Wineroth Takes Job At San Jose State College

Poly will lose a staunch member of its long-time family May 15 when the resignation of "Uncle" Harry Wineroth becomes effective. Wineroth, graduate manager of Cal Poly since 1931, will become business director of the San Jose State College. School officials made immediate plans to secure a replacement for Wineroth. According to Charles Short, president of the student body, "It was a tremendous decision to make," said Wineroth. "After all, I have made many friends here. Poly and regret leaving them.'

Wineroth gave the principal reason for accepting the new position as "Being my wife's parents and my parents live in the San Jose area. We've always liked that area of the country and are looking for a chance to move there."

"Many alumni will remember him as president of the student body from 1938 to 1939."

It has come to light recently that the majority of the students are unaware of the method by which Mustang of the Week selections are made, according to Stan Sage, assistant activities officer.

Although it has been published several times, Sage explained that many do not know these personality nominations are made by the students. In an attempt to give recognition to deserving Mustangs, who would otherwise go unnoticed, El Mustang is publishing a nominating coupon each week.

Forms are also available in the A&B Building. They should be turned in to Francis Keller, A&B secretary. These nominations will be reviewed by a committee of five students. The person nominated is required to have at least a one-point grade average.

Tale Told By An Irishman

By Ron Greenleaf

"Sure, and 'tis a fine day for the wearin' of the green," said any old Irishman. "And so speak's every "Son of the Soil" on St. Patrick's day, be it rain or shine.

"Aye lad," as any old Irishman will tell you over a bountiful glass of Irish whiskey. "The wearin' of the green started a way back long afore the time of your father's grandfather, truly. Twice before his grandfather's grandfather's time. Aye lad, 'twas a long time ago that the sons of Ireland first wore the shamrock," as any old Irishman will tell you in his long-stemmed pipe as he puffs his long-stemmed pipe.

"Twa near 800 years after the birth of Christ when the blessed St. Patrick was showin' a convert the principal of the Holy Trinity. The good St. Patrick plucked a shamrock to demonstrate the idea of the Holy Trinity.

"Aye, and since that time every Irishman from Dublin to Denver has been wearin' a shamrock for the glory of St. Patrick," as any old Irishman will tell you over a bountiful glass of Irish whiskey.

"The problem is lad, that the Emerald Isle, bless the name, is running out of shamrocks, what with every man-wack wearin' one. Twa got so hard, it has, that people have look to wearin' anything that's green," as any old Irishman will tell you.

So now you know why, when March 17 arrives, you will be wearin' the green, be it green socks, green tie or shamrock, for this Irishman has told you.

Brendlin Success Due To Planning

“Truck farmer” Paul Huber of Bakersfield, who is president of a growing frozen food processing company, attributes his success in the field of truck farming to planning, hard work, adequate financing and a good business background. These are the ingredients in the recipe for success that he has followed to obtain full control of the business which he organized in 1940 after graduating from College of the Pacific with a four-year major in agriculture.

Huber, who is 35 years old, studied at College of the Pacific in 1939-40 and then went into the frozen food processing business in Bakersfield. He has been at this work ever since.

“I went into this business because I thought it was an opportunity to improve our type of living,” Huber said.

Based on this philosophy, Huber has diversified his activities and has moved into the food processing business. He has expanded his operations by adding a new plant, increasing his crops, and increasing his marketing activities. He has also added new products to his line of frozen foods, and has expanded his distribution channels.

Huber has been active in the truck farming community, and has served as a director of the Bakersfield Farm Bureau and as a member of the board of directors of the California Farm Bureau. He has also been active in the Bakersfield Chamber of Commerce, and has served as a member of the board of directors of the California Chamber of Commerce.

In conclusion, it is clear that Huber has followed a well-thought-out plan in his business activities. He has been able to adapt to changing market conditions, and has been able to diversify his operations in order to meet the demands of the marketplace. This has enabled him to achieve success in the truck farming community, and has enabled him to make a living for himself and his family.

If you drive down to Pismo Beach on a Sunday afternoon and see a coral pink ‘61 Chevelle sedan zooming over the sand dunes, chances are you’re watching a dune buggy driven by four enterprising young people.

Less than a year ago, Bill Huber, a Bakersfield native, and the young people who have been driving these mudslinging machines and making a living off the beach, were anxious to please the paparazzi that prowled their scenes on the dunes at Pismo.

The young people, who were going strong then, knew that they wanted to do something on the beach.

They recruited the aid of Pete Hambrecht, who at this time was attending Pascaden City College. Then the four of them bought the ‘61 Chevelle for $800 and stripped it to the barest of accessaries as used on the dunes.

Boxers Chico Bound; PCl’s On Tap

Coach Tom Lee's Mustang mittlers are on the road again as the team plays hopefully against their next opponent. Stopping off near the West Coast in the Chico State Invitational, Lee's ringmen will pit their wrestling strength against Chico State, University of California, and Sacramento State.

Coach Lee himself said, before leaving, that his team added a "shrewd" point to his overall strategy for the match. However, the Chico tourney is only a warmup for the big one to come—the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate wrestling tournament at Sacramento State.

For the first time in the history of Mustang boxing, Coach Lee will take a full team to the tourney this year. Even though Lee is favored, n.e.e believes that on any given night our squad can go all the way. Alex Lee says, "If we can put together the breaks, we should do very well."

Tourney Chairman For Past Four Years, Harden Named Several

The 11th annual Pacific Coast Intercollegiate wrestling tournament, which is expected to produce the team's best effort, will start at 7 p.m., and the finals are set for 8 p.m. Thursday.

Washington University is the first entry among 16 members of the PCI Wrestling Association. Coach by Bill Wall, Washington's team is expected to bring home the gold. According to Mustang grapple coach, Ross Buxton, Jaek Shaw and Barry Buxton, are expected to steal the show.

Other Outstanding Grapplers Who Will Compete In

Washington State's Dave Newland, 147-pound PCl champion from Oregon State who topped the outstanding wrestler award here two years ago, and 175-pounder from Oregon State who took the tournament's top award in 1953, are expected to return to the ring.

REPLICATION OF MATCH SCORING SYSTEM

All matches are recorded for a "near fall," a "point," or a "near major." The score is given by the bellman and the scoring is done by a total of 12 points. Scoring is done by two judges, one of whom is a member of the PAC. The score is awarded based on the number of points scored by the opponent in the match.

I think in all fairness that I could say, "Where in the world has the quarter washed away into 'an ill-informed mind?'" The tour crew is busy wrapping up the season. The Golden Blades, if all hope is to come in, will have to be good at least once more. The season will close this week, with Marv Amstutz of Mat Piro, 200.
