ICBM Engine Given To Aero Department

Cal Poly's Aeronautical Engineering Department now has possession of the ICBM engine.

The engine is a cutaway of the main propulsion unit of a Titan IIIC which was fired from Vandenberg Air Force Base last September, reports J. O. Richardson, Aeronautical Engineering head.

"The 150,000-pound engine," Richardson says, "will be used by the department as a lecture demonstration model. It is now in the department's engineering laboratory.

First from Vandenberg Air Force Base, the missile was in flight for 243 seconds. The missile traveled 20,000 miles over the ocean and after the engine was cut away, the missile destroyed.

Following this engine, Cal Poly's team was 1st in team competition, 1st in individual competition, and 1st in overall score. The ICBM engine was donated to Cal Poly and the aero engineers.

McPhee Hosts SAC; Praises Conduct

President Julian A. McPhee was host to the Student Affairs Council at a traditional luncheon last week in Lib. 116.

After the lunch the president complimented the SAC and entire student body on their conduct during the past semester. President Rutherford Chancellor gave one or two words praising the Red Cross activity and interest during the semester. He repeated the recommendation made by the Student Affairs Council that the university approve the student body's request that the SAC be made a continuing organization.

Several important decisions were made by the SAC in order of business, Fred Brown, 4th year, and Ogden Linton 1955.

Besides the individual plaudits, Ploy's team was last in sleep and serial judging. In over all points, the champion team.

Fourteen competitors were placed in order of business from Fresno State, Cal State, Cal Poly - 2nd, 2nd, and Cal Poly - 1st, 1st. Michael Anthony, 4th M and Richard Johnson, Poly Judging coach, commented the team on the Los Angeles contest.

Wrestlers Rehearse For Season Opener With LBS Dec. 3

With the season opener but two weeks away, the California Poly- wrestling team is preparing for one of the most attractive home schedules in recent years.

Coach Harold Huelin said Long Beach State will be good, but the Mustangs have a chance to do well in the Men's Gymnasium to open the season.

Huelin will develop his team around four freshmen — Jim Britten, Pat stripes, Frank Garcia, and Leon Levesque. The Mustang coach hopes to get help from John Lattin and Stuy Hartstein.

Up from last year's fresh class are Larry Owings, 126, and Neil Pfeu, 137.

Huelin also has two junior college transfers who will help round out his team's balance. Tommy Cooper, 147, and Darrel Harris, 147, will add strength to the Mustangs.

Dedicated to the San Luis Obispo Public Library.

The book has been described as "a delightful account of Miss Hurd's childhood, an army adolescence, and early marriage." One of the younger daughters in the large family of Lord and Lady Radcliffe, a splendid pair of English aristocracy, is the sister of Nancy Hurd; the well-known novelist. This is an especially telling commentary on Britain upper class life of post-World War II days.
