The factors that led to the mass production and merchandising of clothing in America will be examined in a Smithsonian Institution exhibit that will open on Monday (Mar. 1) at Cal Poly. Titled "Suiting Everyone: The Democratization of Clothing in America" the exhibit will be on view starting at 8 am in the University Union Galerie.

The exhibit, which will be featured during a two-week program commemorating the American Bicentennial, compares the economic and class distinctions made evident by the personally made clothes of the colonial period versus the wide range of fabrics, styles, and prices that make most Americans well dressed today. Claudia Kidwell, exhibit organizer for the Smithsonian says the exhibit will show that the first ready-made clothing in America was for men and not women. Also included will be the details of many machines and inventions that helped "democratize" the industry.

Also featured during the opening week of the program will be noted columnist and lecturer, Dr. Max Lerner. He will speak on "Is America a Dying Civilization? Where Do We Go From Here?" on Thursday (Mar. 4) at 11 am in Chumash Auditorium. A syndicated columnist for the New York Post, Lerner is also the author of several books. His best known is, America as a Civilization. He is currently working on a new study of American civilization in the 1960's and 70's to be called, The Passion of the Republic.

Other events scheduled during the two-week series at Cal Poly include the film, A Nation of Immigrants, at 12 noon on Tuesday (Mar. 2) Mathematics and Home Economics 114. Discussion of the film by John G. Snetsinger (History) will follow. The film traces the successive waves of immigrants that migrated to America and uses rarely seen still and motion picture footage. On Tuesday (Mar. 9) at 7:30 pm in University Union 220 Dr. June McFee will speak and lead a discussion on the "Impact of Environmental Design on the American Culture." Dr. McFee is a professor of art education and a director of the Institute for Community Art Studies at University of Oregon.

On Thursday (Mar. 11) at 12 noon in Mathematics and Home Economics 114 the film The Inheritance will be shown. Sara A. Behman (Associate Dean, School of Business and Social Sciences) will lead a discussion. The film commemorates the 50th anniversary of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America and traces the growth of the American labor movement from immigration in the early 1900's to union participation in the civil rights struggle of the sixties. The program series is being sponsored by the Home Economics Department in cooperation with the university's Committee for the U.S. Bicentennial. Admission to the various events is free.
DANCERS WILL PERFORM

Music from American history will accompany several dances to be performed in "Move On, America!," a dance concert to be presented on Friday and Saturday (Feb 27 and 28). The choreographed and costumed production will be presented at 8 pm in the Cal Poly Theatre. Tickets, priced at $2 per person, will be on sale in advance at the University Union ticket office as well as at Brown's Music Store and Premier Music Company, both in San Luis Obispo.

The dancers will include students and faculty of Cal Poly's Women's Physical Education Department and members of Orchesis, the student dance club. Many of the numbers are stories told through dance. "The Price for Freedom" tells of the Minute Men of 1776 coming together in an effort to win America from the British, and realizing the price of their freedom. "Women's Renaissance" is an interpretation of the changing role of women in society over the past 200 years.

Some of the dances will depict colorful periods in American history. "Easy Street" will portray the musical era of the 1960's, "Hawaii" will describe the 50th state, and "The Show Goes On" will recreate an early New Orleans saloon. The entire concert will consist of 17 different dances, including the finale, "Move On, America!" which will celebrate America's two centuries and wish her luck as she moves into the future. Moon Ja Minn Suhr (Women's Physical Education) is directing the production, which is sponsored by the Women's Physical Education Department, Women's Recreation Association, and Orchesis.

NEW ZEALAND BECKONS TO STUDENTS

Seven agricultural students from Cal Poly are beginning studies at two New Zealand colleges this month under the Study Abroad Program of the California State University and Colleges. Three of the Poly students are enrolled in classes at Massey University near Palmerston, and four are studying at Lincoln College in Christchurch. This is the second year that Cal Poly students have participated in the program in New Zealand. They will spend one academic year in New Zealand and will return to their classes at Cal Poly in the Winter Quarter, 1977.

NEW FACULTY DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURES

President Robert E. Kennedy has issued Administrative Bulletin 76-2, which covers the Chancellor's Executive Order No. 232. This order establishes a new interim disciplinary action procedure for academic personnel of The California State University and Colleges. As a conservation effort and because of the short-term effective period of the procedures forwarded with Executive Order No. 232, copies of the 26-page interim procedures statement are not being duplicated and distributed at this time as part of the Administrative Bulletin for inclusion in CAM.

As soon as the superseding procedures are received on campus (no later than July 1, 1976), they will be issued to all CAM holders under another AB number. During the interim period this administrative bulletin is in effect, copies of the interim procedures will be available for review at any of the following locations: the Reserve Room of the Library, the Personnel Office, and the Academic Senate Office. Any questions concerning these interim procedures should be directed to the Director of Personnel Relations.
POLITICAL BICENTENNIAL CONTINUES

A two-week series of programs on "Five Critical Elections Plus 1976" will come to an end on Friday (Feb. 27) with a lecture by a noted Civil War historian on slavery and racism. Dr. Kenneth Stampp, noted UC Berkeley history professor, will speak on "Slavery, Racism and the Political Revolution of the 1850's" at 12 noon in University Union 220.

Dr. Stampp is the author of several Civil War books, including The Peculiar Institution, And the War Came, The Era of Reconstruction, and The Causes of the Civil War. He was a Guggenheim Fellow in 1952 and 1968, a Fulbright Lecturer at the University of Munich, a Harmsworth Professor of American History at Oxford University in 1961-62, and a Commonwealth Fund Lecturer at the University of London in 1960.

Dr. Stampp's lecture will be the climax of a series of special programs and events that features a Smithsonian Institution exhibit of election campaign artifacts and photographs from the presidential elections of 1800, 1828, 1860, 1896, and 1936. The display will continue through Friday (Feb. 27) in the University Union Galerie.

Remaining lectures and discussions in the Cal Poly series are: "The Election of 1896 and the Political Modernization of the U.S." by Dr. Lloyd Beecher (History) at 12 noon on Monday (Feb. 23) in University Union 220. "Political Issues of 1976," a roundtable discussion between Richard J. Krejza (Biological Sciences), member of the county board of supervisors; John G. Snetsinger (History), candidate for the Democratic nomination for the Assembly; Walter E. Rice (Economics) and Janna C. Roderick, Stan R. Buller, and John H. Culver (all Political Science) at 12 noon on Thursday (Feb. 26) in University Union 220.

The lectures, discussions, and the exhibit on presidential elections is being presented by the Political Science Department as part of a continuing series of special events coordinated by Cal Poly's Committee for the U.S. Bicentennial. Admission is free and the public is invited to attend any of the events.

REPORT ON QUALITY FACULTY

The Ad Hoc Committee created by the Board of Trustees to study the Procurement and Retention of a Quality Faculty made its report to the Board of Trustees at the Jan. 28 meeting. The Board of Trustees adopted all the recommendations of the Ad Hoc Committee as policy with the exception of Recommendation No. 24 which was referred back to the Committee for restudy and report to the Board in May 1976. Copies of the report including the recommendations are available at the Reserve Room in the Library, the office of the Academic Senate, and the Personnel Office for those desiring to review it.

CONCERT WILL FEATURE 'CELLO

Music will fill the air on Friday (March 5) when the Cal Poly Chamber Orchestra presents an evening concert. The performance, which will begin at 8:15 pm in the Cal Poly Theatre, is being sponsored by the Music Department and the Associated Students, Inc.

Featured will be nationally known cellist Jeffrey Solow, who will join the Cal Poly orchestra in its performance of Joseph Haydon's Concerto in D Major for violin and orchestra. Also programmed are numbers by Virgil Thomson, Charles Ives, Henry Purcell, and Johann Sebastian Bach. Tickets for the March 5 concert will be on sale in advance at the University Union ticket office at the door. Prices will be $1.50 for students and $2.50 for others.
DEADLINE REMINDERS

Gerald N. Punches (Registrar) reminds all faculty members of the following deadlines:

The 7th week of instruction ends at 5 pm, Wednesday (Feb. 25). This is the deadline for:

1. Submitting a petition to withdraw from a course. The university catalog states: "Except for University recognized emergencies, no withdrawals from courses are permitted beyond the seventh week of instruction."

2. Submitting a petition to take a course Credit/No Credit.

3. Submitting a petition to repeat a course. If a student is repeating a course winter quarter at Cal Poly in which he has previously received a D or F grade from this university or some other college or university, he must file this petition in the Records Office to ensure the re-calculation of his grade point average.

MEAT ORDERS WILL BE TAKEN

A student enterprise project in meats has announced that they will take orders for sides of beef for delivery toward the end of this quarter and during next quarter. The sides of beef weigh approximately 325-365 pounds each (hanging weight). After cutting and trimming, this weight will be reduced by approximately 30% due to fat and bone. The sides will be cut and wrapped to the purchaser's specifications and blast frozen. The price of the beef will be based on the current market price at time of slaughter. Currently, a side of beef (hanging weight) is running approximately 85-90 cents per pound. Orders may be placed by calling Norman R. Eggen (Animal Science Department) EXT. 2275. Please call on Monday, Wednesday, or Friday between 8 am and 10 am to leave cutting instructions.

WARNING ISSUED ON VIDEO TAPING

Marcus Gold (Coordinator, Audiovisual Services) reports that he has received complaints that illegal copying of materials may be occurring. All users of university-owned video tape equipment whether faculty, staff or student, are warned that such technology must be used only for legitimate purposes and not for reproducing copyrighted motion pictures from rental prints or for recording television broadcasts. Any illegal taping of copyrighted motion pictures carries heavy civil penalties provided by Section 101 of the Federal Copyright Law. Infringement of Copyright may be prosecuted as a federal crime punishable by up to one year in prison and $1,000 in fines under Section 104 of the Law.

CHILDREN'S LIFESTYLE TOPIC OF LECTURE

"A Young Child's Living--Today and Tomorrow" will be the topic for the lecture to be given by Dr. James L. Hymes, Jr., on Thursday (Feb. 26). The lecture is scheduled for 8 pm in Chumash Auditorium. Admission will be free and the public is invited to attend. Dr. Hymes is expected to discuss the varied factors that bear on a child's development including working mothers, mobility, and changing lifestyles of adults. Dr. Hymes has been active in the field of child development and early childhood education since 1934. Dr. Hymes' lecture is being presented by the School of Human Development and Education in cooperation with the Child Development Department and Child Development Club.

Danforth Associate Program. The Danforth Foundation's Associate Program is a long-established activity to recognize and encourage effective teaching and to humanize teaching and learning for members of the campus community. The program offers opportunities for interdisciplinary and interinstitutional activities among faculty who share a broad concern for values in education and society at large and who, as teacher-scholars, share a specific concern for students as persons. Among projects eligible for funding are consultations between faculty and students on vital issues; development of new procedures for curricular effectiveness; and efforts to enhance the educational experience of those often excluded from higher education, such as older adults and minority persons.
