Return employee survey; become eligible for prize

Human Resources and Employment Equity reminds employees who have not yet returned their Employee Data Validation Survey, to please do so as soon as possible.

Anyone who did not receive a survey should contact HREE at ext. 6-2316.

One employee will be randomly chosen from those who return the survey to win a $25 gift certificate from El Corral Bookstore. The winner will be chosen Friday (June 2).
Retirement reception for Rogalla June 8

The campus community is invited to a retirement reception for Connie Rogalla from 5 to 7 p.m. June 8 in the Smith Alumni Center and Conference Room. Rogalla, a staff member in the University Center for Teacher Education, has been at Cal Poly since 1979.

Women Engineers, select five "Outstanding"

Cal Poly's Society of Women Engineers, in cooperation with Hewlett-Packard, has chosen five of its members to receive a Student Engineering and Technology award. Chosen from 36 nominees, the awardees are:

- Kristen Carlson, an electrical engineering senior, Janice Carol, an civil engineering senior, Daniel Habibian, an mechanical engineering senior; and Rebecca Cole, a chemical engineering senior.

Candidates for this award were ranked according to English Professor and chair of the Contest Organizing Committee, Kevin Clark.

Risk Management office to relocate June 12

Effective June 12, the Risk Management office to the Administrative Building will be relocated to Building 80 (behind the Police Station), where it will be the new home for Health and Safety staff members who report to Joe Risser, risk manager, are already housed.

Crop science students also part of winning team

The May 17 Cal Poly Report article recognizing students and teams who won national awards in the contest that Crop Science students were part of the team that won first place in the American Society for Horti-Social Sciences, Vegetable Journal, Food and Nutr. Judging Contest.

English major wins poetry contest

English major Shannon Gilliam was chosen by Boy Arca, poet-editor Mary Jane Berator of the English Department at Cal Poly's 2000 Academy of American Poets Contest.

Gilliam's winning poem, "Four Buttered Lovelies, Like Lumps of Stone," is partly based on a tale from Chinese Chippa. Her poem also chose "Yellow Hands," a "testina" written by English Major Elizabeth Sansome of Marysville, for honorable mention. A testina consists of six stanzas of six lines each and a concluding triplet. The end words of the first stanza are repeated in strict order as words of the subsequent stanzas and then strictly arranged again in the triplet.

Retirement reception for Rogalla June 8

The campus community is invited to a retirement reception for Connie Rogalla from 5 to 7 p.m. June 8 in the Smith Alumni Center and Conference Room. Rogalla, a staff member in the University Center for Teacher Education, has been at Cal Poly since 1979.

Women Engineers, select five "Outstanding"

Cal Poly's Society of Women Engineers, in cooperation with Hewlett-Packard, has chosen five of its members to receive a Student Engineering and Technology award. Chosen from 36 nominees, the awardees are:

- Kristen Carlson, an electrical engineering senior, Janice Carol, an civil engineering senior, Daniel Habibian, an mechanical engineering senior; and Rebecca Cole, a chemical engineering senior.

Candidates for this award were ranked according to English Professor and chair of the Contest Organizing Committee, Kevin Clark.

Risk Management office to relocate June 12

Effective June 12, the Risk Management office to the Administrative Building will be relocated to Building 80 (behind the Police Station), where it will be the new home for Health and Safety staff members who report to Joe Risser, risk manager, are already housed.

Crop science students also part of winning team

The May 17 Cal Poly Report article recognizing students and teams who won national awards in the contest that Crop Science students were part of the team that won first place in the American Society for Horti-Social Sciences, Vegetable Journal, Food and Nutr. Judging Contest.
Open forums planned for Foundation director finalists

The remaining candidates for the position of Foundation executive director will be on campus June 7, and students, the faculty and staff members are invited to meet them at open forums and specially prepared questionnaires.

Speciality forums are intended for groups with common interests; however, those unable to attend their group forum are welcome to any of the other forums.

- Monday (June 5) a yet-to-be-named finalist will be on campus. Forums for this candidate will be in the Foundation Administration Training Room (135): Campus Open Forum-10:10-10:55 a.m; Student Forum-10:10-10:55 a.m; Research Forum-10:10-10:55 a.m; Student Forum-10:11-10:55 a.m; Research Forum-10:10-10:55 a.m; Faculty Forum-11:30-1:30 p.m; Student Forum-11:30-1:30 p.m; Research Forum-11:30-1:30 p.m; Faculty Forum-11:30-1:30 p.m.

In Hentschel's position at the Institute for Research on Learning in Montebello, he has also represented the University of Southern California, and was responsible for the operation of a number of departments and prepared recommendations on operations, management, productivity and organization of services.

Risk Management office to relocate June 12

Effective June 12, the Risk Management office in the Administration Building will be relocated to Building 80 (behind the Police Station), where Enviromental Health and Safety staff members report who are Joe River, risk manager, are already housed.

The campus claims coordinator responsibilities formerly performed by Nancy Vitkis in the Vice President for Administration and Finance office will be transferred to Schmitz, administrative support coordinator for the Financial Office.

Inquiring and reporting of Board of Directors Research Forum-I:10-1:55 a.m. and Student Forum-1:10-1:55 a.m.

Crop science students also part of winning team

The May 17 Cal Poly Report article "recognizing students and teams who won national awards at the Society that Crop Science students were part of the team that won first place in the American Society for Horticultural Science's Vegetables and Fruits and Nut Judging Contest.”

Society for Horticultural Science's Vegetables and Fruits and Nut Judging Contest. The team was invited, and those planning to attend are asked to call Wanda Bolt at ext. 6-1319.

Retirement reception for Rogalla June 8

The campus community is invited to a retirement reception for Constance Rogalla from 2 to 5 p.m. June 8 in the Smith Alumni Center and Conference Room, Rogalla, a staff member in the University Center for Teacher Education, has been at Cal Poly since 1979.

Women Engineers select five "Outstanding Engineers" at Cal Poly’s 2000 Academy of American Engineers, in cooperation with Hewlett-Packard, has chosen five of its members to receive the Outstanding Engineer in Engineering and Technology award. Chosen from 36 nominees, the winners are:

Kristen Carlson, an electrical engineering senior, June Julan, civil engineering senior; Dema Gilliam, mechanical engineering senior; Kari Hughes, industrial engineering senior; and Rebecca Colpaugh, chemical engineering senior.

Candidates for this award were ranked using four criteria: faculty recommendations, demonstrated leadership, related work experience and grade point average.

The five honorees received new computer printer/complements of Hewlett-Packard.

Feedback sought to improve academic advising

The Advising Council, under the leadership of Denise Wellington, special assistant to the provost for university initiatives, has drafted a set of draft standards and is seeking comments and suggestions.

The council, an advisory body to the provost and vice provost for academic programs, was formed earlier this year and charged with implementing key recommendations made by the Advising Task Force.

In response to the hearing standards, the council has created a Web site and is preparing a grant proposal to fund the creation of a Web-based "Virtual Advising Center" for student use.

Ongoing council initiatives include:

- Standardized communication strategies for improving information flow about policies and procedures affecting academic advising.
- Training modules and advising tools for faculty and staff members.
- Assessment guidelines and processes to support continuous improvement in advising programs.
- Recognizing programs that acknowledge and encourage high-quality advising.

The council would like to hear from members of the campus community about the Advising Standards before submitting them to the Campus Administrative Policy Committee for inclusion in the new campus policy manual.

Feedback on the format and content outlined in the proposed standards is being sought, although not all links and information have been fully developed.

The council can be contacted at:
http://www.calpoly.edu/~acadprog/Advising/AdvisingStandards.htm. Please forward your comments to cjoubert@calpoly.edu by June 9.
Diversity award

Continued from page 1

recruiting new students to careers in agriculture and integration of learn-by-doing techniques and technologies into recruiting strategies.

"The 26 Hours of Science and Technology in Agriculture has contributed significantly to the enhancement of diversity on our campus and in the community," said President Baker. "At a time when diversity in higher education has encountered of the need to diversify the campus. Current students recognize the importance of diversity when they are involved in a program of this nature. It sensitizes them to differences that exist and needs to be program to provide support to program participants once they are admitted to Cal Poly," said Case. "It also serves as a valuable community service by working directly with high school and community college instructors, administrators and counselors in exposing their students to college life and the realm of possibilities available to college graduates.

An honorable mention this year was awarded to Academic Affairs student advisor and leaders of the ReAction Quilt, a collaborative project that drew people from virtually every division and ethnic group on campus, both men and women. The quilt commemorates San Luis Obispo County women who have been the victims of sexual assault.

The Diversity Award Committee of the University Diversity Enhancement Council, chaired by Harry Hellenbrand, dean of the College of Agricultural, selected the two programs for recognition. The awards will be presented at a reception honoring the winners on June 7. The Black Faculty and Staff Association received the award in 1999.

Tony Clements

Tuba player Clements to give mini-recital

Tony Clements, well-known virtuoso tuba player and guest artist at the Cal Poly Woodwind Orchestra's Spring Concert on Thursday (June 3) will give a mini-recital and lead a low-brass workshop for Cal Poly students at 2:30 p.m. Thursday (June 3) in Room 218 of the Davidson Music Center. Clements will give individual instruction to Cal Poly students, who will then perform pieces they have worked on.

For more information, please contact the Music Department at ext. 2-2490, 0

CPR schedule

Next week's (June 7) Cal Poly Report is the final one for spring quarter.

During summer, the Report comes out every other week. The first summer issue will be June 21. The deadline to submit items for that issue is June 14.

E-mail items to polynews@polymail, fax to ext. 6-533 or mail to Public Affairs, Heron Hall. For more information, call ext. 6-1511.

Return employee survey; become eligible for prize

Human Resources and Employment Equity reminds employees who have not yet returned their Employee Data Validation Survey, to please do so as soon as possible.

Anyone who did not receive a survey should contact HREE at ext. 6-2316.

One employee will be randomly cho-gan from those who return the survey to win a $25 gift certificate from EI Corral Bookstore. The winner will be chosen Friday (June 2).