Moratorium plans set Administration offers cooperation

The Vietnam Moratorium demonstration plans for Wed.
Oct. 18, received a degree of support from President Robert Kennedy.

The college's president refused permission for a meeting on the Library lawn, but offered use of the Amphitheater for the entire day. Moratorium committee representatives Jerry Daniels, Chris Von Drachsel and Constance Brown met with Kennedy to request a shutdown of classes between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. tomorrow.

The day's activities and communities across the country are setting their pace to talk about the war.

Kennedy was asked for the two-hour, stately students' time for an "open discussion of the war in Vietnam." He denied the request, saying, but said that the Amphitheater would better serve him to make a clear, additive, equal, discussion of the war, adding that sound equipment would also be made available.

"I do indeed support the concept that the war should be brought to a speedy conclusion."

Councilmen disagree as friends

A former candidate for President who has written two books, appeared in a movie, fought for civil rights, and been a stand-up comedian is coming here. The man who "Look" magazine "sues his wife to "tear young whites," Dick Gregory, will speak in the Men's Gym Oct 18.

Gregory's views have won him both praise and criticism. "Look" says the points he wishes to make are often hard and unpleasant, but adds that Gregory is the first comedian to come across in a political debate.

Said Gregory, "If there is to be any change in this country, it must be the youth."

One of those "only hope" for "any change" groups came to the council to "condemn the continuing American involvement in the war," hoping to impress their political elders with idealism and guts.

Councilman Blake, a hawk, and Miller, a dove, responded to the petition for "an open discussion of the war." Said Blake, "I can't no
... any change" in the war. It's been subjected to a great deal of national pride and a reduction of minority power. Blake said that the fulfillments of Americans will be expressed en masse.

Both councilmen own printing shops in town. They were classmates here in college in 1947, both receiving the G.I. Bill. Blake is a central committee member of the Republican party; Miller holds a similar position with the Democrats. They are two months in age.

A long friendship, they agree, hasn't been spoiled by the emotional ramifications of political debate.

Several days after the town meeting, Blake said he believed in "the futurity of Vietnam dead.
... any change" in the war. It's been subjected to a great deal of national pride and a reduction of minority power. Blake said that the fulfillments of Americans will be expressed en masse.

Blake supports the right of students to dissent (though he denounces "destruction, protest"). But the moratorium petition for Oct. 18 "would not possibly have been sounded out by the council," he said.

Said Miller, "Our country has a history of standing up for what is right. A movement of troops from Vietnam will not change the lot of minority power. Priorities seek their own level.

"People have pretty much made up their minds on the war," said Miller. "There are people who are now undecided will be afferted by the moratorium, but not people my age. Older people, in sympathy with the military, will be more entrenched against youth.

The country will change, said Blake, with "an attitude of national pride" and a reduction of "jealousy between people.

The rhetoric of friends and colleagues usually has its microscope. A picture of Ronald Reagan (smiling) is displayed promi-nently in the Blake Privetary office. One cannot enter the Miller Privetary Office without noticing the wall photographs of Malcolm X (angry, gesturing).
Letters to the editor

Moratorium stirs some anger

Editor: Not that Cal Poly students or instructors have any intention of dismantling classes in favor of the Vietnam Moratorium, Oct. 15, but Chancellor Dumke's edict reported in your issue of this illustrious newspaper is another reflection of the suppressive administrative policies that are becoming more prevalent in California's higher education. His edict, while not directed at the Vietnam Moratorium, is a dangerous abridgment of the individual instructor's autonomy. However, from the timing it appears to be another panic move by the establishment to ward off productive, relevant change in our society.

While I won't press your credibility enough to say we are heading towards war, where does the administration get off with its authority to dictate curriculum or which course should be given credit and which should not? I would argue that an all-volunteer armed forces is the only way to keep the armed forces effective and keep them from becoming filled with discontent members.

I think it would be far better to have a professional army just large enough to protect the homeland than to have a large imperialistic one that might some day turn on its creator.

When Hershey takes his new assignment in February (and leaves his old one) we will be looking for a change. We hope that it will be a progressive one, one that will put democracy in our armed forces system.

Moratorium stirs some anger

Letters to the editor

Editor: I would like to apologize to all the students who saw me in the books and to the doctors at the Health Center who had to patch up those students. And I extend my constitution to others.

However, when I first brought the cannon to Poly I had good intentions. I intended to add a little class to our games just as the Veterans Club of Bakersfield Jr. College does at their games. At first the Rifles & Pistol Club sponsored the cannon and paid for the powder. After one season they no longer had the membership or the capital to sponsor it, so I now sponsor the cannon myself. My brother Tray has willingly helped me load and maintain the beast.

In particular, the cannon is no particular style or era, but just a dream in the back of my mind from years ago come to reality. The barrel length is 54 feet with a 1 1/2 inch bore. Overall length is 16 feet. The carriage sits on a Model "T" Ford front axle, which in turn rolls on two "T" wooden spoked wheels. Two Monroe airlevelers ease the load on the cannon's four sets of tapered roller bearings. The cannon is painted yellow with black trim. I ordinarily use 8FG black gunpowder, and use 1 1/2 lbs per game. Approximately 3 double pages of the L.A. Times suffice for wadding. Ignition is accomplished by under-water fuse and flamethrower.

I really had no concrete reason for building him (the cannon), though I tried to think of one to satify my parents who seemed to be screaming idiots pulling at their hair. I was real torn in their sides.

I've had it on the books since the first day I pulled it across Bakersfield on my way to the alignment shop to give him a pedicure. I was stopped at a buereau on Old Highway 99. The car pulled up behind me as he left the car running on the fast lane and inspected cannon at close range. The trip changed and I took off.

I also remember the woman looked him over to the Long- rines to do some shooting at Poly I heard him from the house 2 miles away. The woman immediately turned upon my CRP guns. I couldn't understand what they were so concerned after it has a license plate. It happens that some concerned citizens found saw some idiot pulling around behind his car called the CPR to complain.

The officers told me that I had to keep the cannon off the freeway. But every September they took the cannon at 65 mph west from Bakersfield to SLO, and each time in a CRP would come up behind me and pull me over, and pass me all the way back to Poly.

At the football games I keep and see more T.D.'s, for I will fix the cannon after each one and after each half. There is also the cannon (11 in.) which will replicate the Vietnam Moratorium version. So come to all the other football games and support your local cannon!

Robert K. Anderson

Another question

Editor: Great meal you gave us, but Tobacco kills you.

One is against the law which is wrong?

Bronn Thomas

Open to the public at wholesale prices

TV-RADIO-Stereo-Hi-Fi Parts

picture tubes—television & radio tubes & parts
phonograph-records-tape-recording equipment
microphone-headphones-equipment
return-changers-speakers—enclosures
Sam's photo facts & technical books

SONY TAPE RECORDERS, TV'S, RADIOS

MIDSTATE Electronic Supply Inc.

PHONE 543-2770

1441 Monterey
San Luis Obispo

Stalled at a bureau on Old Highway 99. The car pulled up behind me as he left the car running on the fast lane and inspected cannon at close range. The trip changed and I took off.

I also remember the woman looked him over to the Long- rines to do some shooting at Poly I heard him from the house 2 miles away. The woman immediately turned upon my CRP guns. I couldn't understand what they were so concerned after it has a license plate. It happens that some concerned citizens found saw some idiot pulling around behind his car called the CPR to complain.

The officers told me that I had to keep the cannon off the freeway. But every September they took the cannon at 65 mph west from Bakersfield to SLO, and each time in a CRP would come up behind me and pull me over, and pass me all the way back to Poly.

At the football games I keep and see more T.D.'s, for I will fix the cannon after each one and after each half. There is also the cannon (11 in.) which will replicate the Vietnam Moratorium version. So come to all the other football games and support your local cannon!

Robert K. Anderson

Another question

Editor: Great meal you gave us, but Tobacco kills you.

One is against the law which is wrong?

Bronn Thomas

Open to the public at wholesale prices

TV-RADIO-Stereo-Hi-Fi Parts

Picture tubes—television & radio tubes & parts
phonograph-records-tape-recording equipment
microphone-headphones-equipment
return-changers-speakers—enclosures
Sam's photo facts & technical books

SONY TAPE RECORDERS, TV'S, RADIOS

MIDSTATE Electronic Supply Inc.

PHONE 543-2770

1441 Monterey
San Luis Obispo

Stalled at a bureau on Old Highway 99. The car pulled up behind me as he left the car running on the fast lane and inspected cannon at close range. The trip changed and I took off.

I also remember the woman looked him over to the Long- rines to do some shooting at Poly I heard him from the house 2 miles away. The woman immediately turned upon my CRP guns. I couldn't understand what they were so concerned after it has a license plate. It happens that some concerned citizens found saw some idiot pulling around behind his car called the CPR to file complaints.

The officers told me that I had to keep the cannon off the freeway. But every September they took the cannon at 65 mph west from Bakersfield to SLO, and each time in a CRP would come up behind me and pull me over, and pass me all the way back to Poly.

At the football games I keep and see more T.D.'s, for I will fix the cannon after each one and after each half. There is also the cannon (11 in.) which will replicate the Vietnam Moratorium version. So come to all the other football games and support your local cannon!

Robert K. Anderson

Another question

Editor: Great meal you gave us, but Tobacco kills you.

One is against the law which is wrong?

Bronn Thomas
Dean of Women has varied life

by Nina Zaruto
Staff Writer

"Who is Lorraine Howard?"

Dr. Howard looked up from her paper-filled desk in the Administration Building and searched my face. For one silent moment she seemed to be looking for the motive in my question.

The answer was either simple or complicated.

The simple answer is listed in the college catalog: "Lorraine Howard, Associate Dean (women)."

The complicated answer... well, that's my story.

After one brief meeting with Dean Howard, I had the opportunity to interview her to allow her to state her own story.

It is the story of one woman who represents the Dean of Women and the first woman to hold this position at Cal Poly.

During the interview, Dean Howard gave me a glimpse into her life and her experiences as she continues to serve the college and its students.

Dean Howard's journey began in Oregon, where she was born and raised.

She attended the State University of Oregon, where she received her Bachelor of Science degree in Home Economics and Secondary Teaching. Before coming to Cal Poly, she served as a university president at the University of Western Australia.

Dean Howard has been working with women and girls in higher education for over 20 years.

She is currently serving as the Dean of Women and is the first woman to hold the position.

Dean Howard commented on her role and responsibilities, stating that it is primarily personal, vocational, and educational counseling.

She is responsible for the counseling of both men and women, as well as parental counseling.

Dean Howard also mentioned her duties as "primarily personal, vocational, and educational counseling for Oregon and California.

She is presently serving as a member of the Cal Poly Chapter of the California State Employees Association.

Dean Howard's story is one of determination and perseverance in the face of challenges.

She has faced discrimination in her career, but she has overcome these obstacles to make a significant impact on the lives of women and girls.

Dean Howard is an inspiration to women everywhere, demonstrating that with hard work and dedication, one can achieve their goals and make a positive difference in the world.

As Dean Howard concludes her interview, she reminds us that the role of the Dean of Women is to provide an enjoyable and productive environment for students, with an emphasis on personal growth and development.

She emphasizes the importance of providing support and guidance to women and girls to empower them to succeed in their academic and personal pursuits.

Dean Howard's story is a testament to the power of education and the impact of strong leadership.

She has dedicated her life to helping others, and her efforts have made a significant difference in the lives of countless students.

As she continues to serve the college and its students, Dean Howard remains committed to providing a supportive and inclusive environment where women and girls can thrive.

Her story serves as a reminder of the importance of mentorship and the role of women in leadership positions.

Dean Howard is a true inspiration, and her story continues to inspire and motivate others to pursue their dreams and make a positive impact on the world.

The interview concluded with words of encouragement and gratitude from Dean Howard, expressing her appreciation for the opportunity to share her story and her commitment to supporting the women and girls at Cal Poly.

As Dean Howard concludes her interview, she reminds us that the role of the Dean of Women is to provide an enjoyable and productive environment for students, with an emphasis on personal growth and development.

She emphasizes the importance of providing support and guidance to women and girls to empower them to succeed in their academic and personal pursuits.

Dean Howard's story is a testament to the power of education and the impact of strong leadership.

She has dedicated her life to helping others, and her efforts have made a significant difference in the lives of countless students.

As she continues to serve the college and its students, Dean Howard remains committed to providing a supportive and inclusive environment where women and girls can thrive.

Her story serves as a reminder of the importance of mentorship and the role of women in leadership positions.

Dean Howard is a true inspiration, and her story continues to inspire and motivate others to pursue their dreams and make a positive impact on the world.

As Dean Howard concludes her interview, she reminds us that the role of the Dean of Women is to provide an enjoyable and productive environment for students, with an emphasis on personal growth and development.

She emphasizes the importance of providing support and guidance to women and girls to empower them to succeed in their academic and personal pursuits.

Dean Howard's story is a testament to the power of education and the impact of strong leadership.

She has dedicated her life to helping others, and her efforts have made a significant difference in the lives of countless students.

As she continues to serve the college and its students, Dean Howard remains committed to providing a supportive and inclusive environment where women and girls can thrive.

Her story serves as a reminder of the importance of mentorship and the role of women in leadership positions.

Dean Howard is a true inspiration, and her story continues to inspire and motivate others to pursue their dreams and make a positive impact on the world.
Constructively speaking

Moratorium: voice of minority

by Vernon Trichka

Eighty-four percent of the Senate and ninety-six percent of the House do not agree with the October 16th “Moratorium” on the Vietnam war. This would seem to be an overwhelming majority, the real voice of the people. But alas, that isn’t the way the “peace at any price” national TV news interprets it for us. We, as the “Guardian” would have us do, must look at the tiny increasing minority to learn what is really happening. Let’s take a look at this so-called “Moratorium.”

What is the Moratorium? Who got it started? What are its objectives?

The Moratorium, as defined by the popular press, is a peaceful demand by the “people” for President Nixon to end the War now and bring all American support home. If the Moratorium of October 16th is not heeded then more active demonstrations will be held one month and two months later. This is the “Fall Offensive,” rather offensive I would say.

It isn’t completely fair to say that the Moratorium is supported only by the Far Left in American Society, but it is quite fair to say that it is their brain-child and suits their purposes nicely— at home and abroad. If we let our history remind us for the moment how eager Russia was to keep us out of Korea or how they had their “demonstrators in this country encouraging us to stay out of World War Two (until, that is, Hitler violated the Berlin-Moscow Pact), we get a better idea who’s end are better served by a “get out of Vietnam now” program.

The New Left is quite able to bring this program to the campus here in this country since they have a new image of respectability, lots of money from New York-based foundations and articulate though mistaken, spokesmen willing to do their bidding. We even have our own

Handball Gloves
3 styles, from $4.75

Official
Handballs .95c

Bike No. 10
Supporters .95c

Sweat Socks
from .55c pair

Sweat Clothing
Kodel Polyester Cotton

General Telephone & Electronics

Handball Gloves
3 styles, from $4.75

Official
Handballs .95c

Bike No. 10
Supporters .95c

Sweat Socks
from .55c pair

Sweat Clothing
Kodel Polyester Cotton

General Telephone & Electronics

Do you have to give up your identity to make it in a big corporation?

“CRACKLE” (or is it POP) group that is encouraging all students and faculty to stop work and show your support of the pull-out (with literature printed by BSD I might add).

* * *

Physics lectures set

First, in a series of informal discussions on physics was to be held at 11 a.m. today in Science K-26. Dr. Robert Frost was to speak on “Physics at Cal Poly.” Other lectures scheduled are:

New physics majors will have an opportunity to get acquainted with their instructors and other students at the lectures.

General Telephone & Electronics

Do you have to give up your identity to make it in a big corporation?

You’ve heard the stories:

One big corporation forbids you to wear anything but white shirts.

Another says it wants you to be “creative”—and gives you a 4-pound rule book telling you exactly how to do it.

Yet another doesn’t want you to buy a more expensive car than your boss because “It wouldn’t look right.”

Is this really happening in American business?

You’re scared of people who don’t fit the “norm.”

Not this company.

We are an equal opportunity employer.

All you need to make it with us is a good head on your shoulders.

General Telephone & Electronics
Newspaper changes cited by publisher

Morton Frank, publisher of Family Weekly, a weekly supplement, spoke to a large group of interested students Thursday evening in the Little Theater. He was sponsored by the Journalism Department and Sigma Delta Chi in a program scheduled as part of National Newspaper Week.

Frank spoke on “Social and Editorial Changes in Newspapers.” Under this general heading the subjects ranged from the job of a supplement to the change in the types of reporting and the results of the underground newspapers.

The journalist began his talk with a description of the purpose and content of Family Weekly. Its basic job is to complement the daily newspapers that carry it, so its scope must be very large.

Recruiter to talk

Mr. Richard Nishihara, a representative from the International Voluntary Services, Incorporated, will be recruiting on campus Oct. 23 and 24.

Mr. Nishihara would like to talk to interested groups, clubs, or classes before October 23, if possible. If anyone on campus is interested, they should contact the Placement Office.

Feminine football

Girls were to practice today at 11 a.m. for the Powder Puff Football game and will scrimmage again Thursday in Mustang Stadium.

Girls interested in playing in the game, scheduled for November 8, should report to practice this Thursday.

Defensive driver training sessions are scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday, October 15 and 16 from 3 to 6 p.m. in the Air Conditioning Auditorium. Interested persons may attend either of the two sessions.

Faculty, staff or students who want to drive state equipment without having successfully passed the defensive driver training program. This will be the only time these sessions will be offered in the Fall Quarter.

Girls to practice today at 11 a.m. for the Powder Puff Football game and will scrimmage again Thursday in Mustang Stadium.

Freshmen, seniors and graduates will be coached by Ed Davin and Jim McSheehy. The sophomore-junior team will be coached by Mike Church.

Girls interested in playing in the game, scheduled for November 8, should report to practice this Thursday.
You've got to be kidding!

People-watching pursued persistently

by John Drexler

The other day I happened to have a minute to myself (a rare occurrence) and decided to do some people-watching.

The best place, I've discovered, is yo olde Snack Bar. This is a natural, since off-beat food and off-beat people seem to go together.

Like this one guy—he sat down with a glass of milk, took a few sips and then frowned. He got up and disappeared into the milling mob behind the turnstiles to return minutes later with a doughnut. He sat down, took a few gulps of milk and a bite from his doughnut. He frowned again. He'd evidently now run out of milk.

He left for the stainless steel row once again. While he was gone, a bearded wonder sat down next to our hero's seat and looked around. Seeing the empty cup and half-munched goodie, he assumed it was left over from someone with eyes bigger than their stomach. In short, he popped the tasty treat into his mouth (somewhere in the beard!) and chomped away with a liquid look of luxury.

As he chomped, Mr. Milk returned to his post and again sat down. He reached for his doughnut and stopped short for obvious reasons. He looked puzzled and slightly irritated. He looked under the paper plate, in his notebook, and finally in the table of contents of his chemistry book. No doughnut.

He turned to the bearded wonder to ask if he'd seen his sweet-stuff, when his eye caught and incriminating crumbs of chocolate frosting on Mr. Hair's abundant growth. With cold contempt, he asked "Have you seen my doughnut?"

The tall-cool-one opened one eye and looked at the intruder of his gourmet ecstasy. "What man."

"Have you seen my doughnut."

"No, man, I ain't seen your doughnut. What it look like?"

"It had little orange doo-dada and a hole in.. Never mind. Did you eat it?"

"Look, man, how can I tell if it was your doughnut if you can't even tell me what it looked like. I mean, did you ever hear of Sgt. Joe Friday looking for a missing person with no description?"

"Okay, okay, did you eat a doughnut that was sitting on this plate a few minutes ago?"

"What is this, man? A cross-examination? No."

"Then what are those crumbs?"

on your BEARD!" our hero exclaimed victoriously. "It was only half a doughnut."

"Ah! Then you DID eat it."

"I never said I didn't, man."

A look of utter frustration overcame our victim, and helplessness hung all over him. Just then, a Security office walked in. Our hero jumped to his feet and ran over to him. After a moment of wild gesturing, they returned to the scene of the crime. The Man spoke.

"You eat this guy's doughnut?"

The Beard started to look a bit nervous. He hadn't counted on hassling the heat.

"Uh, no air, I mean, not a whole one."

"Are you going to buy him another one?"

"I can't man, or, sir—I'm busted."

"Okay, then I'm gonna nail you for vagrancy, theft, and overtime parking."

"Hey, wait a minute! I...

Tell It to the Registrar on your way out."

The Man took the culprit by the scruff of the neck and marched him away, while our victim sat down with a smug look on his face and leaned around. Next to him was half a roll just sitting on a plate. He glanced around him and then popped the yummie into his mouth.

Just then a bearded fellow rolled up and reached for a plate and stopped short.

SOMETHING NEW!

FINGER STEAKS

finger longs' guesh fibers of steak patiently marinated, breaded & golden fried. Served in a basket with crisp fries & butter roll.

$1.09 at

Arctic Circle

Meeting for worship according to the customs of the Religious Society of Friends (Quakers). 10 a.m. Sundays, Campus Christian Center. All welcome.

Are you

GOOD

enough

for this job?

1 yr. to make it, or you're out.

Opportunity to rise and fail in exciting, challenging positions and for aggressive on-the-ground Management Achievement Program gives you demanding job with no description. Must be upper-class, health, pass test, show leadership qualities, initiative as demonstrated by act achievements, writing to move, write and on var of jobs, and risk being fired if not made it at end of 1 yr. The results are all if you do make it!!!

Representing:

PACIFIC TELEPHONE
WORLD TELEPHONE LABORATORIES
BELLS TELEPHONE LABORATORIES
COMMUNICATIONS

Call for interview.

An Equal Opportunity Employer

Sign Up in the Plummer Office

Closing 14 and 15
Colts improve, but still bow, 14-6

BY TERRY CONNER
Sports Writer

The Poly Colts looked very impressive Saturday night as they defeated the Hancock College Bulldogs, who are rated No. 4 in small junior colleges of California. The Bulldogs, who were able to pull out a 14-12 decision, dropped their second defeat of the season by 14-6 on both offense and defense. The Colts' coach, Tom Lee, was very excited in his evaluation of the game. He said, "It was our best team effort on both offense and defense, but we began to run out of steam in the fourth quarter."

The Colts' quarterback, Mike Thomas, made the pass to the right end of the Colt defense and scored a touchdown.

The ball and played mostly around the mid-field area.

The Colts put together a late second quarter drive and were in scoring position when time ran out. It was to be the Colts last real threat in the game.

Hancock quarterback Roger Pacheco finally sparked his team to life in the third quarter. Finishing passing and running by halfback Carl Shelton put the Bulldogs on the scoreboard.

A five-yard pass from Pacheco to split and Charles Howard put Hancock on the scoreboard. Mike Quorra added the extra point to give the Bulldogs the lead, 7-4.

The Bulldogs threatened two more times, but the tough Colt defense was able to hold.

In the fourth quarter, halfback Carl Shelton broke around the right end of the Colt defense and streaked 47 yards for a touchdown.

Third in four-way meet

Cross country team improves

BY RICH BOCHETTI
Sports Writer

Ten cross country runners from the Mustangs placed third in a four-way meet last Saturday.

With the help of Mike Wagener, nationally-ranked Poly Panthers won the event with 24 points. Wagener, finishing first, was clocked at 29:09. The Mustangs, hampered all season by illnesses and a lack of conditioning, suffered the loss of No. 2 man Gregg Tihhiba, who could have added valuable points Saturday.

Coach Dick Purcell, enthusiastic over Poly's showing, pointed out that the Mustangs' first seven finishers improved their times by an average of 35 seconds.

Purcell vowed, "Long Beach is our target of all flight... or move over for those who do. □ If an Interview Is Inconvenient at this time, write to: College Relations Coordinator, P.O. Box 504, Sunnyvale, California 94086. LMSC is an equal opportunity employer.
Oh, Simon Fraser lost too

Poly just nips penalties, 74-7

By GEORGE RAMOS
Sports Edition

Everyone in the press box had seemingly forgotten Poly's continental game against errors, penalties and Simon Fraser.

Instead, they listened intently as the radio unfolded the final seconds of Southern California's incredible 86-84 win over hard-luck Stanford.

Evidently, it showed the kind of game Cal Poly (or Cal Penalty as one observer put it) played. The final score was 74-7.

Over all, the Mustangs were penalised 181 yards and didn't draft like a team that deserved a 3-1 record.

In its first four games, Poly has been penalised 653 yards for an average of 163.3 a game. The opposition has been penalised only 481 yards.

Looking at Saturday's point total, you'd think coach Joe Harper would have grave flowing from his lips. In simple terms, that wasn't the case.

Harper told Mustang Daily the mistakes Poly made against Simon Fraser would have spelled defeat against a good team—like

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Simon Fraser</th>
<th>Poly</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>17</td>
<td>16</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>14</td>
<td>14</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>37</td>
<td>37</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>29</td>
<td>29</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>27-7</td>
<td>27-7</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Evidently, it showed the kind of team Poly raced out to a quick lead with 14:06 left in the first quarter.

For Acosta, a senior from Mar-ced, it was the first of three touchdowns. He also scored onoruns of 12 and 7 yards, respecively.

For the game, he led all ground
rushing with 163 yards in 16 carries.

In fact, he edged out scouls
"Joe," who also played tackle on the rushing statistics. Joe Nips
a junior from Manteca, gained 156 in 17 attempts and scored a touchdown on a 23-yard run.

Another Poly standout, kicking specialist Tom Valenti, boasted 2 of 10 conversions and a 49-yard field goal on a new Poly record.

Valens told interviewers his Abate should be credited for his kicking attempts.

With the aid of two Poly penalties, Simon Fraser broke into the scoring-column in the four-quarter on a 1-yard run by quarterback Wayne Helm.

However, Poly did impress a
new Poly record.

If Fresno State had been the opponent last Saturday night, the score might have been completely different.

However, Simon Fraser prevented the opposition and had a hard time doing that after Poly's
first-play from scrimmage.

After defensive back Manuel
Murphy intercepted a Wayne
Helm pass on the Simon 35, tailback Joe Acosta, on Poly's opening play, streaked through left tackle for 36 yards and a touchdown.

So Poly raced out to a quick lead with 14:06 left in the first quarter.

For Acosta, a senior from Mar-
ced, it was the first of three touchdowns. He also scored on oruns of 12 and 7 yards, respec-
ively.

For the game, he led all ground
rushing with 163 yards in 16 carries.

In fact, he edged out scouls
"Joe," who also played tackle on
the rushing statistics. Joe Nips
a junior from Manteca, gained 156 in 17 attempts and scored a touchdown on a 23-yard run.

Another Poly standout, kicking specialist Tom Valenti,
boasted 2 of 10 conversions and a 49-yard field goal on
a new Poly record.

Valens told interviewers his Abate should be credited for his
kicking attempts.

With the aid of two Poly penalties, Simon Fraser broke into
the scoring-column in the four-
quarter on a 1-yard run by quarterback Wayne Helm.

However, Poly did impress a
new Poly record.

If Fresno State had been the opponent last Saturday night, the score might have been completely
different.

However, Simon Fraser prevented the opposition and had a hard time doing that after Poly's
first-play from scrimmage.

After defensive back Manuel
Murphy intercepted a Wayne
Helm pass on the Simon 35, tail-
back Joe Acosta, on Poly's opening play, streaked through left
tackle for 36 yards and a touchdown.

So Poly raced out to a quick lead with 14:06 left in the first quarter.

For Acosta, a senior from Mar-
ced, it was the first of three touchdowns. He also scored on oruns of 12 and 7 yards, respec-
ively.

For the game, he led all ground
rushing with 163 yards in 16 carries.

In fact, he edged out scouls
"Joe," who also played tackle on
the rushing statistics. Joe Nips
a junior from Manteca, gained 156 in 17 attempts and scored a touchdown on a 23-yard run.

Another Poly standout, kicking specialist Tom Valenti,
boasted 2 of 10 conversions and a 49-yard field goal on
a new Poly record.

Valens told interviewers his Abate should be credited for his
kicking attempts.

With the aid of two Poly penalties, Simon Fraser broke into
the scoring-column in the four-
quarter on a 1-yard run by quarterback Wayne Helm.

However, Poly did impress a
new Poly record.