Series tickets for ‘Vintage’ program

Dance, strings, theatre, and Peruvian music will comprise the 1981-82 Vintage fine arts performance series set for the Cal Poly Theatre from October through April, 1982. The public is invited to attend all five performances, featuring the Odyssey Theatre Ensemble, Sequoia String Quartet, Wendy Rogers Dance Company, “Music of the Andes,” and Oberlin Dance Collective.

Series subscriptions are available for $24 for the public and $16 for students of Cal Poly, Cuesta, and Alan Hancock colleges, which represents a savings of 20 per cent over single ticket prices.

Dates and times for the series are:

- The Odyssey Theatre Ensemble of Los Angeles, performing Elizabeth Swados’ “Nightclub Cantata,” on Thursday (Oct. 15) at 8:15 pm;
- The Wendy Rogers Dance Company on Friday (Nov. 20) at 8 pm;
- The Sequoia String Quartet, artists in residence at California Institute of the Arts, on Friday (Jan. 22) at 8 pm;
- The Oberlin Dance Collective, from San Francisco, will perform classical and modern dance on Friday (Mar. 5) at 8 pm;
- Sukay, four musicians performing on 35 exotic instruments, will bring the music of the Incan empire in “Music of the Andes” on Thursday (Apr. 1) at 8 pm.

Series subscriptions can be obtained by mail. Checks should be made out to Associated Students Inc., and sent to the Theatre Box Office. Single tickets will not be sold until season ticket orders have been filled. For further information, call the Cal Poly Theatre Box Office at Ext. 1421.

Changes in academic procedures and rules

During the summer, several minor modifications were made to grade definitions and the policy on credit/no credit grading. The full text of the changes, available in deans’ and department heads’ offices, is summarized as follows:

1. Courses required for the student’s major which are specified as either major or support courses in the student’s major curriculum may not be taken for credit/no credit grading, with the exception of those courses offered on a credit/no credit basis only and those taken as credit/no credit under a previous major (eliminates credit by exam courses).

2. New definitions have been established for the grades “Cr” = achievement of course objectives at a level equivalent to a grade of “C” or better, and “NC” = fails to achieve course objectives at a level equivalent to a grade of “C” or better.

Lebens back at Poly

Frank T. Lebens has rejoined the university as a member of the academic affairs staff. Lebens, who began his new assignment as academic specialist earlier this month, will work with Malcom Wilson (Associate Vice President for Academic Programs). Lebens’ responsibilities will include academic resource analysis (including budgets, staffing, and facilities), accreditation, and academic publications. He will also assist with academic program analysis.
$500 Award from Arthritis Foundation

Cal Poly's Campus Recreation and Intramurals program is the recipient of a $500 grant-in-aid from the Arthritis Foundation. The grant was made on Aug. 3 by the Southern California chapter of the foundation. The money will be used for equipment which will enable the university to set up a recreational and therapeutic swimming program for its disabled students, faculty, and staff.

Recreation for faculty/staff

Denny Byrne (Intramural Director) has announced a full schedule of recreation and training activities for faculty and staff for the Fall Quarter. Activities include basketball, tennis, weight training, swimming, racquetball, volleyball, and other special events. A nominal charge will be made for some swimming sessions to defray expenses. For a full schedule, or to make suggestions, call Denny at Ext. 1366.

California Tule Elk being studied

Michael T. Hanson (Natural Resources Management) is in the midst of a research project that is expected to extend the life of the tule elk in California's wildlands. Dr. Hanson is using a $3,720 grant from the State Department of Fish and Game to study the habitat and current status of introduced elk at Fort Hunter Liggett, a U.S. Army base near King City.

Dr. Hanson explained that more than a half-million tule elk roamed Central California prior to the 1849 gold rush, but were reduced to near extinction by hunters and losses of habitat to agriculture. Through relocation to suitable habitats, he said, the state is attempting to preserve and increase the elk's population.

Twenty-five of the large mammals were relocated at Fort Hunter Liggett, but poaching and herd fragmentation have reduced that number to no more than 15. To prevent such problems in the future, Dr. Hanson's project is striving to map potential elk habitats, locate current elk, identify their habitat preference and reproductive habits, and make recommendations for future release sites.

World Bank sponsored tours led by Poly Prof

An internationally recognized irrigation expert from Cal Poly has been selected by the World Bank to lead a series of agricultural tours for irrigation specialists from India. L. Joe Glass (Agricultural Engineering) is leading four separate tours of senior level irrigation engineers from the state of Rajasthan, India.

Dr. Glass is stressing the importance of practical experience at irrigation sites. His tours emphasize the need for flexibility in delivering water to a field. To familiarize himself with irrigation problems unique to India, Dr. Glass spent time there last year touring that country's irrigated regions.
Business Leaders Breakfasts slated

The first series of monthly Business Leaders' Breakfasts is slated for the Thursday, Oct. 1, Nov. 5, and Dec. 3, from 7:30 am to 9 am at Vista Grande. The breakfasts, sponsored by Cal Poly Extended Education, the School of Business, San Luis Obispo Chamber of Commerce and the U.S. Small Business Administration, are designed to improve the business manager/owner's effectiveness, leadership, and job satisfaction, and to encourage local businesses to help sponsor their employees' job training. The presentations will be supplemented by group discussion, films, and handouts as appropriate.

The October 1 speaker will be Emile Attala (Head, Computer Science) on "Business and the Small Computer." Cal Poly faculty and staff are invited to attend the breakfasts. Reservations are urged. The cost is $6.00 or $15.00 for all three sessions. For information contact Cal Poly Extended Education at Ext. 2053.

Open enrollment for health plans

There is an open enrollment period from Sep. 15 through Oct. 31 for health benefits plans available to Cal Poly employees. These plans are: ACSUP-American National Insurance Co., Blue Cross/Blue Shield, Cal Western/Occidental, and First Farwest. During this period eligible employees may enroll, change plans or add eligible family members. There are no exclusions for pre-existing conditions or state of health.

All changes will be effective Dec. 1. Active employees are eligible if they work half-time or more and are appointed for more than six months. Information outlining the benefits of the plans is currently being distributed to all employees.

Employees planning to make changes during the open enrollment period must come to the Personnel Office, Adm. 110, by Oct. 31 to complete necessary documentation. For further information, contact Barbara Melvin or Sandra Skinner (Personnel Office), Ext. 2236.

Defensive driver training program

A Defensive Driver Training Program will be held on Monday (Oct. 5), through Friday (Oct. 9). The classes will be scheduled in the afternoon and evening on Monday; morning, afternoon and evening on Tuesday; and the morning and afternoon Wednesday through Friday. The classes are approximately 3½ hours in length.

All staff, faculty and students who have never received defensive driver training cards must attend one session of the class if they wish to drive university vehicles or their own vehicles on university business.

All persons who drive on official state business should attend and successfully complete the course at least once every 5 years. Attendance is by reservation by completing forms available at the Transportation Services Office, Bldg. 71. For further information call Ext. 2451.

Health Reps on campus

Representatives of the various health insurance companies will be on campus on Tuesday (Oct. 6) from 9 am to 2 pm in Staff Dining Room C to assist with claim problems or answer questions. It will be an informal question and answer session and no appointments are necessary.

Open house

The Placement Center and the Career Development Center will again combine to host the fifth annual open house. All students, faculty and staff are invited to attend on Wednesday (Sep. 23) 1 to 4:30 pm in Adm. 213 and 211. Attendees will participate in self-guided tours and meet the various staff members from both offices.

Information and services to be highlighted will include the two computerized career planning aides (SIGI and GIS), scheduled career planning workshops, the career resource library, student employment, job seeking aides and workshops, employment bulletins, employer resource material and the popular on campus interviewing program. Seniors who will be graduating during the next academic year are especially encouraged to attend.

Foundation Board

The Board of Directors of the California Polytechnic State University Foundation will hold a regular meeting on Monday (Sep. 21) at 8:30 am in Adm. 409. This is a public meeting. For further information about this meeting or to obtain a copy of the meeting agenda, contact Al Amaral (Foundation Executive Director) in Fisher Science Hall 290, Ext. 1131.
