Seven Delegates Go to San Diego For MUN Confab

Seven Cal Poly students will represent the Philosophy league at the 18th Annual Model United Nations (MUN) conferences at San Diego State College tomorrow through Saturday.

Representing the School of Mechanical, Civil and Environmental Engineering, the delegation will include Thomas Dunke, Raymond T. Hesse, Don Webster, Suzanne Beals, James Stone, counseling center head. The delegation was chosen by a vote of the group.

The Cal Poly delegation trip is being paid for by the Associated Student Body. Students interested in participating in next year's Model United Nations should sign up for the activity next Fall Quarter.

State Employees Host Atascadero Group

The California State Employees Association will host a dinner for the Atascadero State College Choir tonight in the Little Theater. The choir will be performing the music and drama patient in the performance, which will be held in the Music Department. The performance is being put into operation. It is run by the Associated Student Body.

The next step was rehearsing—rehearsing some of the more difficult pieces and getting all the music right. The program is getting better every time they rehearse it.

Six Students to Try for Three Offices in ASB Elections

Six students will compete for three ASB offices in Student Body elections to be held next week. The candidates are: Jim Clark, a Business major and ASB Vice President, said, "I've been using it for about a year, and it's been a big help." He added, "I've noticed a big decrease in the number of citations being given out, and I think it's had a positive effect on campus safety."

Needed: Change In Attitude

Something is wrong with the attitude of the administration of this college.

In refusing a recent Student Affairs Council recommendation that the Cal Poly Parachute Club, Inc. be granted approved campus organization, those who head this school, in our opinion, exhibited an amazing display of poor judgment.

Main reason for refusal was, "that the college could not stand the publicity which would be forthcoming in case there was a second accident related to air." This decision was made by the Executive Council, a group of high administrative officials who debated the issue at some length.

Of course there will be some adverse publicity should a second air accident occur. But will the organization's status as to whether it is recognized by the college really make that much difference? We doubt it.

The Cal Poly Parachute Club has done everything conceivable to insure its safety and that of the school. It has become a corporation, attained adequate insurance, and adopted stringent by-laws. The administration asked for this protection the first time the club applied for recognition.

This is more protection by far than that given to the football players who died at Toledo.

Too, should the group be discriminated against because of the tragedy that happened to this school? Is that event to have influence over every decision that is made here?

While the grave tragedy is not to be forgotten, it should not have the influence it apparently has.

The Poly Parachutists' question is to be studied presently by the Advisory Committee. We urge them to reconsider the Executive Council's decision and give the Poly Parachute Club a chance.

Poly Boxers Show Power By Winning Five Titles

BY BILL BROWN, Sports Editor

Before 2000 screaming fans Saturday night in the Men's Gym, five Mustang boxers won titles in the Pacific Coast Boxing tournament. Of the eight titles up for grabs, Polyuntas won five and Chico State shared the other three.

Winning Mustangs were Frank Godinez, "Cowboy" Clayton Ollar, Roy Hidalgo, and the "sportsmanship" winner, Tony Gennaro of Chico State.

Netmen Powerless In Tennis Loss

Coach Ed Jorgensen's netters dropped two vital league matches to the Santa Barbara Gauchos and the L.A. State Diabetes over the weekend.

Although playing one of the best rounds of the season, Mustang golfers still lost 18-16, to the San Jose Spartans at the San Luis Obispo Country Club course Friday. The left hook coach Charles Henderson men with a 3 win, 4 loss and 1 tie season record.

The double loss left the Poly team with a 2-6 overall record and 0-4 in CCAA competition. Benefits of Friday's contest with Santa Barbara:

Congo Talks Slated

Two speakers who work in the Congo are scheduled for College Hour, on Thursday in Ag Eng 188 at 11 a.m.

One is a Methodist Missionary, Dean Freudenberger. He is a Cal Poly graduate in AH, and will speak about the Congo Polytechnic Institute. This should be of special interest to Cal Poly students and staff, as the Institute is fashioned after Cal Poly and the learning-by-doing method of teaching.

Also speaking will be Stanley Moore, Peace Corps personnel officer. His subject covers Peace Corps work in Thailand, Borneo, and Sarawak.

Peggy Campbell, chief secretary of the International Coordinators of the Congo Polytechnic Institute, Beatrice Lewanika, daughter of one of the leading officials in the Northern Rhodesian Parliament, and George Mumbwa, from Kitswe, Africa, will accompany the speakers.

Camera Received

For Offset Printing

What is 16 feet long, 4 feet wide, a foot tall, and weighs 3.800 pounds? It's a new $9,000 "Offset" camera for the Printing department.

C. H. Gregory, printing instructor, said, "The camera will be installed as soon as we figure out a way to get it into the lab." This equipment comes in one piece, requiring special handling.

The film used for the camera is 24 inches square. It will not be used for taking ordinary photographs, but for taking pictures of reproduction proofs in making printing plates. The camera is fully equipped for color process printing.

Beginning Fall quarter the races will be used for instructions, with Wesley Dunn instructing.

Library Features

Master's Paintings
