Senate moves to cut back U.N. aid

by JOHN HALL

Washington (UPI)—Outraged at the expulsion of Dominican Republic from the United Nations, Senate conservative moves Wednesday for a sharp cutback in voluntary U.S. contributions to U.N. agencies.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas, R—III., said he and Sen. James L. Buckley, the New York Conservative—Republican, would offer an amendment to the aid bill Thursday to slash millions of dollars in U.S. non-dues support for U.N. sponsored development assistance, population control, child relief, food and other humanitarian programs to which the United States contributes a heavy share of financial backing.

In general, the amendment would limit U.S. contributions to these agencies to about one-third of their total expenditures. Dominick said the United States must stop "playing nursemaid to the world."

In the continuing furor in Congress and at the White House over Monday night's General Assembly vote giving Taiwan's seat to Communist China, moves were made Wednesday for a U.N. contribution but to retaliate through reductions in foreign aid to nations which voted against the United States.

The $3.3 billion aid bill already was in trouble. Approved by a 34—2 vote Wednesday was an amendment sponsored by Sen. George D. Aiken, R—Vt., that would have delayed the proposed $30 million outlay for construction of the Nevada test range in Nevada—would take place in a geologically unstable place in a geologically unstable site where it would endanger the islands unique wildlife.

But the administration, in deciding to go ahead, said that the blast was necessary to protect national security. Senator said that the AEC has received Nixon's approval for the test. The administration hopes that the test may be a "Christening" for a new era of nuclear diplomacy. But the arguments over the Jury Selection Act decision to go ahead.:

The program will cover current abortion bills and issues concerning abortion reform. All students, staff and faculty are invited to attend this open discussion.

Tonight at 7 pm, Miss Kleinberg and Marianne Douts will be on KMPR with a call-in talk show concerning the subjects discussed at the college hour program. For more information, call Paul Allison at 543-0828.

Nixon gives nod to blast despite scientists' pleas

by JOSEPH H. MYLER

Washington (UPI)—President Nixon gave the go-ahead Wednesday for the controversial Amchitka underground nuclear blast that will be 300 times as powerful as the World War II bomb that destroyed Hiroshima. The test could be triggered before Nov. 4. Chairman James R. Schlesinger of the Atomic Energy Commission told a news conference that the U.S. has received "the requisite authority"—specific orders from the President and the Department of Energy—"to carry out the five—megaton, $300 million test a mile underground on the remote island 3,100 miles off the Alaskan mainland.

Sen. Mike Gravel, D—Alaska, a leader among the conservatives and environmentalists who oppose the test, said he was "shocked and extremely dismayed" that the administration would proceed with this venture without the advice of the many people who have warned about the dangers of a nuclear war. He said he had only one way to cast a vote and that it will not cause any harm.

Opponents claimed the test—too large for the AEC's desert test range in Nevada—"would take places in a geologically unstable area and could trigger killer earthquakes and resulting tidal waves on coasts as far away as Hawaii. They also said it would endanger the islands unique wildlife.

But the administration, in deciding to go ahead, said the blast was necessary to protect national security. Schlesinger, who said the U.S. had received Nixon's approval for the test. Talcott speaks at open forum Republican Congressman Burt L. Talcott of the 15th District will speak on this campus tonight and Friday.

Talcott will speak on "Agriculture and the Federal Government" in Chumash Hall at 7:30. Tonight's meeting is sponsored by the Agriculture Business Management and Farm Management Club of the School of Agriculture and Natural Resources. Friday Talcott will speak at an open forum at 11:30 a.m. at the C. U. Plaza. The meeting is sponsored by this college's chapter of the California College Republicans. Attendance to both talks is open to the public and admittance is free.

Talcott has represented the San Luis Obispo area as a congressman for 11 years and is up for re-election next year.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Temptations ‘will please’ crowd

Editor:

Mitchell isn’t pleased with the Homecoming Concert, but we disagree that the concert is going to be a flop. We are already sold out of reserved seat tickets for both shows and sales of general admission tickets are going as well as they have for any previous concert. We’re looking forward to two shows with near-capacity crowds and performances that will send people away well pleased with a real entertainment bargain.

One of the reasons that so many different kinds of entertainment are brought to campus each year is that it is not possible to find one group that “most of the students would really like to see”, rather, there are many groups that many students want to see and hear. We are sure that Mr. Mitchell will find something more to his liking later in the year just as many people who have already purchased tickets have found the Temptations to their liking. 600 tickets for the concert were sold on Tuesday alone.

Keep UPI In

Editor:

Last Thursday before I had gotten around to reading the Mustang Daily, I had made a comment to a friend on how nice it was to have UPI articles in the paper. I am concerned with what is going on in the larger world outside Cal Poly but cannot afford to subscribe to a regular paper and don’t always have time to read articles thoroughly anyway. Besides, with you screening the news I don’t have to waste my time wading through all the local murders, accidents and busts.

Instead I get articles that are specifically related to me as a college student. Thank you and please continue to include UPI articles so we don’t become stagnated in local affairs.

How to write a letter to the editor

It’s not difficult to write a letter to the editor. You start out with an idea about a topic. Sometimes you’ve thought about it for a while. Next you sit down at a typewriter and set the margins at 10 and 75. Indenting five spaces for a paragraph, you type five or six lines (remembering to double-space) and then begin another paragraph.

Try not to include three such paragraphs—say what you want to say briefly. If it can’t be said concisely, the idea is probably not well thought out and will lack conviction.

Lastly you deliver the letter to CA 216, making sure it is placed in the Mustang Daily mailbox.

Suiineii Administration and Announcements

States is planned as well as a Fashion Show and a Talent Show. These meetings are very important and are held every Friday from 3 to 6 p.m. There are extra parties and picnics outside of the regular meetings and these are usually sparked with an International flavor.

The Economics Club is holding an organizational meeting Thursday at 11 a.m. in the Administration Building. A series of informal meetings are being held in the International Lounge next to the Engineering P.O. Lab. A series of films on Blacks in the United States is planned as well as an International week which will be held in February and will include a Fashion Show and a Talent Show.

The club is open to economics majors or anyone who has gone through the Economics 211, 212 or Business 208.

The coeds are alive in Muir. A "spook-walk" and refreshments are just part of the fun planned for the Campus Crusade for Christ-Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship Halloween surprise party.

Party-goers are to meet at the Administration Building flag pole Friday night at 7:30 p.m. From there, transportation will be provided to the "old haunted ranch" where the party is being held.

Bill Largent, one of the party coordinators, emphasised the fact that everyone is invited and welcome, not just members of the two organisations.

Dress for the party should be casual, and girls are advised not to wear dresses. However, dress should be warm, since the party is being held outdoors.

The cost of the party will be 80 cents per person. Anyone wanting to attend, but unable to come at 7:30 p.m. should call Largent at 544-7228.

The annual audit of the financial affairs of the ASI has been completed and audited statements are available for inspection at the ASI Business Office in room CU 303 and the College Library.

Nominations are now being accepted for the 1973 Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. There are 30 positions open, and all seniors graduating by September 1972, with a 2.45 grade point average, are eligible.

The Sundries Department has everything from A-Z.
