Jazz Night at Cal Poly planned for June 3-4

The upbeat sound of big-band music as well as more-intimate, improvisational sounds will be heard in two performances at 8 pm Friday and Saturday, June 3-4, in the Theatre.

Jazz Night at Cal Poly, under the direction of music professor William Johnson, will feature the 23-member University Jazz Band plus saxophonists Paul Carman and the Jazz Freshmen quartet.

Composer-performer Bill Listou will be the featured guest soloist. Liston plays the saxophone, flute and clarinet.

Musical highlights will include several pieces by Liston, including “Jerry’s Tune,” “Talking Bigger Trump,” “All Things Old and New,” “Pay Day Be Good,” “Soprano Duet,” and “One Step Up.” Other selections will be “Pullin’ Puncher” by Les Hooper, “It’s Not Nice to Fool Mother Nature” by John Prince, and “Open Wide” by Don Ellis.

Concert-goers will be treated to a variety of musical styles that include swing, shuffle, samba, jazz rock and jazz ballads.

Carman, a former member of the Frank Zappa Band, is a consultant to the University Jazz Band. Carman and the Jazz Freshmen frequently perform on the Central Coast.

Liston, who leads his own big band, often performs with the big bands of Bill Watrous, Ten Kabis and Jack Sheldon. He has also collaborated with Jerry Van Dyke, Josie Summers, Johnny Mathis and Pat Boone.

Tickets for the concert are $6 for students and senior citizens and $8.50 for the public. They can be bought from 10 am to 4 pm weekdays at the ASI Ticket Office in front of the Recreation Sports Building and at the Theatre Ticket Office. Tickets can also be bought from University Jazz Band members.

To charge tickets on Visa or MasterCard, call the ASI Ticket Office at ext. 5806. Tickets ordered by phone can be mailed or picked up just before the performance at the Theatre Ticket Office. For more information, call the Music Department at ext. 2607.

New program to offer
English instruction

The English As A Second Language Program (EAP) provides confidential counseling and referral services in a variety of areas to all Cal Poly employees and their families.

The services are free and are intended to help employees deal with problems that interfere with work performance or that could create health problems.

Supervisors and managers are encouraged to refer employees to EAP when work performance or morale seems to be declining.

This could be a valuable early-intervention approach to maintaining employees' work performance.

Bob Negrandi and Jean DeCosta are available to help with marriage-related problems, legal problems, substance abuse, stress management, personal-emotional issues, family problems, financial problems, interpersonal conflicts, career development, and job-related issues.

To make an appointment with Negrandi or DeCosta, call ext. 0327 (O-EAP). The EAP offices are in the Rooms 188 and 190 in the Health Center.

Deadline approaching for fee waiver

Information and applications are available in Human Resources for eligible full- or part-time employees to participate in the Fee Waiver Program.

Those who take courses under an approved program of career development, or have courses approved as job-related, may be eligible to attend Cal Poly classes at greatly reduced fees.

Important deadlines for Fall Quarter 1994 are:

May 27 - Fall Class Schedule available

July 19 - SSF forms available. Pay Fees.

July 25 - CAPTURE registration begins for staff.

August 19 - Last day to pay fees to avoid $25 late fee.

October 3 - Last day to submit fee waiver forms to Human Resources.

Begin at 7 am

Begin at 1 pm

Baker recognized for 9 years of service on NSB

President Baker has been recognized for his nine years of service on the National Science Board (NSB), which oversees the National Science Foundation's $4 billion budget and advises the President and Congress on federal science and engineering policies.

Earlier this month, President Baker and several members retiring from the board were cited for their work in "a period of unusual challenge and opportunity in the support of U.S. scientific and engineering research and education."

During his term, President Baker said he worked to reshape board policy to enhance the support given to the university. For example, Cal Poly is currently sharing a $25 million NSF grant with a coalition of research universities to support graduate education at predominately undergraduate universities.

A number of National Science Foundation (NSF) grants have come to the university. For example, Cal Poly is currently sharing a $25 million NSF grant with a coalition of research universities to support graduate education at predominately undergraduate universities.

Individuals recognized for disablity

Two Cal Poly employees, two students, and two members of the community were honored by Disabled Student Services and ASI's Disabled Students Unlimited.

Laura Fregle, a professor in the Psychology and Human Development Department, was named Faculty Person of the Year, and Jane Kluba, Department Chair of Counseling Psychology, was named Volunteer Reader of the Year.

Those honored were cited for their outstanding service to people with disabilities and each received a plaque and citation at a recent annual awards luncheon.

Named as students of the Year were Kevin Browne, an ecology and systematics major, and Kevin Panzar, a speech communication senior.
