Dr. Brown says that most of the teachers are health education or social studies teachers, "but this is something that affects all students."

Like other Summer Sessions, the workshop on drug abuse will offer regular college credit. Students will earn 1.5 quarter units of credit.

Anyone who meets the course requirements may enroll in the Summer Session course. Tuition is $15 per quarter unit. Formal matriculation, admission procedures are not necessary.

New programs make budget?

Three proposals for new programs to be funded through the ASI budget will be submitted to SAC, including tonight's budget meeting by Pete Evans and Mrs. Roberson. SAC is expected to vote on the controversy of whether the budget submitted to them by SAC should be revised to include funds for new programs.

The proposed legal aid service, child care center and housing office programs, were, according to Mrs. Doshl, as essential part of the platform on which she and Evans were elected and without funds they can take little action toward building these programs.

Two alternative methods of providing funds for new programs are being considered by SAC. Re-evaluating each allocation on the basis of merit is one method proposed and the other involves a four cent per board cut.

The following is a statement of each of the proposals developed by Evans and Mrs. Doshl and an explanation of each.

The proposed legal aid service, Child Care Center is to be available to all students without cost, to educate the students on the law and information of whether the budget submitted to them by SAC should be revised to include funds for new programs.

The program's purpose is to aid the student in securing adequate housing, integrate the students into the community and educate them of their rights as tenants. It is designed to prevent violations of the law by landlords now possible due to lack of legal training and interpretation of the law. The function of the program will be to instruct the short course for the second year, says that although it is aimed primarily at teachers, parents are welcome to attend if there is room.

The workshop will present information about drugs themselves and about the sociology and community of the drug abuse. Included will be field trips, discussions, guest speakers, and an investigation of curricula used in school to present facts about drugs.

Guests from law enforcement agencies will define and explain drug laws and drug arrests. They also will display various drugs and drugs, and drug paraphernalia, including drug problems for addicts are also scheduled to tell about their experiences with drugs and in coming off the drugs. Counselor and specialists, who offer assistance to addicts will tell of what can be done.

Field trips will include a visit to the Drop In Center in Atascadero where young people are encouraged to bring their troubles, including drug problems for assistance.

Curricula about drugs and drug abuse that have been successfully used in other parts of California and in other states will also be studied during the workshop at this college. As a final project the workshop will draw up lesson plans that they will use for their own classrooms.

New programs make budget?

Three proposals for new programs to be funded through the ASI budget will be submitted to SAC, including tonight's budget meeting by Pete Evans and Mrs. Roberson. SAC is expected to vote on the controversy of whether the budget submitted to them by SAC should be revised to include funds for new programs.

The proposed legal aid service, child care center and housing office programs, were, according to Mrs. Doshl, as essential part of the platform on which she and Evans were elected and without funds they can take little action toward building these programs.

Two alternative methods of providing funds for new programs are being considered by SAC. Re-evaluating each allocation on the basis of merit is one method proposed and the other involves a four cent per board cut.

The following is a statement of each of the proposals developed by Evans and Mrs. Doshl and an explanation of each.

The proposed legal aid service, Child Care Center is to be available to all students without cost, to educate the students on the law and information of whether the budget submitted to them by SAC should be revised to include funds for new programs.

The program's purpose is to aid the student in securing adequate housing, integrate the students into the community and educate them of their rights as tenants. It is designed to prevent violations of the law by landlords now possible due to lack of legal training and interpretation of the law. The function of the program will be to instruct the short course for the second year, says that although it is aimed primarily at teachers, parents are welcome to attend if there is room.

The workshop will present information about drugs themselves and about the sociology and community of the drug abuse. Included will be field trips, discussions, guest speakers, and an investigation of curricula used in school to present facts about drugs.

Guests from law enforcement agencies will define and explain drug laws and drug arrests. They also will display various drugs and drugs, and drug paraphernalia, including drug problems for addicts are also scheduled to tell about their experiences with drugs and in coming off the drugs. Counselor and specialists, who offer assistance to addicts will tell of what can be done.

Field trips will include a visit to the Drop In Center in Atascadero where young people are encouraged to bring their troubles, including drug problems for assistance.

Curricula about drugs and drug abuse that have been successfully used in other parts of California and in other states will also be studied during the workshop at this college. As a final project the workshop will draw up lesson plans that they will use for their own classrooms.
Letters to the Editor

Speakers forum to face dollar drop

Editor:
The California State College Trustees are about to formulate a policy restricting speakers brought to college campuses, and paid with student funds. Such a policy is likely to make it impossible for many campuses, including this one, to invite prominent speakers of their choice.

As your representative student organization responsible for bringing to this campus, with ASI funds, prominent speakers of current interest, we feel that any legislative or trustee policy designed to restrict the freedom of students to bring speakers of their choice is an infringement of students' rights.

Therefore, at this time, we, the Speakers Forum Committee, wish to go on record as strongly opposing any such policy, or action.

College Programs Speakers Forum Committee
Michael Laza, Chairman

Special Speed

The Parts House
Auto Parts & Accessories
Tool Rental
Special Speed Equipment
Racing Cams
595 Niguel Street, 943-5344
20% Off To Cal Poly Students

!The Parts House

Budget versus programs

(Continued from page 1)

A recent survey taken on this campus revealed that 261 married students interviewed, 151 or 56 per cent had dependent children. Mrs. Doshi explained, after the final presentation to SAC, that establishment.

"The Big Bank Blues"

"...for the present bank is just disappearing? The need is still there. Students must put their money where their mouth is."

Religious talk on life-styles

Current trends in life-styles will be examined by the Rev. Pierce Johnson in a talk to be given at 11:00 a.m. on Thursday, June 3 in Room 203 of the College Union.

`Typewriters — Adding Machines — Calculators
Rentals — Sales — Repairs`
If it's time to graduate
Senior Week is today

In true Poly tradition, next weeks graduating seniors will get their chance at the annual two-day mixer, commonly referred to as Senior Week. Tickets for the barbecue and brunch must be picked up at the CU information desk today by class card-carrying seniors, according to Bob Erickson, Senior Week Activities Committee (SWAC) chairman.

A stea-spearing steak barbecue at Campus Park will start at 6 p.m. and music by "Stab- saro" will accompany the chew being served. Tickets are free to senior class cardholders and guests are invited at a fee of $2.50 a head. Beer will be sold at 15 cents a glass to those who can produce ID's.

Panel ponders the uses of pill

A seminar on birth control sponsored by the Wesley Foundation will be held on Thursday, June 5, at 8 p.m. in Hoorn 301 of the College Union. Featured will be a panel discussion by Dr. Carl Shirk, a medical officer from the college Health Center; Mrs. Connie Galves, a nurse at the Health Center; and Dr. Robert Barrows, a counselor for the College Counseling Center.

The meeting will begin with each panelist speaking for three minutes, time for discussion will follow such subjects as venereal disease, abortion and pill. A counselor for the college Counseling Center.

In polling last week the class of 1971 decided to give a donation to the Headstart nursery as its senior gift, according to SWAC.

Loan deadline is today

Graduation day is fast approaching, and students and seniors are reminded to fill out and return applications for the Federal Loan Program as soon as possible. The deadline for loan applications is today.

The loans are for a maximum of $1,000 per year, but not more than $5,000 total for all undergraduate years.

The main area in which students may apply for education loans is the Federally Insured Student Loan Program. These loans are made through local banks and lending institutions and are insured by the federal government for payment in full in the event of a student's death, total or permanent disability or failure to pay. Any student may apply, with no deadline for application, regardless of family income. The students must carry at least a one-half time student may apply for the loan.

Application forms must be completed and returned to Mrs. Eyler, who will begin collecting relevant data for processing the applications.

Notification as to acceptance or non-acceptance for the loan will be made by the "Circle of Friends." Each applicant is required to pass a "need" analysis to show a need for a loan in order to complete their education, she said.

Mrs. Eyler said that anyone may apply and that there is no limit to the amount of applications she may accept before June first. As a guidence, she said, some 300 applications have already been filed with the Placement and Financial Aid office.

Application forms must be completed and returned to Mrs. Eyler, who will begin collecting relevant data for processing the applications.

Notification as to acceptance or non-acceptance for the loan will be made by the "Circle of Friends." Each applicant is required to pass a "need" analysis to show a genuine need for a loan in order to complete their education, she said.

Mrs. Eyler said that anyone may apply and that there is no limit to the amount of applications she may accept before June first. As a guidence, she said, some 300 applications have already been filed with the Placement and Financial Aid office.

Application forms must be completed and returned to Mrs. Eyler, who will begin collecting relevant data for processing the applications.

Notification as to acceptance or non-acceptance for the loan will be made by the "Circle of Friends." Each applicant is required to pass a "need" analysis to show a genuine need for a loan in order to complete their education, she said.

Mrs. Eyler said that anyone may apply and that there is no limit to the amount of applications she may accept before June first. As a guidence, she said, some 300 applications have already been filed with the Placement and Financial Aid office.

Application forms must be completed and returned to Mrs. Eyler, who will begin collecting relevant data for processing the applications.

Notification as to acceptance or non-acceptance for the loan will be made by the "Circle of Friends." Each applicant is required to pass a "need" analysis to show a genuine need for a loan in order to complete their education, she said.

Mrs. Eyler said that anyone may apply and that there is no limit to the amount of applications she may accept before June first. As a guidence, she said, some 300 applications have already been filed with the Placement and Financial Aid office.

Application forms must be completed and returned to Mrs. Eyler, who will begin collecting relevant data for processing the applications.

Notification as to acceptance or non-acceptance for the loan will be made by the "Circle of Friends." Each applicant is required to pass a "need" analysis to show a genuine need for a loan in order to complete their education, she said.

Mrs. Eyler said that anyone may apply and that there is no limit to the amount of applications she may accept before June first. As a guidence, she said, some 300 applications have already been filed with the Placement and Financial Aid office.

Application forms must be completed and returned to Mrs. Eyler, who will begin collecting relevant data for processing the applications.

Notification as to acceptance or non-acceptance for the loan will be made by the "Circle of Friends." Each applicant is required to pass a "need" analysis to show a genuine need for a loan in order to complete their education, she said.

Mrs. Eyler said that anyone may apply and that there is no limit to the amount of applications she may accept before June first. As a guidence, she said, some 300 applications have already been filed with the Placement and Financial Aid office.

Application forms must be completed and returned to Mrs. Eyler, who will begin collecting relevant data for processing the applications.

Notification as to acceptance or non-acceptance for the loan will be made by the "Circle of Friends." Each applicant is required to pass a "need" analysis to show a genuine need for a loan in order to complete their education, she said.
Lack of promiscuity downs VD; incidents here are below average

by Tom Sandercock

Veneral disease among college students is on the decline across the nation and far below the nation's average at this college, according to Dr. Billy Mounts, director of the Health Center.

"At our Health Center," he said, "I have never seen a primary case of syphilis in a student, not in my 10 years as a Cal Poly physician."

Also, according to Mounts, incidence of gonorrhea among students has fallen off since the beginning of the 1970-71 academic year.

These facts do not mean that students simply aren't bringing their problems to the Health Center. According to Mounts, the Health Center served 46,000 student-patient visits last year for an average daily load of 250-300 patients for varied physical and emotional problems.

"These figures would indicate student acceptance of their health problems and the fact that medical problems are, indeed, brought to the attention of the student health physician," said Mounts.

"The fact of the matter is," Mounts said, "the college students, at least at this college, just aren't as promiscuous as they are made out to be."

Veneral disease can only be contracted through sexual intercourse and it is due to promiscuity among people that the disease is spread.

Mounts said that he could only second-guess as to why students are not promiscuous. "I believe," he said, "that maturity is the deciding factor. College students are responsible young adults of sufficient maturity to seek and develop meaningful relationships with others. I believe the many pre-marital examinations that we perform here attest to this fact."

A recent report from the California State Board of Education cited the alarming fact that nearly 10 percent of California's teenagers have venereal disease and the incidence could rise to one out of two by 1980.

Dr. Geoffrey Simmons, who treats 250 VD cases a week, agrees. "The Public Health Service is predicting it will be one out of two by 1980 barring any major break through. If this epidemic continues unchecked, it will be nature's way of controlling overpopulation."

The high incidence of VD among teenagers in the junior high and high school age bracket can possibly be attributed to their immaturity, causing promiscuity, according to Mounts.

"If we project the present trend at college campuses," Mounts said, "we will continue to see a decline in VD cases. It is simply a reflection of the student's lifestyle."

Earlier this year Dr. Frank Peterson, county VD officer, came to this college as part on an in-service training program for the staff of the Health Center.

Mounts said that he attended a meeting some weeks ago in San Francisco for the American College Health Association where medical centers across the nation reflected the low incidence of VD as this college is.

Mounts said that the decline is used to see but that students who find they are infected with the disease should remember that the health center is there for treatment and that VD is an easily treatable disease.

"The incidence of VD may well be viewed as a barometer of sexual promiscuity," Mounts said. "The relative absence today of this problem at Cal Poly will allow one to draw his own conclusion."

---

MUSTANG CLASSIFIEDS

Announcements

For Sale

- SOBRオープンCONCERT
  - Style: Hard Rock, Rock, Pop, Punk
  - Address: 605 S. Second St.
  - Date: Saturday, June 18, 9 p.m.
  - Ticket: $3.50 at door, $4.00 in advance

- WANTED:
  - Item: Vintage California State Board of Education citation
  - Contact: John, 546-7135

Housing

- URL Roommate needed for next year.
  - Location: Davis
  - Contact: Kathi, 543-2592

- FOR SALE:
  - Item: Used computer
  - Contact: Paul, 544-6294

Automotive

- FOR SALE:
  - Item: Used motorcycle
  - Contact: Bob, 546-2164

Food

- La Fiesta
  - Address: Monterey after 5 p.m.
  - Phone: 546-3440

Cliff's Notes

- Available:
  - Item: Notes on literature
  - Contact: Paul, 544-6294

Pets

- FOR SALE:
  - Item: Box of kittens
  - Contact: Jan, 546-3453

--

MAKE AN APPOINTMENT WITH OUR DOCTORS

Medical Arts

- CAMPUS CLINIC
  - Address: 331 Pacific St.
  - Phone: 543-4720

- SPECIALS AVAILABLE:
  - Item: $99 Lunches
  - Contact: Paul, 544-6294

---

EL CORRAL

- Open every day except Mondays
- Address: 888 Monterey St.
- Phone: 546-4500

---

Santa Rosa Market

- Your Friendly Corner Grocery
  - Address: 543-5513
  - Phone: 546-4500

---

Transportation

- YOUR FRIENDLY GROCERY
  - Address: 431 E. Napa St.
  - Phone: 546-3440

---

Travel

- For Sale:
  - Item: Used motorcycles
  - Contact: Paul, 544-6294

Classifieds

- 546-2164