Deadline fall fee waiver
Information and application forms are available in the Personnel Office for state employees to participate in the fee waiver program. Those who take Cal Poly courses under an approved program of career development, or who have had courses approved as work related, may be eligible for waiver of certain fees.

Deadline for return of completed, approved fee waiver forms for the Fall Quarter 1981 is Tuesday (July 28). This deadline has been set in order that forms may be processed through the Personnel Office and forwarded to the employee to meet the CAR deadline. Employees who need to apply for admission to the university should contact the Admissions Office immediately regarding deadlines and procedures.

Kelly to head Art
President Warren J. Baker has reported that based upon the recommendations of the faculty of the department, Jon Ericson (Dean, Communicative Arts and Humanities), and Hazel Jones (Vice President for Academic Affairs), he has appointed Helen P. Kelly as acting department head of the Art Department for the Fall Quarter 1981 while Thom Johnston is on leave status.

TRUSTEES' ACTIONS REPORTED
The Board of Trustees of The California State University and Colleges took the following actions at its meeting June 3, at San Francisco State University:

- Elected John F. O'Connell, of San Francisco, as Chairman of the Board of Trustees for 1981-82, replacing Claudia H. Hampton, of Los Angeles.
- Elected Michael R. Peevey, of San Francisco, as Vice Chairman of the Board of Trustees for 1981-82, replacing John F. O'Connell.
- Appointed Dean S. Lesher, of Walnut Creek, as representative, and Dr. Claudia H. Hampton as alternate, to the California Post-secondary Education Commission for 1981-82.
- Resolved that 10-month employees be extended 12-month benefits.
- Amended Title 5 of the California Administrative Code to increase nonresident tuition on the basis of the costs of instruction and academic support programs. For 1981-82, the nonresident tuition fee for a student taking 15 semester units per term will increase from $2,160 to $2,835. Students taking units in excess of 15 will be required to pay for those excess units at the established rate.
- Increased the late registration fee from $5 to $20 beginning in Fall 1981.
- Adopted public notice procedures for initial proposals of exclusive representatives and higher education employers as provided for in the Higher Education Employer-Employee Relations Act (HEERA). Policy provides for a minimum of four public meetings with distribution of labor and management proposals to each of the campuses.

1980 CAL POLY GRADUATES CAREER-MINDED, SAYS SURVEY
Cal Poly prides itself on preparing its graduates for careers, and a survey of the university's 1980 graduating class proves the point. In the survey of the 1,746 responding, 92 percent of the former students are either employed full time or working toward advanced degrees.

The survey, by the Placement Center, showed 76 percent of the respondents with full-time employment, 11 percent attending graduate schools, and five percent self-employed. "The demand for Cal Poly graduates in the technical fields continues to be very strong," says Richard Equinoa (Director, Placement Center). "Of those employed full time, 70 percent held positions directly related to their major, and another 23 percent had positions that somewhat related to their majors," he says.

Of 364 graduates from the university's School of Engineering and Technology responding to the survey, 89 percent are working full time with another five percent enrolled in graduate schools. Median starting salaries ranged from $1,508 per month for aeronautical engineers to $1,775 for those in the engineering technology-welding technology option.

Of 178 graduates of the School of Business responding, 81 percent are employed full time and another three percent are in graduate schools. Median starting salaries ranged from $1,075 in the business administration-marketing concentration to $1,600 in the business administration-management information systems concentration.

From the School of Agriculture and Natural Resources, 71 percent of the 417 graduates responding are working full time, while another eight percent are seeking advanced degrees. Median salaries ranged from $800 for animal science degree holders to $1,500 for agricultural engineers.

In the School of Science and Mathematics, 169 graduates responded to the survey and revealed that 76 percent have full-time employment and another 17 percent are in graduate school. Median salaries ranged from $700 in microbiology to $1,683 in mathematics.

For the School of Architecture and Environmental Design, 87 percent of the 170 graduates responding are full-time employees, while another three percent are seeking advanced degrees. Median starting salaries ranged from $1,020 in landscape architecture to $1,600 in construction.

Median salaries in the School of Human Development and Education ranged from $600 in recreation administration to $1,124 in liberal studies. In education, 51 percent of the 138 responding reported teaching contracts, 17 percent were day-to-day substitutes, 14 percent found non-teaching positions, and nine percent were attending graduate school. Four percent reported being in other related or teacher aide positions, while five percent were still seeking teaching positions.
