Dumke selected to head institute

The Institute for Contemporary Studies (ICS) last week announced the appointment of Glenn S. Dumke, chancellor, The California State University, as the new president of ICS. Dr. Dumke succeeds H. Monroe Browne who was appointed as ambassador to New Zealand by President Ronald Reagan.

Dr. Dumke, who has directed The California State University system for the past 20 years, will begin his new duties at the institute on Sept. 1.

Vince Jones, general counsel for Sears and Roebuck, Western Region, and board member of the ICS executive search committee, pointed to Dr. Dumke’s long-term involvement in academic as well as business affairs when he said, “Dr. Dumke is a highly regarded education leader, an outstanding fund raiser and has met with great success in working with three California governors and numerous corporate executives. He is the ideal person to direct the preparation and dissemination of vital public policy information to those who look to the institute for expert analysis, timeliness and insight into prominent issues of the day,” Jones added.

Founded in 1972, the Institute for Contemporary Studies is a San Francisco-based research organization devoted to sponsoring and publishing studies (four to five each year) about key public policy issues. The institute is a not-for-profit, non-partisan, tax-exempt organization.

Reynolds appointed

Robert Reynolds, a long-time member of the Cal Poly faculty, has been appointed to head the Art Department while a search for a permanent head for the department is conducted. He will begin his assignment as acting head on Sept. 13, succeeding Helen V. Kelley, who has been acting head since Thomas V. Johnston left his assignment as department head last year to become associate dean of the School of Communicative Arts and Humanities on a full-time basis.

Reynolds became a member of the faculty in 1970 after having been an artist for the university’s Audio-Visual Department for seven years. Since that time, he has taught both art and architecture courses and become widely recognized as an artist.

Van named head of English Department

Dr. Thomas A. Van, who has spent the past 12 years as an administrator and member of the faculty at University of Louisville (Ky.), has begun his duties as head of Cal Poly’s English Department. Appointment of Dr. Van, chairman of Louisville’s Department of English for the past five years, was announced by President Warren J. Baker.

President Baker said appointment of Dr. Van was recommended by Dr. Jon M. Ericson, (dean, School of Communicative Arts and Humanities); Dr. Hazel J. Jones (vice president for academic affairs); and English faculty.

Trustees approve revised student fee schedule

A revised schedule of fees for Cal Poly students has been announced by James R. Landreth, the university’s director of business affairs, following action taken by Trustees of The California State University during a meeting held last week in Los Angeles.

Landreth said the largest change in the fee schedule approved by the trustees is the new state university fee of $150 per year. It replaces the $46 surcharge that was implemented last year ($23 each for the Winter and Spring Quarters) to partially relieve financial pressures on the CSU system.

Other student fee changes approved by the trustees are the student service fee, which will be $216 per academic year; transcript fee, which will be $4 per request; and the late registration fee, which will be $25 per late registration.

The revised fee schedule will result in individual students taking six or more units paying $155 per quarter in mandatory registration fees starting this fall and those taking less than six units paying $121.

(The deadline for receipt of computer assisted registration packets and fee payments for the Fall Quarter is Wednesday, Aug. 4)

In a related matter, Landreth reported that a new student financial aid program known as the State University Grant Program is being established to help financially needy students meet the added cost of attending CSU campuses.

Additional information about the new fees can be obtained from the State Cashier’s Office and information about the SUGP will be available in the Financial Aid Office. Both are located in the Administration Building.

(cont. on page 3)
Book sale nets $900 for Library Associates

A profit of $900 was realized by the Cal Poly Library Associates during the group’s third annual book sale held recently at the university. Chairman W.S. Mott said $800 will be used to buy materials for collections of the Robert E. Kennedy Library.

The remaining $100 has been sent to the Los Angeles City Library to be used in replacing rare books and materials lost in the $3 million fire that destroyed that library’s Hollywood Branch in mid-April.

The Library Associates share an enthusiasm for books and contribute to the growth and development of the Robert E. Kennedy Library, Mott said. It sponsors a series of programs, exhibits, and book-and-library-related tours for its members.

Membership in the Library Associates is open to anyone with similar interests. Additional information about the organization can be obtained by telephoning Ext. 2305.

Jeffries Banknote contributes $2,500

Cal Poly’s Graphic Communications Department is the beneficiary of a recent $2,500 donation from Jeffries Banknote Co., according to Guy H. Thomas Jr., head of the Cal Poly department.

He said the gift was received from Jack R. Hubbs, president of Jeffries Banknote and an alumnus of the university. It will be used to support the department’s faculty development program.

Jeffries Banknote, the oldest member of Ticor Printing Group, is a leading West Coast financial printer, commercial lithographer, and securities engraver.

Hubbs, who graduated from Cal Poly with a bachelor’s degree in graphic communications in 1958, has been continually active in the printing industry since that time. He employs other Cal Poly graduates in management positions with Jeffries Banknote and Ticor Printing Group, Thomas said.

Reception for Marcell

Anne Marcell, supervisor of the Evaluations Office, will retire on July 30. A reception honoring her will be held in the Evaluations Office, Adm. 217 on Friday, July 30, from 2 pm to 4 pm. All faculty, staff and friends are invited to join in wishing her well in her retirement.

Cal Poly Festival of the Arts announced

Cal Poly’s School of Communicative Arts and Humanities has announced its first Festival of the Arts—a planned annual celebration of dance, drama, music and the visual arts.

This year’s festival will feature four evenings of classical music in the Cal Poly Theatre: George Frideric Handel’s “Xerxes,” presented by Donald Pippin’s Pocket Opera on Wednesday, Oct. 20; classical guitarist David Tanenbaum on Thursday, Oct. 21; the Ko-Kela Quartet on Friday, Oct. 22; and Musical Offering with special guest, soprano Lucy Shelton, on Saturday, Oct. 23. All performances will begin at 8 pm.

Reserved seat tickets will be $4.50, general, and $3.50 student, for “Xerxes” and Musical Offering; and $4, general, and $3, student, for David Tanenbaum and Ko-Kela. A 25 percent discount on the single ticket prices is available when all four performances are purchased as a series. The general series will be $12.50 and the student series will be $9.50—the equivalent of seeing one performance free.

Individuals interested in purchasing tickets or obtaining a brochure should address their request to “Cal Poly Theatre, Cal Poly, San Luis Obispo, Calif., 93407” or call (805) 546-1421.

Cal Poly officer promoted by Army

A member of Cal Poly’s military science faculty was recently promoted from major to lieutenant colonel by order of the Secretary of the Army.

Lt. Col. Richard L. Jones, originally from Pittsburgh, Pa., received his new rank at a promotion ceremony held in the office of Cal Poly’s president, Dr. Warren J. Baker.

He graduated from the U.S. Military Academy in 1966 with a BS degree in engineering and later earned a master’s degree in computer science at New Mexico State University.

Lt. Col. Jones’ military education has taken him from the Air Defense Officer Basic Course at Fort Bliss, Texas, to the Airborne School at Fort Benning, Ga. Later, he attended the Air Defense Officer Advanced Course at Fort Bliss and the Command and General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth, Kan.
Sandlin receives NASA grant

A Cal Poly aeronautical and mechanical engineering professor was recently awarded a $67,409 grant from NASA-Ames Research Center to continue his graduate student program.

Dr. Doral Sandlin, initiator and coordinator of a program which enables graduate students to conduct aeronautical systems research at Dryden Flight Research Center located at Edwards Air Force Base, said that this brings the total amount of awards for the four-year-old program to over $190,000.

Sandlin explained that the NASA-Ames grant will provide funds for five additional students to begin research at Dryden during the 1982-83 academic year, bringing the total number of students that will have participated in the program to ten. The students spend six months doing research for their master’s theses at the Air Force base and then return to Cal Poly for nine months of course work.

According to Sandlin, it costs approximately $21,000 per student to go through the 15-month program. Students are paid for their full-time work while at Dryden and then receive a supplementary income to aid them as they finish the course work back at Cal Poly. He said the students receive $13,000 for the entire program, while a fee for the faculty advisers and administration expenses account for the rest.

Sandlin, who received his master’s degree at the Air Force Institute of Technology and his doctorate at the University of Arizona, said that the grant will also fund the purchase of a computer terminal to facilitate the continuation of the students’ work when they return to campus. The terminal would be connected by telephone to both the Cal Poly computer system and the NASA-Ames system, he said.

New trustee named

Gov. Brown has named Los Angeles real estate man Roland Arnall to the CSU board of trustees. Arnall, 42, is president of REA Companies, a real estate development and management firm. He is also chief executive officer and chairman of the board of Long Beach Savings and Loan Assn. Arnall attended Sir George Williams College in Montreal. He is co-chairman of the board of trustees of Yeshiva University in Los Angeles.

Dodger Night carpool

Interested in going to Cal Poly Alumni Night at Dodger Stadium, but you don’t want to drive alone?

The Cal Poly Alumni Association is now organizing carpools to the 7 pm, Saturday, Aug. 14, game which will pit the LA Dodgers and the San Francisco Giants. Cost is $5.50 for a reserved seat ticket in a specially designated Cal Poly Alumni Section at Dodger Stadium. Tickets may be purchased by sending your check payable to the Cal Poly Alumni Association to “Dodger Night,” 2554 Lincoln Boulevard, Suite 186, Marina Del Rey, CA 90291.

For carpool information, call Cathy Burt at Ext. 2246.

VAN NAMED HEAD OF ENGLISH DEPARTMENT (cont. from page 1)

Dr. Van is a graduate of City College of New York (CCNY) and Duke University. He earned his master’s and doctoral degrees at the North Carolina school. Prior to joining the Louisville faculty, he taught at University of North Carolina, CCNY, and Duke.

At Louisville, Dr. Van was also director of undergraduate studies in English, associate dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, and director of composition, before being named chairman of the Department of English in 1977. He also served four years on that university’s Graduate Council and six years on the Personnel Committee of the Department of English.

The new department head is a specialist in English literature, especially the work of 14th century poet Geoffrey Chaucer. Dr. Van has been published in such journals as The Chaucer Review and Southern Humanities Review, and has presented papers at meetings of the Michigan Academy of Arts and Sciences, South Atlantic Modern Language Association, and Kentucky Philosophical Association.

He presently is writing chapters for a book on medieval popular culture as well as journal articles on Chaucer and medieval drama.
Dateline

(1) Admission free.
($) Admission charged.

SUNDAY, JULY 25

Elderhostel #2: Continuing through Saturday (July 31). Sponsored by Extended Education (546-2053).

FRIDAY, JULY 30

Film: Critically acclaimed documentary, "The Last Epidemic," which addresses the medical consequences of a nuclear holocaust. Room 220 of the University Union, 7:30 pm. Sponsored by Cal Poly’s Political Action Club and the SLO chapter of the Weapons Freeze Initiative Committee. Public invited. (1)

MONDAY, AUGUST 2

Concert: Donor’s Night of 12th Annual Mozart Festival. Cal Poly Theatre, 8:15 pm. Public invited. ($)

TUESDAY, AUGUST 3

Concert: Opening concert of 12th Annual Mozart Festival—piano duo by Jean Barr and Armen Guzelimian. Cal Poly Theatre, 8:15 pm. Public invited. ($)

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 4

Last day to submit CAR materials and pay fees for Fall Quarter.
Concert: Mozart Festival Orchestra. Cal Poly Theatre, 8:15 pm. Public invited. ($)

THURSDAY, AUGUST 5

Concert: Mozart Festival Ear Opener Concert “for children of all ages.” Cal Poly Theatre, 3 pm. Public invited. ($)

Concert: La Corte Musical, a group of musicians who offer theatrical presentations of early music, present “Book of Good Love,” as part of the Mozart Festival. Cal Poly Theatre, 8:15 pm. Public invited. ($)

FRIDAY, AUGUST 6

Concert: Chamber Music by members of Mozart Festival Singers and Orchestra. Cal Poly Theatre, 3 pm. Public invited. ($)

Concert: Piano Recital by Richard Goode as part of Mozart Festival. Cal Poly Theatre, 8:15 pm. Public invited. ($)

SATURDAY, AUGUST 7

Concert: Mozart Festival Orchestra Chamber Concert. Cal Poly Theatre, 3 pm. Public invited. ($)

Concert: Kronos String Quartet, Chamber Music Recital, as part of Mozart Festival. Cal Poly Theatre, 8:15 pm. Public invited. ($)

SUNDAY, AUGUST 8

Concert: Mozart Festival Orchestra. Cal Poly Theatre, 3 pm. Public invited. ($)

Position Vacancies

Vacant faculty and staff positions at California Polytechnic State University and the Cal Poly Foundation are announced in this column and are posted outside the respective personnel offices. Contact those offices (University: Adm. 110, 805-546-2236—Foundation: University Dining Complex, 805-546-1121) for applications and additional position details. Both Cal Poly and the Foundation are subject to laws governing affirmative action and equal employment opportunity. All interested persons are encouraged to apply.

CLOSING DATE: 7-29-82

Production Technician—Photography, $1128-$1370/mo. Communications Media Productions, Foundation.

Production Technician—Art, $1128-$1370/mo. Communications Media Productions, Foundation.

CLOSING DATE: 8-6-82

Clerical Assistant II-A, $1031-$1215/month. Records Office.

Clerical Assistant II-B, $1087-$1283/month; temporary leave replacement eff. 9/13/82-2/18/83. School of Business.

Clerical Assistant II-B, $543.50-$641.50/month; half-time. Engineering Technology.

Clerical Assistant II-C, $859-$1013/month; 10/12 pay plan. History.

Clerical Assistant III-B, $1215-$1439/month. Academic Programs.

Departmental Secretary I-A, $1109-$1311/month. Music.

Departmental Secretary II-Stenography (Range C), $1013-$1199/month; 10/12 pay plan. Industrial Technology.

CLOSING DATE: 8-13-82

Learning Skills Counselor/Program Information Specialist (Student Affairs Assistant I), $1457-$1747/month; temporary through June 30, 1983, contingent on funding. Student Affirmative Action Office.

Outreach Assistant (Student Affairs Assistant I), $1457-$1747/month; one year appointment contingent on funding. Student Affirmative Action Office.

CLOSING DATE: 8-31-82

Director of Corporate and Foundation Relations, $27,576 to $34,860 annually. Foundation.

Cal Poly Report is published semi-weekly during the summer by the Public Affairs Office.

Kip Rutty (Editor) ............ Ext. 2158
Betty Holland (Graphics) ....... Ext. 2576
Cathy Burt (Dateline) .......... Ext. 2246

Typewritten, double-spaced copy may be submitted for Cal Poly Report by close of business the Thursday prior to the next publication, Aug. 5.