National science medalist speaks twice today on evolution

A nationally recognized geneticist from the University of California, Davis, will address the Cal Poly chapter of Sigma Xi tonight on the subject of "Biological Evolution, Cultural Evolution, and the Position of Sociobiology."

G. Ledyard Stebbins is scheduled to speak at 7:30pm in Room B-5 of the Science Building. The public is invited at no charge.

Sigma Xi is a national scientific research society.

Stebbins also is scheduled to speak at 11 am today in Science E-27 as the first speaker in a public, five-lecture seminar on the evolution of species. His topic for the morning address: "New Light on the Problem of Species."

Stebbins was awarded the National Medal of Science in 1979 for his contributions to plant-evolution theory. That medal is the highest honor accorded scientists and engineers by the United States. The UC geneticist has written many articles and several books on plant evolution.

Other speakers in the evolution series, which is titled "Speciation: The Evolution of Diversity," are scheduled for April 28, May 5, May 19 and May 26.

Charles Luckman will be honored guest for 1983 Poly Royal

Charles Luckman, who has achieved international recognition in two different career areas, will be the honored guest for Cal Poly’s 1983 Poly Royal on Friday and Saturday, April 22-23.

Selection of the architect, public servant, and businessman for the honor was announced this week by Chris Seymour who heads the 100-plus-member student committee which is planning the spectacular spring festival and open house.

Luckman will be introduced during the opening ceremonies for Poly Royal, which will begin at 10 am on Friday, April 22, and then join Poly Royal Queen Adrienne Lefebre in presiding over the myriad activities scheduled before it closes some 36 hours later.

Luckman’s meteoric rise to the top of the world of business began when he took a “temporary” job with Lever Brothers, a large soap company, soon after receiving his degree in architecture from University of Illinois in 1933.

That was the start of an 18-year detour from architecture during which he rose rapidly from a store-to-store salesman to become president of Pepsodent Co. at the age of 33 and president of all American companies of Lever Brothers four years later.

Students vote on IRA Fee

Student voting will conclude today (April 14) on an IRA Fee advisory referendum. The referendum asks for an increase of $14 in the IRA Fee (from $10 to $24 per year) to be implemented over three years. IRA is the acronym for Instructionally Related Activities. It includes those activities or laboratory experiences which are at least partially sponsored by an academic discipline.

The polls will be open until 4 pm today. The locations are the UU Plaza, the Mathematics and Home Economics Building, the Post Office Kiosk, the Main Gymnasium, and Ag Circle.
It's 'About Time'

An innovative concert of dance, theater, music, comedy and mime will be presented at the Cal Poly Theatre at 8:30 pm April 15 and 16.

"About Time," choreographed and directed by Cynthia Nazzaro, a member of the Physical Education Department faculty, features a comedy duet inspired by Samuel Beckett and performed by Fran Dukehart and Cynthia Nazzaro, and an African dance accompanied by percussionists Renaldo Jackson and Leon Taylor. The entire ensemble includes 14 dancers and five musicians.

Tickets for the performances are $4.50 for students and children, and $5.50 for the public. Tickets are available at the University Union Box Office.

The dance concert is sponsored by the ASI Special Events Committee.

Golfers needed in Madden Tourney

Golfers and sports fans will have the opportunity to play 18 holes of golf with former Oakland Raider Football Coach John Madden and more than 40 other sports celebrities Friday, May 13, at the San Luis Obispo Country Club.

Madden, CBS Television football analyst and former National Football League Coach of the Year, will be the host for the celebrity golf tournament that will benefit Cal Poly's intercollegiate football program and the Cal Poly Alumni Association.

Tee time is noon. A reception and Western barbecue dinner will follow at 6:30 pm at the Veterans Memorial Building in Pismo Beach. Cost of the golf, reception, and dinner for the 144 golfers who will join the celebrities on the course will be $100 per person, which includes two tickets for the dinner. Tickets will also be available to others who wish to attend only the dinner and reception at $20 per person.

Celebrity participants in the tourney include such NFL players as Jim Plunkett, Bob Chandler, and Gene Upshaw of the Los Angeles Raiders.

Eight of the celebrity golfers are former athletes and/or students of Cal Poly. They are USC Head Football Coach Ted Tollner; Fred Whittingham, LA Rams assistant coach; Ernie Zampese, San Diego Chargers assistant coach; Robbie Martin, player for the Detroit Lions; Gary Davis, Cleveland Browns (retired); and Dana Nafziger, Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

Reservations for the tournament and tickets for the dinner are available on a first-come, first-served basis. They can be obtained by telephoning Denny Martindale, ext. 1408, or Bob Timone, ext. 2525.

Calling all bibliophiles—

Book lovers won't want to forget the fourth annual Library Associates Book Sale from 10 am to 3 pm Saturday, April 16, in front of the Robert E. Kennedy Library.

Bargains not previously mentioned are a 10-volume set of the Junior Classics, a 22-volume set of the Columbia Illustrated Encyclopedia, a first edition of Lolita, and a two-volume set of the works of H.G. Wells.

Textbook orders overdue

This is a reminder to all faculty that textbook requisitions for Summer Quarter were due in the bookstore April 8. Please be sure that you have turned in a request for each class you are teaching. If you have questions, contact Cindy Giambalvo, El Corral Bookstore, ext. 1171.
Academic Senate officers sought

Elections are being held for the local Academic Senate, the statewide Academic Senate, and the Personnel Review Committee. Nomination forms are available by calling the Academic Senate Office at ext. 1258. Ballots will be distributed during the week of April 18.

Election of Cal Poly Academic Senate officers (Chair, Vice Chair and Secretary) will be at the regular Academic Senate meeting on May 3 in UU 220.

Dean selection committee chosen

President Baker has announced the membership of a consultative committee to advise in the selection of a Dean for the School of Business. Committee members are:

Dan Bertozzi, Business Administration; Zaf Iqbal, Accounting; Tim Kersten, Economics; Stan Smith, Business Administration; Estelle Basor, Mathematics; David Schaffner, Agricultural Management; Margaret “Meg” Harrington, Student; Jon Ericson, Dean, School of Communicative Arts & Humanities; and Robert McIntire, Management.

Donald Shelton, director of personnel relations, and Smiley Wilkins, affirmative action coordinator, will serve as staff support to the committee.

Winslow services held on Friday

Final services for Carleton Winslow, a veteran member of Cal Poly’s architecture faculty, were held on Friday, April 8, in San Luis Obispo, following his death three days earlier in a San Luis Obispo hospital.

A specialist in architectural history and particularly on William Randolph Hearst’s famed hill-top castle near San Simeon, Winslow became ill at his home earlier in the day and died soon after arrival at the hospital.

He joined the faculty in 1969 and was acting head of the Architecture Department for several months after its formation in 1978.

Members of the family are suggesting memorial gifts to the endowment fund of St. Stephen’s Church in San Luis Obispo, the slide collection of the university’s School of Architecture and Environmental Design, or a charity.

Security an issue during Poly Royal

All Cal Poly faculty and staff are reminded of the importance of being concerned for the security of university facilities. Poly Royal will begin at 10 am on Friday (April 22) and will continue until Sunday morning. As all are aware, the event is basically a student-planned and student-managed activity, but it is also this university’s official “open house” to the general public. With thousands of visitors on campus, security of facilities and equipment is particularly difficult.

Department heads should request faculty or staff volunteers to serve for short periods of time as additional security help. The volunteers would be most helpful in making equipment and facilities more secure.

Any suspicious actions, such as “proposed” movement of equipment by other than properly identified and authorized personnel, should be questioned on the spot and reported immediately to the University Police Department, ext. 2281.

However, the assistance of departments in providing adequate manpower for each departmental area during the hours when facilities are open to the public will minimize the security risk. When departmental areas are to be closed after Friday and Saturday visitations are concluded, personnel on duty should take special care to see that all visitors are out of the facility before the area is vacated and locked by department personnel.

Parking restricted for Poly Royal

University employees who will be parking on campus during Poly Royal on Friday and Saturday, April 22 and 23, will need either their employee identification cards or special passes issued by the Poly Royal Board to gain access to campus core parking areas after 8 am on both days. Cliff Young, director of security and transportation for Poly Royal, said the revised arrangements for campus access are being made in response to problems experienced during recent Poly Royals. Barricades will be located at the Grand Ave. and Highland Dr. entrances to the campus core.

Commencement cometh!

The time is now to order caps and gowns. Rental regalia is available for approximately $20, and one-way (disposable) regalia is priced from $18.50 to $28.75. El Corral also offers a complete selection of durable custom-made regalia designed to be used year after year.

Complete information regarding caps and gowns is available at El Corral Bookstore. Cap and gown orders must be placed with Janet Radovich at the Customer Service counter by April 15.
