Williamson to lead Economics Dept.

Dr. Dan Williamson, a member of the Cal Poly faculty since 1970, has been appointed interim head of the Economics Department for the Winter Quarter. An expert in economic education, Williamson earned an undergraduate degree in mathematics from UC Santa Barbara, and a Ph.D. from UC San Diego.

He will fill in for Dr. Panagiotis A. Papakyriazis, who is on leave in Greece.

Computing Consulting Office open house

Information Systems will hold an open house from 8 am to 5 pm on Jan. 17 and 18. It will be held in the new Faculty Consulting Office located in CSE 112. The existing Faculty Software Library has been moved to this facility and has also been expanded. In addition, a consultant will be available during normal working hours to assist faculty with hardware and software questions. Equipment includes an IBM PS/2 model 80, an Apple Mac IIx, an AT&T 6300, a NeXT computer, an IBM 5080 workstation, and mainframe terminal access. Marsha Epstein and Steve Rutland are instructional consultants.

Library will offer Term Paper Clinics

Senior Project and Term Paper Clinics are being offered Winter Quarter by the Library’s Reference Department. The 50-minute sessions will begin Tuesday, Jan. 16, and will continue through Tuesday, Jan. 30.

Students will learn about search strategy, library sources, steps to take to submit a senior project to the Library, and computerized services. Handouts will accompany the talks.

The sessions are arranged by schools or departments, and are held in Library 202. A special session for bibliographic computer searching will be given. The Reference Department has added two general sessions to open to students of all schools. These sessions are for students unable to attend a specialized session.

For further information, contact Eileen Pritchard in the Reference Department, ext. 2649.

Reaccreditation team will visit Cal Poly

The visiting team for the reaccreditation of Cal Poly by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC) will be on campus Tuesday, Jan. 30, through Friday, Feb. 2. Members of the team will be available to talk to any members of the campus community from 3 to 4 pm on Thursday, Feb. 1, in Adm. 301.

Philipp S. Page

Word of the recent death of former dairy herdsman Philipp S. Page, 88, has been received. Page, who retired from university service in 1967 after 23 years on the Dairy Science Department staff, passed away in a Lompoc hospital. He is survived by his wife of 64 years, Amorette, who lives in Santa Maria; a daughter; four grandchildren; and five great grandchildren.

Sports broadcasts return to KVEC

The return of play-by-play broadcasts of Cal Poly football and men’s basketball games to Radio Station KVEC, San Luis Obispo, has been announced.

Also covered in the new agreement, which begins immediately, are broadcasts of selected events involving Cal Poly’s women’s volleyball team and baseball team and the development of a regional network of radio stations for football game broadcasts.

KVEC Radio, 920 on the AM dial, will be assuming the remaining obligations of a three-year, $17,585 contract that was originally awarded to KJDJ, San Luis Obispo, last spring.

KJDJ informed the university recently that it would be withdrawing from the agreement.

Rec Sports relocates

The Recreational Sports Office has a new location: Room 202-C in the University Union. The entrance is now on the front porch, (the main entrance) of the building on South Perimeter Road. Office hours are: Monday-Friday 7:30 am-10 pm; Saturday 9 am-6 pm; and Sunday 9 am-10 pm.

CPR schedule

Cal Poly Report is published weekly during the academic year by the Public Affairs Office.

Typewritten, double-spaced copy may be submitted to Jo Ann Lloyd, editor, by 4 pm the Thursday prior to the next publication.
Newman photography exhibition at Gallery

An exhibit of photographs by Arnold Newman will be on display at the Dexter Art Gallery through Feb. 4. Newman is the foremost exponent of environmental portraiture — of kings, presidents, and creative leaders. He combines the subject with views of the work place. One of his most famous images is of Igor Stravinsky at the grand piano.

Newman will give a talk on Friday, Jan. 19, at 7 pm in Ag Engineering 123. A reception will follow in the Dexter Art Gallery. Signed and unsigned posters will be available at the reception.

The exhibition and talk are supported in part by a grant from Eastman Kodak Co., Professional Photography Division. Additional funding is provided by the Art and Design Department, Cal Poly Arts, and the California State Lottery.

Caltech astrophysicist to speak at Cal Poly

California Institute of Technology astrophysicist Kip Thorne, one of the world’s leading theoretical scientists, is coming to Cal Poly on Thursday, Jan. 18.

Thorne, featured recently on the cover of California magazine as "the man who invented time travel," will talk about "Wormholes Through Hyperspace and Travel Through Time" at 11 am in the Theatre. The lecture has been designated the Jim Hauser Memorial Lecture.

A much-sought-after speaker, Thorne accepted Cal Poly’s invitation because of past conversations with Hauser, a Cal Poly physics faculty member who died suddenly in March 1989. Hauser’s specialty was developing computer programs for physics, including one titled “Hyperspace” designed to communicate ideas about relativity and time travel.

Relativity and other fundamental laws of physics are the grist for Thorne’s theorizing.

He asks the question, “Do the physical laws permit an infinitely advanced civilization to construct a system of wormholes through hyperspace for rapid interstellar travel?”

He asks his questions not to design a practical time machine, but to try to learn whether the laws of physics prevent it. So far he hasn’t found anything to prove that time travel isn’t allowed by physics.

The lecture is sponsored by Cal Poly’s Physics Department.

Berkeley historian to lecture Jan. 16

A UC Berkeley architectural historian will discuss the 19th century transformation of American domestic architecture on Tuesday, Jan. 16.

Dr. Dell Upton will speak at 7:30 pm in the Gallery of the Architecture and Environmental Design Building.

His talk, titled “The Traditional House and Its Enemies,” will deal with the influence of pattern books — books of standard house plans widely used in the 1800s.

The lecture is sponsored by the Architecture Department as part of its 1989-90 Speakers Forum.

Craft classes open

The Craft Center is offering non-academic, craft classes Winter Quarter. There are classes in black and white photography, silk-screening, airbrushing, bike repair, ceramics, woodworking, dried flower arranging, stained glass and more. The classes are designed for the beginner. Sign up at the Craft Center, UU 111.

Celebration to fete Martin Luther King

Students will hold their annual march and program celebrating the birthday of the late civil rights activist and Nobel Peace Prize recipient Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. today (Jan. 11).

Organized by the Afro-American Student Union, the event will begin at 10:45 am with a march from the lawn of the Dexter Building to the UU Plaza, where a program honoring King will be presented.

“Controlling a Positive Destiny” is the theme, and the program will include remarks by Christopher Finley, a mechanical engineering student, and a presentation by Locksley Geoghagen, associate director of student life and activities.

Also planned are vocal selections by the Trumpets of Zion, a Cal Poly student choir.

'Sound Waves' theme of '90 Cal Poly float

"Sound Waves" was the theme of the float entered by the students of Cal Poly in San Luis Obispo and Pomona in the Tournament of Roses Parade in Pasadena. It was among 60 flowered floats that focussed on the theme "A World of Harmony" in the 101st celebration of the New Year's Day event.

The animated Cal Poly universitites float was the only one in the spectacular parade to be entered, designed, financed, and built entirely by students.

It showed a colorful collection of sea creatures working together to perform an oceanic concert. It included a choir of clams, an octopus working with a team of seahorses to play a giant accordion, a fiddler crab, and other creatures. It was Cal Poly's 42nd consecutive float entry in the Tournament of Roses Parade.

CSU Summer Arts has permanent home

The CSU Summer Arts Program will have a new, permanent home beginning in 1991 at the Marconi Conference Center and State Historic Park in Marshall, on Tamales Bay in west Marin County.

An interagency agreement has been signed by the CSU board of trustees and the California Department of Parks and Recreation. The agreement names CSU Summer Arts as the permanent tenant for eight weeks each year.

CSU Summer Arts annually draws more than 500 students, faculty and guest artists. Classes, workshops and smaller performances will be held at Marconi, while larger concerts will take place in the community or at Sonoma State University.

The conference center is situated on a wooded, 62-acre site, which was once the property of radio inventor Guglielmo Marconi. The facility served as one of Marconi's original wireless radio stations which was part of a worldwide network. The site was later operated as a radio station by RCA Corp. The conference center includes hotel-style rooms, lounges, meeting and classrooms, a variety of recreational activities, and a dining facility.

The first CSU Summer Arts Program was held on the Cal Poly campus in 1985, and then subsequently played host to two additional programs in 1986 and 1987.

Statistical consulting Winter Quarter

The Statistics Department provides a statistical consulting service to the university to facilitate research design and data analysis in a wide variety of disciplines.

Dr. John Groves will be serving as the main consultant. He is available to help in design and analysis of faculty and student research projects. In addition, he will be available to lead seminars or tutorials on requested topics and offer advice on various computer packages currently available at Cal Poly. If there is some special area concerning statistical inference that is of interest to a group in your department, feel free to contact him to arrange possible lectures on that subject.

Faculty members or students interested in utilizing the consulting service are encouraged to contact Groves, Faculty Office Bldg., Room 26B, ext. 2901 or leave a message at ext. 2709.

Walk-in Consulting Hours:

Monday ................. 2:10-3 pm
Tuesday and Thursday .... 8:10-9 am
Friday .................. 12:10-1 pm

Appointments may be scheduled by calling during walk-in consulting hours or during office hours for students.

Who, What, Where, When

Robert Flores and Bill Kellogg, Ag

Education, presented a paper, "26 Hours at Cal Poly: A Recruitment Strategy Targeting Underrepresented Groups," at the national meeting of the American Association of Teacher Educators in Agriculture held in Orlando, Fla. The paper earned the privilege of being presented in Orlando by earning first place recognition at the Western Region AATEA competition last spring.

Patricia A. Saam, Food Science and Nutrition, has been recognized for her loyal and dedicated service to the American Dietetic Association. She received the association's Outstanding Service Award.

Hazel J. Scott, Student Affairs, has been appointed to the national board of the National Association of Student Personnel Administrators, Inc. She will serve as chairwoman of the Career Development and Professional Standards Division. The two-year appointment begins in March 1990.

Mark Shelton, Crop Science, presented a paper, "Naval Orangeworm (Lepidoptera: Pyralidae) Phenology on Sunburned Walnuts," at the national meeting of the Entomological Society of America in San Antonio.

Manzar Foroohar, History, had an article, "Capitalism and Class Structure in Nicaragua," accepted for publication in the International Journal of Political Economy.

Polly Harrigan, Housing, was installed as president of the board of directors for Hotline of San Luis Obispo County, which provides 24-hour crisis intervention and information and referral for the county.
