Spring fitness class fees are now pro-uced, and students will have the opportunity to choose from a variety of classes, including yoga, Pilates, and swim classes. The classes will be taught by experienced trainers and are designed to help students stay active and healthy. For more information, call Ext. 6-1366.

Chamber of Commerce to give Spring Concert June 2
The Cal Poly Chamber Orchestra, directed by its founder and Music Professor
Clifton Swanson, will perform its Spring
Concert at 8 p.m. June 2 in the Theatre.
The program will include Mozart’s Symphony No. 27, Fauré’s “Pelléas et Mélisande,” and Bach’s Trio Sonatas. The program will feature music by Jessica Getman on the oboe; Sasa Fivtov, flute; Kristin
Harris, cello, and Music Department staff
accompanied by Catherine Harvey.
Music students Harmony Murphy and
Haley Cohen will perform a vocal duet in Hoffmann’s “Barcarolle.” Soprano Amy
Shafer will sing Massenet’s “Adieu,” Noire Petit Table” from “Manon,” and trumpeter Adam Green will perform in
Hummel’s Trumpet Concerto.
Tickets cost $35 for students and senior
citizens and $8 for the public.
The concert is sponsored by the Music
Department, College of Liberal Arts,
and Instructionally Related Activities
program. For more information, call Ext. 6-2406.

DATELINE...

Tuesday, June 5

Play: Theatre and Dance Department’s “Dancing at Lughnasa.” May 24-26.
Theatre, 8 p.m. ($)

Wednesday, June 6

Music: Local band Hands Down
and opening show, Theatre, 6:30 p.m.
($)

Center Harman Hall, 8 p.m. (S)

Thursday, June 7

Music: Bay Area group Atila and
Dave, UU Plaza, 11 a.m.

Computer Science Colloquium: Kevin
Almogier (UCSD), topic TBA, Business
Building Rotunda (Room 213), 11:30 a.m.

Music: Justin Jones (Music senior),
percussion recital, Davidson Music
Center, 6:15 p.m.

Friday, June 8

Last day of spring quarter classes.

Music: Student Vocal Recital, Theatre, 8 p.m.

Saturday, June 9

Music: Cal Poly Choirs’ fund-raising
Center Harman Hall, 8 p.m. ($)

Monday, June 11

Final Exams: Through June 15.

Chamber Orchestra to give Spring Concert June 2
The Cal Poly Chamber Orchestra, directed by its founder and Music Professor
Clifton Swanson, will perform its Spring
Concert at 8 p.m. June 2 in the Theatre.
The program will include Mozart’s Symphony No. 27, Fauré’s “Pelléas et Mélisande,” and Bach’s Trio Sonatas. The program will feature music by Jessica Getman on the oboe; Sasa Fivtov, flute; Kristin
Harris, cello, and Music Department staff
accompanied by Catherine Harvey.
Music students Harmony Murphy and
Haley Cohen will perform a vocal duet in Hoffmann’s “Barcarolle.” Soprano Amy
Shafer will sing Massenet’s “Adieu,” Noire Petit Table” from “Manon,” and
trumpeter Adam Green will perform in
Hummel’s Trumpet Concerto.
Tickets cost $35 for students and senior
citizens and $8 for the public.
The concert is sponsored by the Music
Department, College of Liberal Arts,
and Instructionally Related Activities
program. For more information, call Ext. 6-2406.

DATELINE...

Tuesday, June 5

Play: Theatre and Dance Department’s “Dancing at Lughnasa.” May 24-26.
Theatre, 8 p.m. ($)

Wednesday, June 6

Music: Local band Hands Down
and opening show, The theatre, 6:30 p.m.
($)

Center Harman Hall, 8 p.m. (S)

Thursday, June 7

Music: Bay Area group Atila and
Dave, UU Plaza, 11 a.m.

Computer Science Colloquium: Kevin
Almogier (UCSD), topic TBA, Business
Building Rotunda (Room 213), 11:30 a.m.

Music: Justin Jones (Music senior),
percussion recital, Davidson Music
Center, 6:15 p.m.

Friday, June 8

Last day of spring quarter classes.

Music: Student Vocal Recital, Theatre, 8 p.m.

Saturday, June 9

Music: Cal Poly Choirs’ fund-raising
Center Harman Hall, 8 p.m. ($)

Monday, June 11

Final Exams: Through June 15.

Chamber Orchestra to give Spring Concert June 2
The Cal Poly Chamber Orchestra, directed by its founder and Music Professor
Clifton Swanson, will perform its Spring
Concert at 8 p.m. June 2 in the Theatre.
The program will include Mozart’s Symphony No. 27, Fauré’s “Pelléas et Mélisande,” and Bach’s Trio Sonatas. The program will feature music by Jessica Getman on the oboe; Sasa Fivtov, flute; Kristin
Harris, cello, and Music Department staff
accompanied by Catherine Harvey.
Music students Harmony Murphy and
Haley Cohen will perform a vocal duet in Hoffmann’s “Barcarolle.” Soprano Amy
Shafer will sing Massenet’s “Adieu,” Noire Petit Table” from “Manon,” and
trumpeter Adam Green will perform in
Hummel’s Trumpet Concerto.
Tickets cost $35 for students and senior
citizens and $8 for the public.
The concert is sponsored by the Music
Department, College of Liberal Arts,
and Instructionally Related Activities
program. For more information, call Ext. 6-2406.

DATELINE...

Tuesday, June 5

Play: Theatre and Dance Department’s “Dancing at Lughnasa.” May 24-26.
Theatre, 8 p.m. ($)

Wednesday, June 6

Music: Local band Hands Down
and opening show, The theatre, 6:30 p.m.
($)

Center Harman Hall, 8 p.m. (S)

Thursday, June 7

Music: Bay Area group Atila and
Dave, UU Plaza, 11 a.m.

Computer Science Colloquium: Kevin
Almogier (UCSD), topic TBA, Business
Building Rotunda (Room 213), 11:30 a.m.

Music: Justin Jones (Music senior),
percussion recital, Davidson Music
Center, 6:15 p.m.

Friday, June 8

Last day of spring quarter classes.

Music: Student Vocal Recital, Theatre, 8 p.m.

Saturday, June 9

Music: Cal Poly Choirs’ fund-raising
Center Harman Hall, 8 p.m. ($)

Monday, June 11

Final Exams: Through June 15.

Chamber Orchestra to give Spring Concert June 2
The Cal Poly Chamber Orchestra, directed by its founder and Music Professor
Clifton Swanson, will perform its Spring
Concert at 8 p.m. June 2 in the Theatre.
The program will include Mozart’s Symphony No. 27, Fauré’s “Pelléas et Mélisande,” and Bach’s Trio Sonatas. The program will feature music by Jessica Getman on the oboe; Sasa Fivtov, flute; Kristin
Harris, cello, and Music Department staff
accompanied by Catherine Harvey.
Music students Harmony Murphy and
Haley Cohen will perform a vocal duet in Hoffmann’s “Barcarolle.” Soprano Amy
Shafer will sing Massenet’s “Adieu,” Noire Petit Table” from “Manon,” and
trumpeter Adam Green will perform in
Hummel’s Trumpet Concerto.
Tickets cost $35 for students and senior
citizens and $8 for the public.
The concert is sponsored by the Music
Department, College of Liberal Arts,
and Instructionally Related Activities
program. For more information, call Ext. 6-2406.

DATELINE...
Students win ... Continued from page 1
ing Printing Business Effectiveness: Dry Trap vs. Wet Trap Using Hi-Flor Color Printing." The technology widens the color range in printing jobs that require the highest quality.
Nelson’s study, titled “Anorectic and Toxic Effects of Simionodinmosis When Fed to Male Sprague-Dawley Rats” demonstrated seminar research on the potentially harmful effects of a weight-loss product sold over the counter.
Faculty advisors Louise Berner, associate professor of food science and nutrition, and Harvey Levyven, head of the Graphic Communication Department, attended the competition.

Leave solicitation
Robin J. Bridges, accounting technician in Fiscal Services’ Property Accounting office, has qualified for personal catastrophic leave.

Qualifiable leave may donate vacation and sick leave to help her remain in full-pay status during an extended absence.
Those interested in donating may request the Catastrophic Leave Donation form from solicitator coordinator Jody Fisher in Finance office, ext. 5-3928.
CSEA employees (Units 2, 5, 7 and 9) may donate their annual leave. All full and part-time eligible state employees may donate up to 16 hours total sick leave and/or vacation leave for a period of one hour or more.

Ticket information
Tickets to the performances listed in today’s Cal Poly Report are on sale at the Performing Arts Ticket Office 10 a.m.-6 p.m. weekdays and 10 a.m.-3 p.m. Saturdays. Call ext. 6-2787, or fax your order to ext. 6-6088. Tickets can also be bought on line at tickets.com. Visit the Performing Arts Center’s Web site at pacolorado.org and click on “Event Calendar.” Tickets to Cal Poly Arts events can be found on the Web at www.calpolyarts.org.

Mercury Interactive ... Continued from page 1
on computerized systems, whether it is in our business processes, hand-held devices, automobiles or the space shuttle,” McQuaid said. “Developing high-quality software should be a goal of all software developers.

The donated software will allow students to implement two basic types of application testing: functional testing and non-functional testing. Functional testing verifies that applications work as expected. For example, in a flight booking application, functional testing can verify that the correct information, such as flight times and prices, is being pulled from the database and displayed to the user.

An equally important aspect of Web site operations is to know when the site is becoming inefficient when the site is slowing down because of customer traffic, McQuaid said. A Web site can collapse when too many users try to access it at the same time.

“Before an e-commerce Web application is deployed, the tester needs to ensure that customers will experience quick responses from the site as they browse or enter an order, and that those response times will remain steady as the number of users increases. Load testing provides a way to predict the way an application will perform as the number of users increases. It exercises the execution logic by emulating the traffic of real users and measuring response times to pinpoint bottlenecks that might cause the Web site’s performance to slow.”

Three Tsakopoulos... appointed to CSU Board of Trustees
Gov. Gray Davis appointed Sacramento attorney and businessman Kyriakos Tsakopoulos to the CSU Board of Trustees for five years. His appointment must be confirmed by the state Senate.
The 31-year-old Tsakopoulos is executive vice president and general counsel of ART Development Corp., a position he held since 1994.
He will succeed Ali C. Razi, who was appointed by Gov. Pete Wilson.

‘Jazz Night’ June 1
To feature four ensembles
All of the Cal Poly jazz ensembles, including University Jazz Bands I and II, Cal Poly Vocal Jazz, and Jazz Combo, will perform at “Jazz Night,” the highlight of their performing season, on June 1.
The concert, at 8 p.m. in the Theatre, will feature music of the Charles Mingus Big Band and Billie Holiday.
The University Jazz Band I will perform “Moinnin’,” a raucous and wild piece recorded by the great Charles Mingus, said Paul Rinzel, director of jazz studies and faculty member in the Music Department. “Mingus was well known for creating exciting and complex works for jazz bands.”

The Cal Poly Vocal Jazz is a group of eight talented singers who scat-sing and harmonize their way through the best of vocal jazz,” Rinzel said.

They will perform the Billie Holiday standard “God Bless the Child” and the classic “Ain’t Misbehavin’.”
The University Jazz Bands I and II are directed by Rinzel and Music Professor Thomas Davies, and the Cal Poly Jazz Combo is directed by Rinzel.

Tickets cost $7 for students, $8 for senior citizens and San Luis Obispo Jazz Federation members, and $10 for the public.

The Jazz Night concert is sponsored by the Music Department, College of Liberal Arts and Instructionally Related Activities program.

For more information call the Music Department at ext. 6-2406.

Biologist, nutritionist to talk on the Qur’an
Noted biologist and nutritionist Ahmad Sakr will present “Reflections on Science in the Qur’an” at the next Philosophy at Poly lecture from 4:40 to 6 p.m. Thursday (May 24) in Room E-27 in the Science Building.

Sakr will reflect on the fact that, “for an ancient, work, the Qur’an (the Ko­ ran, Islam’s sacred text) is surprisingly accurate concerning scientific knowledge and discoveries in astronomy, geology, oceanography, biology, nutrition and related areas,” said Philosophy Professor Judy Saltzmann.

“Sakr will also discuss the idea that Islam as a tradition has always supported reason and inquiry about the universe and within and around us,” Saltzmann said.

Sakr is president of the Foundation for Islamic Knowledge and director of the Islamic Education Center in Walnut.

For more information call the Music Department. “Moanin’,” a “raucous and wild piece recorded by the great Charles Mingus,” said Paul Rinzel, director of jazz studies and faculty member in the Music Department. “Mingus was well known for creating exciting and complex works for jazz bands.”

The group, hailed as a celebration of Cuba’s musical golden age, show­ cased multigenerational 13-piece band that would donate $1, we could donate another approximately $12,000 in the Doggy Bag Donations,” a fund-raiser that asks customers to implement two basic types of application testing: functional testing and non-functional testing. Functional testing verifies that applications work as expected. For example, in a flight booking application, functional testing can verify that the correct information, such as flight times and prices, is being pulled from the database and displayed to the user.

University Police advises: ‘Enjoy the SLO ride’
University Police is working with the California Highway Patrol and other agen­ cies to maintain a safe commute on U.S. 101.
The effort, called “Slow Down and Enjoy the SLO Ride,” is designed to en­ courage drivers and passengers to make alternative to the commute for change.

Presentations will be given, brochures will be distributed, and “freebies” will be given away as part of the “Slow Down and Enjoy the SLO Ride” promotion.

For more information, call Deby Anderson in Commuter and Access Services at ext. 6-6800.

Faculty-staff pay day is May 30
Alumnus Tim Lloyd's bronze sculpture "Conga Chefs" (14 inches high) is one of the pieces on display at the University Art Gallery's alumni exhibit, "Outside In."

Art and design alumni art on display through June 8

Art and design alumni are exhibiting their work in the university's bi-annual invitational alumni exhibit through June 8 in the University Art Gallery in the Dexter Building. Titled "Outside In," the show will close with a reception 6-8 p.m. June 8.

Senior art and design major Alec Ramsey has turned the gallery into a drive-in movie theater - complete with chain link fence, graffiti, a popcorn machine and a concession stand featuring the artworks of 16 alumni. The show is a mixed-media event that includes bronze sculptures, photography, digital images, multimedia, watercolors, acrylics and graphic design.

The University Art Gallery is open 11 a.m.-4 p.m. every day except holidays plus 7-9 p.m. Wednesdays. Call the University Art Gallery at ext. 6-6038 or ext. 6-1571 for more information.

Talk set on public opinion on genetically modified food

Guy D. Whitten, political science professor at Texas A&M University, will present "Not On My Table: Understanding U.S. Public Opinion Toward Genetically Modified Organisms in the Food Supply" at 11 a.m. May 31 in the Science Building, Room E-27.

Whitten is part of a team of researchers studying how people form their opinions on a complicated scientific issue for which the answers to critical questions are unknown. Specifically, they are conducting surveys on public opinion toward the use of genetically modified organisms (GMO). He will present results from a recent survey of the U.S. population.

"The study looks at patterns in people's perceptions of the various risks and benefits from GMOs," Whitten said, "their perceptions of the various players in the debates over the regulation of GMOs, and the role of knowledge levels in opinion formation."

Some of the survey results were presented in a "Nova" and "Frontline" episode titled "Harvest of Fear," which aired on the Public Broadcasting System April 24. Whitten's appearance is sponsored by the Political Science Department. For more information, call ext. 6-2984.

Centennial Celebration

To commemorate Cal Poly's Centennial, we are running this column of university history, upcoming events and additional tidbits that we find interesting. We hope you enjoy. The editors thank University Archives for providing this information.

Fresh Rules

From the Freshman Handbook, 1940-41 (Reprinted from University Archives online)

1. Thou shall wear thy dink at all times but not in buildings or when talking to the fairer sex.
2. Thou shalt learn the songs and yell of your Alma Mater and be prepared at all times to sing her praises.
3. Thou shall address all upperclassmen as "Sir."
4. Thou shall carry from summertime to sumertime the frosh handbook.
5. Thou shall forget your high school achievements. You're in college now.
6. Thou shall learn the names of all roads on campus and be able to direct any and all persons visiting such campus.
7. Thou shall not smoke anything but corn cob pipes and roll-your-own.
8. Thou shall not wear any high school rings or insignias of any sort.
9. Thou shall not sit on the senior benches.

To be continued...
Garrison Keillor added to Cal Poly Arts lineup

Heartland comic Garrison Keillor will perform original monologues in concert with the San Luis Obispo Symphony at 8 p.m. Aug. 31 in the Cohan Center’s Harman Hall. Keillor is the host of “A Prairie Home Companion,” heard on public radio stations nationwide, and the daily five-minute radio program “The Writer’s Almanac.” At Cal Poly, Keillor will blend songs, stories and special guests in a “pops-style” concert. Tickets are $46 and $52.

Extended Ed course focuses on health, nutrition

Extended Education is offering a course in July that focuses on health, healing and nutrition. Traditional Wisdom for Health and Healing will be taught from 6 to 8:30 p.m. on three consecutive Tuesdays beginning July 10. The fee is $75 for the series if paid in advance or $35 per class.

In this course, taught at the Student Experimental Farm, students will learn about the basics in health and healing from a traditional healing-arts perspective, which includes the use of natural foods, herbs and special dietary preparations to maintain health and accelerate healing. Simple, practical models for assessing good health will be explored. Participants will also devise a natural-food-based dietary plan. Theories on healing from ancient China and India will be emphasized and culinary tips for preparing healthful, balanced meals will be given.

• Session 1: Introduction to Health - The fundamental criteria for health according to traditional nutritional theory and herbal medicine will be covered. Practical information about eating and lifestyles will be discussed to provide students with tips for keeping happy and energetic.
• Session 2: Common Foods and Herbs for Better Health - Participants will learn how to use daily food staples and herbs to treat minor ailments, improve athletic performance and promote clear thinking.
• Session 3: Nutrition and Emotional Health - Students will learn about the link between diet and emotions from the perspective of the Chinese Five Element Theory, called Ayurvedic Tri-dosha Theory, and modern nutrition. Practical advice will be given on how to balance and diminish unhealthy emotions with food and herbs.

For complete course descriptions and to register online go to Extended Education's Web site: www.ExtendedEducation.calpoly.edu, or call ext. 6-2053.

Professor Nicholas Brown to prove physics is fun

At the next Physics Colloquium Thursday (May 24), Professor Nicholas Brown will give an unusual demonstration using magic tricks and balloon sculptures to illustrate the principle of physics.

The presentation, titled “The Magic and Physics of Balloons,” will be 11 a.m.-noon in Room E-45 in the Science Building.

In his presentation, Brown will use a balloon dog to validate static electricity and center of mass, a balloon snake to demonstrate rocketry, and a balloon “spring” to illustrate torque.

In his dramatic finale, Brown will use a special “magic wand” to insert pennies into a balloon after the inflated balloon has been securely tied.

For more information, call the Physics Department at ext. 6-2448.

Student group to co-sponsor McVeigh execution protest

To express its opposition to the death penalty, the Progressive Student Alliance is co-sponsoring a peaceful demonstration on June 11 to protest the scheduled execution of Timothy McVeigh, convicted Oklahoma City bomber.

The demonstration is also intended to honor and remember the victims of the 1995 bombing and their families.

The group will meet at noon in front of the County Government Center on the corner of Osos and Monterey streets in downtown San Luis Obispo.

Additional university-related groups sponsoring the event include the Newman Catholic Center and Cal Poly’s chapter of Amnesty International.

For more information, call the Newman Catholic Center at 543-4105.

Lovett sets concert date

Tickets are on sale for singer-songwriter Lyle Lovett’s concert at 8 p.m. July 21 in the Cohan Center’s Harman Hall. Lovett and his 18-piece Large Band have reunited for the first time in five years for a two-plus-hour concert featuring a blend of alternative country, folk, Texas swing, and pop styles.

Tickets to this Cal Poly Arts performance are $46 and $52.
Students win...

Continued from page 1

ing Printing Business Effectiveness: Dry Trap vs. Wet Trap Using Hi-Color Printing.” The technology widens the color range in printing jobs that require the highest quality.

Nelson’s study, titled “Anorectic and Toxic Effects of Simmondsia When Fed to Male Sprague-Dawley Rats,” demonstrates research on the potentially harmful effects of a weight-loss product sold over the counter.

Faculty advisors Louise Berner, associate professor of food science and nutrition, and Harvey Levenson, head of the Graphic Communication Department, attended the competition.

---

Tsakopoulos appointed to CSU Board of Trustees

Gov. Gray Davis appointed Sacramento attorney and businessman Kyriakos Tsakopoulos to the CSU Board of Trustees for five years. His appointment must be confirmed by the state Senate.

The 31-year-old Tsakopoulos is a vice president and general counsel of ART Development Corp., a position he has held since 1994.

He will succeed Ali C. Razi, who was appointed by Gov. Pete Wilson.

---

Mercury Interactive...

Continued from page 1

on computerized systems, whether it is in our business processes, hand-held devices, automobiles or the space shuttle,” McQuaid said. “Developing high-quality software should be a goal of all software developers.

The donated software will allow students to implement two basic types of application testing: functional testing and user interface testing. Functional testing verifies that applications work as expected.

For example, in a flight booking application, functional testing can verify that the correct information, such as flight times and prices, is being pulled from the database and displayed to the user.

An equally important aspect of Web site operations is to know when the site is becoming congested, when the site is slowing down because of customer traffic, McQuaid said. A Web site can collapse when too many users try to access it at the same time.

“Before an e-commerce Web application is deployed to engage customers, the tester needs to ensure that customers will experience quick responses from the site as they browse or display an order, and that those response times will remain steady as the number of users increases.”

Low testing provides a way to predict the way an application will perform as the number of users increases. It exercise the application and see if existing the traffic of real users and measuring response times to pinpoint bottlenecks that might cause the Web site’s performance to slow.”

---

'Jazz Night' June 1 to benefit four ensembles

All of the Cal Poly jazz ensembles, including University Jazz Band I and II, Cal Poly Vocal Jazz, and Jazz Combo, will perform at “Jazz Night,” the highlight of their performing season, on June 1.

The concert, at 8 p.m. in the Theatre, will feature the music of the Charles Mingus Big Band and Billie Holiday.

The University Jazz Band I will perform “Moamnin’,” a “razzaucous and wild piece recorded by the great Charles Mingus,” said Paul Rinzel, director of jazz studies and faculty member in the Music Department.

“Mingus was well known for creating exciting and complex works for jazz bands.”

Cal Poly Vocal Jazz is a group of eight talented singers who scat-sing and harmonize their way through the best of vocal jazz,” Rinzel said.

They will perform the Billie Holiday standard “God Bless the Child” and the classic “Ain’t No Sunshine.”

The University Jazz Bands I and II are directed by Rinzel and Music Professor Thomas Davies, and the Cal Poly Jazz Combo is directed by Rinzel.

Tickets cost $7 for students, $8 for senior citizens and San Luis Obispo Jazz Federation members, and $10 for the public.

The Jazz Night concert is sponsored by the Music Department, College of Liberal Arts and Interinstitutional Activities program.

For more information call the Music Department at ext. 62406.

---

Biologist, nutritionist to talk on the Qur’an

Noted biologist and nutritionist Ahmad Sakr will present “Reflections on Science in the Qur’an” at the next Philosophy at Poly lecture from 4 to 6 p.m. (Thursday) May 24 in Room E-27 in the Science Building.

Sakr will reflect on the fact that, “for an ancient...work, the Qur’an (the Ko­ran, Islam’s sacred text) is surprisingly accurate concerning scientific knowledge and discoveries in astronomy, geology, oceanography, biology, nutrition and related areas,” said Philosophy Professor Judy Saltzman.

“Sakr will also discuss the idea that Islam as a tradition has always supported reason and inquiry among adherents within and around us,” Saltzman said.

Sakr is president of the Foundation for Islamic Knowledge and director of the Islamic Education Center in Walnut.

While still a student in the United States, Sakr was a founding member and president of the Muslim Students’ Association of the U.S.A. and Canada, now known as the Islamic Society of North America. He was also a founding member of the World Council of Mosques, which has headquarters in Makkah, Saudia Arabia.

He was the first director and representa­tive of the Muslim World League to the United Nations.

A former university professor and administrator, Sakr has appeared on ABC’s “Nightline” and the California Broadcasting Corp.

The lecture is sponsored by the Philosophy Department. For more information, call ext. 62404.

---

University Police advises: ‘Enjoy the SLO ride’

University Police is working with the California Highway Patrol and other agencies to maintain a safe commute on U.S. 101. The effort, called “Slow Down and Enjoy the SLO Ride,” is designed to encourage safe driving and promote alternatives to the commute for the public.

Presentations will be given, brochures will be distributed, and “Brochures” will be given away as part of the “Slow Down and Enjoy the SLO Ride” promotion.

For more information, call Deby Anderson in Commuter and Access Services at ext. 66800.

---

CPR schedule

The Cal Poly Report is published every Wednesday during the academic year.

Articles are due to Public Affairs by 10 a.m. Wednesday for the following week’s edition.

Items submitted will be published as space allows; check ext. 62653, or send to email: publicaffairs@calpoly.edu.

For more information, call ext. 621511.

---

Faculty-staff payday is May 30
Position vacancies

STATE: For a complete listing of employment opportunities for state staff and management positions, you can:

• Check Cal Poly's Web site at www.calpoly.edu.
• Select “Employment” from the Cal Poly links drop-down box.
• Come to the HREEP Office, Adm. 110, and view the posted positions.
• Call the HREEP Job Line at ext. 6-1353.

For a listing of new openings, check The Tribune's Sunday edition.

Please note that applications for job openings must be received in the Human Resources and Employment Equity Office, Adm. 110, (not just posted) by 5 p.m. on the closing date.

FACULTY: Candidates are asked to contact the appropriate department office at the phone number listed for more information or to request an application. Additional information and qualifications for each position may also be obtained online at http://www.academic-personnel.calpoly.edu. Please submit all application materials to the department head/chair unless otherwise specified in the ad. Rank and salary are commensurate with qualifications and experience (and time base thereof), unless otherwise stated.

#37067: Part-Time Lecturer Pool 2001-02, Journalism (ext. 6-2008). Closing date: June 4.
#31312: Assistant Professor, Fall 2001, Food Science and Nutrition (ext. 6-2600). Closing date: June 25.

FOUNDATION (Foundation Adm. Building, job line at ext. 7-6707). All Foundation applications must be received (not just postmarked) by 5 p.m. of the closing date. (No faxes.)

Administrative Support Assistant II, University Center for Teacher Education: Part-time, 30 hours per week, $12.46-$19/hr. Closing date: Open until filled, review of applications begins June 1.

ASI is accepting applications for the following positions. Complete position descriptions and applications are available at the ASI Business Office, UU 212, M-F, 8 a.m.-5 p.m., ext. 6-5800. All applications must be received by 5 p.m. of the listed closing date.

Assistant Teacher: $10.87-$13.20/hr. Closes June 1.

Cal Poly Services Technician, $13.67-$16.52/hr. Closes June 1.

Recreation Center offers bargain fitness classes

Spring fitness class fees are now pro-rated at the Recreation Center.

The Group Exercise Pass, which includes all sport classes and allows users to choose from more than 20 classes a week, is discounted 20 percent. In addition, a 50 percent discount is being offered on several fitness and intramural classes, including Capoeira, Jet Kune Do, and Shorin Ryo karate; beginning, intermediate and masters swimming; water workout; mat Pilates; and yoga.

Faculty and staff members are also allowed to join the free Friday and Saturday classes and hike class led by Rec Sports personal trainers. The class begins at 12:10 p.m. on Tuesday in the Recreation Center Plaza.

Step by the Rec Center Front Service Desk for more details, call ext. 6-1366, or visit the Web site at asi.calpoly.edu/rec sports.

Chamber Orchestra to give Spring Concert June 2

The Cal Poly Chamber Orchestra, directed by its founder and Music Professor Clifton Swansoon, will perform its Spring Concert at 8 p.m. June 2 in the Theatre.

The program will include Mozart's Symphony No. 27, Faure's "Pelléas et Mélisande," and Bach's Trio Sonoata performed by music students Jessica Getman on the oboe, Sara Fishtow, flute; Kristin Harris, cello, and Music Department staff accompanist Catherine Harvey.

Music students Harmony Murphy and Haley Cohen will perform a vocal duet in Hoffmann's "Barcarolle." soprano Amy Shaffer will sing Massenet's "Adieu, Notre Petite Table" from "Manon," and trumpet Adam Green will perform Hummel's Trumpet Concerto.

Tickets cost $5 for students and senior citizens and $8 for the public.

The concert is sponsored by the Music Department, College of Liberal Arts, and Instructionally Related Activities program. For more information, call ext. 6-2406.

Dateline...

Continued from page 1

May 23, 2001

Tuesday, June 5

MUSICAL: "Chicago," June 4-6. Cohen Center Harman Hall, 8 p.m. ($)

Wednesday, June 6

MUSICAL: "Chicago," June 4-6. Cohen Center Harman Hall, 8 p.m. ($)

Thursday, June 7

MUSICAL: "Chicago," June 4-6. Cohen Center Harman Hall, 8 p.m. ($)

Friday, June 8

MUSICAL: "As One," June 4-6. Cohan Center Harman Hall, 8 p.m. ($)

Saturday, June 9

MUSICAL: "As One," June 4-6. Cohan Center Harman Hall, 8 p.m. ($)

Monday, June 25

Exhibits: Administration Building, Third Floor:

• Call center for lab activities in a new course on software testing being taught by Patricia McQuaid in the Management Information Systems area. The software will be used not only in the software testing class, but also in the software quality assurance and testing courses, as well as by MIS students working on their senior projects. Call John Kas's the first member of the Academic Access Program.

"Working with leading universities such as Cal Poly, we hope to develop a curriculum that will provide students with a competitive advantage by working with leading-edge technologies prior to graduation," said Niraj Kapur, manager of the Academic Access Program.

"With the basis for lab activity in a new course on software testing being taught by Patricia McQuaid in the Management Information Systems area. The software will be used not only in the software testing class, but also in the software quality assurance and testing courses, as well as by MIS students working on their senior projects.

California Polytechnic State University
San Luis Obispo, CA 93407
Vol. 55, No. 34 • May 23, 2001

In memoriam

The flags in front of the Administration Building will fly at half staff during Memorial Day weekend, Saturday through Monday (May 26-28), in honor of America's war dead.