SAC approves editor; calls for improvement

Robert Boyd will continue as a Mustang editor-in-chief during the Spring quarter.

Boyd's nomination, which caused much debate and confusion when it was submitted for approval Tuesday night by a 14-vote margin of the Board of Publications, was approved by the Board on March 18. But his nomination was not without struggle, and the process of selecting an editor and the accompanying debate over the nature of the student newspaper may well set the stage for future battles over the operation of the paper.

The opposition led off with the submission of a resolution from the Associated Press staff to the Board of Publications in favor of Richard Davis.

Boyd, who is editor of the paper's student government, continued his argument that technical ability should not be the prime reason for selecting an editor. He charged that Boyd had not been thoroughly tested and negatively stated that the position would be given to the person who had not been in the past.

Following Davis, A. E. was presented on the report of the following elements of the organization, which was originally prepared by Boyd. This included the position of the editor in-chief and the position of the students in their role as editors. It was decided that an editor would be selected from the group who had previously occupied the position.

Following Davis, A. E. presented the next point and the resolution of the Board of Publications was approved by a vote of 14 to 0.

The resolution stated that an editor should be allowed to participate in the selection process, and that the student body should be given the opportunity to comment on the nomination.

At this point Boyd was questioned about the newspaper's coverage of student government and important campus activities. He explained his position on how the paper was successful in telling the student body of the major events by showing a list of more copies of the Mustang than ever before, which would prove that the student body would not be improved.

The idea of training another person to be editor during the Spring quarter was rejected by many of the students opposed to the nomination.

At this point Boyd was questioned about the newspaper's coverage of student government and important campus activities. He explained his position on how the paper was successful in telling the student body of the major events by showing a list of more copies of the Mustang than ever before, which would prove that the student body would not be improved.

The idea of training another person to be editor during the Spring quarter was rejected by many of the students opposed to the nomination.

At this point Boyd was questioned about the newspaper's coverage of student government and important campus activities. He explained his position on how the paper was successful in telling the student body of the major events by showing a list of more copies of the Mustang than ever before, which would prove that the student body would not be improved.

The idea of training another person to be editor during the Spring quarter was rejected by many of the students opposed to the nomination.

At this point Boyd was questioned about the newspaper's coverage of student government and important campus activities. He explained his position on how the paper was successful in telling the student body of the major events by showing a list of more copies of the Mustang than ever before, which would prove that the student body would not be improved.

The idea of training another person to be editor during the Spring quarter was rejected by many of the students opposed to the nomination.
Wrestlers NCAA champions!

NATIONAL CHAMPS... Cal Poly's wrestling team took first place in the National Collegiate Wrestling Championships in Mankato, Minnesota last weekend. The team, (left to right) front row: Tom Miles, Mike Ruiz, Jesse Flores, Lennis Cowell, John Garcia, Nick Remer and Quinn Morgan. Standing: Coach Vaughan Hitchcock, Joe Faro, Joe Garrett, Tom Miles, Dean Highlander, Terry Wigglesworth, John Miller, Dennis Downing and Assistant Coach Sam Cowett.

When the '66-'67 wrestling season opened, hopes for a national title appeared to be an unrealistic dream, but less than four months later the dream had materialized into reality.

Last Saturday night in Mendota, Min., Coach Vaughan Hitchcock’s Mustangs were crowned the 1966 NCAA Small College Wrestling Champion and the dream had come true. A total of 58 points, two individual champions, one runner-up and a fourth place brought the title to Cal Poly. It was first national (NCAA) championship ever won by a Cal Poly team.

Last year the Mustang grapplers came within reach and finished second, but this year they walked off with all the marbles. Willamette College was second with 51 points, Portland State third with 48, and 1965 titbit Mankato. Cal Poly earned a 13-pnt lead over second finishing school Wilkes College was second with 51 points, Portland State third with 48, and 1965 titbit Mankato.

In the first minute of the opening match of the year Remer badly twisted a knee and had to drop out. Another stalwart for Cal Poly was Bob Kerkut, who Hitchcock was counting on. Also eligible and later left school to join the Navy.

Senior Mike Remer, 1965 third placer at 118 lbs in the small college tournament, nearly had his season and hopes before it started. In the first minute of the opening match of the year Remer badly twisted a knee and had to drop out. Cal Poly applied to the NCAA to grant Remer another year's eligibility as a hardship case, but the league refused. Remer returned to the mat knowing that at any time his bad knee might flare up and his career would be over.

He shared the 123-pound dual match chores with John Garcia and Remer posted a respectable 4-2-1 mark. In the last dual match of the season Remer battled defending 116-pound champ Steve Johnson to a 2-2 draw. At the NCAA tournament Johnson beat Remer for the individual title.

The loss of these two thinned the Mustang depth. But this wasn't a crisis. Although Cal Poly had dominated the California opposition from stubborn league rival Fresno State, they were not all that good. Hitchcock was still leary about recovering from a bad knee might flare up and his career would be over.

Remer and Quinn Morgan. Standing: Coach Vaughan Hitchcock, Joe Faro, Joe Garrett, Tom Miles, Dean Highlander, Terry Wigglesworth, John Miller, Dennis Downing and Assistant Coach Sam Cowett.

The Mustangs were rated 1968-66 wrestling national title appeared to be an unrealistic dream, but less than four months later the dream had materialized into reality.

Last Saturday night in Mendota, Min., Coach Vaughan Hitchcock’s Mustangs were crowned the 1966 NCAA Small College Wrestling Champion and the dream had come true. A total of 58 points, two individual champions, one runner-up and a fourth place brought the title to Cal Poly. It was first national (NCAA) championship ever won by a Cal Poly team.

Last year the Mustang grapplers came within reach and finished second, but this year they walked off with all the marbles. Willamette College was second with 51 points, Portland State third with 48, and 1965 titbit Mankato. Cal Poly earned a 13-pnt lead over second finishing school Wilkes College was second with 51 points, Portland State third with 48, and 1965 titbit Mankato.

In the first minute of the opening match of the year Remer badly twisted a knee and had to drop out. Another stalwart for Cal Poly was Bob Kerkut, who Hitchcock was counting on. Also eligible and later left school to join the Navy.

Senior Mike Remer, 1965 third placer at 118 lbs in the small college tournament, nearly had his season and hopes before it started. In the first minute of the opening match of the year Remer badly twisted a knee and had to drop out. Cal Poly applied to the NCAA to grant Remer another year's eligibility as a hardship case, but the league refused. Remer returned to the mat knowing that at any time his bad knee might flare up and his career would be over.

He shared the 123-pound dual match chores with John Garcia and Remer posted a respectable 4-2-1 mark. In the last dual match of the season Remer battled defending 116-pound champ Steve Johnson to a 2-2 draw. At the NCAA tournament Johnson beat Remer for the individual title.

The loss of these two thinned the Mustang depth. But this wasn't a crisis. Although Cal Poly had dominated the California opposition from stubborn league rival Fresno State, they were not all that good. Hitchcock was still leary about recovering from a bad knee might flare up and his career would be over.

Remer and Quinn Morgan. Standing: Coach Vaughan Hitchcock, Joe Faro, Joe Garrett, Tom Miles, Dean Highlander, Terry Wigglesworth, John Miller, Dennis Downing and Assistant Coach Sam Cowett.

When the '66-'67 wrestling season opened, hopes for a national title appeared to be an unrealistic dream, but less than four months later the dream had materialized into reality.

Last Saturday night in Mendota, Min., Coach Vaughan Hitchcock’s Mustangs were crowned the 1966 NCAA Small College Wrestling Champion and the dream had come true. A total of 58 points, two individual champions, one runner-up and a fourth place brought the title to Cal Poly. It was first national (NCAA) championship ever won by a Cal Poly team.

Last year the Mustang grapplers came within reach and finished second, but this year they walked off with all the marbles. Willamette College was second with 51 points, Portland State third with 48, and 1965 titbit Mankato. Cal Poly earned a 13-pnt lead over second finishing school Wilkes College was second with 51 points, Portland State third with 48, and 1965 titbit Mankato.

In the first minute of the opening match of the year Remer badly twisted a knee and had to drop out. Another stalwart for Cal Poly was Bob Kerkut, who Hitchcock was counting on. Also eligible and later left school to join the Navy.

Senior Mike Remer, 1965 third placer at 118 lbs in the small college tournament, nearly had his season and hopes before it started. In the first minute of the opening match of the year Remer badly twisted a knee and had to drop out. Cal Poly applied to the NCAA to grant Remer another year's eligibility as a hardship case, but the league refused. Remer returned to the mat knowing that at any time his bad knee might flare up and his career would be over.

He shared the 123-pound dual match chores with John Garcia and Remer posted a respectable 4-2-1 mark. In the last dual match of the season Remer battled defending 116-pound champ Steve Johnson to a 2-2 draw. At the NCAA tournament Johnson beat Remer for the individual title.

The loss of these two thinned the Mustang depth. But this wasn't a crisis. Although Cal Poly had dominated the California opposition from stubborn league rival Fresno State, they were not all that good. Hitchcock was still leary about recovering from a bad knee might flare up and his career would be over.

Remer and Quinn Morgan. Standing: Coach Vaughan Hitchcock, Joe Faro, Joe Garrett, Tom Miles, Dean Highlander, Terry Wigglesworth, John Miller, Dennis Downing and Assistant Coach Sam Cowett.

The Mustangs were rated 1968-66 wrestling national title appeared to be an unrealistic dream, but less than four months later the dream had materialized into reality.

Last Saturday night in Mendota, Min., Coach Vaughan Hitchcock’s Mustangs were crowned the 1966 NCAA Small College Wrestling Champion and the dream had come true. A total of 58 points, two individual champions, one runner-up and a fourth place brought the title to Cal Poly. It was first national (NCAA) championship ever won by a Cal Poly team.

Last year the Mustang grapplers came within reach and finished second, but this year they walked off with all the marbles. Willamette College was second with 51 points, Portland State third with 48, and 1965 titbit Mankato. Cal Poly earned a 13-pnt lead over second finishing school Wilkes College was second with 51 points, Portland State third with 48, and 1965 titbit Mankato.

In the first minute of the opening match of the year Remer badly twisted a knee and had to drop out. Another stalwart for Cal Poly was Bob Kerkut, who Hitchcock was counting on. Also eligible and later left school to join the Navy.

Senior Mike Remer, 1965 third placer at 118 lbs in the small college tournament, nearly had his season and hopes before it started. In the first minute of the opening match of the year Remer badly twisted a knee and had to drop out. Cal Poly applied to the NCAA to grant Remer another year's eligibility as a hardship case, but the league refused. Remer returned to the mat knowing that at any time his bad knee might flare up and his career would be over. He shared the 123-pound dual match chores with John Garcia and Remer posted a respectable 4-2-1 mark. In the last dual match of the season Remer battled defending 116-pound champ Steve Johnson to a 2-2 draw. At the NCAA tournament Johnson beat Remer for the individual title.

The loss of these two thinned the Mustang depth. But this wasn't a crisis. Although Cal Poly had dominated the California opposition from stubborn league rival Fresno State, they were not all that good. Hitchcock was still leary about recovering from a bad knee might flare up and his career would be over.

Remer and Quinn Morgan. Standing: Coach Vaughan Hitchcock, Joe Faro, Joe Garrett, Tom Miles, Dean Highlander, Terry Wigglesworth, John Miller, Dennis Downing and Assistant Coach Sam Cowett.

The Mustangs were rated 1968-66 wrestling national title appeared to be an unrealistic dream, but less than four months later the dream had materialized into reality.

Last Saturday night in Mendota, Min., Coach Vaughan Hitchcock’s Mustangs were crowned the 1966 NCAA Small College Wrestling Champion and the dream had come true. A total of 58 points, two individual champions, one runner-up and a fourth place brought the title to Cal Poly. It was first national (NCAA) championship ever won by a Cal Poly team.

Last year the Mustang grapplers came within reach and finished second, but this year they walked off with all the marbles. Willamette College was second with 51 points, Portland State third with 48, and 1965 titbit Mankato. Cal Poly earned a 13-pnt lead over second finishing school Wilkes College was second with 51 points, Portland State third with 48, and 1965 titbit Mankato.

In the first minute of the opening match of the year Remer badly twisted a knee and had to drop out. Another stalwart for Cal Poly was Bob Kerkut, who Hitchcock was counting on. Also eligible and later left school to join the Navy.

Senior Mike Remer, 1965 third placer at 118 lbs in the small college tournament, nearly had his season and hopes before it started. In the first minute of the opening match of the year Remer badly twisted a knee and had to drop out. Cal Poly applied to the NCAA to grant Remer another year's eligibility as a hardship case, but the league refused. Remer returned to the mat knowing that at any time his bad knee might flare up and his career would be over. He shared the 123-pound dual match chores with John Garcia and Remer posted a respectable 4-2-1 mark. In the last dual match of the season Remer battled defending 116-pound champ Steve Johnson to a 2-2 draw. At the NCAA tournament Johnson beat Remer for the individual title.

The loss of these two thinned the Mustang depth. But this wasn't a crisis. Although Cal Poly had dominated the California opposition from stubborn league rival Fresno State, they were not all that good. Hitchcock was still leary about recovering from a bad knee might flare up and his career would be over. Remer and Quinn Morgan. Standing: Coach Vaughan Hitchcock, Joe Faro, Joe Garrett, Tom Miles, Dean Highlander, Terry Wigglesworth, John Miller, Dennis Downing and Assistant Coach Sam Cowett.