Cavatina Duo to give master class, recital

The acclaimed Cavatina Duo – guitarist Denis Azabagic and flutist Eugenia Moliner – will give a master class and recital April 24.

The master class will be at 5:15 p.m. The recital will be at 7 p.m. Both classes and the recital are free and open to the public.

Moliner, who will give a master class and recital April 24, said the husband-and-wife team are said to have captivated audiences with their powerful and versatile performances at European chamber music festivals in France, the Netherlands, Germany and Spain. They've been described as combining the best of Spanish music with the sensitivity of the Balkans to create a unique concert experience.

"The energy levels behind these brilliant musicians are breathtaking and facinating," wrote a critic for British Music Society Magazine. "The Spanish flute player Eugenia Moliner is an artist of the highest caliber, and her husband, Denis Azabagic, is one of the best guitarists I have heard."

Azabagic, considered to be among the world's fine guitarists, has won 10 international contests.

Moliner performs as a soloist and with the New Opus Trio.

The events are sponsored by the Music Department and College of Liberal Arts.

For more information, call ext. 6-2406.

\[Continued from page 1\]

Position Vacancies

STATE: California Polytechnic State University master class, recital management vacancies is posted at least 93407 San Luis Obispo, CA who do not actively manage their e-mail will continue to receive warning messages when they begin to approach the 93407 quota larger than 30;negabytes for business reasons, and they will not be affected by the change.

Later this year, enhanced e-mail services will be provided on a broader, cost-recovery basis for those staff and faculty members who have additional server-based e-mail storage needs.

Also later this year, an equivalent OpenMail mailbox quota increase will be implemented for student accounts.

Faculty members are encouraged to use the BlackBoard course management system for course-related e-mail storage. For more information call the Help Desk at ext. 6-7000, visit the Help Desk Web site at helpdesk.calpoly.edu, or visit the e-mail Web site at http://email.calpoly.edu/acctinfo.html.

\[Continued from page 1\]

A new computerized e-mail management system has been launched at Keesler Air Force Base in Biloxi, Miss. -- the first permanent Cal Poly Studies programs established in another state.

The noncredit programs in information technology and Oracle database administration will be administered by Extended Studies.

Students will receive instruction both online and in a new computer lab at the base. High-speed Internet access will link the two campuses.

Mississippi Gulf Community College and the University of Southern Mississippi are also partners in developing the programs.

\[Continued from page 4\]

Faculty, staff OpenMail increased to 30 megabytes

The OpenMail default mailbox size for faculty and staff members has been increased from 20 megabytes to 30. The change meets the need for expanded OpenMail e-mail storage caused by the increasing size of e-mail attachments and the growth of electronic messaging as a basic medium of communication, according to Sally Anderson of Information Technology Services.

"This quota increase should meet the storage needs of all but approximately 4 percent of current OpenMail users," Anderson said.

Unlike the old quota, the new quota applies to the entire e-mail account rather than the individual components (Inbox, Trash, Filing Cabinet, etc.), which allows individuals the maximum amount of flexibility possible in managing their e-mail accounts.

OpenMail users should notice fewer warnings that their mailbox is full. Users

\[Continued from page 4\]

\[Continued from page 4\]

\[Continued from page 4\]
Lease solicitation

Penny Ross, administrative support assistant in the Art and Design Department, is qualified for personal catastrophic leave. Eligible state employees may donate vacation and sick leave credits to employees who remain in full-pay status during an extended absence. Employees interested in donating leave may request a Catastrophic Leave Donation form from solicitation coordinator Lisa Alisha, Art and Design, ext. 6-1149 or by e-mail.

CSEA employees in units 2, 5, 7 and 9, Unit 4 (academic professionals), E99 (exempt) (excluded), C99 (confidential), MR9 (management personnel) and MR9 (exempt) (excluded) will be the total. All other state employees may donate up to 16 hours sick leave and/or vacation leave credits in increments of one hour or more.

Alcohol screening day set for Thursday in UU

Cal Poly employees, students and their families will be given an opportunity to participate in National Alcohol Screening Day, the nation's large-scale education program on alcohol problems, on Thursday (April 11). The program is free.

Representatives from Health and Counseling Services will be in the University Union from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. distributing material and administering a confidential written screening self-test for alcohol abuse and dependence. Individuals will be able to discuss the results of their test with a mental health professional.

Video will be shown, and attendees will learn about the causes, symptoms and treatment of alcohol abuse and dependence. National Alcohol Awareness Day is intended to help reduce high-risk drinking.

For more information, call Counseling Services at ext. 6-2511.

Nussbaum reception set

A reception for Judy Nussbaum, associate director of development, will be 3-5 p.m. Thursday (April 11) in the Smith Alumni and Conference Center.

Nussbaum has accepted a position as director of development for the Evansville Christian Life Center in Evansville, Ind. Her last day at Cal Poly has been at Cal Poly since 1987. During that time she has been in Alumni Relations and in Student Affairs.

Her last day of work at Cal Poly will be Friday (April 12).

English Prof Kevin Clark to read from new book

English Professor Kevin Clark will read poems from his new book, "In the Evening of Warning," at 7 p.m. Friday (April 12) in Phillips Hall in the Christopher Cohen Room.

Clark will also give a talk about creating and publishing the book at 11 a.m. Thursday (April 11) in Fisher Science 287.

Preeminent critic and poet Sandra Gilbert said, "Kevin Clark's haunted and haunting 'In the Evening of No Warning' is by far the best poem I've read by a 21st-century American poet. Clark is a deeply thoughtful poet whose narrative gift is always enhanced by a searching and restless consciousness; his melodies are limber; his language scrupulous and urgent."

Poet William Gass wrote, "Somewhere this ecstatic poetry stops short of oblivion, accepts its margins, and seeks out the lovely surfaces of marginality with family. I love this book for the flash and patience of its intelligence."

The reading is part of the College of Liberal Arts' WriterSpeak series. For more information, call English Professor Adam Hall at ext. 2-2506.

Housing Covent, to meet

The Board of Directors of the Cal Poly Housing Corp. will hold a regular public meeting at 2 p.m. April 18 in the Foundation Building, Room 110.

For more information or to obtain a copy of the meeting agenda, call Bob Ambrose, executive assistant and development director, Cal Poly Housing Corp., ext. 6-1131. A copy of the agenda packet will be available for public review at the Kennedy Library Reserve Desk (Room 114).

"One-drop rule" to be focus of talk Thursday

Phillip Mabry, a faculty member in Ethnic Studies, will present "Rethinking the One-Drop Rule: The Race-Gender-Nation Nexus and the Asian-American Experience" 11 a.m.-noon Thursday (April 11).

The talk is presented by the Women's Studies Program as part of its Faculty Lecture Series 2002. Mabry will speak in Harrah Agriculture 200.

Mabry noted that historically meant that anyone with "one drop" of non-white blood should be classified as non-white.

Mabry's talk proposes a reformulation of the one-drop rule and expands its application to women in the U.S.

"This broadened scope suggests that the 'one-drop rule' is not merely a classification device, but a revealing manifestation of broader structures of dominance, including race, sexuality and nationality," Mabry said.

He teaches Asian-American studies and has conducted research on the Americanization of Chinese, Vietnamese and Japanese ancestry in the U.S.

For more information on the talk, call Women's Studies at ext. 6-1582, e-mail womst@calpoly.edu or visit the Web at calpoly.edu/~womst.

Annual juried student show to open Friday in gallery

Cal Poly students' best artwork will be featured in "Quick & Easy," the 2002 annual juried student exhibit, from Friday (April 12) through May 4 at the University Art Gallery in the Dexter Building.

Graphic design, photography and two- and threedimensional work will be featured in the show.

An artists' reception will be 7-9 p.m. on opening night, April 12. Attendees will be awarded that evening to the first and second choices for best work in the four disciplines. The service is intended to acquaint mixer will be held May 2.

For more information, contact ext. 6-5792 or visit online at www.extendedstudies.calpoly.edu.

Kathryn Rummell selected "outstanding advisor"

Kathryn Rummell, assistant professor in the English Department, was selected as the first Outstanding Faculty Advisor Award recipient.

At the request of Provost Paul Zingg, the award was developed by the Advising Council to recognize outstanding achievement by a faculty member in the area of student advising. Nominations were solicited from the faculty and staff and students.

"This has historically meant that anyone with "one drop" of non-white blood should be classified as non-white.

Mabry's talk proposes a reformulation of the one-drop rule and expands its application to women in the U.S.

"This broadened scope suggests that the 'one-drop rule' is not merely a classification device, but a revealing manifestation of broader structures of dominance, including race, sexuality and nationality," Mabry said.

He teaches Asian-American studies and has conducted research on the Americanization of Chinese, Vietnamese and Japanese ancestry in the U.S.

For more information on the talk, call Women's Studies at ext. 6-1582, e-mail womst@calpoly.edu or visit the Web at calpoly.edu/~womst.

Annual juried student show to open Friday in gallery

Cal Poly students' best artwork will be featured in "Quick & Easy," the 2002 annual juried student exhibit, from Friday (April 12) through May 4 at the University Art Gallery in the Dexter Building.

Graphic design, photography and two- and threedimensional work will be featured in the show.

An artists' reception will be 7-9 p.m. on opening night, April 12. Attendees will be awarded that evening to the first and second choices for best work in the four disciplines. The service is intended to acquaint mixer will be held May 2.

For more information, contact ext. 6-5792 or visit online at www.extendedstudies.calpoly.edu.

Jazz Band to perform big-band classics Sunday

The University Jazz Band #1 will provide the music for a free big-band dance concert featuring the sounds of authentic swing-era tunes on Sunday (April 14).

The jazz band will play the classics as recorded by Benny Goodman, Count Basie, Glenn Miller, Stan Kenton, Les Brown and more from 7 to 10 p.m. at the Madonna Inn.

Join the 18-member band, directed by Director of Jazz Studies Paul Rinzel, at her performance with swing dance concerts for several years.

Admission is free. For more information, call Rinzel at ext. 6-5792 or the Madonna Inn at 543-9090.

Mustang Stampede Rodeo to be part of Open House

The annual Cal Poly Mustang Stampedede Rodeo will be held in conjunction with Open House festivities April 19-21.

Tickets will be on sale at 7 p.m. April 19, 4 p.m. April 20 and noon April 21. Tickets are $5 for children and students and $7 for adults, and can be bought at the gate or at the Cal Poly Athletics Ticket Office (ext. 6-5806).

The 18-member band, directed by Director of Jazz Studies Paul Rinzel, has been performing swing dance concerts for several years.

For more information, call Barbara Muguras at ext. 6-5751 or the University Art Gallery at ext. 6-6038.

Cal Poly to offer three Smart viticulture seminars

Critical Smart, a visiting professor in the College of Agriculture and a leading viticulture expert, will offer three industry seminars outlining the latest practical and scientific knowledge available for wine grapes.

Smart, from Australia, will hold the seminars in Paso Robles and Geyersville. Scheduled seminars include:

- Canopy Management and Partial Root Zone Deficit (PRD), April 19, Paso Robles, and April 21 in Geyersville. The $195 seminar fee includes lunch, materials and tours of Central Coast vineyards using PRD and progressive canopy-management techniques.

- Intensive Vineyard Techniques, May 3-5, J. Lohr Wine Education Center, Paso Robles. The three-day seminar will focus on all aspects of viticulture, from site selection to vineyard management techniques to harvest topics. How includes vineyards, work, pruning, rootstock, vineyard design, planting, trellis systems, vineyard nutrition, management, machinery, costs and returns. The $700 seminar fee includes lunch, materials and vineyard tours. A get-acquainted mixer will be held May 2.

For more information, contact ext. 6-2053 or register online at www.extendedstudies.calpoly.edu.

Statistical consulting offered spring quarter

The Department of Statistics offers statistical consulting service can help with research design and data analysis in a variety of areas. The service is intended to support projects and research, including senior project and graduate research.

Robert Smith, the main consultant for statistical consulting offers a wide range of services from data collection, experimental design, and analysis of research projects. He is also available to provide data analysis for a fee and offers consultation on important topics and advice on computer packages available at Cal Poly. If a special area of expertise is needed, he is interested in working with a group to develop an analytical plan and will provide consultation.

For details on the rodeo or the Rodeo Team, contact coach Brett Lakin at ext. 6-5370.

Continued on page 4

Her talk will be historically grounded, meant that anyone with "one drop" of non-white blood should be classified as non-white. Mahby's talk proposes a reformulation of the one-drop rule and expands its application to war babies in Asia.

The talk is presented by the Women's Studies Program as part of its Faculty Lecture Series 2002. Mahby will speak in Erhart Auditorium, 200.

The event, in the Kennedy Library, is scheduled for Thursday in UU Plaza and Landscape Weed Control Manual. Saeid Nilo (Mechanical Engineering), Introduction to Robotics: Analysis, Synthesis, and Applications; Royce Peck (Statistics), The Exploration and Analysis of Data; Robert Rice Jr. (Horticulture and Crop Science), Nursery and Landscape Weed Control Manual.

Statistics: The Exploration and Analysis of Data. The reading is part of the College of Liberal Arts' Writers Speak Series. For more information, call English Professor Adam Hill at 2-2906.

"This broadened scope suggests that the 'one-drop rule' is not merely a classification device, but a revealing manifestation of a broader structures of dominance, including race, sexuality and nationhood," Mahby said.

"This talk is intended to help reduce high-risk drinking, to develop a meaningful measure for the exploration of research, including race, sexuality and nationhood," Mahby said.

"This talk is intended to help reduce high-risk drinking, to develop a meaningful measure for the exploration of research, including race, sexuality and nationhood," Mahby said.

"This talk is intended to help reduce high-risk drinking, to develop a meaningful measure for the exploration of research, including race, sexuality and nationhood," Mahby said.

"This talk is intended to help reduce high-risk drinking, to develop a meaningful measure for the exploration of research, including race, sexuality and nationhood," Mahby said.
Cavatina Duo to give master class, recital

The acclaimed Cavatina Duo — guitarist Denis Azabagic and flutist Eugenia Moliner — will give a master class and recital April 24.

The master class will be at 5:15 p.m. The recital will be at 7 p.m. Both events are scheduled in Room 218 in the Davidson Music Center.

The husband-and-wife team are said to have captivated audiences with their powerful and versatile performances at European chamber music festivals in France, the Netherlands, Germany and Spain. They've been described as combining the Spanish music with the sensibility of the Balkans to create a unique concert experience.

"The energy levels behind these brilliant musicians are breathtaking and face-tinging," wrote a critic for British Flute Society Magazine. "The Spanish flute player Eugenia Moliner is an artist of the highest caliber, and her husband, Denis Azabagic, is one of the best guitarists I have heard."

Azabagic, considered to be among the world's greatest guitarists, has won 10 international contests. Moliner performs as a soloist and with the New Opus Trio.

The events are sponsored by the Music Department and College of Liberal Arts.

For more information, call ext. 6-2460.

datelne continued from page 1

Wednesday, April 17

Cal Poly Authors' Reception: Kennedy Library, 5 p.m.

Performance: "The Vagina Monologues," Theatre, 8 p.m. (April 16-21) ($)

Thursday, April 18

Music: David Trasoff (California Institute of the Arts), "Classical Ragas — A Program of North Indian Classical Music," Davidson Music Center 218, 11 a.m.

Performance: "The Vagina Monologues," Theatre, 8 p.m. (April 16-21) ($)

Friday, April 19

Open House: "Passport to Poly." (April 19-21)

Performance: "The Vagina Monologues," Theatre, 8 p.m. (April 16-21) ($)

Position Vacancies

STATE: The official listing of staff and management vacancies is posted at least two weeks prior to closing dates on Cal Poly's Web site at www.calpoly.edu. (Select "Employment" from the Cal Poly links drop-down box.) As a courtesy to our on-campus employees, job vacancies also are published in the Cal Poly Report. Positions marked with an asterisk indicate that qualified on-campus applicants in bargaining units 2, 7, and 9 will be given first consideration. Job applications must be received in Human Resources, Admin 110, by 5 p.m. on the closing date.

Cavatina Duo Communications Technician Pool

Equipment Maintenance Assistant

Information Technology Services, $15.46 to $19.68 hourly, by 5 p.m. on the closing date. (Equipment Maintenance Assistant)*, Communications and Computing Services, $15.46 to $20.36, temporary, intermittent, on-call to June 30, 2003. Closing date: April 19.

CPR schedule

The Cal Poly CPR program is posted online at www.calpoly.edu. The course is offered weekly until the last week of May. The CPR training costs $15 per course.

OpenMail increased... Continued from page 1

who do not actively manage their e-mail will continue to receive warning messages when they begin to approach the 30-megabyte quota, as a reminder to "clean up" their accounts.

Some users have been granted e-mail quotas larger than 30 megabytes for business reasons, and they will not be affected by the change.

Later this year, enhanced e-mail services will be provided on a broader, cost-recovery basis for those staff and faculty members who have additional server-based e-mail storage needs.

Also later this year, an equivalent OpenMail mailbox quota increase will be implemented for student accounts.

Faculty members are encouraged to use the BlackBoard course management system for course-related e-mail storage. For more information call the Help Desk at ext. 6-7000, visit the Help Desk Web site at http://helpdesk.calpoly.edu or visit the e-mail Web site at http://email.calpoly.edu/acctinfo.html.

New service... Continued from page 1

In conjunction with the new service, student e-mail addresses in SIS have been synchronized with username@calpoly.edu addresses. Address changes will no longer be made through MustangMail.

Faculty members are asked to remind students to use the Web portal tool to find out where their e-mail has been delivered. For more information, go to http://helpdesk.calpoly.edu/email_delivery.html. visits to the Information Technology Services Help Desk at ext. 6-7000 or e-mail helpdesk@calpoly.edu.

Ticket information

Tickets to the performances listed in today's Cal Poly Report are on sale at the Performing Arts Ticket Office 10 a.m. - 6 p.m. weekdays and 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. Saturdays. Call ext. 6-2787, or fax your order to ext. 6-6098. Tickets can also be bought online via Tickets.com. Visit a list of Campus Activities Center's Web site paciso.calpoly.edu and click on "Event Calendar." Information on Cal Poly Arts events can be found on the Web at www.calpolyarts.org.

Faculty, staff OpenMail increased to 30 megabytes

The OpenMail default mailbox size for faculty and staff members has been increased from 20 megabytes to 30 megabytes. This change meets the need for expanded OpenMail e-mail storage caused by the increasing size of e-mail attachments and the growth of electronic messaging as a basic medium of communication, according to Sally Anderson of Information Technology Services.

"This quota increase should meet the storage needs of all but approximately 4 percent of current OpenMail users," Anderson said.

Unlike the old quota, the new quota applies to the entire e-mail account rather than the individual components (Inbox, Trash, Filing Cabinet, etc.), which allows individuals the maximum flexibility possible in managing their e-mail accounts.

OpenMail users should notice fewer warnings that their mailbox is full. Users should also "clean up" their accounts.

For more information, call ext. 6-1511.

Statistical consulting... Continued from page 3

should complete the online form before contacting him. His office is Faculty Offices East 104. He can be reached at ext. 6-2001, via e-mail at rmsld@calpoly.edu or by fax at ext. 6-2787.

Walk-in Consulting Hours:

Monday ... 3:10 p.m. - 4:10 p.m.

Wednesday ... 4:10-5 p.m.

Thursday ... 9-10 a.m.

Office Hours for Students

Monday ... 8:40-9:20 a.m. and 4:10-5 p.m.

Wednesday ... 8-9:40 a.m. and 10:40-2:40 p.m.

Friday ... 8-9:40 a.m. and 10:40-2:40 p.m.

Appointments can be made by calling during walk-in consulting hours or during student office hours.

Extended Studies launches program at Mississippi base

Two Extended Studies certificate programs were recently launched at Keesler Air Force Base in Biloxi, Miss. - the first permanent Cal Poly Extended Studies programs established in another state.

The noncredit programs in information technology and Oracle database administration will be administered by Extended Studies.

Students will receive instruction both online and in a new computer lab at the base. High-speed Internet access will link the two campuses.

Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College and the University of Southern Mississippi are also partners in developing the programs.

New service available for e-mail, address changes

A new Web tool was installed recently for the Cal Poly Web portal that allows students and faculty and staff members to easily update their preferred e-mail delivery address.

Called Personal Information, the tool also allows those with non-mailing addresses and phone numbers.

Faculty and staff members listed in the Student Information System database will be able to use the tool to update their SIS addresses and phone numbers but not their Payroll and Human Resources addresses. Those changes must be reported in person to Human Resources.

To use the new tool, the Personal Information channel on the Cal Poly portal at http://my.calpoly.edu/Instructions for logging into the portal are located on the my.calpoly.edu Web page. Anyone using the portal for the first time must log in and click on the Personal Information tab. Those who have previously customized their my.calpoly.edu portal profile need to subscribe to the Personal Information channel before making any changes.

Duos to play

The Cavatina Duo will give a master class and a recital April 24. (See story on page 4.)

PAGE 4

California Polytechnic State University San Luis Obispo, CA 93407 Vol. 56, No. 27 • April 10, 2002