Committee Outlines Under 21 Plan

by DANIEL KRAKAS

Proposed regulations that will liberalize college social policy for freshmen and sophomores were released publicly at a joint meeting of the Student Assembly and Under 21 Committee on Monday. The regulations, adopted at the meeting, are designed to relax some of the more stringent policies which restrictions, when enforced, have been cited as causes of frequent incidents that have contributed to the perception of a "closed" campus by some students.

The committee's proposals were outlined by the committee's chairman, R. W. Folker, to the Student Assembly for discussion before being submitted to the Under 21 Committee. The proposals for the three semester-old Under 21 Committee are not yet in final form, and were introduced for discussion rather than for approval.

The committee's outline for the new regulations is:

1. Acceptance of the Resolution of the Student Assembly calling for the establishment of the Under 21 Committee.

2. Acceptance of the Committee's report by SAC.

3. Acceptance of the Resolution before the administration.

4. Acceptance of the requesting committee's proposed roles, would receive final approval from the administration and the student body after seeing the recommendations of the Under 21 Committee.

5. Acceptance of the Resolution from the Under 21 Committee setting up a committee to study regulations of the same group.

6. Acceptance of the Resolution of the Under 21 Committee setting up a committee to study regulations of the same group.

7. Acceptance of the Resolution of the Under 21 Committee setting up a committee to study regulations of the same group.

8. Acceptance of the Resolution of the Under 21 Committee setting up a committee to study regulations of the same group.

The committee's proposals include liberalization of the "21 club" which will allow those under 21 to participate in social activities under a new set of rules. The "21 club" will be designated as "open" for those under 21 after it has first been approved for "closed" status by the administration.

Provision is made for a "closed" camp where students under 21 would be able to participate in social activities under a new set of rules. The "closed" camp will be designated as "open" for those under 21 after it has first been approved for "closed" status by the administration.

The committee's proposals also call for the establishment of a committee to study regulations of the same group.

The proposals are scheduled to be submitted to the administration for approval by the end of the month.

Editors:

In answer to the letter of Jan. 31 from Doris D'Arco, I would say that the same type of reasoning which she employs in her argument is applicable to a discussion of the merits of any program. In this case, the program of the Peace Corps, the purpose of which is to provide foreign service experience to American citizens, is being debated. The purpose of the Peace Corps is to provide foreign service experience to American citizens. Therefore, it is as valid to argue that the Peace Corps is a waste of money as it is to argue that the Peace Corps is a worthwhile endeavor.

I agree with your observation that the Peace Corps is not the cure for all of our ills. However, I believe that the Peace Corps does serve a useful purpose in the world. The Peace Corps is a program that helps to bridge the gap between the rich and the poor, and helps to develop countries that are in need of assistance.

I understand your concern regarding the cost of the Peace Corps. However, I believe that the benefits of the Peace Corps outweigh the costs. The Peace Corps provides American citizens with an opportunity to travel to different countries and to learn about different cultures. This can be a valuable experience for many people.

Sincerely,

EL Major Rebuilds Organ

Close to two years of tedious labor, William Randolph Fitzhugh, who first heard the organ played in the full of 1960, has completely rebuilt the organ that was in the church in San Luscal, Mexico.

He purchased the organ from the Parish of San Luis Church and donated it to the Episcopal Church in San Luscal Obispado, where he lived in Mexico.

The organ's history dates back to the 1920s, when it was built by the Parroquia de San Luis Church in San Luis, Obispado. The organ was later dismantled and put in the attic of the church, where it remained until 1960.

In 1960, Dr. Wallace Glidden of the Methodist Medical Association, who was visiting San Luis, Obispado, saw the organ and decided it would be interesting to have a pipe organ in the city. He contacted the local organ builders and arranged for the organ to be rebuilt.

The organ was rebuilt in 1960 and played as long as he returned each year. However, the organ was damaged by a storm in 1963 and was unable to be played.

The organ is being played by its creator, Ken Canada, who first heard the organ played in the full of 1960. Ken Canada has been working on the organ for the past two years and is now ready to play it again.
