Myron Angel, 1901 Cal Poly founding Angel
Corinne Angel, a San Diego lawyer and Myron Angel's daughter, is writing a book about her father , Myron Angel, 1901 Cal Poly founding Angel, who moved to San Luis Obispo in 1930 to attend Cal Poly.

Myron Angel will be the University's first "NSF Centennial Science Scholar." The $399,367 grant will provide 29 scholarships of $3,125 each to students in those departments during the next four years.

To be eligible for an "NSF Centennial Scholarship," a student must demonstrate financial need and strong academic potential. New undergraduate students and new or continuing graduate students may apply.

Undergraduate scholarship recipients will receive advising coordinated by Continued on page 4
Library resources, services to be focus of workshops

The Kennedy Library is sponsoring two November workshops designed to familiarize faculty members with library services and resources - electronic and otherwise - that facilitate teaching and learning.

The workshops are 2-4 p.m. Friday (Nov. 16) and 11 a.m.-1 p.m. Nov. 29 in the library's Reference Department, Room 111-H.

Faculty members can put materials on reserve, search indexes and databases, order new materials, request interlibrary loan and document delivery, keep current with the latest journal literature, and develop a personalized Web research page, all from their desktop.

The library offers instructional sessions for courses and provides simple-to-use interfaces that allow faculty members to set up an electronic syllabus and electronic coursepack. Subject specialists on staff at the library will work with faculty members to design assignments that integrate information competence into their coursework.

The first hour will consist of a general overview of the various services. The second hour can be tailored to individual interests with time for hands-on instruction. Participants need not attend both hours of the workshop.

Faculty members as well as seasoned teachers unfamiliar with these features are particularly encouraged to attend. Pre-registration is recommended (but not required).

To preregister go to www.lib.calpoly.edu/libraryworkshop.

For more information, contact Paul Adaljan at ext. 56776 or paulalan@calpoly.edu.

Music (and) Mahy

Poet Linda Birdes to read

Linda Birdes will kick off WritersSpeak '01, a showcase of writers at 7 p.m. Friday (Nov. 16) in Philips Hall in the Christopher Cohan Center.

Birdes is the author of six volumes of poetry, including the recently released "The Seconds" and "The Profile Makers," for which she won the PEN West Poetry Prize and was awarded a John D. and Catherine T. McArthur Foundation Fellowship.

Her work has appeared in such journals and magazines as The Atlantic Monthly, The New Yorker and The Paris Review.

She has been widely praised by fellow poets, including Stanley Plumly, who said, "This is her best book... Linda Birdes has moved masterfully toward the clarifying dark and its complexities.... Her sense of her subject is like her sense of time: projection, identity, and a complete taking on of the moment."

Among her many awards are two National Endowment for the Arts grants, as well as fellowships from the Ingram Merrill, John Simon Guggenheim and Wolfe's Neill foundations.

Birdes directs Washington University's Creative Writing Program. That program is supported by the College of Liberal Arts, Cal Poly Arts and a grant from Poets and Writers. Birdes is also a board member of Poetry Magazine.

Lloyd Lamourie, 78

Lloyd Lamourie, retired head of the Agricultural Engineering Department, died Oct. 23.

Lamourie worked at Cal Poly from 1965 to 1987. He had a long and distinguished career as an educator and inventor.

Long-distance rates to go down Saturday

Beginning Saturday (Nov. 17) the cost to place long-distance calls from campus phones, including those in residence halls, will be reduced.

The recently completed CSU-wide long-distance service contract enables Cal Poly to reduce intrastate rates to 9 cents a minute and interstate rates to 11 cents a minute. The rates will be reflected in the December 2001 departmental phone bills.

For more information, call Telecommunication Services at ext. 62761, e-mail teleconserv@calpoly.edu or visit www.teleconserv.calpoly.edu.

Leiland Faulkner adds evening performance

Cal Poly Arts has added an evening show to the "The Odd Kingdom" performance by Leiland Faulkner at 6:30 p.m. Jan. 13 in the Christopher Cohan Center Pavilion. The evening performance is available for the 3 p.m. Jan. 13 Family Arts show.

Faulkner, known for presenting audiences of all ages with a theatrical feast of fantasy and the classic, has been invited to e-mail their home telephone numbers and a picture of their family to poematrix@polymath, fixed to ext. 65833, or mailed to Public Affairs, Heron Hall.

For more information, call Public Affairs at ext. 61511.
Library resources, services to be focus of workshops

The Kennedy Library is sponsoring two November workshops designed to familiarize faculty members with library services and resources - electronic and otherwise - that they do not currently use.

The workshops are 2-4 p.m. Friday (Nov. 16) and 11 a.m.-1 p.m. Nov. 29 in the library's Reference Department, Room 111-H.

Faculty members can put materials on reserve, search indices and databases, order new materials, request interlibrary loan and document delivery, keep current with the latest journal literature, and develop a personalized Research work page, all from their desktop.

The library offers instructional sessions for courses and provides simple-to-use interfaces that allow faculty members to set up a personal electronic syllabus and electronic coursework. Subject specialists on staff at the library work with faculty members to design assignments that integrate information competence into their coursework.

The first hour will consist of a general overview of the various services. The second hour can be tailored to individual interests with time for hands-on training. Participants need not attend both hours of the workshop.
