Dear Editor:
The Rally Committee has been working on a Rally which will take place at 8 p.m. on May 12. All Poly students, faculty, and staff are invited to come and enjoy the festivities. Prizes were to be given to those who made the most creative decorations for the event.

I know that we have some talented students who could contribute to the Rally, and I would like to encourage everyone to participate. The Rally Committee is always looking for new ideas and creative solutions to make the event even more exciting. Can you imagine what a student who has been a part of Poly for four years could bring to the Rally? I think it's time for us to celebrate our school spirit and to show our appreciation for all those who have been a part of Poly.

Sincerely,
[Signature]

Diploma Gets First Paycheck; Won’t Hold Job: A C Expert

By Gil Piarc

"Your diploma will get you the first paycheck but not one more after, unless ... " A1 Hansen, former University of Southern California faculty member and vice-president of Dreyer-Hansen, Los Angeles, told the AC Club. The company that recently air-conditioned the fabulous Beverly-Hilton hotel, Hansen spoke with authority gained by many years as an employer of graduate engineers.

Hansen also explained the duties of various types of engineers, stressing that the more glamorous and rewarding the job, the more demanding it is of the engineer himself. Basics, application, development, and production are some of the major branches into which the graduate may eventually fall.

"No one, or at least very few, comes right from college and jumps into a high-paying job," he said. "The company spends into the thousands of dollars preparing the young graduate so that he may one day assume a responsible position. When he has assumed that position, he can then start repaying his debt with hard work and training.

"Get rid of the attitude of 'How soon to graduating seniors
