Position vacancies

STATE: For a complete listing of employment opportunities for state staff and management positions, you can:

- Come to the HR/EEO office, Admin. 110, and view the posted positions.
- Call the HR/EEO Job Line at ext. 6-5533.

For a listing of new openings, check The Tribune's Sunday edition.

Please note that job applications must be received in the Human Resources and Employment Equity office, Admin. 110, by 5 p.m. on the closing date. Resumes postmarked by the deadline will not be accepted.

FACULTY Candidates are asked to contact the appropriate department office at the phone number listed for more information or to request an application. Additional information and qualifications for each position may also be obtained online at http://www.academic-personnel.calpoly.edu. Please submit all application materials to the department head/chair unless otherwise specified in the ad. Rank and salary are commensurate with qualifications and experience (and time base where applicable), unless otherwise stated.

Blues legend Buddy Guy to play at Cal Poly Monday

Grammy Award-winning Chicago blues legend Buddy Guy will perform at 8 p.m. Monday (March 19) in the Cohan Center's Harman Hall.

After more than three decades of playing the blues, Guy made a career breakthrough with his 1991 album, "Damn Right, I've Got the Blues." The album, which included guest appearances by Eric Clapton, Jeff Beck, and Mark Knopfler, earned a Grammy Award for "Best Contemporary Blues Album." Guy also won a Grammy for two other releases, "Feels Like Rain" in 1993 and "Sittin' In" in 1995.

Guy appeared in the 1996 television special and live album, "A Tribute To Stevie Ray Vaughan," along with B.B. King, Clifton, Jimmie Vaughan, Bonnie Raitt, Dr. John, and Art Neville. The closing number, "SRV Shuffle," earned Guy his fourth Grammy Award, for "Best Rock Instrumental Performance."

Tickets to this Cal Poly Arts event are $26 to $38, with student discounts available.

Fine lines for free

The campus cat program has a variety of cats and feline-related products that have been trapped on campus and are available for adoption for free. They have all been vaccinated, spayed or neutered, and tested for FIV/FIV.

The cats range in age from about six months to two years.

The cat program is always seeking tax-deductible donations and needs vet and dry food and bedding. Checks can be made out to "Cal Poly Cat Program."

For more information, contact Edie Griffin-Shaw at ext. 6-520 or egriffin @calpoly.edu, or visit the Web site at http://www.calpoly.edu/~catkites/4851/index.html.

DATINGLINE

(3) - Admission charged

Exhibits:

Club 221 (UU): "Permanent Concepts," featuring installation and conceptual student art ranging from sculpture and photo documentation to sound and audio work. Through March 23. Hours: Monday-Friday noon-5 p.m.

Wednesday, March 14

Women's Studies Program Faculty Lecture: Ruby Tawe (UCSB), "Breeching Ghosts: Flulic (the) Conceptions of Motherhood in 'Beloved,'" Erhart Ag 227, 11 a.m.

Music: John Bankston, BackStage Pizza, noon.

Thursday, March 15

Music: Student Recital, Davidson Music Center 218, 11 a.m.

Physics Colloquium: William Dinklage (Wittenberg University), "From Fission to Fluid Flow: Addressing Tectonic Problems from Deep in the Crust to the Surface," Science E-45, 11 a.m.

Softball: Marshall University (20), Jeno's Field, 3 and 5 p.m. (5)

Music: Vocal Student Recital, Davidson Music Center 218, 7:30 p.m.

Music: Ruby String Quartet, Theatre, 8 p.m. (5) Pre-concert lecture, Alyson Mclaren (Music), Cohan Center Phillips Hall, 7 p.m.

Friday, March 16

Last day of winter quarter classes.

Saturday, March 17

Music: Pops Concert with Cal Poly Wind Orchestra and William Terrence Spillett (Music), Cohan Center Harman Hall, 8 p.m. (6)

Sunday, March 18

Cirrus: New Shanghai Circus, Cohan Center Harman Hall, 3 and 7 p.m. (5)

Music: Cal Poly Chorale Orchestra Concert, Theatre, 5 p.m.

Monday, March 19

Final Exam Period: Through March 23.

Music: Student Recital, Cohan Center Harman Hall, 8 p.m. (5)

Continued on page 4
Ag helps form curricula for Arab Emirates college

Dean of Agriculture Joseph Jen has been named by the chancellor of the United Arab Emirates University (UAEE) to help develop a curriculum that emphasizes Cal Poly-like "learn-by-doing" approach.

Chancellor Sheikh Nahayan Bin Mubarak wants to enhance his institution's traditional theoretical education system with a more practical, hands-on style.

Jen is heading up a team of College of Agriculture faculty members, including Associate Dean David Weinhet, whose specialty area is environmental horticulture; Robert Rutherford, animal science; Mary Pedersen, nutrition; Kathleen McNabury, nutrition; Philip Doug, agribusiness; Marianne Wolf, agribusiness; and visiting professor Romeo Toledo, food engineering.

Jen's area of expertise is food science.

UAEE Representative Mohamed Yossef asked Jen and W.R. "Reg" Gomes, vice president of agriculture and natural resources for the University of California, to meet with his university's leaders and determine how it could be done.

After reviewing the agriculture program in the Emirates, the group recommended de-emphasizing production agriculture and concentrating on agricultural business and food systems. Sheikh Mubarak then asked the College of Agriculture to develop curricula for the four departments and eight majors of a new College of Food Systems at UAEE.

Students display designs for Cal Poly time capsule

There's a time capsule that grows from the time capsule you walk through, and a capsule to keep the past visible.

There's one that guesses the future and one that records it.

And five student proposals for a Cal Poly Centennial Time Capsule are on display in the UU lobby through March 22. Professor Tom Fowler's third-year architecture students developed a range of imaginative ideas as a class project.

To aid tour to France

New Shanghai Circus

The New Shanghai Circus will perform gravity-defying acrobatics and classic Chinese physical art at 3 and 7 p.m. in the Cohon Center.

"Incredible Acrobats of China" is part of Cal Poly Arts' Family Event series.

The troupe combines traditional Chinese acrobatics with the latest in lighting, sound and special effects.

The New Shanghai Circus has created a series of magic and acrobatic productions that have been enthusiastically received by audiences.

The New York Times said the group's "art form literally breathes heights of skill. Tickets are $10 and $14, with child and student discounts available.

Nominations sought . . .

Continued from page 1

Letters of nomination should include the student's name and Social Security number, a description of personal strengths and potential for success, and insight into the candidate's character and ability to excel under adversity.

Nominations are due April 12 to the Student Affairs office, A209. For more information, call Judy Nussbaum at ext. 61521.

‘Walk Your Bike’ zone created in campus core

To encourage the use of bicycles, cyclists will be allowed to walk their bikes in the campus core area beginning spring quarter - April 2. Bicycle racks will be placed in the zone where possible.

The "Walk Your Bike" core has been closed to bicyclists for about 10 years, and it will continue to be a violation to ride a bicycle in the zone.

For about a month, University Police will educate the campus through the media, classroom presentations, ads in various publications, and warnings by officers. After that, those who ride in the zone will be cited.

Newly neon yellow children's bikes can be dropped off in Room A-1 in the Science Building. Or arrange for pickup by contacting Brent Hallock at ext. 6-2436 or Valerie Barboza, 6-5923, or by sending e-mail to gb@markbregren.com.

Choirs' talent show, auction to aid tour to France

The University Singers, PolyPhonics, Vocal Jazz, and barbershop quartets Grand Avenue and Here Comes Treble Vocal Jazz, and barbershop quartets "The Polysy" (March 16) at the First Baptist Church in San Luis Obispo. The concert will be planned as a fund-raiser to help send members of the choirs on a 12-day performance tour of Paris and North Africa.

Almost 60 student singers, 10 alumni and 20 family members are planning to participate in the tour.

The trip begins June 24 and will include several days in Paris, where the choirs' first concert will be in the church of St. Severin.

The tour will take participants to the Champagne district, with stops in Epernay and Reims, and to Rosen, St. Malo and St. Mont Michel.

Concerts in the cathedrals in Orleans and Chartres will follow.

Tickets to the talent show and silent auction are $6 for students and senior citizens and $10 for the public and may be purchased at the door.

The First Baptist Church is at 2073 Johnson Ave.

The event is sponsored by the Music Department, College of Liberal Arts, and the Extendedly Related Activities program.

For more information, call the Music Department at ext. 6-2406.

Two Physics Colloquia set

"From Folation to Fluid Flow: Addressing the Techtonic Problems from the Deep in the Crust to the Surface" is the title of the next Physics Colloquium, 11 a.m. to noon Thursday (March 15) in Science Building 218.

Geologist Professor William Dinkel of Winthrop University will explain the cross-disciplinary nature of many geology problems and show how basic physics, geology, and structural geology are related by giving examples of past, current and potential research.

He will also discuss a project he conducted on Wheeler Ridge in the southern San Joaquin Valley that integrated geomorphology and structural geology in the sub-discipline of neotectonics, the study of how active deformation affects the landscape.

Geology Professor Steve Lundblad of Central Washington University will give a presentation on "Geodynamics: loose the topics, the extreme," titled "The Geology of Earthquakes," at 11 a.m. Tuesday (March 20) in 500 Science.

Children's book drive to run through March 28

Cal Poly's Chapter of the Golden Key National Honor Society is participating in a drive to collect children's books as part of "Upholding America's Promise," a project that seeks to further the education of children.

Books will be collected through March 28, and all books will be donated to libraries and schools.

Members of Golden Key will arrange to have the donated books at the society's regional conference in Long Beach for inclusion in the drive, which is being coordinated by CSU Long Beach.

Newly bought children's books can be dropped off in Room A-1 in the Science Building. Or arrange for pickup by contacting Brent Hallock at ext. 6-2436 or Valerie Barboza, 6-5923, or by sending e-mail to gb@markbregren.com.

CalPERS members can view annual statements online

Active and inactive CalPERS members can now register to view their latest Annual Statement (June 30, 2000) online.

The "PERSONal Access" feature is designed to provide workers personal information and secure access.

For information on the new program, go to http://www.calpers.co.gov; click on "PERSONal Access," and follow the "Register Now" instructions to have a PIN number mailed to you. Once you receive a PIN number, you can view your statement, which is updated each October.

Faculty, staff members feted at 'Apple Polyster'

The Poly Rep student organization recently hosted its 14th annual "Apple Polyster," at which 20 faculty and staff members were honored.

Each Poly Rep invited a favorite employee to the reception as a way to give workers a unique experience, which they were chosen for recognition. The invited guests were also presented with a "Gold Apple Award." The awards are given.

Those honored were Preston Allen, Housing and Residential Life; Phil Bailey, Dean of the College of Science and Mathematics; Ron Brown, Physics; Chris Carr, Global Strategy and Law; Nancy Clark, Housing and Residential Life; Phil Bailey, Dean of the College of Science and Mathematics; Ron Brown, Physics; Chris Carr, Global Strategy and Law; Nancy Clark, Honors Program; John Corcoran, Civil Engineering; and Cindy Decker, Journalism.

Additional honorees included Jerry Goodwin, Finance; Linda Halisky, English; Anthony Koeninger, History; Margaret Leitner, Mathematics; and Mark Bregren, University Center for Teacher Education.

Sheerly O'Neill, Mathematics; Valerie Peterson, Speech Communication; Susan Puhl, Physical Education and Kinesiology; Cyrus Ramezani, Finance; Alan Razee, Speech Communication; Don Ruyjin, Psychology and Human Development; Susan Sparling, Student Academic Services; and Dave Wehner, College of Agriculture.

Poly Reps is sponsored by Admissions and Recruitment Affairs and Alumni Relations.
New Shanghai Circus to perform acrobatics

The New Shanghai Circus will perform gravity-defying acrobatics and classic Chinese physical folk art at 3 and 7 p.m. in the Cohran Center's Harman Hall Sunday (March 18). "Incredible Acrobats of China!" is part of Cal Poly Arts' Family Event series.

The troupe combines traditional Chinese acrobatics with the latest in high-tech lighting, sound and special effects.

The New Shanghai Circus has created a series of magic and acrobatic productions that have been enthusiastically received by audiences.

The New York Times said the group's "circus art reached literally literal heights of skill." Tickets are $10 and $14, with child and student discounts available.

Nominations sought...

Continued from page 1 and is a full-time student for the 2001-2002 academic year.

Letters of nomination should include the student's name and Social Security number, a description of personal strengths and potential for success, and insight into the candidate's character and ability to excel under adversity.

Nominations are due April 12 to the Student Affairs office, Adm. 209.

For more information, call Judy Nussbaum at ext. 61521.

CalPERS members can view annual statements online.

Active and inactive CalPERS members can now register to view their latest Annual Member Statement (June 30, 2000) online.

The "PERSOnal Access" feature is designed to be secure, personal information and safe and for the convenience of the billions of dollars in retirement accounts managed by the CalPERS board.

For information on the new program, go to http://personalaccess.calpers.ca.gov. Click on "PERSOnal Access," follow the "Register New User" instructions to have a PIN number mailed to you. Once you receive a PIN number, you can view your statement, which is updated each October.

CalPERS members can view annual statements online.

Active and inactive CalPERS members can now register to view their latest Annual Member Statement (June 30, 2000) online.

The "PERSOnal Access" feature is designed to be secure, personal information and safe and for the convenience of the billions of dollars in retirement accounts managed by the CalPERS board.

For information on the new program, go to http://personalaccess.calpers.ca.gov. Click on "PERSOnal Access," follow the "Register New User" instructions to have a PIN number mailed to you. Once you receive a PIN number, you can view your statement, which is updated each October.

Faculty, staff members feted at "Apple Polyster.

The Poly Rep student organization recently hosted its 14th annual "Apple Polyster," at which 20 faculty and staff members were honored. Each Poly Rep invited a favorite employee to the reception as a way of thanking those who made a difference in their life at Cal Poly.

During the event, each honoree was to receive a personalized award engraved with a message of recognition. The invited guests were also presented with a "Golden Apple Award." Those honored were Preston Allen, Housing and Residential Life; Phil Bailey, Dean of the College of Science and Mathematics; Ron Brown, Physics; Chris Carr, Global Strategy and Law; Nancy Clark, Honors Program; John Corcas, Electrical Engineering; and Cindy Decker, Journalism.

Additional honorees included Larry Gorman, Finance; Linda Halisky, English; Anthony Koeninger, History; Margaret McBurney, Business; and Visiting Professor Romeo Tobergwe, Biology, Chemistry.

Children's book drive to run through March 28

Cal Poly's Chapter of the Golden Key National Honor Society is participating in a drive to collect children's books as part of "Upholding America's Promise," a project that seeks to further the education of tomorrow's leaders.

Books will be collected through March 28, and all books will be donated to libraries and schools.

Members of Golden Key will arrange to have the donated books at the society's regional conference in Long Beach for inclusion in the drive, which is being coordinated by CSU Long Beach.

Newly used children's books can be dropped off in Room A-1 in the Science Building. For pickup by contacting Brent Hallock at ext. 6246 or Valerie Barboza, 6-5923, or by sending an e-mail to glk@markbrugen.com.

CalPERS members can view annual statements online.

Active and inactive CalPERS members can now register to view their latest Annual Member Statement (June 30, 2000) online.

The "PERSOnal Access" feature is designed to be secure, personal information and safe and for the convenience of the billions of dollars in retirement accounts managed by the CalPERS board.

For information on the new program, go to http://personalaccess.calpers.ca.gov. Click on "PERSOnal Access," follow the "Register New User" instructions to have a PIN number mailed to you. Once you receive a PIN number, you can view your statement, which is updated each October.

CalPERS members can view annual statements online.

Active and inactive CalPERS members can now register to view their latest Annual Member Statement (June 30, 2000) online.

The "PERSOnal Access" feature is designed to be secure, personal information and safe and for the convenience of the billions of dollars in retirement accounts managed by the CalPERS board.

For information on the new program, go to http://personalaccess.calpers.ca.gov. Click on "PERSOnal Access," follow the "Register New User" instructions to have a PIN number mailed to you. Once you receive a PIN number, you can view your statement, which is updated each October.

CalPERS members can view annual statements online.

Active and inactive CalPERS members can now register to view their latest Annual Member Statement (June 30, 2000) online.

The "PERSOnal Access" feature is designed to be secure, personal information and safe and for the convenience of the billions of dollars in retirement accounts managed by the CalPERS board.

For information on the new program, go to http://personalaccess.calpers.ca.gov. Click on "PERSOnal Access," follow the "Register New User" instructions to have a PIN number mailed to you. Once you receive a PIN number, you can view your statement, which is updated each October.

CalPERS members can view annual statements online.

Active and inactive CalPERS members can now register to view their latest Annual Member Statement (June 30, 2000) online.

The "PERSOnal Access" feature is designed to be secure, personal information and safe and for the convenience of the billions of dollars in retirement accounts managed by the CalPERS board.

For information on the new program, go to http://personalaccess.calpers.ca.gov. Click on "PERSOnal Access," follow the "Register New User" instructions to have a PIN number mailed to you. Once you receive a PIN number, you can view your statement, which is updated each October.
Blues Legend Buddy Guy to play at Cal Poly Monday

Grammy Award-winning Chicago blues legend Buddy Guy will perform at 8 p.m. Monday (March 19) in the Cohan Center's Harman Hall.

After more than three decades of playing the blues, Guy made a career breakthrough with his 1991 album "Damn Right, I've Got the Blues." The album, which included guest appearances by Stevie Ray Vaughan, B.B. King, Clapton, Jeff Beck, and Mark Knopfler, earned a Grammy Award for "Best Contemporary Blues Album." Guy also won a Grammy for two other releases, "Freaks Like Rain" in 1993 and "Stillin'" in 1995.

Guy appeared in the 1996 television special and live album, "A Tribute To Stevie Ray Vaughan," along with B.B. King, Clapton, Jimmie Vaughan, Bonnie Raitt, Dr. John, and Art Neville. The closing number, "SRV Shuffler," earned Guy his fourth Grammy Award, for "Best Rock Instrumental Performance." Tickets to this Cal Poly Arts event are $26 to $58, with student discounts available.

Faculty members, students inducted into Golden Key

The Golden Key International Honor Society recently inducted 345 new students and four honorary faculty members from the colleges of Agriculture, Business and Science and Mathematics.

Faculty members Jaymie Noland, Animal Science; Rudy Wooten, Animal Science; Janice Carr, Business; and Theresa Balanos, Chemistry and Biochemistry, were recognized in a ceremony and reception in Chumash Auditorium.

Honorary members are recognized for their service to students, the campus and the community at large.

Golden Key also awarded two $500 scholarships to a junior- and senior-level student to recognize and reward extra- curricular service and leadership to the campus and community.

Golden Key International Honor Society is open to the top 15 percent of students in any major and focuses on service to the campus and community. For more information, visit the society's Web page at http://www.calpoly.edu/goldkey/ or contact advisors Brent Hallock at ext. 6-5353, or Valerie Barboza, ext. 6-5923.

Position vacancies

STATE: to play at Cal Poly Monday

Blues legend Buddy Guy

January 27, 2001

STATE: to play at Cal Poly Monday

Blues legend Buddy Guy

January 27, 2001

STATE: to play at Cal Poly Monday

Blues legend Buddy Guy

January 27, 2001

STATE: to play at Cal Poly Monday

Blues legend Buddy Guy

January 27, 2001

STATE: to play at Cal Poly Monday

Blues legend Buddy Guy

January 27, 2001

STATE: to play at Cal Poly Monday

Blues legend Buddy Guy

January 27, 2001

STATE: to play at Cal Poly Monday

Blues legend Buddy Guy

January 27, 2001

STATE: to play at Cal Poly Monday

Blues legend Buddy Guy

January 27, 2001

STATE: to play at Cal Poly Monday

Blues legend Buddy Guy

January 27, 2001

 STATE: to play at Cal Poly Monday