Students Ask Action On Traffic Problem

"College administrators are not the only people concerned with the problem," said Clyde P. Fisher, dean of the college. "We feel that the paper should receive more votes for a decrease under music tuition." said Fisher. "We felt that the paper should receive more votes for a decrease under music tuition."

Fisher was commenting on a petition presented to him by John Morgan, Animal Husbandry sophomore. The petition was signed by 80 students asking that action be taken to correct the traffic problem on campus.

Fisher said that on Jan. 11, a Special Student Assembly Committee was appointed, "We felt that the paper should receive more votes for a decrease under music tuition."

Both of the recommendations which have already been approved or are being considered are the addition of some fine, cross walk, and pedestrian limits for certain roads on campus.

"We feel that the paper should receive more votes for a decrease under music tuition."

Mr. Fisher made a general appeal for increased public cooperation in the allocation to this section.

Education Loan Blanks Available

Students interested in applying for a National Defense Education Act Loan for the next college year have dropped by to the office of Everett Chandler, Dean of Students, to obtain application forms.

Students attending Cal Poly this year, whose 100%-loan applications are approved after the review, will have funds available about the first of October, 1961.

Loans may be granted to a maximum of $2,000.

Interest payments are 5 percent on the unpaid balance which, of course, is a low interest rate, Chandler said.

A student has ten years in which to repay the loan after his graduation. Students who enter and are active in the teaching profession may have up to one-half of the total amount they have borrowed cancelled.

"Although there is competition for the loan, any student who is in need should not hesitate to obtain an application and submit it for review," Chandler emphasizes.

Water Shortage Threatens Agricultural Departments

"What are we going to do when the wall runs dry? That is a question people in the State of California are asking, and on campus the agricultural deparments are planning and planting with water a shortage in mind.

Lyman Denison, head of the Animal Husbandry Department, and William Troutner, head of the Ornamental Horticulture Department, are spreading the word that the water shortage threatens the agricultural departments with respect to the future of their departments—especially in the Horticulture Department due to the shortage of water.

"That last lick of rain we had a week ago is all that will remain for many more miles down the San Luis Obispo area than in the surrounding areas."

"Agriculture will suffer economically due to the increased cost of seeds. Rain is needed. This increased cost of seeds may cause an increase in cereal which in turn will be passed on to the consumer, a hike in prices of food.

"We might have to bring cattle to the feed-yard in some areas, which is a hardship to the producers."

"Every day of the week the range feed is considered a loss of 1.5 pounds per steer, at approximately twenty-five cents a pound."

We are hoping for at least four or more inches of rain to give the grass a final boost and a sufficient summer range feed," Denison continues.

"The range doesn't come, the spring crops will not come. The cattle will have to be brought in or water supplied," according to Troutner.

"We had a good early grain season here in the San Luis Obispo area than in the aur­ ginia and wells will dry up and the grass a Anal boost and insurance against a drought."

"While Obispo area than in the aur­

On campus the agricultural departments are planning and planting with water a shortage in mind.

The Crops Department is taking the shortage into consideration. According to Troutner, "improved," Troutner aald. "The weather is just right now, and our planting is being delayed by the water problem as it is further aggravated or improved.

The Ornamental Horticulture Department is also feeling the effects of the water shortage to some extent too, although Brown doesn't foresee the time when water for the small homes will be cut off because of the shortage in this area."

"At the present time we are only under optimum conditions and conditions dictate the amounts we are bringing in, or water will be shut off, according to Troutner."

"If spring is here, we plan to expand our planting with water supply," said Brown. "Our plan is to expand our planting to the point that our crops will be more dependent on irrigation."

"Our future plans are to expand if the weather permits."

"We are hoping to do more planting on land near Camp Loma if we are sure of enough water," Brown concluded.

Hardballers Split Pair With San Diego Marines

Hitting off a last inning rally by the Mustangs, the San Diego Marines were able to pick up a win in the second game, 8-2, after being drilled 13-6 the previous day.

Coach Bill Hicks' crew splattered 17 hits to take the first game against the charging Bob Guerra. Jim Harper led the assault with three for four and two runs scored on a double and a home run.

In the second game Jim Harper drove across the first tally and Rally Romanski added a home run. The ninth inning rally was stopped short with the bases loaded when Russ Cunhoger was unable to make the play to home.

Two approaches to the "men's deodorant" problem

If a man doesn't mind shaving under his arms, he will probably find a woman's roll-on satisfactory. Most men, however, find it simpler and easier to use Mens Spray Deodorant. Mens Spray was made to get through to the skin, where penguins do not go. And made to work all day. More men use Mens Spray than any other deodorant. How about you?"
