Holiday-Hometown, World

By John Mette

This is a story about people. Good people who are doing things. They live in Hometown, World. Their thoughts are of the holiday season.

So stand aside for just a moment while we hush old dobbie to El Mustang's special holiday slight. We've been heard a world-wide cruise—by slight and story—to hometown of Cal Poly students.

Peanut! We're off on our international journey...

AMSTERDAM, HOLLAND

When dobbie! Slow down boy.

Didn't you see that sign back there—"Don't zip the Zodder Zoo!"

This is Amsterdam, man! It's the hometown of Cal Poly's El Rodeo editor Nick Monakandian. Monakandian (call him Nick, without the Saint) is a junior animal husbandry-biological science major.

We're in Amsterdam a bit early, dobbie. Here for America that is. What. Many don't know is that Hollander's fate three Christmas—6, 20 and 26. The sixth of December is in Nick's Day. Gifts will be exchanged. A wooden shoe replaces the stacking hook by the fireplace

Sao PAULO, BRAZIL

Dutch emigre who founded New York, In Holland, St. Nick rides a white stalion. A symbol of the sick and helpless, he has come to be a traditional part of Hollander's holiday season.

Santa Claus is a Dutch invention, brought by Linschoten in 1612 by Dutch emigre who founded New York. In Holland, St. Nick rides a white stalion. A symbol of the sick and helpless, he has come to be a traditional part of Hollander's holiday season.

Sao Paulo was established in 1554 by Joao da Silva. It's celebrated with the arrival of the ship the Saint. In honor of the day. There are street parties, fairs, and other events.

NOMEN, IRAQ

That race, the Kurds, why don't they tell us Persians have three Christmas? Now we'll have to either hang around or come back another day. First day of spring. That's how it's celebrated in Nomen.

New Year—Persian style—is a day of feasting. Gifts are exchanged. Children will try to trick somebody into giving new clothes—"to start the year off right" you know. But also, Meben, they don't do much in the way of Christianity.

St. Nick (Jack) is a junior ag engineer. He told me that many Persians believe in placing an egg on a mirror just before the New Year. According to the mirror's reflection, the summer will bring either success or disaster. A mirrorless New Year fails. Silver or paper money is placed inside the Holy book. Growth opens up the book and children taking the holy book as a form of Persian blessing. What more, dobbie, look that I picked up. A new language yet. How much is it worth?"

My New Year's day in Iraq. Oh humm, that was pretty interesting, huh? We'll have to eat our own food. We can't get any in a bag. But go on your way, dizzie. Do the same thing. No, unless you're too tired, how about a jolt to Nijerya?

USSR—Surprised? When dobbie and I set out to do something, well...Lagos is the hometown of Agyeola Opouwano, senior agricultural science major.

We're not Christmas plunging well underway here. Things like many are very much like they are built in America—decorations in the stores, purchasing of presents for exchange on Christmas day and decorated streets.

Nigeria isn’t really so very far from home after all, is it dobbie?

Chinese are we'll be missing the traditional turkey, though. Nigerians favor any kind of meat. The turkey is considered a delicacy. But when the meat is not available in the market, the chicken can be eaten all he can. A Chinese Christmas is different. Here’s my story. But go on your way, dizzie. Do the same thing. No, unless you’re too tired, how about a jolt to Nijerya?

WELCOME TO SOUTH AFRICA!

We’re welcome to South Africa. Christmas is well underway here. Things are much like they are built in America—decorations in the stores, purchasing of presents for exchange on Christmas day and decorated streets.

Building Started On Parade Float

Steps To Peace will be the theme of Cal Poly’s 1956 Rose parade float, now being constructed by students at the San Dimas campus.

It will portray the League of Nations and the United Nations as progressive steps toward world peace. The winning theme suggestion was submitted by Eunice Fisher, junior agricultural horticulture student, San Dimas campus.

Flowers will be the principal ingredient for the float. These will be grown for the float itself. Fruits, vegetables, and 17 feet high, 7 feet wide, 5 feet high, Chrysanthemums will be used in decorating the float.

This is the eighth year that Cal Poly has taken part in the Tournament of Roses parade.

Lost!

One wallet with a visa issued by the U.S. Government permitting a visit to attend Cal Poly has been lost. This visa was used to go before winter quarter in order for the student to return to school. Several papers which were quite important to the loser was also in the wallet. Anyone who finds or knows the whereabouts of these items should send them to Nick Monakendian, 2600 College Ave. dorm or post office box 1641.

Frosty Frolics’ Last Social Waltz Of Fall Quarter

Frosty Frolics, this year’s annual Christmas party sponsored by the Mortons, will be held on Saturday, Dec. 10 in the first floor formal dining room of the college. Built-in bar will be the stage for the program, which begins at 9:30 and will continue until midnight.

A preliminary rock concert is planned for the main program. Dances will follow throughout the evening.

31 To Graduate In First Winter Commencement

Thirty-one students will receive diplomas Saturday, Dec. 10, in the first formal mid-year graduation ceremony. The exercises will be held at 2 p.m. in Engineering Auditorium, with the ceremony will graduate 24 in engineering and five in liberal arts.

Don Love, head of the SAC committee that provided the formal winter graduation, points out that the students generally look to "bow out insopically" with their diplomas.

The program is as follows:

El Rodeo Pre-Sale Rounds Up Nearly 1000 Reservations

Pre-sold for the 1956 El Rodeo yearbook closed last week, with nearly 1,000 books sold to date, according to Ken Tarboulie, in charge of sales promotion.

Though short of the 1955 edition, the staff had been shooting from the hip in order to supply sufficient additional pages for the Pre-sold copies. Each indicated that orders may possibly be taken during the next couple of weeks.

There will also be two booths set up in front of the library during the registration period next week for those who may have missed out.

Nobles have been sent out to all campus instructors, asking them to reserve a page in the book.

Outings Committee Lays Plans For Outdoor Recreation

Everything from a campus-wide dig to a trip to the famous Burro Castle in San Simon are in the making, following the recent organization of a campus Outings committee.

A sub-committee of the College Union will handle the College outings, resulting from the interest reflected in this film following the show of the student body last Friday night on Wisconsin’s college union.

Daryl Gordon, junior ME major from Bakersfield, has been elected chairman of the committee for the current school year. His officers are Bob Smith, first vice chairman, Elmer Wash, recording secretary. Ben Faison of Chico Heights, vice chairman and Bruce Nielson, executive secretary.

The following tentative schedule of picnics were planned by the committee and were approved by the Outings Committee as follows:

- Sat: Hay ride; wrestler roast
- Sun: Old men; turkey about
- Mon: Beach party; sail in ocean
- Wed: Beach Castle tour; visit to El Porto
- Thur: Fishing derby; end of school baseball party
- Fri: Outing to preparing the $2000 budget. Without funded budgets to work with, now the committee cannot start to function actively until next fall.

1956 Dance At Hillcrest Jan. 7

The first of nine "recorded" dances that will be held in the first quarter in the temporary coliseum at Hillcrest Community Center for Jan. 7 of limited capacity, a bid system has been inaugurated. Nobody will be admitted to the door before 7:30 p.m. and no couples (couples) will be allowed for attendance on the day. Paper will be available at the door, but only one per person. 29 star hits (hits) that and we want you to be available at the door on a first come, first-served basis. Part of the hit will be given the sponsoring organization, and the money will be divided by the student body office. Our program is to have the dance chairman, Robert Whalen, to keep the attendances below an estimated 120 persons.

There will be another additional interest, the dance committee, the "Shuffle Shakers" throughout the rest of the semester. This is an organization that is being sponsored by the dance committee.

Two troops have been donated, which will be sold to the cedar studio for the benefit of the college union and the other by the Byrnes about the group, who is the by-body dance committee chairman.

The gymnasium has been closed to dancing until April because of the Scholl, grand spring dance. Towards the month.

A.H. Majors Capture Fourth Grand Champion Lamb In Row
By Patrick Moore

One. Two. Three. Four. When you're ringing up champions in major livestock shows, that's a mighty big order. Western sheep producers bowed long and low, this week, as a fat lamb shown by Cal Poly students stepped into the triumphal grand champion Livestock Show in Los Angeles. The coveted purple, fourth in a line of honors, marks what is probably the most outstanding accomplishment of any fat lamb exhibitor in a single year in any show circles.

Three Previous Champs

Previous fat lamb championships have popped, first at the California State Fair in Sacramento, then the Los Angeles county fair at Pomona. Followed by the National Livestock Exposition in San Francisco's Cow Palace, and now, the Great Western Show.

Purple winner is a downhill, earned by a 10-way partnership. Highly-distinguished, the finished product, named through a first in its class, then on to second, third and last, to lead a whole field of open to the purple rosette—mark if eluded Gerald Richardson, Haynes, Seeger, Decker, and others, who won the championship division. The finished product, the finest—which it took with the Southdown Master's Purse, San Francisco's Cow Palace, and now, the coveted purple, fourth in a line of honors, marks what is probably the most outstanding accomplishment of any fat lamb exhibitor in a single year in any show circles.

Eight Entries

When in natural surroundings, the beetles come out of its cocoon and fly, on a special tree to receive the fruit in the sun. The beetle, along with five others, is a symbol handed down from the ancient Egyptians. The color of its outer shell is hardened by the sun, giving it a metallic-golden appearance.

Drive careful, friend, on this weekend. Hold down that speed. Help lower the highway toll.

The result of increased travel rates since the Athletic budget exploded—but the fact that one part of it was not overspent any from BAC.

The finance committee has been asked to give a report on the cost at the next Regular meeting along with an expenditure of the same. It is hoped that the most recent information from SAC will be made available.

Guatemala's Net New Year much like we in America—are noises makers, church bells ringing, whistles blowing, carols being sung and parades. Visiting with neighbors and friends is popular, Fireworks, once again, fill the air with brilliant flashes and colors. New Year's Day is filled with a merry round of visiting and parties—Central American style.

Dubiin! That young Ulrike boy, Herman, has really been sold on Cal Poly to turn his back on four of these celebrations to go to college here.

Just by chance, we have another invitation, real close. We're on our way to Lima, Peru—real center of South American activity—and home to Franka Cuti, a junior mechanical engineer.

LIMA, PEI—Santa Claus will be visting here, but an exact replica called Papa Noel will. Major Christmas activities will be devoted to celebrating church activities, with variations within Faith.

Home parades will feature dancing and special dinners. Gifts will be exchanged. Some Christmas trees will be decorated, although trees are not a custom here. Limited decorations will adorn stores and streets.

Although we'll like to stay much longer, Faulzione, we've got to be off on our way home some time next week. The international students, here at Cal Poly, become awfully "homey" with each new set of customs we strike to meet ourselves. With you, you often wonder, can countries and people be "foreign," in other words, when their basic lives and customs are so similar?

Take this matter of Christmas, for example. In countries where gift exchanges, fellowship and festivities are symbolic of Christmas and all it has ever meant, there is similarity in that? The Jolly old elf, hearing for young and old alike may be seen to some, St. Nick to other, Papa Noel to still others. In that he doesn't ride a black horse, but instead a shiny white steed, that he doesn't enter and exit via the chimney and that he doesn't always fill the stockings, doesn't enter and exit via the chimney and that he doesn't always fill the stockings, doesn't necessarily mean he doesn't exist.

You know, "foreign" is another of those words like "common man" which is beginning to lose a lot of meaning in our circles. Here, often wonder, can countries and peoples be "foreign," to each other when their basic lives and customs are so similar?

I should say not. Christmas is but one link between the Jomne, the ones around Cal Poly, the Ulrike's, the Guatemalan's, and thousands and thousands more people around the world. One of the most important dates to us—Now, in the midst of holiday merriment—to shed petty prejudice and accept Cal Poly's international set as good people and good neighbors would never apply to schedule Cal Poly in a year when their prospects looked best. Calling the COA a "lieger" can be considered the term somewhat (2 years' fishing) schedule as it stands now, it is possible to

Novice Boxing Finale Tonight; Nine Trophies To Victors

Deuel Volleyball Squad Captures Title

Volleyball took the spotlight this week in the intramural program as Deuel Dons defeated Shasta for the title.

Deuel captured the majority in two straight games to set the stage for the third tilt. Deuel, who had beaten the AIA contingent and the Water Dugs in their preliminary matches, showed no signs of rust in the finals. Coach Harden guided his squad to an 8-2 victory over the Mustangs, which included 20 points from the Art Krempn and Rudy Brooks, and spearheaded the third tilt, 15 to 8, and walk in with the trophies and championship laurels.

Antoine, Duncan, Cox Top Gridders

Back in the spotlight this year was the UCLA football team, head Coach Roy Higgins' machine on the gridiron. But Coach Harden, who guided the team to a championship that sealed the total offense title, was not to be denied.

Huey took 911 yards in the contest and was tough to give the total offense title despite 92 yards by the Mustangs on the ground. Halfback Terry Jeter was second in total offense with 64 yards.

Atman run for 843 yards in 70 carries for a 6.4 yard average. However, UCLA's offensives were on full tilt with a 8.6 % success rate compared to 6.5% success of the Mustangs. Jeter carried 11 for 61 yards, while fullback Martin carried 10 for 67 yards.

Paden Cen was the favorite pass receiver with 38 catches for 286 yards and eight touchdowns. Hutch Chadwick, caught nine catches for 166 yards and three.

Cox was leading scorer with 48 points, 36 of which were kicked by Martin.

UCLA's Sanders Signed For Ninth Workshop

Henry "Red" Sanders, head coach of the UCLA football team, will head the foot- ball workshop during the ninth annual California Workshop to be held at Cal Poly. Antone, Duncan, Cox won the first game, 14 to 13, before the Deuel squad rolled to the second, 15 to 8.

The squad of Brooks, Freeman, Chamboros, Tom Reynolds, Frank Gavelles, Dick Halverson, and Pete Mathieson combined in a team effort to capture the de­ ciding third tilt, 15 to 8, and walk in with the trophies and championship laurels.

Mustang Kickers Seek Game With USF

El Mustang, December 2, 1955

Title Match May Be

DECEMBER 1955 Pacific Coast

Title Match May Be

The San Francisco team has been mentioned as a possible Pacific Coast title contender.

Mager, soccer advisor, said that the San Francisco team could potentially be a title contender. The team is preparing for the upcoming season and is looking to improve on their previous year's results.

Cal Poly, on the other hand, is expected to be a perennial power in the region. Their team is strongest in the front line.

Morgan, head coach, said that the Mustangs will be going all out in their effort to bring home the championship. The team is currently practicing in San Francisco and will be ready for the season opener.

The San Francisco team has a potential title match against the University of San Francisco. However, Mager indicated that the team's goal is to improve in the coming season and become a title contender.

The game against the University of San Francisco will be on December 9th. Mager said that the team is looking forward to this match and hopes to give their best performance.
