SAC ENDORSEMENT

'Bylaws are supreme'

by BRUCE KYRE

The eligibility requirements set for Associated Students Inc. (ASI) officers by the California State College Trustees suffered negative action Monday night from the Student Affairs Council (SAC).

The action taken by SAC includes a petition that will be sent to the Academic Council urging the use of the present ASI bylaws as the only legitimate qualifications for ASI officers. It also calls for the Academic Council to send the recommendation to President Kennedy for actively supporting the bylaws.

This came following a recent requirement by the Board to Trustees that each state college define the phrase "reasonable progress toward an educational goal" in setting qualifications for ASI officers.

The action by the Board of Trustees followed a study by an ad hoc committee which recommended: "The Board of Trustees declare, as basic principles, that all colleges require all candidates for major associated students' offices must be students making reasonable progress toward an educational goal. "Reasonable progress' and 'educational goal' are to be defined by the college."

If the colleges do not come up with a reasonable definition of this, the Trustees then have the right to do so -" in their own words.

Hilary Findley, representing the Academic Council, brought the acceptable proposal to SAC in an effort to keep the bylaws from being overridden by the Trustees. If this is allowed, Findley said, "This will put the Trustees in a position where overruling is overreaching anything handled by student government."

Findley referred to a San Jose State College ASI President who did not take any class units while in office. San Jose State, according to Findley, is an example of a college with legitimate qualifications for ASI officers.

Because of the requested qualifications, a list of requirements was presented to the Academic Council by Everett Chandler, Dean of Students. The requirements which must be met to the Trustees, included a minimum of 36 units to be completed during any officers year in office.

The requirements were sent to the Academic Council which was assigned the responsibility of approving them.

In addition to the qualifications for ASI officers, the council also accepted the majority system of voting to be put on the special election ballot. The system will replace the current, student voting system, if the present system is voted down.

Distinguished alumni to be dined and feted

Seven men who have distinguished themselves in their careers following graduation from this college will be honored during the 1971 Homecoming activities. They will be presented plaques citing their accomplishments at an invitational banquet in the Madonna Inn Friday night. The presentation also will honor the late Al Feurtig, a 1923 graduate, but his service to the college and community was only.

The Distinguished Alumni will participate in the Homecoming parade, the Queen's Luncheon, and attend the Homecoming activities.

The Distinguished Alumni will be:

- Doyle V. Martin, a government specialist in Eastern European affairs, spoke at a brief news conference Friday in CU 86. A tour of six high school and college campuses was interviewed by representatives of KCPR, Teleprompter Tribune, KCPR and Mustang Daily.

- Martin has been directly connected with Eastern Europe since the end of World War II, specializing in the countries (Albania, Yugoslavia Bulgaria and Romania) while there is a third group concerned exclusively with Soviet affairs.

When asked how divided West and East Germany are politically, Martin replied, "Still quite far apart." He said that in the East Germany worries were doing what the Soviets want. "East Germans are only as free as we decide to make them."

- Martin spoke optimistically on the question of the 18-year-old voting age. Young people would plunge youth into an even deeper awareness of national and international concerns.

- After the interview Martin was scheduled to fly to Washington. He admitted he didn't often get the opportunity to tour campuses, and just "get out and speak."

- G.K. Kohn, director of Research Corp. spoke on "Pesticides, Population and Pollution," at the opening of the two day Agricultural Chemical Institute.

- From Calier Carbon and Chemical Co. also assisted in the Saturday discussion.

- Collier Carbon and Chemical Co., also assisted in the Saturday discussion.

- St. Louis Collegiate Science and Engineering Society.

- California State Polytechnic College.

Temptations lack "draw power"

Editor:
Cal Poly has done it again. They obtained another super group to play at the Homecoming Concert. After all, it is not often that we concert hungry students get to see such a "class act" like the Temptations. Looking back, the last "class act" we saw was a group called Smith. Unfortunately, the school lost its shirt on that venture. And I'll tell you something, Homecoming Committee, you're going to lose it again.

I'm not saying the Temptations aren't a good group. What I am saying is that they aren't worth the money they're going to get. They don't have the draw power to get away with such high priced tickets, and I don't think they can satisfy a majority of the students. One has only to look at the Moody Blues and Richie Havens concerts to see what kind of music draws the largest number of people.

I admit that I should have gotten involved with the proper committee, then I could have had my say in which group was to play at Homecoming. But that is in the past. The point I'm trying to make is that Cal Poly blew it when they passed up getting a group, like Chicago, that most of the students would really like to see. My proof will be the failure of the Temptations concert.

Queen posters object of rape

Editor:
Perhaps like everyone on this campus you have noticed the destruction of some of the queen candidates' posters. There has been a lot of work and effort put into these signs and posters and we feel that the destruction of this property is uncalled for and unnecessary. If the opponents of some of the candidates are so worried about winning, and they have to go to such underhanded trickery, they should not even be allowed to run. The purpose of Homecoming is to involve the entire student body in activities, not to create ill or bad feelings among the students, candidates, and sponsoring campus organizations.

H.H. Burlingham, head of the Agricultural Education Department at this campus, received the honorary American Future Farmer Degree of the Future Farmers of America. The award was presented at the national convention. Burlingham accompanied the first organized California delegation to the FFA national convention in 1942, and has had a leading role in the statewide judging finals of the California FFA, since 1944.

Burlingham feels his greatest contribution to the FFA program has been through the preparation of vocational agricultural teachers who serve as advisors to FFA chapters throughout the state.

Dr. Frank Peterson, San Luis Obispo County public health services coordinator, was speaker for the Project Nine meeting at 11 a.m. Tuesday in Clark Agriculture building room 311. His discussion topic was "Medical Implications of Drug Abuse."

"No separation exists between a psychological and a physical dependence on drugs," Dr. Peterson said. Common household drugs as well as street drugs were considered during his talk.

Dr. Peterson maintains that the amount of a particular drug consumed and under what circumstances are two factors which are more important to consider than the type of drug used. However, according to the doctor, extreme danger lies in mixing drug consumption with other drugs, prescribed medicines, or alcohol. Another point the doctor stressed was although the heroin user is susceptible to many diseases, the drug in its pure state is not the origin of the ailments. Impurities mixed with the heroin, sterile hypodermics, and malnutrition actually cause the diseases common to the heroin addict.
Battered Colts lose to San Jose

Battered Colts lose to San Jose.

The Spartans of San Jose State beat the fresmen football Colts by 36-14 in an early season loss at San Jose.

Injuries so crippled the Colt offense that a hard hitting, opportunistic defense failed to save the day. While the defense was forcing five turnovers including a fumble recovery and four pass interceptions, the offense allowed four turnovers.

The Colts scored first midway through the first quarter after cashing in on Mike Brasil's fumble recovery. The San Jose 34 yd line. Quarterback Kelly Garile hit receiver Brian Stone for a 23-yard reception, and Roily Oarife hit receiver Brian Mark DeMasters' extra-point attempt was wide.
