Pat Base Named Queen Of Annual Poly Royal

Lovely Pat Base of Pomona, 18-year old San Jose coed who aspires to become an airline stewardess, was selected by the student body last night to reign over the 24th Annual Poly Royal here April 27-28. Miss Base will have as her princesses Rhonda Kauk, 16, of Sunnyvale and Patti Kaser, 16, of Fresno. Miss Chase wishes to become a kindergarten-primary teacher, and Miss Kaser would like to be a home economist. She is in the business field with emphasis on advertising.

Letters to Editor

Dear Editor,

In last Friday's El Mustang I read with interest the article by Mr. H. W. Ludlum, "In Search of Humor." While the column was well written and included some interesting ideas, I was surprised to see no mention of the possibility of humor in the El Mustang itself. Mr. Ludlum mentioned that the paper lacked humor, but he did not provide any suggestions as to how this defect might be corrected.

I would like to express my views on the matter of humor in the El Mustang. I believe that humor can add a great deal to the overall quality of the paper and can make it more enjoyable to read. There are several examples of humor in other college newspapers that I believe could be adapted for use in the El Mustang.

First of all, there is the matter of the content of the paper. The El Mustang covers a wide range of topics, from sports to current events, and it seems to me that there is a great deal of humor to be found in these areas. For example, the sports section often contains humorous articles about the antics of the players or the coaches. The current events section can also be a source of humor, as articles about the more ridiculous aspects of the news can be found on a regular basis.

Secondly, there is the matter of the style of the paper. The El Mustang is written in a very formal style, and it seems to me that this could be improved by the inclusion of more humor. A little bit of humor could go a long way in making the paper more enjoyable to read.

Finally, there is the matter of the layout of the paper. The El Mustang is printed in a very serious manner, and it seems to me that this could be improved by the inclusion of more humor. A little bit of humor could go a long way in making the paper more enjoyable to read.

I hope that the El Mustang staff will consider these suggestions and that they will take steps to improve the humor in the paper. I believe that humor can add a great deal to the overall quality of the paper and that it is an important element of college newspapers.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Mustangs Muster ‘Moral’ Victory Over Spartans

by WILLIAM E. THOMAS

SAN JOSE, Nov. 1 — We saw a ball game that was a ball game here today as Cal Poly’s Mustangs taught some deep Impatience to Spartan weakness before being overtaken by San Jose State college, 19-17.

The thrashing of an exciting “moral victory” over the favored Spartans, Poly triumphed over San Jose for its third consecutive victory. Despite their efforts of last week, the Mustangs played their finest brand of football.

The Mustangs have not defeated San Jose since 1907, but only a few weeks ago the same squad eliminated Penn State in a dramatic contest. This week, however, the门户 defeated San Jose.

Spartan quarterback Jerry Duncan, who was unassailable for Poly, shared the honors with a touchdown pass to little all-roost light end Jim Cox for Poly a third period 91-yard aerial to Mel Powell for pay dirt. Ilcualey converted twice. Joe Ulman’s second quarter amush from the throe ended a third quarter 10-yard touchdown tama to halfback Tureau Heaalay and Poly held a 7-H halftime lead.
