$6.3 Million grant for new science building

A proposed capital-outlay budget of nearly $6.3 million for new science buildings at San Diego State College was approved by the State Board of Control during its recent meeting at San Diego State College.

The one-year budget anticipate that about 2,800 students will attend all 14 specialized training instructors at least 203 specialized class sessions, besides 108 special class sessions, in the college's science building programs.

The proposed budget, aimed at the Engineering, Science, and Technology areas, has been approved by the State Board of Control.

Of the proposed budget, $1.5 million will be used for the new science building in the area now occupied by an old building on the campus.

The new buildings will include laboratory facilities, classrooms,
and office space for faculty.

The proposed capital-outlay budget is a part of the college's overall plan to expand and improve its facilities.

Degrees conferred on 1,471 graduates

Student registration at San Diego State College, one of the largest in the state, has reached an all-time high for summer session, according to the latest figures released by the college.

The total enrollment for the summer session is currently 5,000 students, the highest enrollment ever recorded for a single session.

The summer session begins Monday, June 26, and the regular summer quarter begins July 24.

Workshop held for local English instructors here

Fifty English teachers from 11 different high schools throughout the San Jose area have completed an intensive summer workshop on the teaching of English literature and language.

The workshop was conducted by the University of California at San Diego and was supported by the California State Department of Education and the National Endowment for the Arts.

Wounded grad comes home

Camp, Kenneth D. Tarlin, a 1966 alumni of the University of California, Los Angeles, arrived recently at his home in San Francisco after being wounded in Vietnam.

In a letter to his family, Camp said he was looking forward to returning to his studies at UC Berkeley and to continuing his career in the medical field.

The letter ended with, "I wish you could see me. I'm doing pretty well."

CATA conference

California Agriculture Teachers Association is now conducting its annual CATA Con­ference in San Francisco.

The theme for the conference is "The Future of Education for Agriculture," and the program will cover topics such as curriculum development and administration.

The conference is expected to be attended by teachers, administrators, and other educators from throughout the state.

The conference will be held June 20-23 at the Palace of Fine Arts in San Francisco.

The annual meeting of the CATA conference is a major event in the agriculture education calendar.
1968 Poly Royal Board Selected

- Jack Knobloch of San Luis Obispo has been elected president of the 1967-68 Poly Royal.

- Other board members elected are as follows: Ed Westman, first assistant; Ron Rathussey, second assistant; Barbara Nist, secretary; Steve Neman, treasurer; Neil Bowser, chairman of agriculture; Gail Robbins, director of applied arts.

- Diana Blake, director of applied sciences; Bob Trant, director of English; Dick Johnson, director of arrangements; Kent Schindler, director of special events; and Alene Holmes, director of publicity.

The class of '68 has erected, in the middle of campus, a gift that is the pictured kiosk and its immediate environment. The kiosk was designed by the Apple Pie of Sketches (National Honor Professional Architectural, in fact). Aligning with the photo was the Architectural Department's Canyon Construction Company.

The kiosk is located between Engineering West and the Library. It will be used for playing games and announcing of campus activities. It also provides a pleasant place to sit and rest, as shown in the photos.

You are invited to stop by and enjoy the sign.

Grant to Ag students

Twelve students, who expect to study in the School of Agriculture here for the next academic year, have been named by the college to share $3,550 in scholarship grants.

They are: Alan S. Dunham of Frasier Park; Robert J. Spiller of Northridge; Jack W. Knobloch of Fontana; Michael S. Graham of Riverside; Walter R. Stone of Point Arena; John F. Ming of Alhambra; George B. Black of Alamos; Harold R. Van Nostrand of San Jacinto; and Janet Van Santa Margherita.

Among those included in the announcement of this group of scholarship awards is the college's Scholarship Committee's three students who will continue their study in the Poultry Industry Department, three who expect to enroll in the Dairy Department, and six who plan to continue in the Ornamental Horticulture Department.

Their selection, announced earlier this week by the Scholarship Committee, was based on recipients' academic records, their need for financial assistance, and their citizenship and activity records.

The $3,550 in scholarship assistance included in the committee's announcement brings to more than $40,550 the amount of financial assistance granted to students who expect to enroll here and begin their study during the Fall Quarter.
Foreign Students Host Program Provides View to American Life

The following is an article written by Mr. and Mrs. Morrow, who have been active in the Foreign Students Host Program at California Polytechnic State University. The article provides insights into the experience of hosting foreign students and the benefits it offers.

The Morrow's have been active in the Foreign Students Host Program at California Polytechnic State University (Cal Poly) since 1969. They have hosted several foreign students from different countries, including Ethiopia, India, Lebanon, Ghana, Tanzania, and Greece. The Morrow's have found it to be a rewarding experience, as they have been able to provide a home-away-from-home for these students and help them feel more comfortable in their new environment.

Coach Bill Hicks noted that one good feature of the 1967 baseball campaign was that he had led the team to place a number of outstanding young ball players. We won the league around .500 and had a 4-5 win-loss record.

The five victories were spread among as many pitchers. Lefty had the best earned run average among the regulars, 4.69.
