Four Per Cent of Student Body Elect Fifteen Class Officers

A total of 187 students elected the 15 officers of next year's sophomore, junior, and senior classes in class elections last week. This is about 4.2 per cent of the student body.

The seniors were assure to result from the elimination of the ruling that only those with class cards be allowed to vote. Although the ruling was enforced at the junior class elections, it is the first time in several years that a junior election was overruled according to Sigrid Putnack, class council chairman, and secretary of the Sophomore Student Council.

Pruett Leada, Seniors

The senior class will be headed by five of the voting students, elected by 30 students. Vice-presidential positions were also elected for the upperclassmen. Architecture major, will be elected by 30 students. Vice-president, printing major, treasurer, andTurner, electronics major, will be for the class of 1961.

Hetvan House Has Glittering Past

Past guests of the Andrews Hotel, now known as the Hewson House, included Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, Marlon Brando, William Haines, and William Randolph Hearst.

All of these well-known personalities, which gave the boarding house a glittering past, were guests of Hearst during 1911 to 1914.

According to J. M. Hewson, the newspaper magnate occupied the third and fourth floors of the hotel, using a total of 14 rooms while Hearst's castle, San Simeon, was being built.

Hearst occupied the hotel in his usual style of splendor, said Hewson. He had his own maids and butler, and "built an elevator for convenience. Hearst also had his own private dining room, off the main dining room, which is now used for a general meeting room.

In this period the Andrews Hotel was the most fashionable hotel and restaurant between Santa Barbara and San Jose. The dining room boasted of cut glass and sterling silverware.

Hearst was asked why he refused to allow his daughter to enroll in college.

"Wal," he replied, "I started getting made when they told her to go to the Register's Office to get her license to cat pigs."
