Aroiivo,
Michigan State scientists have developed an instant eggnog powder, which requires no refrigeration and can be reconstituted by adding milk.

Halftime festivities set

Queens, ugly men, price-winning floats and old time football players will provide pre-game and halftime entertainment at tomorrow's homecoming game against Long Beach. The Mustang band is also slated to play during the intermission.

Highlighting the pre-game show will be the introduction of the 1968 football team, according to Las Vanoncini, director of alumni and community affairs. The '68 squad compiled a perfect 9-0 record and will be guests of honor at Saturday's contest.

The halftime show will include a display of floats which take top honors in the homecoming parade earlier in the afternoon. Queen of the day will also take a ride around the old gridiron.

Escorting the queen will be another winner—the ugliest gentleman student.

The halftime and pre-game show is sponsored by the Activities Committee under the direction of John Lucin. Theme of the festivities is along the lines of doing one's own thing.

Student Checks Cashed...

HURLEY'S PHARMACY

Complete Selection of American Greeting Cards

- Gift Wrapping
- Novelties

We Gift Wrap And Wrap For Mailing

HURLEY'S WELCOMES BACK THE MIGHTY MUSTANGS

CLOSEST PHARMACY TO CAMPUS 543-5950

Mustang Daily

Poultry Club taxi service

Alumni of this campus that have problems walking or cannot drive a car will have a chance to participate in Homecoming festivities on campus. A free taxi service sponsored by the Poultry Club will be provided tomorrow, Homecoming Day.

This annual service is intended to help alumni that have problems walking on campus or would have difficulty finding departments because of new locations or new buildings.

The service will run from 8 a.m. at the Men's Gym until game time. Poultry Club members will be using their cars for the taxis.

McDonald's. opens next week.

We stop building walls, and start building hamburgers. And all the other things McDonald's is famous for: Our crisp, golden french fries. Our triple-thick shakes. And our new triple-decker meal. Big Mac.

We've already built a reputation. Now all we have to do is live up to it. And make McDonald's your kind of place.
Homecoming explained

Homecoming is a good time for "What Ever Turns You On." Last spring a contest for the selection of a Homecoming theme was sponsored by Homecoming Committee. A prize of $25.00 was to be awarded the club with the winning entry and corresponding emblem or badge. No entries were submitted.

Full with a phrase that traditionally belongs to the student body or campus organizations involved in Homecoming activities, the voting board of Homecoming Committee made a selection from several self-proposed titles. "What Ever Turns You On" was favored from among: "Age of Scorpio," "A Mustang," "El Camino Heal," "A Spook Holler," "A Witch's Weekend," "Bewitchin'" "Magical Mystery Tour," "Dawning of a Decade," and "Dawning." The theme selection contest was sponsored to generate interest in and spirit for the Homecoming activities. The prize money offered as an incentive to procure entries was a hopeless failure.

Mr. L.J. Yanoncini, director of Homecoming activities, doesn't feel, however, that this denotes a lack of interest among the student body. He thinks that it just reveals that students here are more serious than ever.

If offering prize money didn't stimulate participation it is not because students are apathetic about Homecoming says Yanoncini, but because they simply don't have time. This college attracts the student who is serious about getting into his profession and when he isn't studying he wants to relax and not work on extra curricular activities added Yanoncini.

A Homecoming title or theme is only important in that the activities must be centered around some idea. The theme, like any title, should denote a feeling and "Do Your Own Thing" says "gayety, fun and frolic" but doesn't give any specifics. Homecoming committee expressed the sentiment that they hoped all float entries would be in "good taste with leeway for creativity, it is to encourage participation in Homecoming activities, doesn't have time. The college attracts the student who is serious about getting into his profession and when he isn't studying he wants to relax and not work on extra curricular activities added Yanoncini.

Several participating club presidents, according to Mike Hawesty (Parade) Chairman, feel that the theme was rather difficult to work with. While it does give leeway for creativity, it is to inspecific to work a float scene around.

Approximately twenty floats have been entered in this year's contest and the club sponsoring the winning float will receive $100.00 in prize money.

Events start tonight

The Dining Hall will be the scene of the Sweatshirt Stomp this Friday from 9 p.m. to midnight. The Homecoming Committee will sponsor Statesboro, a group which, according to Manager Dale Kreedman, plays a large variety of rock sounds. As well as original composition, the group will include hits from Creedence Clearwater Revival, Quicksilver Messenger Service, Iron Butterfly and others. Formed in Panama, the group has been together one and a half years. Its five members: Conley Anderson, Dan Beavater, Joey Miller, John Dalloni and Rob Carter, were recently joined by Kreedman, previous manager for Yankee Dollar. The group is currently working with Jeff Orr, a writer, in hopes of cutting an album by early 1970, Kreedman said.

When asked to compare Statesboro to the former Yankee Dollar, Manager Kreedman said: "Statesboro's music is similar to that of Yankee Dollar in that it carries a pronounced beat which makes it very good dance-concert material." Tickets to see Statesboro may be purchased at the door for 50 cents, with a sweatshirt, or 75 cents without.

For that special person - you.
For your many varied moods -
Exciting, swinging apparel, accessories and jewelry.

For that special place where you hang your hat or gutter: things and stuff for that special person -

I LIVE AT Stoner Glen and LIKE IT!

For that special place where you hang your hat or gutter - things and stuff to give or keep, both practical and for fun.

SAN LUIS OJIBHO
Fred Lucklinger Motors
999 Palm Street
Residence halls set visiting hours

Visiting hours in campus dormitories, which affect over 1200 campus residents and their overnight guests, have been established for the 1960-61 school year.

There are different visiting hours for individual's rooms than there are for the lounge and recreation areas. North Mountain dorms have no lounges. Fremont, Muir, Sequoia and Yosemite have 24-hour lounge visiting hours, as long as the visitor is accompanied by a resident.

Bernard Nagengast, resident manager of Palomar, said that all North Mountain dormitories have the same visiting hours. Their visiting hours are 1-11 p.m. Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, and 1-11 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday. The lounge visiting hours extend from 10 a.m. to 11:30 p.m. on weekends. Anybody caught violating the lounge visiting hours will be asked to leave. Anybody caught violating room visiting hours will be asked the same and his or her host(ess) will be warned against further neglect of the rule.

The Veterans Administration may authorize and expedite an urinalisation of alien veterans under certain requirements.

POLY TIRE SPECIAL

6.95 X 14 or 7.35 X 14

For Only

$7.50 plus TAX & EXCHANGE

(other sizes slightly higher)

TIRE OUTLET

1351 MONTEREY ST.

543-1900

Halloween horror special

"The Lost World" and "Cabinet of Dr. Caligari" will be presented tonight as a special Halloween feature. Both movies will be presented in the A.C. Auditorium at 7 and 9:30. Admission is 25 cents and all who plan to attend are encouraged to dress in their horrifying worst.

"The Lost World" (1925), starring Wallace Beery and Belia Love, is the first and probably the greatest of the films dealing with prehistoric monsters, according to a Fine Arts Committee spokesman. The trick photographic effects were done by Willis O'Brien who later was responsible for the cameras work in "King Kong."

The second feature, "Cabinet of Dr. Caligari," is one of the most important films in camera history, the spokesman said. It was the first attempt at expression of a creative mind through the motion picture medium. In it the audience shares the experiences of a madman and is carried into a world of unreality and escape.

IF OUR HALLOWEEN COVER MYSTERIOUS YOU... It was the Mustangs' capable extra-point and kick-off man, Tom Velez, No. 33, who blazed the pumpkin and the extremely successful quarterback, Gary Ableo, No. 10, who held it. Pumpkins were donated by Jenkins, photographs were donated by Hyland.
Jack gets his name

Pumpkin patch frolic unveiled

by EMILY PERRY
Staff Writer

Once upon a place, there was a kid named Pumpkin. Pumpkin was known for his large, round, squash-like mass belonging to the Gourd family. Most families don't describe their offspring in this manner, but the Gourds were the exception. It was known that these Gourds had some peculiarities in naming their children.

Take Pumpkin for instance. They could've taken plain ole Pumpkin and left it at that. But no, because he was their kid they had to specify real particular something. It was known that since they were of British origin they weren't like regular folk anyway, though they wanted a new name made Pump very happy, because though his kin mocked him, he knew he was "Jack O' Lanterns" to town.

And yelled to Pump, "Hey Jack, gimme a beer." From that moment on, Pump liked it and he realized what was happening, he went straight to Pump and told him that with so much prestige rolling in, it wasn't proper for a prominent bartender to be known as "Pump." Hallow suggested he change his name. So, Pump thought and thought, and though he wanted a new name very badly, he couldn't come up with anything fitting.

A few days later, a tall mean-looking cowboy came into the bar and yelled to Pump, "Hey Jack, gimme a beer." From that moment on, Pump liked it and he was known from then on as "Jack." Now, when Pump went home for a visit, he informed his family of his new name. They went ahead and honored him saying, "Okay, Pump of the Lanterns, we'll call you Jack-Kin. This made Pump very happy, because though his kin mocked him, he knew he was "Jack O' Lantern" to town.

So, when you go out to buy your Jack-Kin for Halloween, think of poor Pump and the humiliation he went through to be rewarded with designations as aviators or as Naval flight officers.

The expansion of Naval aviation has necessitated the development of several programs offering young men flight training as pilots or as officer aircrew members. Upon successful completion of training, these young men will be awarded with designations as aviators or as Naval flight officers.

Male students interested in the Naval Officer program will have the opportunity to find out about the program when an aviation information team from the Naval Air Station, Los Alamitos, California, visits the campus Nov. 8, 4 and 5.

The expansion of Naval aviation has necessitated the development of several programs offering young men flight training as pilots or as officer aircrew members. Upon successful completion of training, these young men will be awarded with designations as aviators or as Naval flight officers.

Although the Navy now requires applicants for any officer program to have a baccalaureate degree, there are several programs available for the student during his last two or three years of college. These programs are available in both the aviation and surface fields.

Participation in one of these programs would allow the applicant to receive his commission upon graduation with a baccalaureate degree.

ON CAMPUS INTERVIEWS
NOVEMBER 4 — TUESDAY

LENKURT ELECTRIC, located on the beautiful San Francisco Peninsula, is the largest independent producer of Communications Transmission Systems. Lenkurt is an equal opportunity employer.
Apathy mars Homecoming event

by DALE KERN
Bulletin Writer

What does Homecoming mean to you? Seems like a perfectly harmless question, doesn’t it? It did to me when I set out, pencil and paper in hand, to find the answer.

What I did get, after asking numerous students, was this discouragingly small handful of answers by a few of the concerned students on campus.

Tom Acosta, sophomore animal husbandry student: “Homecoming means nothing to me here at Poly. I associate it only with being an alumni of some school.”

Julie Chavers, senior home economics student: “I like the excitement of the football game, the school spirit at the bonfire and the parade.”

Debbie Gates, sophomore animal husbandry student: “Homecoming is a time for boosting the spirit and morale of the school by showing off the school and students to former students.”

Vicki Dungan, junior journalism student: “I don’t think that homecoming means too much to the students here at Poly. We put our all out effort into Poly Royal.”

Unfortunately it seems as if nothing matters too much to some students! Many students aren’t aware of most of the activities that take place on campus. If they are aware, most times they usually aren’t involved.

The student apathy wouldn’t be so bad if it weren’t for the fact that it is usually accompanied by indignant shouts of campus conditions. The students that show no concern over campus activities are usually the ones that say that there is never anything happening here.

A college is only as good as its students. No one gets excited over a college full of non-committal existences.

Homecoming affords the students a chance to get with it and “Do It” so let’s “Do It” this year and show everyone that this campus is worth “Doing It” for.

FOR YOUR AFTER-GAME PARTIES

Hallmark Party Supplies
Ceramics and Pottery by Roger Bally
Colorful Desk Accessories by Eldon
Mission Stationery
770 Higuera Street 544-5330

Your engineering career
at SDG&E:
An exciting challenge.

The San Diego Gas & Electric Company is a progressive organization in a growing industry. Solid career opportunities in engineering are available for recent graduates in Electrical, Mechanical and Civil Engineering. Join SDG&E in beautiful San Diego. Excellent salary, fringe benefits and security.

Contact your student placement office for an interview.

INTERVIEW DATE: NOVEMBER 6

San Diego Gas & Electric Company
An Equal Opportunity Employer

Research Car Special to Electricity

Electric-powered research car being tested by SDG&E.
Alumni top leaders in their fields

by NINA ZACUTO
Staff Writer

Five former male students have been selected to reign during this weekend's Homecoming festivities as Outstanding Alumni of the Year.

The men, each selected from a different school on campus, will attend the parade and games tomorrow and will be honored during the Homecoming Alumni Banquet tomorrow evening.

"Initially, names of outstanding alumni are submitted by students, faculty, the administration and alumni at each of the schools. Then each school selects its choice of candidates and submits it to the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association," said Les Vanoncini, director of alumni and community affairs.

The men are selected on the basis of community participation and personal advancement in a chosen field.

This year all five of the outstanding men, whose classes range from 1921 to 1959, are business executives—three are vice presidents, two are presidents.

While an aeronautical engineering major here Hofflund was one of the designers and builders of the Corporation's first airplane. Later he was sold to Northrop Corporation by the instructor, who held the patent.

But Northrop wasn't on Chuck Hofflund's course. Instead he landed with the assemblage division of Lockheed Aircraft Corporation.

World travel seemed to be part of the project he charted out when in 1961, he became the vice president of Lockheed Aircraft In international. In 1963 his position changed to vice president of the California company in charge of the worldwide F-104 Starfighter Foreign production program.

Five years later, after completing a program in the advanced management program at the University's Graduate School of Business Administration, Hofflund became executive vice president of Lockheed Shipbuilding and Construction Company in Seattle.

Later he became executive vice president for commercial programs at Lockheed - California Company and early in 1969 he assumed the added role of general manager for the $100 million L-1011 project. The L-1011 is a wide-body "jumbo jet" for the 1970's and beyond.

Last month, the 32 year old Hofflund was elected president-director of operations of Republic of China. Republic deals with the fields of electronics, graphics, plastics, communication and automation systems.

Gerald B. Block, chairman and president of Republic's board of directors said about the appointment, "His proven sales and management expertise will be invaluable in helping management teams at the operating level realize optimum growth from their technologies, manufacturing and marketing capabilities."

A native of San Diego, Charles Sinclair became the first black structural engineer in California.

According to George Haaslein, dean of architecture, "To become a registered structural engineer requires four years of college, a civil engineer and three years of additional study in the structural engineer field."

Haaslein remembers Benny Sinclair as a good, hard working student.

He was the only black in the class his senior year. According to Haaslein, Sinclair was a good man and a good boxer."

After graduating from here Sinclair worked, for Harold C. Whittam of Whittam, Roston and Associates, a well-known structural engineer.

In 1965 he established Berntson, Roston and Associates in Los Angeles. His list of sample projects includes Los Angeles river oriented and park and recreation centers.

Sinclair believes his advancement is a big step in an industry where blacks have been virtually closed to blacks for years.

"My achievement will hopefully open the door and will make it easier for other men who have the same talent to break into the business world, too."

Godfrey G. Block, chairman and president of Republic's board of directors said about the appointment, "His proven sales and management expertise will be invaluable in helping management teams at the operating level realize optimum growth from their technologies, manufacturing and marketing capabilities."

A native of San Diego, Charles Sinclair became the first black structural engineer in California.

According to George Haaslein, dean of architecture, "To become a registered structural engineer requires four years of college, a civil engineer and three years of additional study in the structural engineer field."

Haaslein remembers Benny Sinclair as a good, hard working student.

He was the only black in the class his senior year. According to Haaslein, Sinclair was a good man and a good boxer."

After graduating from here Sinclair worked, for Harold C. Whittam of Whittam, Roston and Associates, a well-known structural engineer.

In 1965 he established Berntson, Roston and Associates in Los Angeles. His list of sample projects includes Los Angeles river oriented and park and recreation centers.

Sinclair believes his advancement is a big step in an industry where blacks have been virtually closed to blacks for years.

"My achievement will hopefully open the door and will make it easier for other men who have the same talent to break into the business world, too."

The venture was Inter expanded when the younger Gills' joined the business, Gill and Thompson, Inc. was able to expand to include farm and commercial sales.

When the younger Gills' joined the business, Gill and Thompson, Inc. was able to expand to include farm and commercial sales.

May, on his way up the A.F.C.

Agricultural Fertilizer and Chemicals, Inc. is a manufacturer and distributor of a variety of agricultural chemicals, among them super phosphate and ammonium sulfate.

It looks like many every major step in James May's life comes another daughter, so in 1962 when daughter number four was born, May designed and supervised the construction of a super phosphate plant. Shortly after this CropLife magazine, "one of the three, production manager of the year."

In 1966, with a $2.5 million dollar loan for a 40 acre rice and orange tree venture.

May, on his way up the A.F.C.

Agricultural Fertilizer and Chemicals, Inc. is a manufacturer and distributor of a variety of agricultural chemicals, among them super phosphate and ammonium sulfate.

It looks like many every major step in James May's life comes another daughter, so in 1962 when daughter number four was born, May designed and supervised the construction of a super phosphate plant. Shortly after this CropLife magazine, "one of the three, production manager of the year."

In 1966, with a $2.5 million dollar loan for a 40 acre rice and orange tree venture.

May, on his way up the A.F.C.

Agricultural Fertilizer and Chemicals, Inc. is a manufacturer and distributor of a variety of agricultural chemicals, among them super phosphate and ammonium sulfate.

It looks like many every major step in James May's life comes another daughter, so in 1962 when daughter number four was born, May designed and supervised the construction of a super phosphate plant. Shortly after this CropLife magazine, "one of the three, production manager of the year."

In 1966, with a $2.5 million dollar loan for a 40 acre rice and orange tree venture.

May, on his way up the A.F.C.
Hughes, ’53 team: super

by BRIAN DAVIE
Staff Writer

The past was thrown downfield and the coach known as the "Silver Fox" was leaning hard with it.

And the ball hit the ground at just about the same time.

If you had been there and many who will attend the ’69 Homecoming activities were you might remember how Lefty "Silver Fox" Hughes, who coached the 1983 Mustang football team to an undefeated and untied season, leaned so hard he fell over with cigarette in hand while deeply engrossed in the progress of a game play during the 1983 football season.

Hughes and the entire 1983 football team, that year the top scoring team of the nation’s "perfect teams"—large or small, will be the honored guest at Homecoming activities to be held here on Nov. 2.

It takes far more than an ordinary team to achieve the heights of the Mustang’s 1983 edition.

It takes a campus strong, tighter and tighter as each successive game goes by.

It takes a team more than keeping it up at reunions, sending wires, telephoning anxiously and camping at the decks of space-stingy sports editors.

It takes a brace of coaches with titanium nerves—nerve* of the Mustang’s 1983 football team to prove it as often as it is demanded.

The 1983 Mustang machine turned into an outfit that did almost everything well and some things exceptionally.

Coach Hughes promised when he came here in 1960 from Menlo Junior College that he would have a CCAA championship team in three years. His team was in the first three years and was to complete a 19-3-1 win, loss and tie record in 12 games from 1960-61.

"Beating Fresno on the first game of the season when we were favored to beat us by 30 points sort of set the stage for the rest of the season," recalled Vic Buccola, now on the Mustang football coaching staff as a defensive line coach.

Buccola was a Little All-Coast, All-CCAA, All-Southern California (small college) guard during the 1983 season.

"We often scored on the first play of the game," added Buccola, "and we actually had the attitude that no one could beat us, which I suppose wasn’t to good to have all the time."

"No matter what I called, the holes up front always made it go," said Bob Neal, now in the insurance business in San Luis Obispo. Neal was the regular quarterback during the 1983 season and like many of the players in those days played both offense and defense.

He was also an All-Southern California (small college) and All-CCAA selection that season.

Twenty-four of the original 44 players on the 1983 Mustang football team have already indicated that they will attend 1969 Homecoming Week activities.

Mrs. Dorothy H. Rowden, career consultant for the California Library Association, will visit here next Monday to discuss careers in librarianship with students.

Mrs. Rowden’s visit has been arranged by K. A. Rittenhouse, placement director, and appointments may be made by contacting the Placement Office.

Brochures, information material and scholarship information will be available from her.

Find things dull in SLO?
Then take a short drive this week-end to the

Blue Grotto

770 Price Street
Pismo Beach

★ Best Grub
★ Live Entertainment
★ Dancing
★ Suds

Now Playing Thurs. Fri. Sat.

The Misfits

Library careers available

7 BIG DAYS!
STARTS WED., OCT. 29th
THRU TUES., NOV. 4th
FANTASTIC SAVINGS! STOREWIDE!

7616 PAYS!

Now Playing Thurs. Fri. Sat.

Blue Grotto

770 Price Street
Pismo Beach

★ Best Grub
★ Live Entertainment
★ Dancing
★ Suds

Now Playing Thurs. Fri. Sat.

The Misfits

Library careers available
Homecoming concert a failure?

by EMILY PERRY
Staff Writer

The Homecoming concert Wednesday night turned out to be somewhat of a mistake in several ways.

First of all, the performance starred Harper's Bizarre, an Ivy League group of clean-cuts who appeal to a certain audience—primarily poor reruns of the late 50's-early 60's college crowd. To complicate matters, second billing was given to a long-haired blues-rock group, Bigfoot, who completely "turned off" this crowd.

This is not to say that one group was better than the other—just that they didn't belong together in a show.

Bigfoot moved with a happy, jolly sound. Accomplished musicians, these young men played original compositions which needed an audience who could dig the blues and rhythm in their rock. This should have been in the form of a good rock band or a different concert featuring such contemporaries as: Creedence, Rod, Sweat, and Tears or even Jefferson Airplane.

All of those performers would have drawn an entirely different crowd, better known to some as the campus radicals. At any rate, Bigfoot could have merited more appreciation with a different audience.

On the other hand, Harper's Bizarre needed to be staged with groups like The Association, The Lettermen or a good circus act. Audience mentality is definitely involved when they laugh at corny jokes of the "Kingston Trio" era—jokes so old they can be heard on any 50's folk song album.

Although Harper's Bizarre sang mostly their arrangements of other people's songs, they did do some great funky barbershop material, and their salute to the 50's music merits my applause. In fact, 60's music is outstanding for the 50's-type songs, but when they use that choir-like harmony with popular songs, they somehow lose it.

Bigfoot moved with a happy, jolly sound. Accomplished musicians, these young men played original compositions which needed an audience who could dig the blues and rhythm in their rock. This should have been in the form of a good rock band or a different concert featuring such contemporaries as: Creedence, Rod, Sweat, and Tears or even Jefferson Airplane.

All of those performers would have drawn an entirely different crowd, better known to some as the campus radicals. At any rate, Bigfoot could have merited more appreciation with a different audience.

On the other hand, Harper's Bizarre needed to be staged with groups like The Association, The Lettermen or a good circus act. Audience mentality is definitely involved when they laugh at corny jokes of the "Kingston Trio" era—jokes so old they can be heard on any 50's folk song album.

Although Harper's Bizarre sang mostly their arrangements of other people's songs, they did do some great funky barbershop material, and their salute to the 50's music merits my applause. In fact, 60's music is outstanding for the 50's-type songs, but when they use that choir-like harmony with popular songs, they somehow lose it.

Make this Homecoming Special for Her

with a diamond from

with a diamond from

students who think of quality first think first of Ross Jewelers

'53 alumni to see 'future' sights

by NINA ZACUTO
Staff Writer
Fred Lucksinger was mayor of San Luis Obispo. The Anderson Hotel was "the" place for out-of-town guests, and Cal Poly had the only ROTC mounted drill team in the nation.

It was the year 1958—the year a silver fox led a herd of mighty Mustangs to an undefeated, untied season of football.

This week-end alumni from all over the nation will be coming home to honor that fox, coach Leroy Hughes, and his undefeated team.

For those on the team that return and for other members of the class of 1958-54, things here may seem strange. It was a different campus when they walked 10 miles through the hills to Boast of the Coast whipped LA. State 61-0 and coach "Silver Fox" Hughes led nearly 20 floats as Grand Marshal of the annual parade.

For those who rolled through town on the Southern Pacific Daylight in those days there was something new, too. As the travelers reached the campus, the train's public address system announced, "You are now passing through the campus of California State Polytechnic College, acreage 8,000..."

And who was responsible for this delightful publicity? It was the former public relations director and newly appointed assistant to president Julian McPhee—Robert Kennedy.

But things weren't all that different, boys were still boys. Enthusiasm was high that year and the student body almost picked up a tab for $1,200 worth of vandalism which occurred after a game on the University of California at Santa Barbara campus. A couple of men were expelled for siphoning gas from the Mustang managing editor's car. And there were numerous contests centering around painting and cleaning dorm rooms.

Student gripes were much the same too. George Hunter, editor-in-chief of the weekly Mustang, had a lot of people to thank for his job, and the class of 1958-54 was much like the class of 1959-60.

Halloween night brought excitement to San Luis Obispo as Mustangers sauntered down Monterey street to "catch the sounds of Lee Brown and his Band of Renown."

And for the first time in history, the engineers outnumbered the aggies.

Honoring that year was a smashing success as "Cal Poly-Boast of the Coast" whipped L.A. State 81-0 and coach "Silver Fox" Hughes led nearly 20 floats as Grand Marshal of the annual parade.

For those who rolled through town on the Southern Pacific Daylight in those days there was something new, too. As the travelers reached the campus, the train's public address system announced, "You are now passing through the campus of California State Polytechnic College, acreage 8,000..."

And who was responsible for this delightful publicity? It was the former public relations director and newly appointed assistant to president Julian McPhee—Robert Kennedy.

But things weren't all that different, boys were still boys. Enthusiasm was high that year and the student body almost picked up a tab for $1,200 worth of vandalism which occurred after a game on the University of California at Santa Barbara campus. A couple of men were expelled for siphoning gas from the Mustang managing editor's car. And there were numerous contests centering around painting and cleaning dorm rooms.

Student gripes were much the same too. George Hunter, editor-in-chief of the weekly Mustang, had a lot of people to thank for his job, and the class of 1958-54 was much like the class of 1959-60.

Halloween night brought excitement to San Luis Obispo as Mustangers sauntered down Monterey street to "catch the sounds of Lee Brown and his Band of Renown."

And for the first time in history, the engineers outnumbered the aggies.

Honoring that year was a smashing success as "Cal Poly-
Fits on Friday

See this Chico, and come alive

by JOHN FITZERANDOLPH
Staff Writer

Dear Chico:

Last weekend went like this: Saturday morning a Graduate Admissions Board Exam (GRE) was given. In the Administration Building, which must be locked and freedkeys was in charge of the students that were participating. The whole thing was done in three hours.

Every row of desks faced forward; old rows faced the side. Then the GRE had sent eight dollars to a professor in Britton and had received an exam card permitting them to enter the basement testing area. A busker went off after section of the test; candidates were then permitted to turn the pages and blacken rectangles until the next bus.

In the afternoon, on a quiet, hilly street named Cascadore, President Robert Kennedy answered his doorbell. Inside, he ranted questions for "Alternative" magazine for an hour and a half.

Kennedy said he is a catalyst in his position he can't make all friends and no enemies. The Vietnam Moratorium Committee asked him on Oct. 15 for permission to rally beside the Library. The day they had already printed brochures to do so. It was all written out and planned. Kennedy said he is not ready to give formal permission.

Back, some faculty members were upset believing Kennedy looked under. "We want mad at other... the wrong things," he said.

That evening, San Francisco's Bay Bridge attracted swimmers with outreached fingers. Beggars whispered for alms. Chilly winds made them seek shelter in doorsways chanting news and prices. Drugged hippies shuffled by.

Men dressed as women covered their painted faces with lace. Prostitutes stood around corners trying to impress uniformed men a field with Green Day Posters — while leathers lay huddled in and out of bars.

The Minerv Greek Cafe was on Eddy Street too, and it was crowded with laughter and drinking. Customers danced and perished to a band playing Zorba music. A kind man named Hector, beneath a poster of Athens, recommended lamb and Greek noodles to several hungry tourists.

It was foggy Sunday afternoon on the hill by the Sixth Army Division. High over the water and bridge, President Stockdale prisoners flashed peace symbol fingers at passing cars.

A car stopped. A black armed soldier quickly said conditions have improved since the publicity surrounding last spring's prisoner trial.

The soldier said there is more food and free time now, after the public hearing on brutality. He had been AWOL for 91 days. He cursed the war and said he would be in the stockade for six months.

He was about to say more when a guard turned the corner.

"You'll have to stand back," said the guard, pointing the way with his rifle. A bayonet was fixed on the rifle's barrel. "You can't carry on a conversation with prisoners," he added.

Around two o'clock, in Lincoln Park, people milled around "The Thinker" at the Palace of the Legion of Honor. Inside the museum the paintings of Monet and other 19th century French impressionists were displayed.

An old man stood guard over the artwork, occasionally looking at his watch. His uniform was clean and his shirt collar heavily starched.

Outside the museum, just down the hill, golfers rode in little red carts.

At two thirty, on Geary Street, crowds swarmed into the Geary Theatre to see "Hair." The audience participated they clapped hands, sang songs, yelled the messengers of the players.

The cast sang songs and danced. They said: "To keep us busy" (Continued on Page 18)
San Luis mayor, teacher set as grand marshal

Isn't being mayor a full time job? Perhaps so in some cities, according to Ken Schwartz, School of Architecture professor; mayor of San Luis Obispo; and grand marshal of the 1969 Homecoming activities. But San Luis Obispo is a chartered city, said Schwartz, and being mayor of a chartered city is not usually a full time job. Schwartz said that his responsibility as mayor is primarily to coordinate the faculty in architecture. Each year an individual is selected for his outstanding contributions to the college and community to reign as grand marshal of Homecoming, explained Stan Carlson, chairman of the Homecoming Committee. This year Ken Schwartz was selected as grand marshal in recognition for his 17 years of service to the college, 10 years service on the city planning commission, and for his recent elected position as mayor. Schwartz will be the guest of honor at such Homecoming activities as the parade, Homecoming half time activities, and luncheons and dinners.

"the stores with the right spirit"

CORK N' BOTTLE features a complete assortment of party accessories, snacks, refreshments, and magazines. A smoking department is included at both stores with such items as pipes, tobaccos, cigar, and cigarette holders and pipe racks. Both stores offer Poly students a seven-day-a-week check-cashing service.

CORK N' BOTTLE

1213 Higuera Street
774 Foothill Boulevard
San Luis Obispo

Homecoming parade slated tomorrow

by DAVE SANGER

Staff Writer

Tomorrow morning 14 different campus organizations will carry out the homecoming theme of "What Ever Turns You On!" It's the annual Homecoming parade and it begins at 10 a.m. in the corner of Johnson and Higuera. From there it will go down Higuera to Nipomo and turn right onto Chorro. It will continue from there to Foothill and go directly to California. Continue from there to Foothill Avenue which takes it to the stadium.

The clubs with floats are Boots and Spurs, Poly Gouts, Camera Club, Rally Club, American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics, S.A.M., Los Lecheros Dairy Club, Ornamental Horticulture Department, Lambda Delta Sigma, Crop Department, Home Economics and Agricultural Engineering Department, Alpha Phi Omega, Ross Parade Committee and the Industrial Technology Society.

The floats will be judged in the parking lot across from the baseball field at 7 a.m. Saturday. Trophies will be awarded to the best four floats. This year cash awards of $100, $60 and $25 will go to the first, second and third place floats respectively.

They will be judged by John Kerr, Dan Luise Obispo stockbroker, Dan Frank, owner of Poly Jewelers, Paul Kraage, ASI president, Edward Garner, Mechanical Engineering instructor and Steve Riddel, sports commentator for KATY.

They will be judged on a 100 point scale. A maximum of 20 points will be judged in each of five areas: Depiction of theme, originality, workmanship decorations and presentation.

This year the Home Economics and Agricultural Engineering departments have worked together on the same float. It consists of a mountain with a "P" on it and a large cage about to drop on a Long Beach football player. The title on the side of the float reads, "Cage the 49'ers."

ET CETERA

THE FUN PLACE TO SHOP FASHIONS & GIFTS

FOR

You and Your Favorite People

IT'S NOW!

851 HIGUERA 544-2312

GANT

The dashing Town shirt

Its long straight collar is fuller in front. And higher in back. Its color frame stripings on deep tone backgrounds are distinctively Gant. Tailored with infinite care from colored goods in a superior cotton blend. Larson's

CORK N' BOTTLE

SAN LUIS OBISPO

Larson's

Village Squire

SAN LUIS OBISPO

Monterey-Monard

Campus & Career Clothes
Progress on College Union

The many sides of the CU are presented here. Shots of over, under, inside and future of the main building in the center of the campus that is due to open by the end of 1970. Photo by Ken Hyland
Homecoming schedule

62nd Annual Homecoming—Today and tomorrow, annual homecoming activities for alumni and students sponsored by the College Alumni Association and Associated Students, Inc.

Bonfire Rally—Tonight at 7 p.m. Traditional pep rally featuring announcement of Homecoming queen and Ugly Man, sponsored by Rally Committee.

Sweatshirt Stomp—Tonight following the Bonfire Rally. Informal dance sponsored by the ASl.

Parade—Tomorrow morning, 10 a.m., San Luis Obispo business district. Annual parade of floats, special guests and bands from throughout the central coast area.

Football Game—Tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. Mustangs clash with the Cal State Long Beach 49'ers.

Coronation Ball—Tomorrow at 9 p.m. in the Men's Gym. Semi-formal dance highlighted by the crowning of the Homecoming queen. Music will be provided by the Collegians dance band. Tickets are on sale at the TCU, $3 per couple. The dance is sponsored by the Agricultural Business Management Club.

ALUMNI LEADERS IN THEIR FIELDS

Robert E. Kennedy... A PICTURE FROM THE PAST.
Chances of an upset are always present in any football game, but the squad slated to romp around tomorrow night hasn't shown any signs of "letdown" so far this year, and seems anxious to atone for last year's unhappy Homecoming presentation. (Whittier, 62-20—also the last game the Poly squad lost. They're working hard.)

Dear Chico...

(Continued from page 11)

 Leafs: They bury us too much, and other things uncomplimentary about conscription and killing. A sign, carried by a pretty black girl, said: "We are the people our parents warned us about."

There was spontaneity; extremism in defense of liberty, etc. When the play was finished, the audience swarmed to the stage, danced and sang with the performers and threw their arms up to the ceiling in signs of love. When you see this play, Chico, you will come alive.

You have to have tickets to get in.

Peace and Affection, Pits.

First play

The first play of the season is Karel Capek's robot drama R.U.R. to be staged Friday and Saturday, Oct. 31 and Nov. 1, in the Little Theater. Curtain time will be 8:30 both nights.

One of 'S3 stars PERRY JETER on their 10th straight win tomorrow.

For the benefit of Alumni who may not be familiar with the Poly record so far this year, here it is: Opened with Fresno State, and beat'em, 27-8, in a super all-around team showing; followed that with a 33-12 win over San Diego State college—and that inaugurating play of the Mustangs was superb. They manhandled the Aztec line, and completely throttled the passing of San Diego quarterback, Paul Held.

Santa Barbara was next, and in their first (and only) home appearance, the Hugheamen squashed the Gauchos, 59-6. San Francisco State was next, and they were mowed down 48-14, as Poly's offense really ran smoothly. Next in line for the Poly steamroller was Pepperdine—CCAA opponent for a year. The '53 team is being honored this year, we thought it appropriate to reprint the article, the San Diego quarterback, Paul Held.

Coach Bud Adams' LA squad is riding along on a 2-4 record, but managed to pull the biggest upset of the CCAA conference when the Diablos downed Fresno State, 14-12. The Diablos are paced by end Bob Spindola and tailback Jim Pentacular. These two have been successful in the aerial department.

Coach Rod Adams' LA squad is riding along on a 3-4 record, but managed to pull the biggest upset of the CCAA conference when the Diablos downed Fresno State, 14-12. The Diablos are paced by end Bob Spindola and tailback Jim Pentacular. These two have been successful in the aerial department.
Camellia Bowl nearer?

Poly to face 49ers

by CAROL CHADWICK
Sports Writer

With five wins, one loss and no "ties," the Green and Gold tide rolls on to challenge Cal State Long Beach for Poly's 1969 Homecoming game.

Kickoff is set for 1:30 p.m. before an expected overflow crowd at Mustang Stadium.

Whether the win over Valley State was "like taking ice cream from a baby" or not is all in the past. The Mustangs' sights are now on snapping a 7-game losing streak to the 49ers, who hold an 8-5 series edge between the two schools.

Last year, Long Beach dashed Poly's bid for an invitation to the Junior Rose Bowl (now the Pasadenia Bowl), defeating the Mustangs, 12-7.

In fact, Poly's last victory over Long Beach was a 21-14 bark in the Junior Rose Bowl on Dec. 18. Texas A & M wasPoly's choice for Sacramento's Camellia Bowl nearer?

The contest could be a "battle of tailbacks" between Poly's Joe Aceota and Leon Burns of Long Beach. Burns, a 228 pound Junior, guided his team to a 34-28 victory over Santa Clara last week. For the season, Burns, 6 feet two inches tall, has amassed 859 yards in 182 carries.

Likewise sparking his team to victory, Aceota transported the ball for 183 yards in 17 attempts and scored a TD as the Mustangs downed San Fernando Valley State, 28-19. He led all Poly ball carriers with 564 yards in 182 carries.

Gary Abate, Poly's leader in total offense, will open at quarterback, but Junior Don Miles will stand ready to aid in his back up duties. Abate has gained 928 yards and has passed an other 885 yards for a total of 1,813 yards. He also leads the team in scoring with 48 points.

For Poly, end Don Svercheck and tackle Mark Silkel will anchor the front wall of the Mustang defense while backs Vince Crooks and Jon Silverman will help deflect the enemy's aerial attack.

Linebackers Lee Treadwell and defensive back Ross Raiser, still on the injury list, are joined by Pete Rihardt, who suffered a rib injury against Valley State. Tom Klemens will assume the starting fullback assignment.

Senior Bill Pandiani, leading tailback, has pushed for 2,810 total yards on 612 attempts.

Meanwhile, Poly's slot-T offense has allowed only 64 yards rushing per game against six opponents. Meanwhile, Poly's slot-T offense has pulled for 2,360 total yards in 478 plays.

With a big, strong line and a fast secondary, the 49ers will provide capable competition for the Poly Mustangs.

The contest could be a "battle of tailbacks" between Poly's Joe Aceota and Leon Burns of Long Beach. Burns, a 228 pound Junior, guided his team to a 34-28 victory over Santa Clara last week. For the season, Burns, 6 feet two inches tall, has amassed 859 yards in 182 carries.

Likewise sparking his team to victory, Aceota transported the ball for 183 yards in 17 attempts and scored a TD as the Mustangs downed San Fernando Valley State, 28-19. He led all Poly ball carriers with 564 yards in 182 carries.

Gary Abate, Poly's leader in total offense, will open at quarterback, but Junior Don Miles will stand ready to aid in his back up duties. Abate has gained 928 yards and has passed an other 885 yards for a total of 1,813 yards. He also leads the team in scoring with 48 points.

For Poly, end Don Svercheck and tackle Mark Silkel will anchor the front wall of the Mustang defense while backs Vince Crooks and Jon Silverman will help deflect the enemy's aerial attack.

Linebackers Lee Treadwell and defensive back Ross Raiser, still on the injury list, are joined by Pete Rihardt, who suffered a rib injury against Valley State. Tom Klemens will assume the starting fullback assignment.

Senior Bill Pandiani, leading tailback, has pushed for 2,810 total yards on 612 attempts.

Meanwhile, Poly's slot-T offense has allowed only 64 yards rushing per game against six opponents. Meanwhile, Poly's slot-T offense has pulled for 2,360 total yards in 478 plays.

With a big, strong line and a fast secondary, the 49ers will provide capable competition for the Poly Mustangs.

The contest could be a "battle of tailbacks" between Poly's Joe Aceota and Leon Burns of Long Beach. Burns, a 228 pound Junior, guided his team to a 34-28 victory over Santa Clara last week. For the season, Burns, 6 feet two inches tall, has amassed 859 yards in 182 carries.

Likewise sparking his team to victory, Aceota transported the ball for 183 yards in 17 attempts and scored a TD as the Mustangs downed San Fernando Valley State, 28-19. He led all Poly ball carriers with 564 yards in 182 carries.

Gary Abate, Poly's leader in total offense, will open at quarterback, but Junior Don Miles will stand ready to aid in his back up duties. Abate has gained 928 yards and has passed an other 885 yards for a total of 1,813 yards. He also leads the team in scoring with 48 points.

For Poly, end Don Svercheck and tackle Mark Silkel will anchor the front wall of the Mustang defense while backs Vince Crooks and Jon Silverman will help deflect the enemy's aerial attack.

Linebackers Lee Treadwell and defensive back Ross Raiser, still on the injury list, are joined by Pete Rihardt, who suffered a rib injury against Valley State. Tom Klemens will assume the starting fullback assignment.

Senior Bill Pandiani, leading tailback, has pushed for 2,810 total yards on 612 attempts.

Meanwhile, Poly's slot-T offense has allowed only 64 yards rushing per game against six opponents. Meanwhile, Poly's slot-T offense has pulled for 2,360 total yards in 478 plays.

With a big, strong line and a fast secondary, the 49ers will provide capable competition for the Poly Mustangs.

The contest could be a "battle of tailbacks" between Poly's Joe Aceota and Leon Burns of Long Beach. Burns, a 228 pound Junior, guided his team to a 34-28 victory over Santa Clara last week. For the season, Burns, 6 feet two inches tall, has amassed 859 yards in 182 carries.