Eliminate death penalty to be chaplain's subject

The Rev. Mr. Hyron E. Eshelmann, chaplain at TCU, will speak on capital punishment tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Little Theater.

Professor recommends astronaut safeguards

Donald Eberly, executive director of the TCU Foundation, has found the value of being drafted, he said. Dr. Eberly said that, traditionally, people—men and women, regardless of their financial status or background—will have a small comma after them when the student body will do for a government loan is involved.

The Way I See It

To me it is more than equal to the others. We are very particular about diamonds. We offer you the finest diamonds in the world. They come with a certificate of authenticity, giving you peace of mind. We do not offer you the quality of our competitor's diamond.
English Club growth period of newbega

The English Club central role was noted at a recent meeting of the San Francisco campus.

According to President John Anthony, the group held several "productive and successful" meetings.

"At our last meeting," Anthony said, "we discussed the growth and development of the English Club, and the role it plays in our lives.

"We also discussed the need for more members to join the club, and the importance of active participation in club activities.

"I believe that the English Club has a bright future, and I am confident that it will continue to grow and prosper."
