SAC In Long Session Discussing Budget; Campus Radio Included

By Carol Blass

Student Affairs Council pondered the 1968-69 budget for four hours and 40 minutes at this week's session and then decided to table the motion to accept the budget until next Tuesday.

The session, which began when George Myers moved to incorporate two shortaction items made at the previous meeting, included the discussion of the 1968-69 budget, which was tabled to next week.

Visser Leedy moved to accept the proposed budget with the exception of Department of Music's request to add $10,000 to the budget. The motion passed by a vote of 11-1, with 3 students and 1 faculty member (excepting the department's chairman) favoring the addition.

Nearby two thirds of SAC waited in anxious curiosity for the sponsor radio issue which appeared on the last page of the tabloid.

Several possibilities for allocating funds in this area were discussed, including some that would have increased the budget by $25,000. The Council's decision to table the budget until next week was made in order to allow more time for discussion and consideration of these possibilities.

PROPOSALS MADE

Final Examinations To Be Given Only At Scheduled Times

A special committee of the College Council dealing with irregularities during final examinations presented recommendations to the College Council for consideration by President MacPhies. The recommendations were presented without discussion on June 12, 1968.

1. It is recommended that the College Council honor the following proposals which the council adopted: Final examinations should be given only at scheduled times.

2. The practise of giving final examinations at the last reading meeting in the morning of the day of the final examination should be eliminated.

3. Every instructor is expected to be present at all final examinations that he administers.

"Inconvenience to other instructors and students was almost 100 percent. This practice would cause the student to be present in the final examination by a thorough review of the student's work. This review is important in determining the student's knowledge of the subject matter."

Students Suspended For Weekend Actions

Five students involved in various uncontrolled actions two weeks ago were suspended from the regular activities of the student body for the remainder of the school year following administrative action last week.

Four students involved in a series of actions at an approved on-campus bonfire were suspended after a hearing by the administration.

Another student involved in a series of actions at an approved on-campus bonfire was also suspended after a hearing.

"We felt the weekend was a success and didn't expect any disturbances due to the holiday," says Arlene Young, activities advisor.

1000 Students Participate In Spring Week Activities

With a college population of 4000 and a big spring weekend on campus, approximately 1000 students turned out for one event or another during the weekend. This does not include the football game. Opening event of the weekend was the Spring Sing with 600 to 700 students, faculty and townspeople watching the game and enjoying the performance of excellent players. The singing was obviously the most popular event of the day.

The most fantastic, the decorations were good, but the singing was perhaps the best. The sign, "El Mustang" was almost full as were all the other activities. The most popular event of the day was a bonfire held Sunday evening. The bonfire, sponsored by the College Council and the Cal Poly Foundation, was held on the quad, on the left of the campus.

The bonfire was attended by more than 100 people and was enjoyed by all present.

"We felt the weekend was a success and didn't expect any disturbances due to the holiday," says Arlene Young, activities advisor.
Peace Corps Emissary Tells Goals, Hopes Of Program

SPECIAL REPORT

"We are not sending Peace Corps volunteers out for manual labor since the majority of these countries have a surplus of man power," said Paul Blaweon, special assistant for the director of recruitment, when he addressed potential Peace Corps volunteers on campus last Friday. Blaweon said that they should have "a feeling of arrogance" since several countries want Peace Corps volunteers to serve as teachers, doctors, nurses, engineers, etc. It is the aim of the Peace Corps to bring the middle level skill to underprivileged countries," Blaweon said.

On the subject of Peace Corps examinations, Blaweon said that two types are given, a teaching test to people interested in teaching and a skills test to others. After the examination there will be an interview to see if the person is suited to bring the middle level skill to underprivileged countries. A person joining the Peace Corps will be under a two year obligation when he or she enters the training center for a period of three months for special training.

In your opinion, what has been the most outstanding social event of the year, excluding Poly Royal? Jerry Hayes, Physical Education major, didn't know. The homecoming dance, I think the turnout and the mood was real good. It was no event for the end of the small, I think they should have the homecoming twice a year. This would build up the spring concert even more.

Bennie Jean Johnson, Elementary Education freshman, West Covina: The very beginning of the year, when Chris Boucher was here. Everyone was dancing and having a lot of fun. The other entertainers and Poly more often, Chris Boucher really swung.

Colleen Cavans, Elementary Education freshman, Covina: Because a lot of people turned out. It's something the students did themselves. I definitively they should have the event every year to make Poly more comfortable. Everyone will probably the event after a while.

Gloria Jannell, Hotel Business sophomore, Santa Ana: The Poly Royal. The Poly Royal lighted still impresses me as the most outstanding social event of the year including Poly Royal. What we need are more professional entertainers like the Limelighters and Chris Boucher. I have seen like those put on by such groups and this campus is in need of good entertainment with less emphasis on steady and monthly dances, stomp, etc.

Gerald Hopkins, Home Economics junior, Foothill: The outstanding social event attended was the Poly Exchange party with Poly Royal. It was held on campus, and I think that place it seemed to be no end and make the girls feel uncomfortable.

Mustangs Upset Alumni 14-8 In Grid Battle

Cal Poly football rosters received a surprise last Saturday night when the local varsity upset the Alumni 14-8 on the Mustang gridiron. The varsity, short of experience, but willing, managed to post a 14-0 lead over the graduates and held tight. The first touchdown of the season came in the third period on a 14-yard pass from quarterback John Kanak to receiver John Krista. Kanak pitched the scoring pass from Rainbow, the two-point conversion.

Before the pass was completed, the Alumni kicked the ball out of bounds, and on the next play, the two-pointer was good for the Mustangs. Jordan, who just came off the injured list, tossed the TD pass and also many more fine passes. The boys looked very good in stripes, but they are still green at the game, replied Coach LeRoy Hughes after the contest.

The second round of the intramural tourney ended last week with the semi-final matches now being contested. Finals will be held on Saturday night.

College Union Plans Award Banquet

College Union officers and Committee chairmen will be announced at the College Union banquet to be held June 4 in the Staff dining room at 6:00 p.m.

College President Julian A. McPherson will present a special guest at the banquet, which will give a review of college union achievements for the past year. Awards will be given by Dean Lawson, associate dean of activities. The awards of blankets and keys will be made to students who have contributed outstanding work in college union activities.

A performance will be given by the Wesley Fellowship, who will sing the "Hymn" for the most outstanding performance at the Spring Rite.

An award will also be presented for the group who put on the best College Union dance, this award was won last year by Foxman and Steve Hall.

"The new AHH officers will be installed before you leave and talk with you about your photography year," said President Julian A. McPherson.

"If I haven't enjoyed talking with you, but I have enjoyed talking with you through this column. I hope that I have been of some help to you, but if I haven't, I would appreciate your writing your gripes. It would help me in planning my columns for next year.

And speaking of next year, you then.

Senior Banquet Scheduled

The Architectural Engineering Department's Senior Banquet will be held tomorrow evening in the Athena Club, San Luis Obispo.

"Just a general all-in-fun arrangement for all between the senior class and the instigators is on the evening's calendar," said Dan Shaw, program chairman. And get the ball rolling, he said, with "the blue suit with the gold bars."

"Approximately 150 people will attend, including the faculty, senior class and any underclassmen who wish to join in the fun. "The Junior Class is in charge of the arrangements," Shaw added.

Library Reminder

All books due June 15. Persons not returning books by 8 a.m. June 15 will be subject to an $8 administrative fine penalty.

PERELLO GUEST REVIEWER IN LAST BOOKS AT HIGH NOON PROGRAM

Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr.'s books on "The Age of Roosevelt" will be reviewed by Donald Peshke, Social Science Instructor when he will give the third of the series of Schlesinger books. Containing the political history from the time of Lincoln to the New Deal, volume three of the series is "The Politics of Individualism." "Professor Schlesinger, writes for everybody. The very soundness of that's worth reading. I don't want to add is that that's a joy to read."

"You're needed...just as your father and grandfather were. It's an old story that a lot of capable college men have to leave...that of serving your country, army, navy and you are needed."

And the Air Force needs college-trained men as officers. This is caused by the rapidly expanding technology that goes with hyperbaric air and space flight. Your four years of college have equipped you to handle complex jobs. You have the potential to get from advanced training...then put it to work.

There are several ways to become an officer.

First there is Air Force ROTC. Another program, relatively new, is Officer Training School. Here the Air Force commissions certain college graduates, both men and women, after three months' training. The navigator training program enables you to win a flying rating and a commission. And, of course, there's the Air Force Academy. An Air Force officer's starting salary averages out about at what you could expect as a civilian. First there's your base pay. Then add on such things as tax-free rentals and quarters allowances, free medical and dental care, retirement provisions, perhaps eight pay and 30 days' vacation per year. It comes to an attractive figure. One thing more. As an officer, you will become eligible for the Air Force Institute of Technology. While on active duty many officers will win graduate degrees at Air Force expense.

You won't find our local Air Force Recruiters. Or write to Officer Career Information, U.S. Air Force ROTC, Box 3266, Washington 6, D.C. If you have further information for this column, write to Officer Training or Officer Training School programs.
