Pacifi c programs offer teaching opportunities... Continued from page 1

The Japan Study program is a cultural-immersion program with campuses in Iwaki and Kyoto. The Thailan d-Study Internship program is on campuses in Bangkok, Nong Khai and Chiang Mai. The 2003 Cal Poly-at-Sea program, a collaboration with the California Maritime Academy's Training Cruise Program, will call at ports along the Pacific Coast of Central and South America.

The selection committee especially encourages applications from faculty members who have not previously participated in the program. Faculty members from all colleges are invited to apply. Priority will be given to experienced faculty members to lead the Thailand and Japan trips. Those who have taught in one of the programs, or whose academic search or life experiences have involved study of Thai or Japanese culture, or who have traveled extensively in either country are encouraged to apply.

Priority will also be given to faculty members with a record of excellence in teaching and those who teach courses that are likely to attract students to the appropriate programs. Although faculty development is an important element of these programs, student participation is driven by their curricular needs. In all instances the decisions on assignment will be based on the ability to teach the courses that are needed and on the applicant's teaching reputation.

Teacher selection will be determined by the students' course selection and the endorsement of department heads or chairs and deans.

Applications have been sent to all deans' offices and are also available in the International Education and Programs Office, Math and Science 108. Applications in duplicate with departmental and dean approval are due to IEP Interim Director Barbara Andre by Dec. 14.

For information, call program coordinator Richard LeRoy, ext. 6-7521.D

rules. After learning to work with drawing and painting using the oval and rectangle tools, brushes and fills, students will explore movie properties and how to use keyframes, frame rate and editing frames. The overview will include tweening (shape and motion), symbols (animations, graphic, movieclip), text fields (static, input, dynamic), and basic interaction (dragging, button).

• Photoshop Mastery, Thursdays, Nov. 29 and Dec. 6, 6-9:30 p.m., $110. This hands-on course is designed to help sharpen the digital imaging skills of anyone who has some knowledge of Photoshop. "The Photoshop 6 WOW!" book will be used as a guide. Requirements: Completion of Extended Studies Photoshop Unmasked or consent of the instructor is required. Topics to be covered include fixing problem photos, simulating motion, blurring for attention, making seamless transitions, blending with layer masks, using "lab mode," popping color, integrating blend-modes, using an image as a halftone dot, "artistic noise," and gradient tool special effects.

'Sexual coercion' to be topic of Oct. 23 talk

Visiting Carnegie Endowment doctoral student Grant Mar will present "Masculinities and Sexual Coercion: A Paradoxical Relationship" Tuesday (Oct. 23) as part of the Women's Studies Program lecture series.

Mar's talk, noon-1 p.m. in Room 228 in the Dexter Building, will look at the relationship between masculinity and sexual coercion.

One hand, studies have shown, sexual coercion can be seen as a way of asserting masculinity. Yet "forced sex" could be seen as undermining masculinity in terms of how perpetrators are perceived by other men.

They are often heard on NPR's "Prairie Home Companion" and have been featured on "All Things Considered" and "Oprah" and in People Magazine, which called their sound "sublime."

Tickets are $12 and $15.

Tracing a line through the浴室

The Mendelssohn String Quartet has established a reputation as one of the most imaginative, vital and exciting quartets of its generation. The Los Angeles Times said, "The Mendelssohn plays with fierce musical commitment, the abandon, intelligent insight and supreme technique."

Tickets to this Cal Poly Arts event are $18 and $22, with student discounts available.

Anthony 'Tony' Amato, 81

Anthony 'Tony' Amato, environmental biologist, science professor emeritus and an alumus, died Oct. 1. Amato earned a bachelor's degree in ornithological botany from Cal Poly in 1949. The longtime San Luis Obispo resident taught at Cal Poly from 1955 to 1982. He helped develop the first California landscape contractors specialty license test and was instrumental in coordinating the efforts of the California Landscape Contractors Association committee that wrote the California Landscape Standards manual, widely used by contractors today. Amato and his longtime Cal Poly officemate, Wes Conner, served a three-year stint as judges for the CLCA Landscape Awards.
