Position vacancies

STATE: For a complete listing of employment

Friday, April 20

Open House Presents Poly Royal:
- Activities campuswide. Through Sunday.

Softball:
- Utah State (2 games), Janssen Field, noon and 2 p.m. ($)

Music:
- Festival Concert with All-State High School Wind Orchestra and the Cal Poly Brass Choir, Cohan Center Harman Hall, 2:30 p.m. ($)

Monday, April 21

ReMember Week:
- Information Booth, University Plaza, 11 a.m. April 23-27.

Tuesday, April 22

Softball:
- Utah State, 3 p.m. ($)

Music:
- Kristin Batterby Band, UU Club 221 (UU), noon. Concert: Save Ferris and Space Skadets, Rec Center, 6:30 p.m. ($)

Softball:
- San Jose State University (2 games), Janssen Field, 6 and 8 p.m. ($)

Deadline to be May 4 for spring Credit Report

The deadline to submit items for the spring issue of The Credit Report is May 4. Form should not be faxed (not mailed) to polycredit@calpoly.edu. (add .calpoly.edu if necessary.)

Photo form is available at www.poly.edu/creditreport or call ext. 6-2053. D

California Polytechnic State University

Retired Faculty-Staff Club hosts President Baker

President Baker reviewed the university's 100-year history at a recent meeting of the Cal Poly Retired Faculty and Staff Club. (Left to right: Retired Faculty and Staff Club Vice President Donna Troy, President Gene Starkey, Warren and Corty Baker, Secretary/Pat Saum, President-elect Erland Detloff, Physical Education and Kinesiology Professor Susan Puhl, Student Morgan VanDorn, Past-President Starr Jenkins and Treasurer David Thomas.)

MBA team earns 2nd place in international contest

Cal Poly’s MBA team received the second-place trophy in the Graduate Division of the 37th annual International Collegiate Business Strategy Competition, held recently in San Diego.

Team members included Buck Lucas, who served as chief executive officer; Brian Paker, vice president, strategy; Eric Hurhns, vice president, communications; Brandon Mejia, vice president, finance; Matt Smith, vice president, operations; and Tanya Downing, vice president, marketing.

First-year MBA student Hilary Berkey served as an intern and will assume the position of chief executive officer for next year’s team.

In the competition, student teams operated virtual firms for an imaginary seven-year period. The final "two years" of each firm’s operation were conducted in an intense period of competition in San Diego, followed by a presentation to a

Continued

www.calpoly.edu/creditreport/creditreport.htm
Light show among new CAED events for Open House

The College of Architecture and Enviromental Design is offering both new events and traditional exhibits for Open House Presents Poly Royal.

A sampling of the college’s free events on Friday and Saturday (see conference calendar, pages 20-21).
- The Centennial Time Capsule Project will be on display in the lobby of Vista Bldg. from 10 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. and Saturday from 11 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. The 13 proposals differ from traditional capsules by incorporating innovative designs that envelop the contents with a time-lock-like structure. Everyone is invited to have a hand in selecting a possible capsule’s contents and design.
- Friday from noon to 5 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Open House Visitors can see some of the college’s imaginative projects on campus by viewing the CAED Centennial Exhibit of Student Work. All five of the college’s departments contribute to the display in the Gallery (Room 105) of the Architecture and Environmental Design Building.
- The Hearst Lecture Series moves to Chumash Auditorium at 7 p.m. Friday for a presentation by San Francisco-based architect/inventor Peter Sebelius about “Possibilities” by world-renowned sculptor and architect William Bruder.
- The theme for this year’s Design Village Competition is “Living the Playground.” Student teams from campuses across the West will build self-designedFitness classes offered spring quarter

A variety of fitness classes are offered under way at the Recreation Center, including group exercise classes in aerobics, step, body sculpt, J.U.M.P., abs, medicine ball, power swing, and kardio kickbox.

Fitness and exercise classes include water workout, mat Pilates, yoga, sign language, massage, adult swimming, tangos and swing dance plus four different disciplines of martial arts.

ReMEmber Week...Continued from page 1

"Take Back the Night," at 7 p.m. April 25 in Chumash, will feature guest speaker and Cal Poly alumna Tracy Fletcher, who will talk about her experiences and the 2000 sexual assault. Fletcher graduated from the College of Business in 1988 with a degree in human resource management.

After the presentation, an open microphone session is planned, giving students and others an opportunity to talk about sexual assault or other violence against women and to remember someone who has been a victim of those crimes.

A silent candlelight walk dedicated to Smart, Newhouse, Crawford, and Hogan will take place at 7 p.m. in San Luis Obispo’s Mission Plaza.

The week’s activities come to a close April 27 with a fund-raiser tri-tip barbecue at 11 a.m.-4 p.m. at the Gleason Building.

The 13 proposals differ from traditional capsules by incorporating innovative designs that envelop the contents with a time-lock-like structure.

The week’s activities come to a close April 27 with a fund-raiser tri-tip barbecue at 11 a.m.-4 p.m. at the Gleason Building. Capsule's contents and design.

The 13 proposals differ from traditional capsules by incorporating innovative designs that envelop the contents with a time-lock-like structure. Everyone is invited to have a hand in selecting a possible capsule’s contents and design.

A sampling of the college’s free events on Friday and Saturday (see conference calendar, pages 20-21).
- The Centennial Time Capsule Project will be on display in the lobby of Vista Bldg. from 10 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. and Saturday from 11 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. The 13 proposals differ from traditional capsules by incorporating innovative designs that envelop the contents with a time-lock-like structure. Everyone is invited to have a hand in selecting a possible capsule’s contents and design.
- Friday from noon to 5 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Open House Visitors can see some of the college’s imaginative projects on campus by viewing the CAED Centennial Exhibit of Student Work. All five of the college’s departments contribute to the display in the Gallery (Room 105) of the Architecture and Environmental Design Building.
- The Hearst Lecture Series moves to Chumash Auditorium at 7 p.m. Friday for a presentation by San Francisco-based architect/inventor Peter Sebelius about “Possibilities” by world-renowned sculptor and architect William Bruder.
- The theme for this year’s Design Village Competition is “Living the Playground.” Student teams from campuses across the West will build self-designedFitness classes offered spring quarter

A variety of fitness classes are offered under way at the Recreation Center, including group exercise classes in aerobics, step, body sculpt, J.U.M.P., abs, medicine ball, power swing, and kardio kickbox.

Fitness and exercise classes include water workout, mat Pilates, yoga, sign language, massage, adult swimming, tangos and swing dance plus four different disciplines of martial arts.

ReMEmber Week...Continued from page 1

"Take Back the Night," at 7 p.m. April 25 in Chumash, will feature guest speaker and Cal Poly alumna Tracy Fletcher, who will talk about her experiences and the 2000 sexual assault. Fletcher graduated from the College of Business in 1988 with a degree in human resource management.

After the presentation, an open microphone session is planned, giving students and others an opportunity to talk about sexual assault or other violence against women and to remember someone who has been a victim of those crimes.

A silent candlelight walk dedicated to Smart, Newhouse, Crawford, and Hogan will take place at 7 p.m. in San Luis Obispo’s Mission Plaza.

The week’s activities come to a close April 27 with a fund-raiser tri-tip barbecue at 11 a.m.-4 p.m. at the Gleason Building.

The 13 proposals differ from traditional capsules by incorporating innovative designs that envelop the contents with a time-lock-like structure. Everyone is invited to have a hand in selecting a possible capsule’s contents and design.

A sampling of the college’s free events on Friday and Saturday (see conference calendar, pages 20-21).
- The Centennial Time Capsule Project will be on display in the lobby of Vista Bldg. from 10 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. and Saturday from 11 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. The 13 proposals differ from traditional capsules by incorporating innovative designs that envelop the contents with a time-lock-like structure. Everyone is invited to have a hand in selecting a possible capsule’s contents and design.
- Friday from noon to 5 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Open House Visitors can see some of the college’s imaginative projects on campus by viewing the CAED Centennial Exhibit of Student Work. All five of the college’s departments contribute to the display in the Gallery (Room 105) of the Architecture and Environmental Design Building.
- The Hearst Lecture Series moves to Chumash Auditorium at 7 p.m. Friday for a presentation by San Francisco-based architect/inventor Peter Sebelius about “Possibilities” by world-renowned sculptor and architect William Bruder.
- The theme for this year’s Design Village Competition is “Living the Playground.” Student teams from campuses across the West will build self-designedFitness classes offered spring quarter

A variety of fitness classes are offered under way at the Recreation Center, including group exercise classes in aerobics, step, body sculpt, J.U.M.P., abs, medicine ball, power swing, and kardio kickbox.

Fitness and exercise classes include water workout, mat Pilates, yoga, sign language, massage, adult swimming, tangos and swing dance plus four different disciplines of martial arts.

ReMEmber Week...Continued from page 1

"Take Back the Night," at 7 p.m. April 25 in Chumash, will feature guest speaker and Cal Poly alumna Tracy Fletcher, who will talk about her experiences and the 2000 sexual assault. Fletcher graduated from the College of Business in 1988 with a degree in human resource management.

After the presentation, an open microphone session is planned, giving students and others an opportunity to talk about sexual assault or other violence against women and to remember someone who has been a victim of those crimes.

A silent candlelight walk dedicated to Smart, Newhouse, Crawford, and Hogan will take place at 7 p.m. in San Luis Obispo’s Mission Plaza.

The week’s activities come to a close April 27 with a fund-raiser tri-tip barbecue at 11 a.m.-4 p.m. at the Gleason Building.

The 13 proposals differ from traditional capsules by incorporating innovative designs that envelop the contents with a time-lock-like structure. Everyone is invited to have a hand in selecting a possible capsule’s contents and design.
Light show among new CAED events for Open House

The College of Architecture and Environmen tal Design is offering both new courses and tradi tional events for Open House Presents Poly Royal.
A sampling of the college’s free events on Fridays and Saturdays (conference dates are March 23-24).
- The Centennial Time Capsule Project will be on display in the lobby of Vista Garage. The display will run from 10 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. and Saturday 11 a.m.-7:30 p.m.
The 13 proposals differ from traditional capsules by incorporating innovative de designs that envelop the contents with a locks-like structure. Everyone is invited to have a hand in selecting a possible capsule’s contents and design.
- Friday from noon to 5 p.m. and Sat urday 10 a.m.-5 p.m., Open House visitors can see some of the imagi native projects on campus by viewing the CAED Centennial Exhibit of Student Work.
Five of the college’s depart ments contribute to the display in the Gallery (Room 105) of the Architecture and Environmental Design Building.
- The Hearst Lecture Series moves to Chumash Auditorium at 7 p.m. Friday for a presentation of "Architecture and Possibilities" by world-renowned sculptor and architect William Bruder.
- The theme for the Design Vil age Competition is "Living the Play ground." Student teams from campuses throughout the West will build self-designed fitness classes offered spring quarter

A variety of fitness classes are offered away at the Recreation Center, including groups classes in aerobics, kickboxing, step, body sculpt, J.U.M.P., aero, medicine ball, power, spin, and kardio kickbox.
Fitness and recreation classes also include water workout, mat Pilates, yoga, sign language, massage, adult swimming, tango and swing dance plus four differen table areas of martial arts.
New this quarter is a noon-time walk and bike class, offered for the first time on Fridays. The walks will be led by Rec Sports personal trainers. To participate, be at the Rec Center Plaza at 12:15 p.m. and 2:15 p.m.
Saturday.

Club 221 features art based on human figure

"Bodyworks," an exhibit of student work in the Club 221 gallery, features sculpture, photography and drawings based on the human figure. The exhibit runs through May 11.
Club 221, located in the UIU, is open noon-5 p.m. Monday through Friday.
For more information, call Club 221 Co rae Maureen Goddard at ext. 6-6119.

MBA team • Continued from page 1
- "board of directors" composed of profes sional managers.
- Cal Poly’s team, advised by Manage ment Professor David Peace, received the highest marks from the judges on its oral presentation. It was also awarded the annual report, business plan, and man agement report that were submitted as part of the competition.
- Western Kentucky University took first place in the competition’s Graduate Divi sion. The Cal Poly team bested students from Cal State Sacramento, San Jose State, the University of San Diego, and Cal State San Bernardino.
In addition, the competition attracted undergraduate teams from Canada, McGill University, University of Alabama, Idaho, Arizona, Idaho, New York, New Jersey, Oregon, and Pennsylvania.

Managing pests focuses of conference at Cal Poly

Landscape architects, ornamental hor iculturists, nursery owners and others can learn the latest in pest management tech iques at a conference sponsored by the Environmental Horticultural Science De partment during June 11-19.
The 5th Annual Integrated Pest Man agement Conference, to be in the Theatre, will provide the most up-to-date infor mation on managing pests in the floriculture, nursery and landscape industries.
The conference features two mini symposia on arboriculture and biocontrol (the use of organisms to control pests without pesticides).
The conference will also address administrative management problems as lerp (pine pitch), vine curler, sudden death and the glassy-winged sharpshooter.
A trade show will be held concurrently with the conference program on June 11.
To celebrate the completion of the phase of the Environmental Horticultural Science Department’s Learning Pavilion.
The EHS Club will treat participants to a Santa Maria-style barbecue at the Learning Pavilion. Barbecue refreshments and snacks will be provided throughout the conference.
Also available at the Conference is the Real Poly are invited to a wine and cheese featur ing of "Cal Poly Wines and cheeses.
The conference is certified for continuing education credits, including two in laws and regulations by the California Depart ment of Pesticide Regulation, and is certified for continuing education for the International Society of Arboriculture and certification for California Crop Knockout Program.
For more informational contact Profes sor Robert Rustice at ext. 6-2380, e-mail rpeace@calpoly.edu or visit the conference
Web site at www.calpoly.edu/ehs/enh.png.

Horse Camp has openings

Space is still available for Cal Poly’s Youth Horse Camp this summer for riders 17-20.
The camp is geared for riders 9 to 19 at all levels of horsemanship.
Classes are small, and instruction is individualized and designed to make students feel comfortable and secure.
Good horsemanship and safety are emphasized.
For more information, contact Valerie Mathews at ext. 6-2246 or vmathews@calpoly.edu.

PAGE 2

PAGE 3
Position vacancies

California Polytechnic State University
STATE: For a complete listing of employment positions, visit the University Human Resources and Employment Equity office, Adm. 109 by 5 p.m. on the closing date. Employment applications and qualifications for each position may also be obtained online at http://www.academic- person nel.calpoly.edu. Please submit all application materials to the department head/chair unless otherwise specified in the ad. Salary and compensation are competitive, based on qualifications and experience (and base time where applicable), unless otherwise stated.

#31637: Part-Time Tutor-Lecture Pool, 2001-2003
Mathematics Department (ext. 6-2206). Closing date: April 30.

#31895: Part-Time Language Lab Director (lecture classification), 2001-2002, Modern Languages and Literatures Department (ext. 6-2205). Closing date: May 1.

#31309: Full-Time Lecturers 2001-2002
Mathematics Department (ext. 6-2206). Closing date: May 15.

FOURIATION (Foundation Adm. Building, job ad ext. 6-4793). All applications must be received by 5 p.m. on the closing date. Assistant Director of Property Development, Facilities Planning, $65,000-$68,000 yearly. (Closing date: April 30, 2001.) Review of applications begins May 16. D

Extended Ed offers courses in travel communications

The Art of Discount Travel - May 5, 9 a.m.-3 p.m. Participants will learn to get the best deals on airfares, accommodations, cruises and other major travel services while balancing matters of interest, cost, quality, safety and taste. Proven practical strategies and resources designed to help participants substantially reduce the cost of travel will be presented. Instructor Bill Anthony has worked as a home-based travel agent since 1988. The course, in Room 206 in the Education Building, costs $59, including class materials.

Continued from page 1

A Search for Poetic Possibilities - May 2, 7-9 p.m. (open-mic). cabbage. Through Sunday. The course is for those who wish to explore the art of poetry, and may be an effective communication tool. In Room 206 in the Education Building. $165, $155 for college credits.

Deadline to be May 4 for spring Credit Report

The deadline to submit items for the spring issue of The Credit Report is May 4. Text should be submitted in .txt format (not faxed or mailed) to polycredit@calpoly.edu (last name, first name, add.calpoly.edu if necessary). Photos are welcome. Original prints should be mailed to Poly Credit, 2400 East Campus Drive, Room E200, San Luis Obispo, CA 93407. Open Microphone: Liberal Arts Day Open Mic, BackStage Pizza, 10 a.m. Women's Studies Lecture Series: Carol Boyer (Speech Communication), "The Rhetoric of Childbirth: When Worlds Collide," Math and Science 202, 1 p.m. Ag Biotechnology Colloquium: Elizabeth Owens (Monsanto), "Assessing the Safety of Genetically Modified Crops Produced in North America," UU 220 3:30 p.m. Music: Dave Forty jazz trio, Higher Ground Coffeehouse, 209 (ext. 6-2121), 6:30 p.m. Music: Flamenco guitarista Pau de Lucia, Coban Center Harman Hall, 8 p.m. (g)

Thursday, April 19

Music: Tunon, UU Plaza, 11 a.m. Music: Tom Muth, BackStage Pizza, noon. Concert: Soo Ferris and Space Skaders, Rec Center, 6:30 p.m. (g) Sports: Intrasquad baseball game (2 games), Janssen Field, 6 and 8 p.m. (g)

Continued on page 2

DATETIME

(DATELINE)- Admission charged

Exhibits:

Admin. Building, Third Floor: Student designs for a Centennial time capsule. Through summer. Club 221 (UU): "Bodyworks," sculpture, photography and drawings based on the human figure. Through May 11, Hours: Monday-Friday 9 a.m.-5 p.m. "Surf Culture Show," May 16-May 18, Reception May 17, 7-9 p.m.

University Art Gallery (Dexter): "Eyesight," annual juried student show, including graphic design, packaging, photography and two- and three-dimensional art. Through May 4, Hours: 11 a.m.-4 p.m. plus Wednesday 2-5 p.m. (g) April 20-21.

Wednesday, April 18

Computer Science Colloquium: Rex Black (Rex Black Consulting Services Inc.), "Software Testing," Pilling Computer Science 256, 10 a.m. Open Microphone: Liberal Arts Day OpenMic, BackStage Pizza, 10 a.m. Women's Studies Lecture Series: Carol Boyer (Speech Communication), "The Rhetoric of Childbirth: When Worlds Collide," Math and Science 202, 1 p.m. Ag Biotechnology Colloquium: Elizabeth Owens (Monsanto), "Assessing the Safety of Genetically Modified Crops Produced in North America," UU 220 3:30 p.m. Music: Dave Forty jazz trio, Higher Ground Coffeehouse, 209 (ext. 6-2121), 6:30 p.m. Music: Flamenco guitarista Pau de Lucia, Coban Center Harman Hall, 8 p.m. (g)