Students, groups honored for community service

Twelve students and three student groups have been nominated for the 10th annual President’s Awards for Community Service and the Emerging Service Leaders Awards, designed to honor volunteer service to the community.

Those nominated for their off-campus volunteer efforts are: Shawne Bradford, electrical engineering; Matthew Freeby, biological sciences; Michael Gong, electrical engineering; Jeffrey Kraus, industrial technology; Kevin Krol, ornamental horticulture; Cassandra Marshall, mathematics; Sean McGowan, human development; Amy Rasbach, journalism; Amy Reid, graphic communication; Arin Thomas, recreation administration; Barbara Walsh, industrial engineering; and Adeline Yu, ecology and systematic biology.

The groups nominated are Alpha Phi Omega, Circle K International, and Delta Sigma Pi.

These individuals and groups have collectively contributed more than 6,500 volunteer hours to the San Luis Obispo community.

President Baker will name the winners of the two awards at a reception honoring the nominees on May 5.

Cal Poly Open House parking to be restricted

Vehicle access on campus will be restricted during Open House on Saturday, April 22, and employees who need to be on campus on that day should contact the Open House office at ext. 7576 to request a “Campus Access Pass.”

The pass will allow employees to park in available spots near their departments.

Public Safety Services recommends using the parking lots accessible from the Highland Drive entrance to campus. The majority of parking spaces for the handicapped have been relocated to the H-2 parking lot, accessible from Highland Drive.

School bus parking will be restricted to the G-2 parking lot, accessible from Slack Street, and RV parking will be limited to the H-14 and H-16 parking lots, off Highland Drive.

Parking will be available at Pacheco Elementary School on Grand Avenue for $5 per vehicle.

For up-to-date Open House information, call the Open House hotline at ext. 2479.

NRM Head Pillsbury recognized for efforts

Norm Pillsbury, Natural Resources Management department head, has been recognized as a distinguished educator and scientist by the California Board of Forestry.

Pillsbury was named the 1995 recipient of the F. H. Raymond Award, given annually to an individual or organization that has contributed the most to the protection and wise use of California’s forest resources.

In announcing the award, the board said Pillsbury has “distinguished himself as a natural resources educator, scientist, and one who tirelessly led a relatively new and innovative forestry program to achieve accreditation by the Society of American Foresters.”

New name, new service same friendly faces

The Duplication Center has been renamed “Reprographics,” a name that better describes the quality and variety of services offered.

Also with the start of spring quarter, Reprographics began delivering completed jobs to departments that opt for the new service, intended to increase efficiency and convenience.

Departments should continue to send job requisitions by mail or bring them by in person.

More changes are planned in the months ahead to provide better customer service. Details will appear in the Cal Poly Report.

Call ext. 2195 to discuss your department’s reprographic needs with a staff member or to make an appointment with someone to visit your department to find out how Reprographics can help.

Staff job application available on disk

The application form for staff positions is now available on 3.5-inch diskettes so applicants don’t have to re-key multiple applications.

A paper application with original signature and date still must be submitted for each position applied for.

A diskette contains Word 6.0 and WordPerfect 5.1 versions for IBM-compatible computers. A MacIntosh version will be available in the near future. The diskette and instruction pamphlet are available for $1 in the Human Resources Office, Adm. 110.
Annual Baroque Concert set at Cal Poly April 19

George Frideric Handel’s Suite No. 1 in F major from the “Water Music” will highlight this year’s annual Baroque Concert at 8 pm Wednesday, April 19, in the Theatre.

Other program selections will include pieces by Haydn, Vivaldi, Mozart, and Bach.

Music Department Head Clifton Swanson will conduct the 18-member Baroque Players.

Featured soloists will include faculty members Fred Lau on flute, Stuart Horn, oboe, and Roy Poper, trumpet. Also playing will be violinist Paul Severtson, a member of the San Luis Obispo County Symphony, and organist Paul Woodring.

Tickets are $13 and $11 for the public and $11 and $9 for students and senior citizens.

UU to host own Open House April 18-20

All students, faculty and staff members are invited to the Pride of the Union showcase Tuesday through Thursday, April 18-20.

Special events, raffles and a grand-prize drawing are planned as part of the three-day event, designed to familiarize the campus community with areas in the UU, including the ASI Business Office, the Craft Center, and Rec Sports.

Plan to stop by for free coffee tasting at Julian’s on Tuesday or some free ice cream on Thursday.

For more information, call Cristin Brady, at 541-6495.

Festival of Bands to play Open House

The upbeat sounds of big-band music will liven things up at this year’s Cal Poly Open House.

Cal Poly’s Symphonic Band and University Jazz Band will play at 8 pm Saturday, April 22, under the baton of music professor William Johnson.

The statewide high-school Festival Symphonic Band, conducted by composer and guest Alfred Reed, will perform at 2:30 pm Sunday, April 23.

Tickets, at $6 each, are available at the ASI Ticket Office in front of the Rec Center, Theatre Ticket Office, and from Symphonic Band members.

Ticket offices are open weekdays from 9 am to 4 pm.

To reserve tickets by phone, call ext. 5806 from 8 am to 5 pm Monday through Friday.

Black Family Weekend to run during Open House

A barbecue, talent show, dance and brunch are all planned as part of Cal Poly’s fifth annual Black Family Weekend slated to run Saturday and Sunday, April 22-23, on Open House weekend.

Designed to show solidarity and strength among African-American families, the event will also include basketball and “powder puff” football.

Tickets can be bought for individual events or all activities. For more schedule information or to reserve tickets, call Karmen Johnson, chair of the Black Family Weekend Committee, at 545-8349, or Kecia Brown of the African-American Student Union at ext. 2301.

Jewish student group plans Passover Seder

Cal Poly and Cuesta College students are planning a Community Passover Seder at 6 pm Friday, April 21, in the Recreation Room at Silver City Mobile Lodge, 3860 South Higuera, San Luis Obispo.

The annual celebration commemorates the deliverance of ancient Hebrews from slavery in Egypt.

The Seder includes the reading of the “Haggada,” a narrative of the exodus of Jews from Egypt, and an elaborate meal with homemade matzo ball soup and other traditional foods.

Tickets are being sold in advance and cost $10 for the public, $8 for students and $7 for Hillel members.

For more information or to order tickets, call ext. 3644.

Joshua Redman to play jazz saxophone April 24

Tenor saxophonist and vocalist Joshua Redman, Rolling Stone magazine’s “Hot Jazz Artist of 1993,” will perform with his band at 8 pm Monday, April 24, in the Theatre.

Redman will be accompanied on the drums, bass and piano. Known for dramatic invention, fearless improvisational skill, and mature melodic sense, he has also been called the “Golden Horn,” “new jazz messiah,” and “Michael Jordan of jazz.”

His music has received overwhelming critical and popular acclaim. Since winning the Thelonious Monk International Jazz Saxophone Competition, he has performed and recorded with Charlie Haden, Billy Higgins, Pat Metheny, Elvin Jones, Jack DeJohnette, Red Rodney, Paul Motian, and Roy Hargrove.

Tickets for the performance are $15 and $13 for the public and $13 and $11 for students and senior citizens.

Career Services needs peer advisors

Faculty and staff members are asked to help Career Services find motivated students who might be able to help other students by providing resume and letter critiques, interviewing tips, and other career-related information.

Volunteer peer advisors are needed for two to four hours a week for the academic year beginning fall 1995.

Eligible students must have completed one year of course work at Cal Poly and have at least one year remaining before graduation. A minimum 2.5 Cal Poly GPA is also required.

Students with strong communications skills who enjoy working with people are encouraged to stop by Career Services in the Student Services Building for an application packet.

The deadline to submit completed applications is Friday, April 21.
Forum on communication, teamwork set for 26th

A Symposium on Communication and Teamwork is scheduled for 9 am to noon on Wednesday, April 26, in UU 220.

Presented by the Human Resources Department, the symposium will include a panel discussion and interactive workshops. Frank Lebens, vice president for administration and finance, will serve as moderator of the panel. Workshop presentations and facilitators are:

• "Breaking the Barriers to Successful Communication." Raymond Zeuchner of Speech Communication will talk about how to deal with communication anxiety and develop awareness of verbal and non-verbal dimensions of communication interaction.

• "Building Interpersonal Trust: Communication Skills for Developing Team Trust." Fred Stultz, Psychology and Human Development, will look at ways effective communication skills can create successful interpersonal relationships, with an emphasis on building team trust.

• "Formal and Informal Communication in Organizations." Daniel Levi, Psychology and Human Development, will discuss developing an awareness of different communication approaches based on topic, relationship, medium of communication, and organizational structure.

The symposium is free and open to all staff and faculty members. Registration forms are available in Human Resources (ext. 2236). Because seating might be limited, registration is requested by Friday, April 21.

Women and weight topic of April 24 talk

"You Would Look Better If You Were Thinner" is the title of the first spring quarter talk in the Women’s Studies Lunch-Time Seminar series set for 12:10 pm Monday, April 24, in the Staff Dining Room.

Don Ryujin, a psychology and human development professor, and Michelle Spomer, Cal Poly alumna and graduate student at San Jose State University, will present results of research conducted on Cal Poly undergraduates to assess body shapes.

They will answer such questions as:

• What do Cal Poly male students desire in female body shapes?
• What body shapes do Cal Poly women want?
• Is there a conflict between the two?
• Does this issue put pressure on women to be thin?

The pair found early research that indicated male preference for female body shapes did not contribute to women’s obsession with weight.

Believing the methodology in the earlier research was flawed, Ryujin and Spomer devised a new technique for assessing body shapes.

For more information, call Cal Poly’s Women’s Studies Program at ext. 1525.

Facility members sought for ‘fellows’ program

Faculty members are being sought for a new Faculty Fellows Program, modeled after similar programs at other universities and colleges.

Sponsored by the Housing and Residential Life department, the program is intended to promote greater interaction between faculty members and students outside the classroom.

Each participant will be “adopted” by a residence hall and is expected to spend a few hours each quarter informally interacting with students.

A brochure with program details will be mailed to all faculty members, but anyone interested is asked to call Jeff Van Lone, coordinator of student development, at ext. 5621.

Dateline

Admission — $2

FRIDAY, APRIL 14

SATURDAY, APRIL 15
Music: Fred Lau (Music) will give a flute recital. William Spiller (Music) will accompany him on the piano. Theatre, 8 pm. ($)

TUESDAY, APRIL 18

Baseball: Cal Lutheran, SLO Stadium, 7:05 pm. ($)

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 19
Music: Annual Baroque Concert. Theatre, 8 pm. ($)

THURSDAY, APRIL 20
Seminar: Motivation and Morale Building, sponsored by the Employee Assistance Program. Reservations required. Health Center 140, 1:30 pm.

FRIDAY, APRIL 21
Open House: “Avenues of Innovation ... Roads to Discovery,” Cal Poly’s 2nd annual Open House. Through Saturday, April 22.

Music: Mark O’Connor will give a fiddle concert. Theatre, 8 pm. ($)

SATURDAY, APRIL 22
Celebration: Fifth annual Black Family Weekend, various activities around campus through Sunday, April 23. ($)

Music: Festival of Bands, featuring Cal Poly Symphonic and University Jazz bands. Theatre, 8 pm. Also Sunday, April 23, with the Festival Symphonic Band, 2:30 pm. ($)

MONDAY, APRIL 24
Music: Joshua Redman, jazz saxophonist. Theatre, 8 pm. ($)

Speakers: Don Ryujin (Psychology and Human Development and Michelle Spomer (alumna), “You Would Look Better if You Were Thinner.” Staff Dining, 12:10 pm.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 26

Music: Gyuto Tantric Choir – The Dalai Lama’s Holy Choir. Theatre, 8 pm. ($)
Position vacancies

More information and applications for the following staff positions are available from the appropriate human resources office. Faxed applications and resumes will not be accepted in lieu of official application.

STATE (Adm. 110, ext. 2236 or job line at ext. 1533). Official application forms must be received by 4 pm of the closing date or be postmarked by the closing date.

CLOSING DATE: April 28
Staff Systems Analyst, Support Applications (Unit 9), $4104-$4953/mo., two positions - working titles: coordinator, business applications and coordinator, student applications.

Supervising Custodian (Admin. I), Facility Services, $1657-$4068/mo.

FOUNDATION (Foundation Adm. Building, ext. 1533). All Foundation applications must be received (not just postmarked) by 5 pm of the closing date. (No faxes)

Applicant review will begin May 1. However, position will remain open until filled.

Director of Advancement, University Center for Teacher Education $1381-$2945/mo., half-time. Responsible for the development and implementation of an advancement program for the University Center for Teacher Education. Requirements: Bachelor’s degree, at least four years’ responsible experience in development, with demonstrated strengths in leadership, organization, and communication. Knowledge of prospect management systems, fiscal administration, and volunteer development necessary. Must have excellent oral and written communication skills, and be able to work effectively with all levels of individuals including donors, faculty, staff, and volunteers. Must have the ability to travel and work flexible hours.

CLOSING DATE: April 28
Director, Central Coast Writing Project, $2938-$3537/mo. Responsible for the administration, budget management, site selection, participant selection, grant administration and renewal, follow-up, and liaison with local school district administrators for the Central Coast Writing Project.

FACULTY (Adm. 312, ext. 2844)
Candidates interested in positions on the faculty are invited to contact the appropriate dean or department head/chair. Ranks and salaries for faculty positions are commensurate with qualifications and experience (and time base where applicable), unless otherwise stated.

CLOSING DATE: May 19
Lecturer Pool, Theatre and Dance, (part-time) during 1995-96 academic year. Master’s degree in theatre or dance (equivalent professional experience also considered) with preference given to those with minimum two years, university teaching experience and some theatre teaching/directing experience.

CLOSING DATE: May 15
Lecturer Pool, Biological Sciences, (part-time) during 1995-96 academic year. Establishing pool for possible temporary positions as determined by need for fall/winter/spring quarters teaching biological sciences. M.S. in biological sciences/related field required. Successful college teaching experience preferred.

CLOSING DATE: June 30
Lecturer Pool, Agricultural Engineering, (part-time) during 1995-96 academic year. Establishing a pool for possible temporary teaching assignments; possible teaching responsibility in the areas of engineering surveying and irrigation. M.S. in agricultural engineering, mechanized agriculture, or related field preferred; B.S. required. Industrial experience in the areas of engineering surveying and irrigation.

CLOSING DATE: May 5
Lecturer Pool, Architecture, (part-time) during 1995-96 academic year, contingent upon funding. Possible appointments teaching upper-division design, lower-division design, architectural practice, environmental control systems, and graphic communication. Requires a terminal professional degree in architecture (M.Arch., or B.Arch. with professional experience and professional registration). Preference given to candidates with a record of achievement, as demonstrated by a body of projects, research, publications or other creative works; and to those with successful college-level teaching experience. Send current vitae, three letters of reference including telephone numbers, Cal Poly Faculty Application form, 8 1/2”x11” portfolio or other evidence of achievement, and a cover letter stating the teaching areas for which you are applying to the Architecture Department. For application, please call ext. 1316.

CLOSING DATE: May 12
Lecturer Pool, Social Sciences, (part-time) during 1995-96 academic year. Establishing pool of applicants for possible part-time positions in anthropology, geography, and sociology. Ph.D. in one of the stated disciplines preferred; M.A. required.

CLOSING DATE: June 16
Department Head, Agricultural Engineering, (12-month) available Sept. 1, 1995. Position consists of 60% teaching (tenure-track faculty position); and 40% administrative responsibilities, including management of personnel, budgets, facilities, student matters and departmental development activities, and supervision of 11 teaching faculty plus technical and clerical support staff. Must possess an earned doctorate in agricultural engineering or closely related engineering field; strong personnel management, verbal and written communication skills; successful university teaching experience; strong vision of future needs in agricultural engineering. Professional engineering registration and strong industrial ties highly desirable.

CLOSING DATE: May 1
Lecturers, Food Science and Nutrition, (part-time) during 1995-96 academic year. To teach courses in the area of food science, a master’s degree in food science or animal science is required; and teaching or industry experience is preferred. To teach courses in the area of nutritional science, a master’s degree in human nutrition, dietetics or related field is required (must include graduate courses in nutrition), as well as teaching experience. R.D. preferred for some appointments.

CPR schedule

The Cal Poly Report is published on Fridays (except quarter breaks) by the Communications office.

News items must be submitted to Jo Ann Lloyd, Heron Hall, by 1 pm on Friday for the next week’s issue. Letters for the Campus Forum section must be received by 1 pm Monday for the same week’s issue.

Please send typewritten, double-spaced paper copies if time allows. Last-minute submittals can be faxed to ext. 6533 or e-mailed to dus399@oasis.

Articles submitted will be edited for clarity, brevity and journalistic style.