two years of deliberation among key campus groups, campuses and community task forces, and planning sessions. Review of the initial documents will take place throughout spring quarter, and it will be refined and reviewed again next fall and winter. The final Master Plan will be presented to the CSU Board of Trustees for approval in spring 2001, Cal Poly's 30th birthday.

"The Master Plan will be designed to meet emerging needs of our academic programs," said Linda Davis, vice president for institutional planning, who is leading the effort. "Communication to the CSU Board of Trustees and of the campus community, and the implementation of a number of recommendations that have been developed for implementation over the next 20 years, will be on campus for interviews in April. Open forums are planned to give the campus community an opportunity to meet the candidates and hear a short presentation.

On musical note

DRAFT MASTER PLAN TO BE REVIEWED

A preliminary draft of Cal Poly's new Master Plan will be available May 1 for campus and community review. The draft plan, designed to balance land uses with enrollment demands for at least the next 20 years, is the result of two years of deliberation among key campus groups, campuses and community task forces, and planning sessions. Review of the initial documents will take place throughout spring quarter, and it will be refined and reviewed again next fall and winter. The final Master Plan will be presented to the CSU Board of Trustees for approval in spring 2001, Cal Poly's 30th birthday.

"The Master Plan will be designed to meet emerging needs of our academic programs," said Linda Davis, vice president for institutional planning, who is leading the effort. "Communication to the CSU Board of Trustees and of the campus community, and the implementation of a number of recommendations that have been developed for implementation over the next 20 years, will be on campus for interviews in April. Open forums are planned to give the campus community an opportunity to meet the candidates and hear a short presentation.

On musical note

... Draft Master Plan

Continued from page 1

A preliminary draft of Cal Poly's new Master Plan will be available May 1 for campus and community review. The draft plan, designed to balance land uses with enrollment demands for at least the next 20 years, is the result of two years of deliberation among key campus groups, campuses and community task forces, and planning sessions. Review of the initial documents will take place throughout spring quarter, and it will be refined and reviewed again next fall and winter. The final Master Plan will be presented to the CSU Board of Trustees for approval in spring 2001, Cal Poly's 30th birthday.

"The Master Plan will be designed to meet emerging needs of our academic programs," said Linda Davis, vice president for institutional planning, who is leading the effort. "Communication to the CSU Board of Trustees and of the campus community, and the implementation of a number of recommendations that have been developed for implementation over the next 20 years, will be on campus for interviews in April. Open forums are planned to give the campus community an opportunity to meet the candidates and hear a short presentation.

On musical note

... Draft Master Plan

Continued from page 1

A preliminary draft of Cal Poly's new Master Plan will be available May 1 for campus and community review. The draft plan, designed to balance land uses with enrollment demands for at least the next 20 years, is the result of two years of deliberation among key campus groups, campuses and community task forces, and planning sessions. Review of the initial documents will take place throughout spring quarter, and it will be refined and reviewed again next fall and winter. The final Master Plan will be presented to the CSU Board of Trustees for approval in spring 2001, Cal Poly's 30th birthday.

"The Master Plan will be designed to meet emerging needs of our academic programs," said Linda Davis, vice president for institutional planning, who is leading the effort. "Communication to the CSU Board of Trustees and of the campus community, and the implementation of a number of recommendations that have been developed for implementation over the next 20 years, will be on campus for interviews in April. Open forums are planned to give the campus community an opportunity to meet the candidates and hear a short presentation.

On musical note

... Draft Master Plan