College Delegates Plan CU Promotion

A weekend of organized entertain­ment has been arranged for those students who will attend the annual convention of the California Polytechnic State College Student Council at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Los Angeles, beginning Friday, Feb. 14, according to Ray­mond Charles Daugherty, 35, of the Students for Cal Poly's Participation in SAC formulating the plan. He states that the convention will be attended by the students from all eight California colleges.

The purpose of the conference is for students from the eight colleges to meet and discuss issues affecting the student body. It is expected that the convention will help promote unity among the colleges and improve the quality of student life.

Strumming Singers Here Thursday In Performance

The combined talent of the Cal­ifornia Polytechnic State College Men's Glee Club and the Women's Glee Club will be featured in a special Christmas program this Thursday in the Belvedere Dining Hall at 11 a.m. The program, named "The Greatest Songs of the Season," will include performances by the two groups.

Tensions of Math Will Be Relieved By Lecture Series

A series of lectures on the subject of mathematics will be presented at the California Polytechnic State College during the spring semester. The series will feature guest lecturers from various universities and colleges, and will cover a wide range of topics in mathematics.

Papacy Is Subject Of Thursday Talk

Robert 1. Dwyer, 4292 professor of philosophy, will give a lecture on the subject of the papacy on Thursday in the Belvedere Dining Hall. The talk will be attended by students and faculty members from the college.

Math Majors Pick Queen This Week

The Women's Glee Club will select the queen for the Mathematics Department this week, according to the department chairman. The selection will be based on a combination of academic achievement and musical talent.

Recall Dateless Freds? Dorms Not Date Bureau

The college administration has announced that the dormitories will not be used as a date bureau for students. The administration has also stated that any students found violating this policy will be subject to disciplinary action.
ARROW holds that tiger

ARROW turned the collar and let the eyes roam wild in this handsome Gordon Deaver Club button-down. The buttons are whipped precisely into place to make the collar roll ever gently without looking flat and playing dead. The styling is try... clean, lean, fully open body with black plaid, button and bong loop, shirts and enrgie to choose from, and solids, too.

at one or more...

$5.00

THE PLACE TO GO FOR BRANDS YOU KNOW

ARROW SHIRTS

Rowan's

700 Higuera

REAL SWEETHEARTS

these Valentine gifts

Schratt's Heart-shaped Valentine Candy $1.70 and up

Women's Red Nighties $1.99

Knit Fabric V-Neck

El Corral Book Store

Me and My Shadow

(Phot by Jim McKain)

Knit Fabric

V-Neck

EL MUSTANG

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1969

EDITORIALS

GPA -- A Status Symbol?

There's a follower that is crowding too many minds. The follower is known as GPA, short for the accusations term "Grade Point Average." Just three little words the next disaster.

Many critical commentaries have been written concerning the "false idols" which Americans as a whole tend to worship. The Cauliflower, the "larry idol" and the color TV, it is true, have drawn all of us from a real or actual idol.

One expects, or at least hopes, that a college education would put a restraint on the public's worship of such idols.

A professor once wrote, "Being in college implies at least some sense."

And yet, one wonders if the GPA has not become some status symbol on the college level, as brand in properties and so when in context as any counterpart in the business world.

Can any idol définely what 6.0 means? It means something admirable, and it can mean something not at all, so at all.

With the idea of achieving a high GPA there comes a terrific pressure of failure. The student if overcome taken over and the student becomes involved in a mania that black out his entire learning process.

If you were to tell him that he could come to college and enrich his mind, he would probably drop from school.

To remember facts, figures and the professor's notes is not so terribly hard. And to forget them is a snap. But, the enlightenment comes with great difficulty and that following golden calf, the GPA, is a terribly inadequate measure of it.

A measure of intelligence, how exciting, but it is not. Premature can do funny things to a student and when he fails, when he is forced to think of the thought of an employer checking his record may a student forget why he came to college.

The great emphasis on the intelligence and the status themselves are a result of GPA. It is the cause of most changing and criticism in the classrooms. It is so prevalent that a critical examination on student grading has been forced to investigate and make recommendations.

However, the question always arises in "What can be done about it?" It's a question that's been pondered for years on the matter always comes 4.0 (4.0)

"Nothing," unless the student himself takes the initiative.

If he realizes that sharing his neighbor papers or handing over test answers to his "friend" for testing an answer, as is the course of the case, changes, then something can be done.

Not a single group of people around the Hill or the young men who thought they'd prove he wasn't always what he was, could do anything about it.

One of the fellows took a bird and placed it between the palms of his hands and said to his columns, "Let's go it the wise old man if the bird in his head is dead or alive, if it is he could pull out the head, I can do it."

And they went and questioned the wise old man and the young man was simply the young man.

So it is with our intelligence. We can be brilliant for a moment, but can never share it or enrich our own intelligence and be intelligent for all time. It is as we will it.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Your Host and Hostess: John and Emily

The Gaslight Diner

Specialists in the art of plate making

Top Sirloin - $2.75

Rib Eye - $2.40

Chicken - $1.50

Your Host and Hostess John and Emily Fung

565 5th St.

Monrorey

GPA -- A Status Symbol?

There's a follower that is crowding too many minds. The follower is known as GPA, short for the accusations term "Grade Point Average." Just three little words the next disaster.

Many critical commentaries have been written concerning the "false idols" which Americans as a whole tend to worship. The Cauliflower, the "larry idol" and the color TV, it is true, have drawn all of us from a real or actual idol.

One expects, or at least hopes, that a college education would put a restraint on the public's worship of such idols.

A professor once wrote, "Being in college implies at least some sense."

And yet, one wonders if the GPA has not become some status symbol on the college level, as brand in properties and so when in context as any counterpart in the business world.

Can any idol définely what 6.0 means? It means something admirable, and it can mean something not at all, so at all.

With the idea of achieving a high GPA there comes a terrific pressure of failure. The student if overcome taken over and the student becomes involved in a mania that black out his entire learning process.

If you were to tell him that he could come to college and enrich his mind, he would probably drop from school.

To remember facts, figures and the professor's notes is not so terribly hard. And to forget them is a snap. But, the enlightenment comes with great difficulty and that following golden calf, the GPA, is a terribly inadequate measure of it.

A measure of intelligence, how exciting, but it is not. Premature can do funny things to a student and when he fails, when he is forced to think of the thought of an employer checking his record may a student forget why he came to college.

The great emphasis on the intelligence and the status themselves are a result of GPA. It is the cause of most changing and criticism in the classrooms. It is so prevalent that a critical examination on student grading has been forced to investigate and make recommendations.

However, the question always arises in "What can be done about it?" It's a question that's been pondered for years on the matter always comes 4.0 (4.0)

"Nothing," unless the student himself takes the initiative.

If he realizes that sharing his neighbor papers or handing over test answers to his "friend" for testing an answer, as is the course of the case, changes, then something can be done.

Not a single group of people around the Hill or the young men who thought they'd prove he wasn't always what he was, could do anything about it.

One of the fellows took a bird and placed it between the palms of his hands and said to his columns, "Let's go it the wise old man if the bird in his head is dead or alive, if it is he could pull out the head, I can do it."

And they went and questioned the wise old man and the young man was simply the young man.

So it is with our intelligence. We can be brilliant for a moment, but can never share it or enrich our own intelligence and be intelligent for all time. It is as we will it.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Your Host and Hostess: John and Emily

The Gaslight Diner

Specialists in the art of plate making

Top Sirloin - $2.75

Rib Eye - $2.40

Chicken - $1.50

Your Host and Hostess John and Emily Fung

565 5th St.

Monrorey

GPA -- A Status Symbol?

There's a follower that is crowding too many minds. The follower is known as GPA, short for the accusations term "Grade Point Average." Just three little words the next disaster.

Many critical commentaries have been written concerning the "false idols" which Americans as a whole tend to worship. The Cauliflower, the "larry idol" and the color TV, it is true, have drawn all of us from a real or actual idol.

One expects, or at least hopes, that a college education would put a restraint on the public's worship of such idols.

A professor once wrote, "Being in college implies at least some sense."

And yet, one wonders if the GPA has not become some status symbol on the college level, as brand in properties and so when in context as any counterpart in the business world.

Can any idol définely what 6.0 means? It means something admirable, and it can mean something not at all, so at all.

With the idea of achieving a high GPA there comes a terrific pressure of failure. The student if overcome taken over and the student becomes involved in a mania that black out his entire learning process.

If you were to tell him that he could come to college and enrich his mind, he would probably drop from school.

To remember facts, figures and the professor's notes is not so terribly hard. And to forget them is a snap. But, the enlightenment comes with great difficulty and that following golden calf, the GPA, is a terribly inadequate measure of it.

A measure of intelligence, how exciting, but it is not. Premature can do funny things to a student and when he fails, when he is forced to think of the thought of an employer checking his record may a student forget why he came to college.

The great emphasis on the intelligence and the status themselves are a result of GPA. It is the cause of most changing and criticism in the classrooms. It is so prevalent that a critical examination on student grading has been forced to investigate and make recommendations.

However, the question always arises in "What can be done about it?" It's a question that's been pondered for years on the matter always comes 4.0 (4.0)

"Nothing," unless the student himself takes the initiative.

If he realizes that sharing his neighbor papers or handing over test answers to his "friend" for testing an answer, as is the course of the case, changes, then something can be done.

Not a single group of people around the Hill or the young men who thought they'd prove he wasn't always what he was, could do anything about it.

One of the fellows took a bird and placed it between the palms of his hands and said to his columns, "Let's go it the wise old man if the bird in his head is dead or alive, if it is he could pull out the head, I can do it."

And they went and questioned the wise old man and the young man was simply the young man.

So it is with our intelligence. We can be brilliant for a moment, but can never share it or enrich our own intelligence and be intelligent for all time. It is as we will it.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Your Host and Hostess: John and Emily

The Gaslight Diner

Specialists in the art of plate making

Top Sirloin - $2.75

Rib Eye - $2.40

Chicken - $1.50

Your Host and Hostess John and Emily Fung

565 5th St.

Monrorey
Engineering Week Slates Feb. 16-22 Celebration

February 16th is organized as a day for students to display their talents and devotions in a variety of activities. Among the events, one of the most anticipated is the annual Fashion Show, which will feature student-designed clothing and accessories. The festivities will culminate in a grand awards ceremony on February 21st, where outstanding contributions will be recognized. In addition, there will be a student talent contest, which promises to showcase a range of skills and performances. It is expected that the week will be a flurry of creative expression and competitive spirit, with events taking place throughout the week.

Health Center Physician Explains Procedures

Health Center physician, Dr. Mounts, has explained the procedures of the Health Center, emphasizing the availability of emergency care and general health services. He highlighted the importance of regular check-ups and the benefits of preventive care. Dr. Mounts also addressed the role of the Health Center in supporting student wellness, urging students to utilize its resources proactively. He further emphasized the need for students to maintain good health habits and seek timely medical attention for any concerns.

Margaret Fannin Rules As ROTC Ball Queen

Margaret Fannin has been crowned the ROTC Ball Queen at the annual ROTC Military Ball. The event was held at the Anderson Inn on Thursday, February 14th, with a grand reception and a formal ball. Attendees were dressed in their finest attire, and the atmosphere was one of celebration and honor. Margaret's selection as Queen is a testament to her leadership qualities and her dedication to ROTC services. The event was well-attended, with guests including military personnel and high-ranking officers.

Student Services Update:变化

There has been an update in the Student Services, with new developments in the Health Center and the ROTC Ball. The Health Center now offers expanded emergency services, providing care for urgent medical issues around the clock. The ROTC Ball Queen, Margaret Fannin, has been recognized for her contributions to the ROTC program. These updates are aimed at enhancing the student experience and ensuring the well-being and academic success of all students.

Pottery Art On Display

The Art Department is showcasing a variety of pottery art in their gallery. The exhibit features works by both faculty members and students, reflecting a range of styles and techniques. The display will be open to the public for viewing and appreciation, offering a unique opportunity to interact with the artistic creations and engage with the artists behind them. The exhibit not only highlights the talent of the students but also provides a platform for faculty to share their work, fostering a vibrant artistic community.

Diary of an Events Planner: Planning a Social Event

A diary entry by an events planner provides insights into the challenges and strategies of planning a social event. The planner discusses the importance of careful planning, including logistics, guest list management, and budgeting. The entry also stresses the need for clear communication with vendors and suppliers to ensure a smooth event execution. The planner reflects on the emotional aspect of event planning, highlighting the satisfaction of delivering a memorable experience to attendees.
Mustang Quint Wins First CCAA Game; Horwath Sets Mark

Calling for a Courtesy Call

Crosby Pro-Amateur

Call-Parking Wins

Page 4

The Mustangs have continued to improve as the season has progressed. In their first game of the season, they met the Pirates and came away with a 13-7 victory. The team was led by Horwath, who scored five goals and set a new record for the season.

Ex-Mustang Cage Star

Tourney Coordinator

On-Far-Central Pacific Collegiate

Horsehorses Look For Good Season

With 10 shutouts, Horwath was the Most Valuable Player in the second game. The Mustangs played well in both halves and are looking forward to their next game against the Pirates.

Matmen Return Today

After Rough Road Trip

Call-Parking's return today will help the team in their pursuit of a conference championship. The Mustangs have had a tough schedule so far, but they are determined to come out on top.

Aquamen Invade Pool

For Intramural Meet

The annual intramural meet will be held this weekend. The meet will feature a swimming competition and a relay race. The Mustangs are looking forward to showing off their skills in the pool.

Intramural Memos

After two weeks of the intramural season, the Mustangs have a 6-2 record. They have scored 125 points against their opponents.

Matmen Return Today

After Rough Road Trip

Call-Parking's return today will help the team in their pursuit of a conference championship. The Mustangs have had a tough schedule so far, but they are determined to come out on top.

Aquamen Invade Pool

For Intramural Meet

The annual intramural meet will be held this weekend. The meet will feature a swimming competition and a relay race. The Mustangs are looking forward to showing off their skills in the pool.

Intramural Memos

After two weeks of the intramural season, the Mustangs have a 6-2 record. They have scored 125 points against their opponents.