Campus given budget pledge

There is a chance, Pres. Robert E. Kennedy said yesterday, that this college will now be able to retain most of the 61 full-time faculty members who would have been lost due to budget cuts.

Kennedy said that after his testimony before the Senate Finance Subcommittee Monday, Chairman Donald Grunsky (R-Central Coast Counties) assured him that the subcommittee shared the concern and would recommend an increase in the budgeted amount for teaching positions, restoring 91.7 faculty positions to the State College system.

Grunsky went on to say that the committee would make a recommendation that an additional $1 million be added to the budget for faculty pays adjustments. Although the proposal failed in getting a majority in one test before the full Finance Committee, Grunsky is confident that the salary increase will be adopted.

Kennedy appeared before the committee to explain problems that the State College system—this college in particular—is facing due to the proposed budget by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Kennedy told the subcommittee that the proposed budget would jeopardize the welfare of the college in several areas, which included:
- Engineering, which could fail to gain accreditation because of the absence of essential equipment and its reliance on obsolete equipment.
- Teacher workloads, which could increase over 31 per cent as a result of the loss of faculty positions.
- Foreign students, who would have no other alternative than to leave college, if the tuition is raised 500 as proposed.

As a result of Kennedy's testimony, the subcommittee agreed to add $1 million dollars to an appropriation for a fund to cover hardship cases among foreign students.

Kennedy said that the subcommittee testimony was the "first hurdle" that had to be cleared for the state colleges to get restorations in the original budget proposed by the Board of Trustees.
Subpoenas halt right to know

Washington (UPI)—U.S. newspaper editors were told yesterday that "raw censorship" in Vietnam, presidential seclusion in the White House and the "epidemic" use of subpoenas to force newsmen to reveal their sources are threatening the people's right to about their government.

The charge came from the Freedom of Information Committee of the American Society of Newspaper Editors which began its annual convention yesterday.

The committee charged that the refusal of Gen. Creighton Abrams and South Vietnamese commanders to provide newsmen helicopters to carry them at the start of the operation into Laos amounted to "raw censorship."

"It led to rumors—destructive rumors—as the absence of first hand, hard facts always does," the report said.

The embargo on the Laotian operation—and the embargo which prevented reporters from telling their readers that an embargo existed—was "mishandled," the committee said.

At home, the report said, there have been "far too few" presidential news conferences, which would allow the President to learn "what the people of the nation want to know" and allow the public to know more about "the President's attitude, feelings and interests."

Talk on wood

The School of Architecture is presenting a seminar on the wood industry today for both students and faculty. The three-hour seminar will start at 2 p.m. in the Architecture Gallery.

Think roses

It’s April and time to think about roses—that is, about next December’s campus entry to the Tournament of Roses Parade. According to Chuck Wilts of the Rose Float Committee, today and tomorrow are the last days to submit entries in the Parade Theme Contest. The entries should follow along the lines of the main tournament theme of "The Joy of Music."

The first prize will be a pair of tickets to the Tournament of Roses Parade and football game, or the cash equivalent. Applications can be picked up at the CU, Administration Building and all residence halls.

Are you busy?

The International Student Council is sponsoring an open meeting with Dr. Elroy Kennedy today at 11 a.m. in the Multi-Purpose Room of the new College Union.

The meeting will be open to all students. The purpose of the meeting is to give students a chance to question Dr. Kennedy on the topics of tuition and future foreign student policies of this college. All foreign students are urged to attend.

Also today at 11 a.m., the first meeting for the Summer Programs Committee will be held in Science E-36. Students who plan to be here this summer and have an interest in planning summer activities should attend this meeting.

In addition, the Ecology Action Club is sponsoring a bicycle rally during College Hour. The purpose is to draw student attention to the Library lawn area and the multipurpose room. It's legit though because 30 per cent of all Americans move once every five years. No admission if you can find it and you have the chance to make your own sounds. Don't forget to bring a pillow or your floor. They appreciate the following coffee, soft drinks, and Western Social Society.

Coffee House to move again

The Coffee House has landed, again! For the third time in two weeks, the weekly happening has been relocated, this time in the College Union Multi-Purpose Room.

According to Al Kammer, spokesman for the Special Events Committee, "the past two weeks we have been at two locations, the CU Patio and the CU Bank. Now we are to be at the third location."

Kammer noted that the Special Events Committee approached the following the Coffee House has had, and hopes that students will bear with them until the permanent location is found. This Sunday's program will be tonight, visiting chemist Dr. J.E. Barney will discuss his research on the level of pesticides in the atmosphere. A guest of the Chemistry Department and the local chapter of the American Chemical Society, Dr. Barney is scheduled to speak to students and faculty in Science E-37 at 8 p.m. and will conclude his two day visit Friday.

MUSTANG CLASSIFIEDS

Thursday, April 14, 1971, Mustang Daily
Bob Jennings, Mustang basketball star last season, performs his specialty, the triple jump, at last weekend's four-way track meet.

Cinderlene top CCAA
Steve Simmons' cinderlene dominate the top marks in the California Collegiate Athletic Association released this week. If they were to give points for the top-five positions in each event, the closest opponent to the Mustangs would be 26 points behind.

The sprints are especially strong for the Mustangs as they have three in the top five in the 100 and 220. Bobby Turner leads the league but also the nation.

The 440 is owned by Wally McConnell. Horton is the lone Mustang in the intermediate hurdles with a time of 14:24.4.

The mils has two more with a wind-aided 9.6. Edsall is fifth in the 440 in the second position, both with a 2:21.8 in the mile.

In the half mile Tony Mitchell leaves him just .2 seconds behind his credit while Chance is on his way to Valley State for the second round-robin tennis tournament today, tomorrow and Sat.

In the first meeting Lambert lost a heartbreaker in the third set as the match could have gone either way. Lambert will also be set to revenge another tough loss to Bria Elisrewath. That match also went three sets.

The match score against the Matadors last time was 6-3. A reversal of one or two victories could make the difference between a win or a loss. Should the Mustangs lose again, it would take an upset by one of the other teams either this weekend or in the next and last round-robin tournament for the Mustangs to repeat as league champions.

In the shot put with a heave of 51-8 and the discus. Gooch is second in the discus, third in the long jump and second in the long basketball season.

The Milers have three in the top five in the 100 and 220. Bobby Turner leads the league but also the nation.

Wally McConnell. Horton is the hurdles as they have just two men in two events. Ward Kimmel is third in the 138 highs with a wind-aided 14.6 while Mike Elsdel is fifth in the 440 intermediate hurdles with a time of 50.0.

The Mustangs lead both relay events with a 41.5 in the 440 and a 2:31.8 in the mile.

Richard Gooch and Mike Crag lead the Mustangs in the shot put and the discus. Gooch is second in the shot put with a heave of 11-9 while Crag is fourth with a shot of 67-0. Crag is second in the discus, however, but on the leader's tail.

The match between the two could have gone either way last time and the same is expected this time. Both teams dominated play until the championship match—and both will be favored to be the top teams in the weekend affair.

John Ross, the number one man, is expected to be back in action after being slowed by an ankle injury. His presence should give the Mustangs an added boost in their upset bid.

Dan Lambert will also have a chance for revenge against the Matador's Steve Meenyan, who won the national singles title in 1969.

In the first meeting Lambert lost a heartbreaker in the third set as the match could have gone either way. Lambert will also be set to revenge another tough loss to Bria Elisrewath. That match also went three sets.

The match score against the Matadors last time was 6-3. A reversal of one or two victories could make the difference between a win or a loss. Should the Mustangs lose again, it would take an upset by one of the other teams either this weekend or in the next and last round-robin tournament for the Mustangs to repeat as league champions.

Mustang nine holds top place
The Mustang's victories over Valley State look bigger and better all the time as no one else appears to be able to beat the defending national baseball champions. Latest in the path of the Matadors was Cal State Fullerton Wednesday as the Titans dropped a doubleheader to Valley State. The Mustangs are the only ones to beat the Matadors in league play thus far.

Percentage wise, the Mustangs hold first place. But the Matadors have played nine more league games than the Mustangs, placing the Mustangs two and one-half games behind the Matadors.

SUBMIT ENTRIES TO SUPERSONIC open 11-5:30, 7-10, Sundays 1-5
All entries must be in by 5:30, Thursday April 22. The winner will be announced live, that evening on KCPR.
