Political conflicts to be focus of talk. . .

Continued from page 2

political and historical themes in "Death of a Salesman." In a second forum Nov. 29, Lazere will focus on the literary dimensions of James Baldwin's essay "The fire and the night," demonstrating Baldwin's use of language to express political and historical themes in his work. The forum will be held in the San Francisco Chronicle, as part of a larger exhibit of the author's photographs. There's still plenty of time to see this photo exhibit, and others, at the University Art Gallery, located in the Arts Administration Building.

Lazere is an internationally renowned motor sport photographer whose photographs have appeared in Car and Driver, Road and Track and Motor Sport magazine.

Anne Marcell, 82

Anne Marcell, a former evaluations technician, died in San Luis Obispo on Oct. 22. She worked in Student Affairs from 1961 until she retired in 1982.

Datelinel . . .

Continued from page 1

Music: John Bankston, BackStage Pizza, 11 a.m. Books at High Noon: Mary Kay Harrington (Writings Skills) or "The Botany of Desire" by Michael Pollan. Library 510, 11 a.m.

Wednesday, November 14

GIS Day: Lectures, exhibits and demonstrations, Library, 8 a.m.-5 p.m.
Flu Shot Clinic: For employees and family members, UU 220, 11 a.m.-1 p.m. (FREE)
Music: Dorothy Segovia, BackStage Pizza, 11 a.m.

International Terrorism Seminar: "International Politics and Terrorism." Phil Fetzer (Political Science) will moderate panelists Craig Arsenious (Political Science) on "The Role of International Organizations," Carl Lutrin (Political Science) on "The Middle East: Israel's Perspective," and Malisa Zulficar (Social Sciences) on "The Complexities of Central Asia." Christopher Cohan Center, Harman Hall, 7 p.m.

Thursday, November 15

Play: "The Miser," Theatre, 8 p.m. Nov. 15-17. ($)
Music: Da.m.on Castillo, BackStage Pizza, noon

Friday, November 16

Music: Travis Larson Band, BackStage Pizza, 6 p.m.
Volleyball: Cal State Northridge, Mott Gym, 7 p.m. ($)
Play: "The Miser," Theatre, 8 p.m. Nov. 15-17. ($)

Saturday, November 17

Volleyball: Pacific, Mott Gym, 7 p.m. ($)
Play: "The Miser," Theatre, 8 p.m. Nov. 15-17. ($)

Sunday, November 18

Music: The Bobs, Christopher Cohan Center, Harman Hall, 7 p.m. ($)
Women's Basketball: UC Berkeley, Mott Gym, 7 p.m. ($)

Wednesday, November 21

Academic Holiday: Thanksgiving holiday for academic-year employees. Through Nov. 25.

Thursday, November 22

Holiday: Thanksgiving holiday for year-round employees. Through Nov. 25.

50th Reunion, Veterans' Day memorial ceremony part of 'A Centennial Homecoming' Nov. 9-11

A Homecoming Reunion for Cal Poly's graduating class of '51 and a special Veterans' Day Memorial Unveiling and Dedication are planned as part of "A Centennial Homecoming" Friday-Sunday (Nov. 9-11). A full day of activities is planned Friday for members of the class of '51, including breakfast in the Christopher Cohan Center, classroom presentations, campus bus tours, and an evening reception and dinner at the San Luis Obispo Veterans' Hall on Grand Avenue. At 10:30 a.m. Sunday, the veterans' memorial ceremony will take place at the UU Mustang statue to honor former students and alumni who lost their lives in battle.

For a schedule of all Homecoming events, log on to www.calpoly.edu or call the Alumni Relation Office at ext. 6-2386.
Political conflicts breed focus of talk Thursday

English Professor Don Lazerre will speak on the intersection between literature and politics in Arthur Miller’s “Death of a Salesman” at 11 a.m. Thursday (Nov. 8) in the first What Else We Do forum of the academic year.

The forum, sponsored by the English Department, will be in Room 202 in the Science North Building.

In his presentation, Lazerre will use a cultural studies perspective to discuss Miller’s play. He will make a case for the legitimacy of fostering critical thinking about politics, and of political debate, in teaching all areas of the humanities, without the imposition of “political correct­ness” by teachers.

The presentation will sum up the per­ cative Lazerre has developed in his books, articles and courses in relation to various recent theoretical trends in Enlish and the humanities. He will illustrate his points with an analysis of implicit
Continued on page 6

Chair appointed clerk

William Clark of the Mechanical Engineering Department has been appointed
clerk of the department. He will serve through June 2003.

Clark has been a member of the Cal
Poly faculty since 1977.

Engineering senior wins $1,000 NOW scholarship

Theresa Osayande, a senior engineering student, was one of four recipients of a $1,000 scholarship from the California
National Organization for Women.

The scholarships are intended to ensure that women across the state have access to quality education. The scholas­
tes are awarded on the basis of academic standing and degree and career objectives.

Osayande is majoring in general engi­
nering with a concentration in biomedical engineering. She is a member of the phi omega phi honor society, and a member of the American Mensa Lounge and the Alpha Xi Delta sorority.

She has traveled to Chicago to attend
Cornell University, and to attend the
American Chemical Society meeting in San Francisco. She hopes to continue her education at an advanced degree level, and to work in the field of bioengineering.

Osayande is a total of $600 for first-place finishes in various recent theoreticaf trends in En­
lish and the humanities. He will illustrate his points with an analysis of implicit
Continued on page 6

Chair appointed clerk

William Clark of the Mechanical Engineering Department has been appointed
clerk of the department. He will serve through June 2003.

Clark has been a member of the Cal
Poly faculty since 1977.

Engineering senior wins $1,000 NOW scholarship

Theresa Osayande, a senior engineering student, was one of four recipients of a $1,000 scholarship from the California
National Organization for Women.

The scholarships are intended to ensure that women across the state have
access to quality education. The scholas­
tes are awarded on the basis of academic standing and degree and career objectives.

Osayande is majoring in general engi­
nering with a concentration in biomedical engineering. She is a member of the phi omega phi honor society, and a member of the American Mensa Lounge and the Alpha Xi Delta sorority.

She has traveled to Chicago to attend
Cornell University, and to attend the
American Chemical Society meeting in
San Francisco. She hopes to continue her
education at an advanced degree level, and to work in the field of bioengineering.

Osayande is a total of $600 for first-place finishes in various recent theoreticaf trends in En­
lish and the humanities. He will illustrate his points with an analysis of implicit
Continued on page 6

Chair appointed clerk

William Clark of the Mechanical Engineering Department has been appointed
clerk of the department. He will serve through June 2003.

Clark has been a member of the Cal
Poly faculty since 1977.

Engineering senior wins $1,000 NOW scholarship

Theresa Osayande, a senior engineering student, was one of four recipients of a $1,000 scholarship from the California
National Organization for Women.

The scholarships are intended to ensure that women across the state have
access to quality education. The scholas­
tes are awarded on the basis of academic standing and degree and career objectives.

Osayande is majoring in general engi­
nering with a concentration in biomedical engineering. She is a member of the phi omega phi honor society, and a member of the American Mensa Lounge and the Alpha Xi Delta sorority.

She has traveled to Chicago to attend
Cornell University, and to attend the
American Chemical Society meeting in
San Francisco. She hopes to continue her
education at an advanced degree level, and to work in the field of bioengineering.

Osayande is a total of $600 for first-place finishes in various recent theoreticaf trends in En­
lish and the humanities. He will illustrate his points with an analysis of implicit
Continued on page 6

Chair appointed clerk

William Clark of the Mechanical Engineering Department has been appointed
clerk of the department. He will serve through June 2003.

Clark has been a member of the Cal
Poly faculty since 1977.

Engineering senior wins $1,000 NOW scholarship

Theresa Osayande, a senior engineering student, was one of four recipients of a $1,000 scholarship from the California
National Organization for Women.

The scholarships are intended to ensure that women across the state have
access to quality education. The scholas­
tes are awarded on the basis of academic standing and degree and career objectives.

Osayande is majoring in general engi­
nering with a concentration in biomedical engineering. She is a member of the phi omega phi honor society, and a member of the American Mensa Lounge and the Alpha Xi Delta sorority.

She has traveled to Chicago to attend
Cornell University, and to attend the
American Chemical Society meeting in
San Francisco. She hopes to continue her
education at an advanced degree level, and to work in the field of bioengineering.

Osayande is a total of $600 for first-place finishes in various recent theoreticaf trends in En­
lish and the humanities. He will illustrate his points with an analysis of implicit
Continued on page 6

Chair appointed clerk

William Clark of the Mechanical Engineering Department has been appointed
clerk of the department. He will serve through June 2003.

Clark has been a member of the Cal
Poly faculty since 1977.

Engineering senior wins $1,000 NOW scholarship

Theresa Osayande, a senior engineering student, was one of four recipients of a $1,000 scholarship from the California
National Organization for Women.

The scholarships are intended to ensure that women across the state have
access to quality education. The scholas­
tes are awarded on the basis of academic standing and degree and career objectives.

Osayande is majoring in general engi­
nering with a concentration in biomedical engineering. She is a member of the phi omega phi honor society, and a member of the American Mensa Lounge and the Alpha Xi Delta sorority.

She has traveled to Chicago to attend
Cornell University, and to attend the
American Chemical Society meeting in
San Francisco. She hopes to continue her
education at an advanced degree level, and to work in the field of bioengineering.

Osayande is a total of $600 for first-place finishes in various recent theoreticaf trends in En­
lish and the humanities. He will illustrate his points with an analysis of implicit
Continued on page 6

Chair appointed clerk

William Clark of the Mechanical Engineering Department has been appointed
clerk of the department. He will serve through June 2003.

Clark has been a member of the Cal
Poly faculty since 1977.

Engineering senior wins $1,000 NOW scholarship

Theresa Osayande, a senior engineering student, was one of four recipients of a $1,000 scholarship from the California
National Organization for Women.

The scholarships are intended to ensure that women across the state have
access to quality education. The scholas­
tes are awarded on the basis of academic standing and degree and career objectives.

Osayande is majoring in general engi­
nering with a concentration in biomedical engineering. She is a member of the phi omega phi honor society, and a member of the American Mensa Lounge and the Alpha Xi Delta sorority.

She has traveled to Chicago to attend
Cornell University, and to attend the
American Chemical Society meeting in
San Francisco. She hopes to continue her
education at an advanced degree level, and to work in the field of bioengineering.

Osayande is a total of $600 for first-place finishes in various recent theoreticaf trends in En­
lish and the humanities. He will illustrate his points with an analysis of implicit
Continued on page 6

Chair appointed clerk

William Clark of the Mechanical Engineering Department has been appointed
clerk of the department. He will serve through June 2003.

Clark has been a member of the Cal
Poly faculty since 1977.

Engineering senior wins $1,000 NOW scholarship

Theresa Osayande, a senior engineering student, was one of four recipients of a $1,000 scholarship from the California
National Organization for Women.

The scholarships are intended to ensure that women across the state have
access to quality education. The scholas­
tes are awarded on the basis of academic standing and degree and career objectives.

Osayande is majoring in general engi­
nering with a concentration in biomedical engineering. She is a member of the phi omega phi honor society, and a member of the American Mensa Lounge and the Alpha Xi Delta sorority.

She has traveled to Chicago to attend
Cornell University, and to attend the
American Chemical Society meeting in
San Francisco. She hopes to continue her
education at an advanced degree level, and to work in the field of bioengineering.

Osayande is a total of $600 for first-place finishes in various recent theoreticaf trends in En­
lish and the humanities. He will illustrate his points with an analysis of implicit
Continued on page 6

Chair appointed clerk

William Clark of the Mechanical Engineering Department has been appointed
clerk of the department. He will serve through June 2003.

Clark has been a member of the Cal
Poly faculty since 1977.
Help now available online for computer problems

Having computer problems? Don't know whom to call or where to turn? Don't know the status of an already-submitted computer-related problem or request?

Help is now online in the form of the "Remedy HelpDesk Application" Web page, which allows users to report new computer problems, submit requests and check the status of problems already reported to Information Technology Services and other computer support groups.

To use the new page, go to the ITS Help Desk Web page at http://helpdesk.calpoly.edu and click on "Submit a Request."

To log in, users need to know their "e-mail alias." (If your e-mail is sent to jdoe@calpoly.edu, your e-mail alias is "jdoe"). You'll also need to know your Central Unix or "Imagine Modern Pool" password. If you don't know your e-mail alias or password, click on the "Don't know your login or password?" link for more information.

The page and its easy-to-complete forms are available at any time from any workstation with Internet access and require no training to use.

Anyone who has questions or problems logging in or using the forms should call the ITS HelpDesk at ext. 6-7000 or e-mail helpdesk@calpoly.edu. The Remedy HelpDesk Application is just one among several new features on the revised HelpDesk site providing useful resources and answers to computer questions.

Flu Shot Clinic to be Nov. 14

The Employee Assistance Program is sponsoring a flu shot clinic for employees and family members 11 a.m.-1 p.m. Nov. 14 in UU 220. Pre-registration is not required. The $15 fee can be paid by cash or check made payable to Maxum Health Systems. For more information, call Anne Goshen at ext. 6-0127.

Deadline to be Nov. 16 for fall Credit Report

The deadline to submit items for the fall issue of The Credit Report will be Nov. 16. Text should be e-mailed (not faxed or campus mailed) to polynews@calpoly.ed (add.calpoly.edu if necessary).

Photos of all types are welcome. Original prints should be sent in campus mail to Public Affairs. The editor's computer cannot handle digital photos by e-mail.

Guidelines for what to send are available at www.calpoly.edu/~communic/credit/credit.htm. For more information, call Public Affairs at ext. 6-1511.

"West Wing" producer, alum to speak at Journalism gala

Devotees of NBC-TV's "The West Wing" will have an opportunity to get an inside look at the popular television show when co-executive producer Kevin Falls addresses the Journalism Department's Centennial alumni fund-raiser Saturday evening (Nov. 10) in Chumash Auditorium.

Falls is a 1978 journalism graduate. He will offer personal anecdotes about working with the writing team, his co-producer and the cast of the Emmy-winning television show, which follows the political lives of the mythical Bartlett administration.

Falls has also written for ABC's "Sports Night" and HBO's "Arliun" and penned the screenplay for "Summer Catch" and "The Temp."

In addition to hearing keynote speaker Falls, journalism alumni will "toast and roast" Professor Emeritus Jim Hayes and "Kissing the Bread: New & Selected Poems, 1969-1999." According to Clark, Gilbert's poems are most often vivid depictions of the lives of American women and immigrants.

"Sometimes gravely serious, sometimes deceptively comic, always about deep conflict, her poems often explore the struggle between men and women as they negotiate the difficult terrain of romantic relationships," Clark said.

"Sandra Gilbert's poetry breaks my heart," wrote poet Susan Hahn. "I can't think of a finer poet writing at this millennial moment."

Currently a professor at UC Davis, Gilbert has also taught at Princeton, Johns Hopkins and Indiana University.

Award-winning poet to read at Cal Poly Friday

American Book Award-winner Sandra Gilbert will read from her new book of poetry to kick off the San Luis Obispo Poetry Festival at 7 p.m. Friday (Nov. 9) in the Christopher Cohran Center's Philips Hall.

A former Pulitzer Prize nominee for criticism, Gilbert is one of America's preeminent post-critics, according to English Professor Kevin Clark.

In addition to her numerous volumes of criticism and a widely praised memoir, "Wrongful Death," Gilbert has six books of poetry to her credit, including her most recent, "Kissing the Bread: New & Selected Poems, 1969-1999."

According to Clark, Gilbert's poems are most often vivid depictions of the lives of American women and immigrants. Gilbert is one of America's preeminent poet-critics, according to English Professor Kevin Clark.

"Sandra Gilbert’s poetry breaks my heart," wrote poet Susan Hahn. "I can’t think of a finer poet writing at this millennial moment."

Currently a professor at UC Davis, Gilbert has also taught at Princeton, Johns Hopkins and Indiana University.
Healthy communities to be focus of November conference

Building healthy communities free of crime, drugs, hunger, poverty and other urban ills is the topic of "Community Development in the New Century," a statewide conference Nov. 14-16 at Cal Poly.

The conference is intended to offer a look at the state of the art of community development planning in the United States and also to help the university create a new Community Development program.

The conference will feature workshops led by national experts and keynote addresses from three nationally known leaders: Paul Orfalea, founder of Kinko's and the Orfalea Family Foundation; Ed Blakely, dean of the Robert J. Milano Graduate School of Management and Urban Policy at New York's New School University; and Wim Wiewel, dean of the University of Illinois College of Business.

The university has invited city and county government officials and representatives from nonprofit agencies, social service groups and communities across California to participate.

"The mission of the conference is to define a role for Cal Poly in the very dynamic field of community development and to put together a feasible program of teaching, service and applied research," said City and Regional Planning Professor Richard Lee, who is coordinating the conference with Economics Professor Dan Villegas.

"We want to bring the energy and talents of Cal Poly's diverse students to communities in need," explained Lee.

"There are many courses and student projects at Cal Poly that involve community development and community groups. These courses and projects would all benefit directly from closer ties to community development organizations."

The Community Development program will be a joint venture of the College of Architecture and Environmental Design and the Orfalea College of Business.

The university plans to collaborate with the private sector, including for-profit and nonprofit institutions, in setting up the new program.

"Plants calls for the program to concentrate on economic development and planning, job creation, affordable housing, "family-friendly" organizational practices, environmental sustainability, community and social infrastructure, and the role of nonprofit organizations and social entrepreneurship in healthy communities.

The conference will focus on six topics: social entrepreneurship and financial capital; development of a community's human capital; family and household issues; housing and housing services; development of a community's physical capital; and university-community development partnerships.

For reservations call ext. 6-1315 or 6-2809. For more information, contact Lee at ext. 6-2573 or Villegas at 6-1767 or visit the conference Web page at www.calpoly.edu/~crpconfdev.html.

Native American activist to speak on indigenous issues

University of Colorado Ethnic Studies Professor and Native American activist Ward Churchill will speak at Cal Poly on "Global Indigenous Issues" at 7 p.m. Nov. 14 in Philips Hall in the Christopher Cohan Center.

Churchill is presenting the keynote address of Cal Poly's Indigenous People's Week, held in conjunction with International Education Week, Nov. 12-16.

Churchill is a member of the Creek Tribe and is an enrolled Keetoowah Band Cherokee. An outspoken Native American activist, he lectures and publishes extensively on such themes as genocide in the Americas, historical and legal (re)interpretation of conquest and colonization, literary and cinematic criticism, and indigenous alternatives to the status quo.

His books include "Agents of Repression," "Fantasies of the Master Race" and "A little Matter of Genocide: Holocaust and Denial in the Americas."

Churchill coordinates the University of Colorado's American Indian Studies program. He served as a delegate to the United Nations Working Group on Indigenous Peoples during the 1993 International People's Tribunal on the Rights of Indigenous Hawaiians.

The talk is sponsored by the College of Liberal Arts, Student Life and Leadership's Multicultural Center, and the Ethnic Studies Department. For more information, contact Steve Woodard, interim coordinator of multicultural programs and services, at ext. 6-1405 or woodard@calpoly.edu.

Terrorism panel discussion to continue Nov. 14

Cal Poly's discussion series on international politics and terrorism will continue at 7 p.m. Nov. 14 in the Christopher Cohan Center's Harman Hall.

Panelists include Political Science Professor Craig Arceneaux, who will address "The Role of International Organizations," Political Science Professor Carl Lutrin on "The Middle East: Israel's Perspective," and Social Sciences Professor Malika Zulfacar on "The Complexities of Central Asia."

Political Science Professor Phil Fetzer will moderate the discussion, designed to provide information of general interest to the campus community.

For more information contact Anny Morrobel-Sosa at ext. 6-1380 or Fetzer at ext. 6-6147.

Employees, students lead ridesharing efforts

Cal Poly employees and students made nearly 75 percent of all countywide pledges during Rideshare Week, Oct. 2-6.

During Rideshare Week, 536 people in the county pledged to bike, walk, car pool, van pool or take the bus to work or school at least one day. Of those 536 pledges, 395 were submitted by Cal Poly.

Those who pledged were entered into a prize drawing, and 48 campus winners were announced. They won Rideshare T-shirts, a CCAT bus pass, visors, a $20 credit on a Campus Express Card, a "Safe Ride Home" pass, and certificates for a Juliana's coffee and a Backstage pizza.

In addition, 17 Cal Poly winners won prizes in the county drawing. Those prizes included commuter mugs, tickets to the Palm Theatre and certificates for Jamba Juice smoothies, Gus's brown bag lunch, Starbucks coffee and Woodstock's pizza.

For more information on alternative transportation, contact Debbie Anderson, commuter and access services coordinator with the University Police, at ext. 6-6680.
Theatre and Dance hires first costume designer

Kira Franz-Knight, who earned a bachelor's degree in history from Cal Poly in 1994, has returned to campus this time as a costume designer and teacher in the Theatre and Dance Department.

Her first assignment is to design the costumes for the upcoming production of Much, Much Ado About Nothing by William Shakespeare, which will play at 8 p.m. Thursday-Saturday (Nov. 8-10) and Nov. 15-17 in the Theatre. "The costumes reflect the fashion of the late 17th to 18th century, but will have a funky, modern appeal," Franz-Knight said.

After graduating, Franz-Knight earned a Master of Fine Arts degree in costume design from the University of Washington in 1998.

Stover to lead CSU steering committee

Vicki Stover, associate vice president for administration, has been appointed chair of the CSU Quality Improvement (QI) Steering Committee, effective March 1, 2002.

Since the beginnings of QI in 1993, Stover has been involved as a quality improvement facilitator. Last year she received the CSU Outstanding Quality Improvement Facilitator Award.

The mission of the QI Steering Committee is to promote continuous quality and productivity improvement in the CSU through support for quality enhancement strategies, frameworks and tools; ongoing training, education and communication; assessment of customer needs and satisfaction; performance and outcome measures; process evaluation and improvement methods; systematic identification and transfer of best practices; and campus and systemwide collaboration.

Political conflicts loom in forums of talk Thursday

English Professor Don Lazzre will speak on the intersection between literature and politics in Arthur Miller’s “Death of a Salesman” at 11 a.m. Thursday (Nov. 8) in the First What We Do Forum of the academic year.

The forum, sponsored by the English Department, will be in Room 202 in the Science North Building.

In his presentation, Lazzre will use a cultural studies perspective to discuss Miller’s play. He will make the case for the legitimacy of fostering critical thinking about politics, and of political debate, in teaching all areas of the humanities, without the imposition of “political correctness” by teachers.

The presentation will sum up the perspective Lazzre has developed in his books, articles and courses in relation to various recent theoretical trends in English and the humanities. He will illustrate his points with an analysis of implicit and explicit anti-Semitism in Miller's play.

continued on page 6

Troll-free phone launched to give anti-hate information

The Governor’s Office of Emergency Services has launched a toll-free “safety information and referral” line, (800) 550-5234, to provide California residents with recorded, non-emergency, anti-hate-related information. In addition, trained technicians will receive and provide a minimum of available 6 a.m.-9 p.m. daily to give referrals.

Hearing-impaired individuals can obtain online access through the toll-free TTY line at (800) 550-5281.

The information and referral lines are part of ongoing efforts by the OES to address the safety concerns of Californians in the aftermath of the Sept. 11 attacks on the World Trade Center and the Pentagone.

The “one-stop” information line allows callers to choose from a menu that provides access to information on personal and family preparedness, what to do in the event of a possible or real exposure to anthrax, and what to do with suspicious mail or packages. Technicians are also on call to answer questions refer callers to various agencies, departments and Internet Web sites for more information.

Safety information can also be found on the OES Web site at www.oes.ca.gov. Click on “terrorism.”

Dairy judging team sweeps national contest

The Dairy Products Judging Team emerged as the winner at the 80th Collegiate Dairy Products Evaluation Contest held recently in Chicago, and Dairy Science Professor Will Gillis, the team’s advisor, was named Coach of the Year.

This is Cal Poly's second second sweep national win at the competition, which included categories in ice cream, yogurt, butter, cheddar cheese, cottage cheese and milk.

As a team, the Cal Poly group finished first in cheddar cheese and butter, second in milk, third in cottage cheese, fourth in yogurt and fifth in ice cream, landing a first-place prize in All Products.

Ten students were present at such events as flavor, appearance and color, and body and texture.

Team members were Cindy Hsu, a senior food science major, Alison Reynolds, a senior dairy science major and Leanne Verdegala, a senior dairy science major.

In individual competition, Reynolds won a total of $600 for first-place finishes in All Products, ice cream and cheddar cheese. Verdegala won $200 for a third-place win in All Products.

The team competed against students from 19 other universities, including the University of Wisconsin, Oregon State, Brigham Young, Penn State and the University of Michigan.

Alternate Cal Poly team members who traveled to Chicago include Casey Griffith, a senior dairy science major, Steven Knudsen, a sophomore food science major, June Bowen, a sophomore dairy science major. Gillis has been teaching at Cal Poly and serving as the team’s advisor since 1986.

CPR deadline badge

Please note that the Cal Poly Report is changing the deadline for the Nov. 28 issue because the campus will be closed for the Thanksgiving holiday, Thursday and Friday, Nov. 21-22.

Items are due to Public Affairs by 10 a.m. Monday, Nov. 19.

Please also note that the Dec. 12 issue is the final one for fall quarter.

Items can be e-mailed to: pols@calpoly.edu or faxed to ext. 6-5751. Call to arrange meeting in Public Affairs, Heron Hall. For more information, call Public Affairs at ext. 6-1511.

Position Vacancies for State, faculty and Foundation

STATE: The official listing of staff and management vacancies is posted at least two weeks prior to closing dates on Cal Poly’s Web site at www.acer.poly.edu. (Select “Employee Information” from the Cal Poly Links drop-down box.)

FACULTY Candidates are asked to contact the appropriate department office at the phone number listed for more information or to request an application. Additional information and qualifications for each position may also be obtained online at www.ealpoly.edu.

Please submit all application materials to the department head/chair unless otherwise specified in the ad. Rank and salary are commensurate with qualifications and experience (including base where applicable), unless otherwise stated.

#3947: Lecturer, Full-Time, Statistics Department (ext. 6-2799), Closing date: Feb. 22.

#3964: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor, Kinesiology Department (ext. 6-2545), Closing date: Dec. 17.

FOUNdATION (Foundation Admin. Building, job line ext. 6-7107). All Foundation applications must be received (not postmarked) by 5 p.m. of the closing date. (No faxes.)

Conference Coordinator, Conference Services, $12.66-$14/hr., Closing date: Open until filled; review of applications begins Nov. 16.

Camping Assistant, Camping District, $6.38-$12.66/hr., full-time, 10-month position, Closing date: Review of applications begins Nov. 16.
Political conflicts to be focus of talk . . .

Continued from page 2

political and historical themes in "Death of a Salesman."

In a second forum Nov. 29, Lazere will focus on the literary dimensions of James Baldwin's essay "The Fire Next Time," demonstrating Baldwin's foresight concerning current American politics, nationally and internationally, with particular reference to the events of Sept. 11.

Lazere joined the faculty at Cal Poly in 1977. His reviews and opinions pieces have appeared in The New York Times, the Los Angeles Times, the San Francisco Chronicle, the Baltimore Sun, the Chronicle of Higher Education, The Nation and Tikkun. He has received fellowships from the National Endowment for the Humanities and the Fund for the Improvement of Postsecondary Education.

At Cal Poly, he has received an Exceptional Merit Teaching Award and Cal Poly's nomination for the Cal State Trustees Outstanding Professor Award.

The What Else We Do forum series aims to expose a broad audience to the creative endeavors and professional activity of the English faculty. Short, informal presentations are followed by discussion.

For more information, contact the English Department at ext. 6-2597 or technician, died in San Luis Obispo Oct. 22. She worked in Student Affairs from 1961 until she retired in 1982.

What’s the hurry?

There’s still plenty of time to see this photo and others taken by Jesse Alexander, whose work is the subject of a retrospective exhibit in the University Art Gallery through Dec. 7. Alexander is an internationally renowned motor sport photographer whose photographs have appeared in Car and Driver, Road and Track and Automobile magazine.

Anne Marcell, 82

Anne Marcell, a former evaluations technician, died in San Luis Obispo Oct. 22. She worked in Student Affairs from 1961 until she retired in 1982.

Datenline . . .

Continued from page 1

Music: John Bankston, Backstage Pizza, 11 a.m.
Books at High Noon: Mary Kay Harrington (Writing Skills) on "The Botany of Desire" by Michael Pollan. Library 510, noon.

Wednesday, November 14

GIS Day: Lectures, exhibits and demonstrations; Library, 8 a.m.-5 p.m.
Flu Shot Clinic: For employees and family members; UU 220, 11 a.m.-1 p.m. ($)
Music: Dorothy Segovia, Backstage Pizza, 11 a.m.

International Terrorism Seminar: "International Politics and Terrorism." Phil Feitler (Political Science) will moderate panelists Craig Arsenius (Political Science) on "The Role of International Organizations," Carl Latini (Political Science) on "The Middle East: Israel's Perspective," and Masala Zullaffar (Social Sciences) on "The Complexities of Central Asia." Christopher Cohen Center, Harman Hall, 7 p.m.

Thursday, November 15

Play: "The Misér," Theatre, 8 p.m.
Nov. 15-17. ($)
Friday, November 16

Music: Travis Larson Band, Backstage Pizza, 6 p.m.
Volleyball: Cal State Northridge, Mott Gym, 7 p.m. ($)
Play: "The Misér," Theatre, 8 p.m.
Nov. 15-17. ($)

Saturday, November 17

Volleyball: Pacific, Mott Gym, 7 p.m. ($)
Play: "The Misér," Theatre, 8 p.m.
Nov. 15-17. ($)

Sunday, November 18

Music: The Bobs, Christopher Cohen Center, Harman Hall, 7 p.m. ($)
Women's Basketball: UC Berkeley, Mott Gym, 7 p.m. ($)

Wednesday, November 21

Academic Holiday: Thanksgiving holiday for academic-year employees.

Thursday, November 22

Holiday: Thanksgiving holiday for year-round employees. Through Nov. 25.

Friday, November 23

Homecoming: Various activities through Sunday, Nov. 11.

Speakers: Rob Flores (Agricultural Education and Communication), moderator, "What Did We Hear From Our Students?" Erhart Ag 241, noon.
Men's Soccer: UCSB, Mustang Stadium, 7 p.m. ($)
Play: "The Misér," Theatre, 8 p.m.
Nov. 8-10, 15-17. ($)

Friday, November 9

Homecoming: Various activities through Sunday, Nov. 11.

Saturday, November 10

Football (Homecoming): Cal State Northridge, Mustang Stadium, 3 p.m. ($)
Music: Music Department's Bandfest with the Wind Orchestra and Mustang Band, Christopher Cohen Center, Harman Hall, 8 p.m. ($)
Play: "The Misér," Theatre, 8 p.m.
Nov. 8-10, 15-17. ($)

Saturday, November 16

Football (Homecoming): Matt Gym, noon.
Music: Music Department's Bandfest with the Wind Orchestra and Mustang Band, Christopher Cohen Center, Harman Hall, 8 p.m. ($)
Play: "The Misér," Theatre, 8 p.m.
Nov. 8-10, 15-17. ($)

Monday, November 12

Holiday: Campus closed for obsenation. Through Nov. 25.

Tuesday, November 13

Continued on page 6

Datenline . . .

($) - Admission charged

Exhibits

Kennedy Library: "This is woman's hour..." The Life of Mary Baker Eddy," Through Nov. 28. Attrium.
University Art Gallery (Dreher): "Driven," photo retrospective by Jesse Alexander. Through Dec. 7. Book signing Thursday (Nov. 8), 5-6 p.m. Receptions follow. Gallery hours: 11 a.m.-4 p.m. daily plus 7-9 p.m. Wednesday.

Thursday, November 8

Music: Cadillac Angels, Backstage Pizza, noon.
Play: "The Misér," Theatre, 8 p.m.
Nov. 8-10, 15-17. ($)

Friday, November 9

Homecoming: Various activities through Sunday, Nov. 11.

Saturday, November 10

Football (Homecoming): Cal State Northridge, Mustang Stadium, 3 p.m. ($)
Music: Music Department's Bandfest with the Wind Orchestra and Mustang Band, Christopher Cohen Center, Harman Hall, 8 p.m. ($)
Play: "The Misér," Theatre, 8 p.m.
Nov. 8-10, 15-17. ($)

Saturday, November 16

Football (Homecoming): Matt Gym, noon.
Music: Music Department's Bandfest with the Wind Orchestra and Mustang Band, Christopher Cohen Center, Harman Hall, 8 p.m. ($)
Play: "The Misér," Theatre, 8 p.m.
Nov. 8-10, 15-17. ($)

Sunday, November 18

Music: The Bobs, Christopher Cohen Center, Harman Hall, 7 p.m. ($)
Women's Basketball: UC Berkeley, Mott Gym, 7 p.m. ($)

Wednesday, November 21

Academic Holiday: Thanksgiving holiday for academic-year employees. Through Nov. 25.

Thursday, November 22

Holiday: Thanksgiving holiday for year-round employees. Through Nov. 25.

Friday, November 23

Homecoming: Various activities through Sunday, Nov. 11.

Saturday, November 10

Homecoming: Various activities through Sunday, Nov. 11.

Sunday, November 18

Music: The Bobs, Christopher Cohen Center, Harman Hall, 7 p.m. ($)
Women's Basketball: UC Berkeley, Mott Gym, 7 p.m. ($)

Wednesday, November 21

Academic Holiday: Thanksgiving holiday for academic-year employees.

Saturday, November 24

Football (Homecoming): Matt Gym, noon.
Music: Music Department's Bandfest with the Wind Orchestra and Mustang Band, Christopher Cohen Center, Harman Hall, 8 p.m. ($)
Play: "The Misér," Theatre, 8 p.m.
Nov. 8-10, 15-17. ($)

Sunday, November 25

Holiday: Campus closed for observation. Through Nov. 25.

Monday, November 26

Continued on page 6

50th Reunion, Veterans' Day memorial ceremony part of 'A Centennial Homecoming' Nov. 9-11

A Homecoming Reunion for Cal Poly's graduating class of '51 and a special Veterans' Day Memorial Unveiling and Dedication are planned as part of "A Centennial Homecoming" Friday-Sunday (Nov. 9-11).

A full day of activities is planned Friday for members of the class of '51, including breakfast in the Christopher Cohen Center, classroom presentations, campus bus tours, and an evening reception and dinner at the San Luis Obispo Veterans' Hall on Grand Avenue.

At 10:30 a.m. Sunday, the veterans' memorial ceremony will take place at the UU Mustang statue to honor former students and alumni who lost their lives in battle.

Rear Adm. David R. Ellison, Superintendent of the Naval Postgraduate School in Monterey, will deliver the keynote address at the event.

In addition, newly restored memorial plaques will be unveiled, including one that the 1946 graduating class presented to then-President Julian McPhee listing the names of 58 Cal Poly students who died in military service in World War II. New memorial plaques honoring fallen Cal Poly veterans will also be unveiled.

The first major Homecoming public event is the parade at 10 a.m. Saturday in downtown San Luis Obispo with Grand Marshal Clarence Chiera, a 1923 College of Agriculture graduate, San Luis Obispo resident, and the university's oldest living graduate at 96.

For a schedule of all Homecoming events, log on to www.calpoly.edu or call the Alumni Relation office at ext. 6-2386.