Evaluations: no effect on tenure

by Rich Becheit

A proposal supporting student evaluations of instructors and passed by the Academic Senate was presented to the Student Affairs Council (SAC) Tuesday night by Dr. Timothy Barnes. "The proposal, although giving support to the student evaluations and urging all instructors to participate in them, did not provide for the inclusion of the evaluations in the personal files of the teachers nor are the evaluations to be used for consideration in an instructor's possible obtaining of tenure or promotion. The proposal as accepted by the Academic Senate reads, "That the Academic Senate San Luis Obispo recommends full cooperation of all faculty, departments and schools with student evaluation which is used in faculties personal files." Although the chances of the evaluations use in consideration for tenure and promotion of instructors is slim, Banke gave SAC some hope that the issue will not die.

According to Banke, "The Organisation of Student Body President is going to try to get the board of Trustees to pass a proposal to have student evaluation of instructors included in the personal files of instructors failing to investigate thoroughly the entire state college system."

All Vice Pres. Tony Turkovich has asked that any students who would like to work on a committee to install an effective evaluations system, contact him in his office in the College Union.

The newly-formed campus group, Vietnam Veterans for Peace, will be canvassing San Luis Obispo this weekend in an effort to enlist local citizens in calling for the end of the draft system.

Every year Congress must reapprove the draft. This July 1, the Hatfield-McGovern bill will be introduced to amend the current draft laws. It calls for a stop on the war by December 31, 1971.

The letters are being enlisted to write to their congressional representatives and senators in support of the bill. The letter support campaign is aimed to bring about a vote on the bill.

Turkovich asked that any students would like to work on a committee to install an effective evaluations system, contact him in his office in the College Union.

The letter enlistment campaign will cover all of SLO in a door-to-door effort. All of the envelopes and stamps are being provided. Only a concerned opinion is needed.

The organisation meeting for the letter support campaign is Thursday evening, May 20. Call 344-3588 or 343-7743 for details. Contributions for stamps or envelopes will be accepted at the meeting.

No, they weren't drilling for oil, or getting ready to demolish another parking lot, or looking for a lost Volkswagen.

Like a giant dental drill, a rotary bucket rig excavated three 30-inch diameter holes in the North Health Center Parking Lot yesterday.

The machine was leased by Le Roy Cranfield and Associates of Los Angeles, who were drilling holes in order to investigate old terra firma for possibilities of structural foundations.

Jim Dickey, the forman of the project, said that the rig would only drill the holes for the one day.

Dickey added that the deepest hole was 30 feet and that it was "hard going all the way."

The work is being done to test the bearing capacity of the soil for an addition to the health center. As of yet, the addition is only in the planning stages but will be presented to the Board of Trustees on May 31 for its approval.

Letters to the Editor

Strike up for silence

Dear fellow students,

Strike up the band, raise the flag, and salute our illustrious leader. I would hope that the fansfare for Chancellor Dumke is loud and long for undoubtedly he feels this institution is over staffed in many areas.

It has been proposed to reduce the reduction of faculty. Science and Math you only lose 4 percent.

But don't feel bad, because instead of taking chemistry, algebra or a technical course in your major, you’ll be able to take an art course and enjoy your college life.

It might take a little longer to get thru school, but who wants to graduate? If you get tired of taking art courses, whip on over to Social Sciences and enroll, because Business and Social Sciences get a 25 percent increase.

But Cal Poly as a whole is only proposed to lose 79 instructors. So DON'T get upset. If we are real quiet maybe the problem will go away.

How nice it is to go to a school that is quiet and peaceful. With an 11 percent reduction in faculty it could get quieter.

Foreign students bridge cultural gap

"We may be hurting our total education program by failing to recognize the contribution our foreign students make," Everett M. Chandler, dean of students, addressed 85 people at a recent banquet honoring 13 graduating Pakistani students.

Dean Chandler briefly reviewed some of the drawbacks implemented in the foreign student program last year, which continue this year. In the past two years tuition costs for foreign students who are not already studying on this campus have jumped from $1000 to $1200. In addition, this year the Foreign Student Office was struck out of the budget, and out of existence.

Chandler stressed that foreign students make an important contribution to the education of their American contemporaries by offering insight into cultures differing from that of the Americans.

The Pakistani banquet, eighth of its kind, is an annual affair sponsored by the Pakistani Students Association (PSA). Held this year at the Madonna Inn, this year's banquet boasted a well over 60 per cent attendance of non-Pakistanis.

The unusually high attendance of Americans points out an increasing trend that PSA President Ashgar K. Malik has been noticing during the three years he has been here. He comments that foreign students in general, and, from his point of view, Pakistanis in particular, have been moving toward an increasing intermingling of cultures with their American hosts.

Malik is enthusiastic about the fulfillment of the Pakistani Students Association's purpose which is to promote better understanding between Americans and Pakistanis.

One of the reasons for his enthusiasm is the overwhelming success of the relief-fund drive conducted last winter by PSA members when disastrous floods wiped out much of their home countries. Of the drive which netted close to $6,000 Malik says, "We never realized the American people were so concerned."

Two basic beliefs that guide the club are: 1) while students, the PSA members' studies are more important than politics, and 2) the members will neither instigate nor tolerate violence.

Participating in the International Talent Show and hosting an annual Pakistani night help the PSA toward achieving its purpose of mingling cultures. According to Malik, this year's Pakistani night, held during Winter Quarter, was very popular and extremely well-attended by Americans.

Another Pakistani attraction popular with the Americans was the Pakistani-style chicken dinner served during Poly Royal. Malik comments that coming from Pakistan's conservative environment, which will tolerate no radicalism, the 40 Pakistani students here enjoy the openness in America. However, he stresses, "I do not believe we have a right to become involved in American politics." He believes the Pakistanis should concentrate on sharing culture rather than politics.

"We do not believe in bringing our government's politics into this country, nor will we support any kind of violent demonstration."

He emphasized that the extent of political participation or expression of ideas that a Pakistani student will share while in America is highly individual matter. Although Malik personally prefers expressing his opinion to becoming actively involved, he points out the need and desire for more foreign student voice in student government committee.

Protest monitor ‘smacks’

San Luis Obispo’s Human Relations Commission requested, this week, that the chief of police be instructed to notify the commission of any public demonstration or monitor can be present.

The request produced strong objections from one city councilman and criticism from the mayor.

Councilman Emmes Blake said that the request “smacks of a police (review) board,” and I mayoral objections from one city councilman and criticism from the mayor.

Councllmen and criticism from the mayor.

Councilman Keith Gurnee and John Brown, both of whom attended the commission meeting where the suggestion was drafted, said the request had two purposes. Primarily it would make it easier for the commission to ascertain facts about incidents stemming from demonstrations. It would also enable members of the commission to act as unofficial moderators or mediators in an effort to avoid demonstrator-police confrontations.

Gurnee and Brown agreed that the request stemmed from recent anti-war protests but said that they were in no way criticizing the police department for their actions during the protests, which resulted in a number of arrests.

Gurnee said the commission’s feeling seemed to be that the presence of members might help prevent confrontations.

The commission’s function, according to Myron Graham, is to work to protect minority groups and that the protestors are in a sense a minority group.

Blake answered that the commission had no right to be present at demonstrations, and if they were, they’d probably “get in the police chief’s hair.” He said he didn’t think it possible for commissioners to be part of a demonstration.

The BOSE 901 incorporates four basic advances in loudspeaker design. Any one of them would be a major improvement over conventional speakers.

Together, they provide a listening experience that is in no point in discussing until you have heard it.

The closer approach of this speaker system to the live performance ensures that you A-B the BOSE 901 against speakers you know and respect — in any location and at any noise level — in order to appreciate the scope of this achievement.

‘Oh Calcutta’ producers indicted for lewd show

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The producers of a video-taped version of the nude musical and comedy review, “Oh Calcut­ta!,” were indicted Wednesday on charges of transmitting an “obscene, lewd, lascivious and filthy” production over closed-circuit television.

A federal grand jury in Corpus Christi, Tex., returned the indictment in U. S. District Court under an 1873 law, Attorney General J. N. Mitchell announced.

The indictment accused the producers of transmitting the show to Corpus Christi Sept. 28, 1970, on a closed-circuit hookup seen in numerous other cities at that time.

A Justice Department official said the play contained “seven specific specified acts of nudity.”

Named in the indictment las the Colormedia Corp., a Dela­ware corporation doing business in New York City; its president, Rodney Erickson, and Harry A. Schwartz, vice president and technical concul.

Interesting local events

Philosophy professor Mark Hanna will be speaking at a special Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship meeting along with Brother David Chamberlain from London via Tampoc tonight at 7:00 in CU 203. Open to the public.

A trip to Disneyland will be this weekend’s bill-of-fare (or the Outings Committee. Planning meetings for each trip are held on Wednesdays at 7:00 p.m. in CU 220. For additional information call 546-4333.

It’s going to be another funky jam session at Sunday night’s Coffee House. If you can play—bring it and do it to it. It’ll start at 7:30 p.m. and will push on for three hours or until it’s over. Cost is a measly $.16-place is CU 203. If you still don’t understand this announcement, call Special Events Committee publicity chairman Al Kammerer at 844-3407.

If you think you’ve got guts or would like to remove any doubts one way or the other bring a buck and make it to the San Luis Obispo County Airport at 10 a.m. on Sunday. It’s a genuine Mustang Flying Association Spot Landing Competition. The event is open to Polish and student pilots. There will be two divisions: commercial and certified flight instructor pilots, and private and student pilots. Trophies will be awarded to the first three places in each division. If you’re still up in the air call Steve vines at 544-646 or Jurg Heuberger at 544-645.

If grass is your bag then be in front of the Engineering West Building this Saturday morning—nightfall. Archies are requesting your help in planting some green on the newly created mall and according to John Anderson, they need your help. Ornamental Horticulture majors are welcome—extremely welcome—for your advice and elbow grease. Contact John Anderson at 546-0959.

This announcement is for foreign students: straight from the mouth of the Immigration Officer, Tom Ketterman—instead of Friday, the Immigration Office will be open every Thursday from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Five dollars and sixty cents will buy any student or faculty member into the annual Spring Awards Banquet Sunday at 7:00 p.m. in the Motel Inn. Sponsored by the ASI Awards Committee, the banquet will see awards presented for the Mustang of the Year, Club of the Year, Faculty Advisor of the Year, Who’s Who in American Colleges and Universities, and the Charles E. Flanke Memorial Award. Tickets can be obtained at the CU Information Desk. Still wondering?—call Alan Roth at 546-1044.

Greek week festivities are under way

"Greek Week '71" is upon us. Members of the Inter-Fraternity-Council invite all students to attend the various events taking place during the week.

Fraternities taking place in this year's activities are: Alpha Tau Omega, Delta Chi, Phi Kappa Psi, Delta Sigma Phi, Alpha Epsilon Pi, Theta Chi, Alpha Sigma, Delta Upsilon and Alpha Gamma Rho.

Last night the Queen's Pageant was held at the Madonna Inn Wine Cellar. Queen candidates from each fraternity were reviewed by a board of judges and a winner was selected on her beauty, poise, and personality. At today's College Hour participating fraternities members will be parading around campus in the true Greek spirit.

Festivities continue on Saturday morning, May 22, at Avila Hill. Each fraternity will enter a tub (with wheels on it) to compete in the tub races down Avila Hill. Saturday afternoon a car rallye will take place at the Aero Hangar starting at 3 p.m. The week's activities will come to a close with a track meet at Port San Luis Obispo starting at 10 a.m. Sunday morning. A point system has been assigned to the events. The fraternity which collects the most points will win the coveted Greek Week trophy.

FINDING THE PERFECT BEACH COMPANION

Getting set for summer is very serious with finding the right beach, the right companions—the right associates. It is easy. But few folks seem to have a knack for it. And we've got the knack of making most folks comfortable and pleasantly suited for these occasions like singer Andy Parke. He's wearing our Bamboo Flower "shirts" of summer from Jantzen. Bodily colored, all cotton, it's very easy to wear. And only $2.00. It's one of the 1971 thoughts we're waiting for you and your summer.

TEACHER STRUCK DOWN AND OUT

The newly formed Department of Philosophy at this college lost one of its instructors last weekend due to serious illness. Lloyd Hays, instructor of philosophy, was taken quite ill last weekend and has been hospitalized in San Luis Obispo, said James T. Culbertson, head of the philosophy department. He taught four sections; two of Introduction to Philosophy and two of Ethics. His classes are to be taken over by four instructors in the department, according to Culbertson. Walt Bethel and Mark Hanna will each take over one section of Ethics. Russell Lascola and Culbertson will fill in for the Introduction classes.

Dr. Mount of the Campus Health Center announced there was no information being released as to the nature of Hays' illness.

Culbertson said that Hays would not return for the rest of the quarter. He went on to say that Hays will probably not return at all because of a recent instructor cutback in the department by the Chancellor's office. The philosophy department will only be allowed seven instructors Culbertson explained, when the cutbacks are implemented. This campus as a whole will lose 62 instructors with the cutbacks.

Wait Bethel said of Hays' condition of late, "He hasn't been the lively, robust, person lately that he usually is." Last summer Hays suffered an eye injury in the form of a detached retina which, according to Bethel, caused him discomfort.

Bacon 'friended' must testify

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Leslie Bacon was granted immunity from prosecution today and ordered to testify before a federal grand jury on radical activities.

The 19-year-old antiwar activist, held since April 27 as a "material witness" in the March 1 bombing of the national Capitol, will face contempt of court charges if she continues to refuse to answer questions.

U.S. District Judge William Goodwin granted the government's application for immunity without hearing arguments from Miss Bacon's attorneys. "I believe we've been denied entirely any kind of due process in this matter," Jennie Rhine, one of Miss Bacon's lawyers, told the judge.

Stiff competition awaits spikers’ Texas invasion

The Mustangs’ staple of track superstars—Raynadlo Brown, Mohinder Gill and Bobby Turner—are entered in the tough invitational meet being staged by Texas at El Paso Saturday afternoon.

The Mustangs also will send their 440-yard relay team into the meet in quest of a time in the 45-second category. The best that Lowell Henry, Shawnan Bennett, John Hale and Turner have been able to record this season has been 41.1.

“They did that at the west Coast Relays two weeks ago with one bad pass and one atrocious handoff,” coach Steve Simmon said. “On one of the passes we man was standing still when he got the baton. So if we can run 41.1 with passes like that I’m certain that we can go around 40.5 this week as we’ll be facing some tough competition,” Simmon added.

“Texas will be the fastest meet we’ve been in all year,” Texas El Paso has run 36.8 in the sprint relay while Indiana has gone 40.3 and Arizona 40.8. Running eighth on the list of the best relay teams in the nation is exactly what we need right now,” Simmon said.

The Mustang mentor is hopeful that sophomore sprinter Haley will get an open lane and have an opportunity to run in the open 220. “He’s just started speed work the last 10 days and he’s improving his starting and after working on over distances most of the spring, Haley’s really coming on in the sprint,” Simmon said. “I think he has a chance to qualify for the NCAA university meet with a 21.3 this week,” Simmon continued.

Haley has a season’s best time of 21.6 wind-aided in the 220 and a 4.8 aid time in the 100. He chased teammate Turner to repeat individual titles in both sprint events last week in the California Collegiate Athletic Association meet. Turner won the league title in 6.4 and took honors in the 100 with his trail leg both times,” Simmon said.

Diamond men dominate all-conference selections

The strength of the California Collegiate Athletic Association was shown in the selections of all-league players as the Mustangs placed six men on the first team and San Fernando Valley State five on the first team squad.

Mustangs named to the first team were Dave Oliver, Steve McFarland, Dave Snow, Steve Freeborn, Dent Agler and Les Ohrn.

Three Mustangs were named to the second team—Robinn Baggett, Larry Sylva and Lathan Marsh. Oliver paced the team for the second straight year with a .347 average while playing at second base for the Mustangs. He also had the most hits with 67, total bases with 81 and a .457 batting average. His fielding average was .962, committing just 11 errors in 289 chances.

McFarland was a key man for the Mustangs in double plays as he played part in 30 of them. He also hit .242 for the year.

Third baseman Snow hit .314 in league and .273 overall to help him be the team RBI leader with 31 overall and 14 in CCAA play.

Taft fielder Freeborn delivered many key hits for the Mustangs enroute to a .408 league average and a .333 overall. Twenty of his 36 hits were in league play.

Baggett was more deadly against non-conference foes than he was in league play. His overall record was 5-2 but was 1-2 in conference with a 1.00 ERA. His overall ERA was 1.30. Ohrn ended with a 4-1 record overall and an ERA of 1.89 while his league mark was 3-0 with a 0.78 ERA. Ohrn also pitched the league's only no-hitter.

Baggett repeated his spot on the second team as catcher. It was Baggett who handled the outstanding pitching staff of the Mustangs that compiled an ERA of 1.56.

Marsh was the team's third leading hitter in both conference and league play with 386 and 381 marks, respectively. His total bases of 81 made him second best on the team in that category and he tied for the home run lead while holding down the right rield spot.
