Taxation on some fee waiver courses

Prior to Jan. 1, 1988, all benefits under the CSU Fee Waiver Program were sheltered from any tax consequences to participating employees by combining the exemptions allowable under two sections of the Internal Revenue Code that expired on Jan. 1, 1988.

Recently Congress amended Section 127 of the Internal Revenue Code for tax year 1988 only, to exclude up to $5,250 per year received by an employee for tuition, fees, books, supplies, etc., for employer's educational assistance programs, but excluding employer-paid graduate study from tax-free status.

Thus, if an employee is a graduate student and is working toward an advanced graduate degree, the fee waiver is reported as taxable income for 1988.

Additionally, since this amendment only extends through 1988, unless a new amendment is enacted, fees waived in 1989 and thereafter for any employer-paid study—graduate or undergraduate—will be considered income and will be subject to taxation.

Questions regarding this ruling should be directed to Sandy Sidah at ext. 2236.

Activities will honor Martin Luther King Jr.

A commemorative march will kick off an hour of speeches, poetry, and music honoring the late civil rights activist and Nobel Peace Prize winner Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Scheduled for today (Jan. 12), the march will leave the Dexter Building lawn at 10:45 am, travel along Perimeter Road and arrive at the UU Plaza.

The Trumpets of Zion, a choir of Cal Poly students, will open with the black national anthem.

Michelle Banks and Robert McDonald, students from UCSB, will discuss "Where Did the Dream Go?" and "The Responsibility of the Educated Black." Cal Poly student Chris Finley will read his own poetry titled "A True Vision."

This will be followed by more music and closing remarks by Dr. Willi Coleman of the Student Life and Activities Department.

The program is planned and sponsored by the Afro-American Student Union.

Retired professor establishes fund

Cal Poly engineering students will gain new perspectives on nations of the Pacific Rim region through an endowment fund established by a retired professor.

Thomas T.L. Chou and his wife, Lucia, donated $10,000 to set up the Mr. and Mrs. Langchen Chou Endowment Fund in memory of his parents.

Earnings from the permanent fund will be used to support a variety of engineering activities related to the Pacific Rim, especially to sponsor exchange scholars from China.

Additional donations to the fund may be sent to the University Development Services Office. Checks should be made payable to the Cal Poly Foundation, with a notation designating the gift for the Mr. and Mrs. Langchen Chou Endowment.

Cal Poly float wins Founders' Trophy

The Cal Poly entry in the 100th Tournament of Roses Parade won the Founders' Trophy as the best self-decorated float in the parade. It is the 21st major prize won by Cal Poly entries since their first appearance in the event in 1949 and the 18th in the past 24 years.

Titled "Paradin' Around," the float illustrated a girl's one-person neighborhood parade. The float's extensive animation was controlled by a computer.

Prepared as a joint entry with students of Cal Poly Pomona, it is the only float in the parade that is entirely designed, constructed, decorated, and financed by students.

Activities of the students involved in the float effort are planned and coordinated by the Rose Float Committee and the Rose Float Club, both affiliated with the ASI.

Committee vacancies

Faculty interested in serving on the following committees are asked to contact the Academic Senate Office, ext. 1258, before Jan. 27:

- Public Safety Advisory Committee and Parking and Traffic Subcommittee. . . Winter, Spring 1989 Quarters
- Registration and Scheduling Committee. . . Winter, Spring 1989 Quarters
- Academic Senate Fairness Board (must be from Student Affairs). . . 1988-89 term

In addition, the CSU Academic Senate is seeking faculty volunteers to become curriculum consultants to some of California's high schools. Contact the Academic Senate Office if you would like information.
Faculty recital set in Theatre Jan. 14

An evening of music for baroque guitar, lute and theorbo will highlight the Music Department's Faculty Recital at 8 pm on Saturday, Jan. 14, in the Theatre.

Dr. Mark A. Leach, a new faculty member replacing Dr. Craig Russell while he is on sabbatical, will be featured. His special guests for the evening will be fellow faculty members Ronald V. Ratcliffe and Dr. Thomas Davies.

Ratcliffe will play the harpsichord and Leach the theorbo for Sonata in D minor by Giovanni Pittoni, and Davies will be featured on songs for tenor voice and lute.

Other tentative selections for the faculty recital include Preludio and Ciaccona by Francesco Corbetta, Suite in D major by Ludovico Roncalli, and Suite in A minor by Robert de Visee.

Tickets for the recital are $5.50 for adults and $3.50 for students and senior citizens. They are available at the Theatre Ticket Office and the UU Ticket Office. Reservations can be made by calling the Theatre Ticket Office, ext. 1421.

The recital is a benefit for the Music Dept.'s scholarship fund.

Creating peace topic of week-long series

Create Peace Week, scheduled for Jan. 17-22, will offer a program of speakers, entertainment and films. The annual program is co-sponsored by the Students for Social Responsibility, Physicians for Social Responsibility, Central Coast Peace Network, and the Corita Billboard Project.

The following activities are planned:

Tuesday, Jan. 17 — "In Remembrance of Martin," a film and brief presentation about the life of civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., 7:30 pm, Chumash Auditorium. Additional co-sponsorship for this program is provided by the Afro-American Student Union and Distinguished Afro-American Lecture Series. Admission is free.

Wednesday, Jan. 18 — "Women - For America, For the World," an academy award-winning film and presentation by producer/director Vivienne Verdon-Roe, 7:30 pm, Chumash Auditorium. Tickets are $3 for children and students, $5 for adults.

This film presents American women with messages of hope for an end to the arms race and a new vision of security.

Thursday, Jan. 19 — "The Nuclear Threat and Peace Activism," a film festival, 10 am to 4 pm in Bishop Lounge. Admission is free. Schedules are available at the UU Information Desk, Gabby Bookstore in San Luis Obispo, and Coalesce Bookstore in Morro Bay. A few of the selections include: "The Arms Race Within," 10:10 am; "To What End," 1:10 pm; "Faces of the Enemy," 2:10 pm; and "The Healing of Brian Willson," 3:10 pm.

Saturday, Jan. 21 — Concert to be announced.

Sunday, Jan. 22 — "A World Apart," Rainbow Theatre in San Luis Obispo, 1 pm, $5. The film concerns Ruth First, a South African activist who took a stand against apartheid in the early 1960s, becoming the first white woman to be arrested under that country's 90-day detention act. Proceeds from this showing will be donated to the Corita Billboard Project.

For more information call the Student Life and Activities Office, ext. 2476.

Film series about women scheduled

Films by and about women will be the subject of the Winter Quarter Film Series sponsored by Cal Poly Arts.

All of the films, with one exception, will be shown in Chumash Auditorium at 7:30 pm. Those not in English will be shown with subtitles.

The series begins on Monday, Jan. 16, with "Lady Sings the Blues." It is the one film that will be shown in the Theatre.

Both single and series tickets are available at the door or at the Theatre Ticket Office between 10 am and 4 pm on weekdays. For further information, call ext. 1421.

The film series is co-sponsored by the Fine Arts and Films Committees of the ASI.

Walter Rice leads Economics Dept.

Dr. Walter Rice is serving as acting department head of the Economics Department for Winter Quarter. He is filling in for Dr. Panagiotis Papakyriazis.

A member of the Cal Poly faculty since 1964, Rice is involved in transport research. He is a member of the City of San Luis Obispo Mass Transportation Commission, and he has been a transportation consultant for the Province of Toronto Taxi System; San Luis Obispo County; City of Ojai; and Santa Maria Area Transit.

CPR schedule

Cal Poly Report is published weekly during the academic year by the Public Affairs Office.

Typewritten, double-spaced copy may be submitted to Jo Ann Lloyd, editor, by 4 pm the Thursday prior to the next publication.
Travel rate schedule updated

Travel rates in the California Faculty Association collective bargaining agreement were updated in September by amendments to those agreements. The amendments were ratified by the Trustees on September 14 and were effective September 1. This action brings rates for members of Unit 3 into agreement with those for non-represented employees and for members of units 1, 2, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 9. Agreement has not yet been reached with Unit 8. A copy of the current rate schedule is included in this issue of the Cal Poly Report. The schedule should be retained for use as a reference.

Washing machine, lawn mower needed

If you’ve got grandma’s old wringer washing machine or a vintage 1930s or 1940s push lawn mower hiding out in the garage, Dr. Russell Whaley of the Theatre and Dance Department would like to talk with you.

The items are needed for use in the upcoming production of the classic American comedy, “Morning’s at Seven.”

Neither item needs to be in working condition as they will be used only as non-working props. They will be needed from Feb. 13-25, while the play is in rehearsal and production.

Persons who own, or know someone who owns such a washing machine and lawn mower should call Whaley, ext. 6561, or leave a message with the department secretary at ext. 1465.
