The opening day of Engineering Week at Cal Poly and across the United States is Monday. You might say that George Washington was the first U.S. engineer and that's why the week of his birthday is picked to kick off the weekend.

When you have an occasion, you need a hearty body to add um to the fun, and Engineering Week is no exception. Relating at Mrs. Engineering Week at Cal Poly in Mrs. Rose Marie Wunderlich, wife of Fred Wunderlich, senior Air Conditioning engineer, Mrs. Wunderlich was selected on the basis of beauty, popularity, personality, interest, and leadership qualities. Mrs. Wunderlich was a dean in her husband's profession. Rose Marie and Fred were married two years ago in New York and have lived there in San Luis Obispo. Mrs. Wunderlich was sponsored by the Air Conditioning Department.

Her first official duty during Engineering Week will be to present the Academic Department Banquet in Crandall Gym on Saturday, March 10th. The event will be attended by officers of campus engineering clubs and their wives and families. Following the banquet, Dr. H. E. Beth, head of the Technical Department, will present a lecture on the Air Conditioning Department and on its work in the field of Refrigeration.

College Officials Decide Ruling On Drag Incident

"He that makes his bed must sleep in it." That was the decision of college officials when 16 students were requested to withdraw from the college for the remainder of the quarter. The action was a result of a conviction of the youths on a drag race charge, and came at a college hearing held Wednesday. Dean of Students Everett Chandler and Bob Boster, residence manager, presided over the hearing.

Prior to the college hearing, the 16 students were charged with drag race offenses and were given a 15-day suspension. On Feb. 10, the court heard the evidence and found the youths guilty. The youths were suspended for 15 days.

Judge Schenk sentenced each youth to one week's suspension for each offense, except for one youth who was sentenced to 15 days. The youths were to report to the court on Feb. 17, and the court hearing was set for 8 p.m. the same day. The court hearing was set for 8 p.m. the same day.

The youths will be re-admitted next quarter, said Chandler.

Four Buildings in Planning Stage

No Place For Fraternities

The following editorial was reprinted from the San Francisco Examiner.

The raising of the issue of racial and religious discrimination by Alpha Tau Omega's fraternity on the Stanford University campus, confronts the problem of California with a bigger problem. Attorney General Stanley Mosk, under the law by saying he will file the newly constituted State Colleges Trustees to study it.

The main concern is the fraternity system has now in modern education at the college level. Thousands of young men and women of the minority groups, racial and religious are in the schools to prepare for adult lives. Hundreds of thousands are spending time in the state colleges to give all of them the best facilities and opportunities.

It is perfectly silly to detract from these vital institutions, and to distract school authorities from their major responsibilities, with the complicated prejudices of the people with small minds who direct the policies of restrictive fraternities. In the new state colleges now being built, the fraternity system should not be permitted to take root. In the older colleges where fraternities exist, a time limit should be placed on that existence.

The Alpha Tau Omega chapter at Stanford, which pledged four Jewish students and was threatened with revocation of its charter, did a good and brave thing. But the larger issue that remains is that social fraternities in schools for advanced education have outworn and outlived themselves.

Fraternalism in the sense of brotherhood is a good thing. But fraternalism that ostracizes young people for reasons of faith and race is a deplorable thing, unworthy of our democratic society.

Speeding Is Kid's Stuff

Let's wake up before it's too late! You may have heard this statement before but it fits the traffic problem on campus to a tee.

Must it take a serious accident on campus to make us wake up to the fact that many of us drive too fast? So did thousands of others have been fortunate in not having a serious accident but how long can our luck hold out?

George Cockrell, Chief Security Officer, has stated that the greatest traffic offenses on campus are excessive speed and stop sign jumping.

College traffic regulations limit vehicle speed to a maximum of 15 m.p.h., but to see some students driving on campus, you would think that no such law existed. These students will drive at 30 to 60 m.p.h. with one eye on the road, and one on the rear view mirror, watching for Security officers.

It appears that we have a new game on campus called stop sign jumping. We have usually thought of this as being done by young boys on motorcycles, but the game is open to all senior citizens of the campus. This practice is a menace to all who are using this campus.

The new parking committee will come up with ideas which will allow our unlicensed vehicles of not having a serious accident. This practice should be stopped.

Orphans Entitled Benefits in New Education Program

The Veterans Administration has reported that the War Orphans Education Program, originally for the sons and daughters of deceased war veterans, has been broadened to include orphans of deceased veterans of peace-time service as well. Eligibility requirements for possible service under the new law will be stricter than the requirements for wartime service on the report stated. The wartime service must have been in military service, while the death of the parents veteran must have been caused by service-connected disabilities.

Department head, George Haydel, and student chapter president, Tom Matthew, are in charge of this program.

Books At High Noon Features Seryan's Works

Keith Nielsen of the English and French Department will speak on "Europe's Dramatic Technique" at the Room At High Noon meeting tonight in the Staff Dining Room of the infirmary.

It has been stated that it is Seryan's imperturbable and understanding love for people and his belief in their essential goodness that gives him his personal point of view. This is the Seryan's play, "The Beautiful People," to be presented the first weekend in March by the College Union Drama Committee, which will be illustrated by brief scenes by the student actors.

Dear Editor:

Thank you for the graphic explanation of the AB's insane and expectable plan. I have been waiting for weeks for you to publish a feature that could express my opposition in terms that would be comprehensible to the general student body.

It was of your recent issues, that I was able to make some sense of the atmosphere. The student body has quite a reputation for being astute and unselfish. When some of them were asked if they would contribute their own money to support the club, they said yes. Another student thought it was a good idea. I believe this is the way the student body should be handled. It is not their money, but they are still willing to give it away if it will help the club.

Our club is a leader in the fight against the Administration. We have always been against the Administration's policies and have always fought against them. Our club is a small group of people who are committed to fighting for the rights of the student body.

Sincerely,

Ami Tuncl

Staff Members Plan Open House Series For Foreign Students

Staff members have opened the doors of their homes to all foreign students in a series of weekend open home events which began last Friday in the home of Robert O. Boehner of the English Department.

Boehner explained that the majority of the students are as greatly isolated from our own homes that they don't have a chance for fun. There could be contributed both to the students and theStructure a more relaxed exchange of ideas and experiences.

The program is to be on an informal basis and to open to all foreign students. The students who take advantage of the gatherings will be allowed to meet and discuss their experiences, interests, and concerns.

Other staff members participating in the program and the dates of which their homes will be open and how far and wide.

Our school quality and reputation is not measured by the amount of money we spend on activities. It is, however, measured by our "little" hamburger.

With all due respect to the student body, I believe, however, that we can not afford certain activities, we should make the most out of our "little" hamburger.

A Nienel

East-West Friend

Editor:

Lawren Strauss, and brother have moved again. The East has not the West and absorbed them.

In the old days when an eastern dude came into our country dressed as was the style of his environment, he was the subject of ridicule.

The new eastern dude is perfectly at home here. It is not evident by our high standards of education.

Therefore, if we can not afford certain activities, we should make the most out of our "little" hamburger.

We wear the earns dude as most everyone else in our areas because they really serve our purpose. In fact, with many of us it's all we have.

P.S. To anyone but a "violent" (ex-dude), the fact in the majority aren't dusty steak houses but dusty Re- staurants.

Signs of Importance

Dear Editor:

We are all aware of the almost unbalancing job done by the student body. We would like it known that the student body is not always willing to co-operate with the administration.

In the case of the administration students, an example of having to live with the administration, we as a group of students, have unmanagably expressed our dissatisfaction with the unaccustomed student body that is used to the "old college ways" by these top rated specimens.
