WILSON WILL JOIN GOVERNOR'S STAFF ON NOV. 1

Appointment of Cal Poly Administrative Vice President Harold O. Wilson to the position of educational advisor to Governor Ronald Reagan was announced by the governor last week. Wilson will succeed Alex C. Sherriffs who was appointed vice chancellor for academic affairs for The California State University and Colleges last month. He will assume his new duties as the governor's key advisor on educational matters on Nov. 1.

Wilson, 63, joined the Cal Poly faculty in 1936 as an animal science instructor and since that time has held a variety of positions related to agricultural education and to campus administration and development. As Administrative Vice President since 1967, he has had responsibilities for facilities development, personnel relations, community relations, and operational divisions of the campus such as business and student affairs.

Cal Poly President Robert E. Kennedy said, "Harold Wilson's appointment is a fitting recognition of his longtime association with education in California. His service as a teacher in secondary schools, as a regional supervisor for the Bureau of Agricultural Education, and in various capacities at Cal Poly, represent a wide range of experience that insures his understanding of educational problems at many levels."

Significant Contribution

President Kennedy said that Wilson's experience with career education and familiarity with state government has been significant to Cal Poly's programs and should be a valuable contribution to educational policy development at the state level.

A Republican, Wilson is a member of the State Board of Agriculture, of the California Professional Metrology Committee, of the California Agricultural Teachers Association, the San Luis Obispo County farm bureau, and of Alpha Zeta, national honorary agriculture fraternity. He also is a member of the Boards of Directors of the San Luis Obispo Chamber of Commerce and of the California Polytechnic State University Foundation, Inc.

Dr. Kennedy said that Vice President Wilson has been granted a leave of absence from his assignment with the University in order to serve the state from the Governor's Office. He said he expected to announce appointment of an acting administrative vice president within a few days.

COFFEE HOUR ON THURSDAY WILL HONOR VICE PRESIDENT WILSON

A coffee hour and get-together honoring Administrative Vice President Harold O. Wilson on his appointment as educational advisor to Governor Ronald Reagan will be held in the Staff Dining Room from 3:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Thursday (Oct. 25). Members of the Administration Division staff who are sponsoring the event, said university faculty and staff and friends of Vice President Wilson are invited to stop by and wish him well on his new assignment.
YTURRALDE NAMED TO COORDINATE COD PROGRAM

The appointment of Tomas Yturralde to serve as coordinator of the university's Career Opportunities Development (COD) Program, has been announced by Donald L. Shelton (Director of Personnel Relations). Yturralde, who began his new duties last week, will be responsible for administering a contract which Cal Poly has signed with the State Personnel Board to provide on-the-job training for individuals in the low income group.

Yturralde earned a BS degree at Fresno State University. He has previously worked as a personnel management specialist for the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, as an employment service specialist and vocational counselor for the New Mexico Employment Security Commission, and a special agent for the California Department of Human Resources Development.

Under the COD Program, various campus departments have agreed to employ trainees who are referred by the WIN Program of the local office of the Department of Human Resources Development (HRD) for a period ranging from six to twelve months. At the completion of the training period, successful trainees will be transferred to budget authorized positions where possible. Thirteen trainees have already been placed. A total of 32 trainees will be hired under the COD Program.

The new COD coordinator will maintain his office location in the Personnel Office, Adm-110. He can be reached by telephoning 546-2236.

AUDITS OF FINANCIAL AID PROGRAMS RELEASED

Separate audit reports covering the administration of financial aids for students on six campuses, and a systemwide review, prepared by the Internal Audit Staff of the Board of Trustees, The California State University and Colleges, have been released.

The individual reports, constituting a part of the continuous management audit program within the system by the Board of Trustees and the Chancellor, are for: CSC, Dominguez Hills; CSU, Fresno; CSU, Humboldt; CSU, Northridge; CSU, San Francisco; and CSC, Sonoma.

Fred Dalton, chief, internal audit staff, in forwarding his reports to the Board of Trustees, stated that of the six campuses studied, four -- Dominguez Hills, Fresno, Humboldt, and Northridge -- were found to be "... soundly administered to meet the objectives of the programs, in keeping with the established policies of both the Federal Government and this system, by competent, dedicated personnel."

"Certain recommendations were made," Dalton added, "and in all cases the Presidents have assured the Chancellor that those recommendations have been implemented."

Mr. Dalton said that on the other two campuses (San Francisco and Sonoma), "... there were serious administrative deficiencies."

RETURN OF EXCESS INTER-CAMPUS ENVELOPES REQUESTED

The return of excess supplies of inter-campus mail envelopes is being requested by the Duplication Center. Offices and departments that have quantities of the envelopes in excess of their needs are asked to return them to the Duplication Center, Adm-129.
E C P D ACCREDITATION OF ENGINEERING PROGRAMS ANNOUNCED

Nine bachelor's degree programs in engineering offered by Cal Poly have been accredited by the Engineers Council for Professional Development. Included were new accreditations for two programs and reaccreditation of seven others. Announcement of the action, which was approved during a meeting of the ECPD Executive Committee in New York City, was made by President Robert E. Kennedy.

Newly accredited, according to President Kennedy, are the university's Bachelor of Science Degree curricula in agricultural engineering and transportation engineering. Reaccreditation was granted for the Bachelor of Science Degree programs in aeronautical engineering, electrical engineering, electronic engineering, environmental engineering, industrial engineering, mechanical engineering, and metallurgical engineering.

President Kennedy said endorsement of the agricultural and transportation engineering programs by the ECPD study team came after team members made an extensive campus visit at Cal Poly last spring. Prior to that time and during their visit, they conducted in-depth studies of the curricula, faculty, and facilities of the Transportation Engineering and Agricultural Engineering Departments.

REPORTS ON RACIST COMMENTS ASKED BY DEAN CHANDLER

On Thursday, Oct. 18, in the University Union Plaza during a Homecoming ceremony, someone in the crowd reportedly made a grossly racist remark which was heard by the people on the stage, including a young Black student Homecoming princess. The remark caused her considerable personal hurt and it also caused a genuine hurt to Black students on campus who heard or have heard of this statement.

On Friday, a meeting of Black students and campus groups with ASI President John Holley and Dean of Students Everett M. Chandler, revealed that other such thoughtless remarks have been reported, not only by students, but by faculty and staff, which Black students find offensive and hurtful. Such remarks include but are not limited to statements which use the phrase "you people" and imply differences in racial levels of ability.

Dean Chandler said "The Black students rightfully ask that we do more to reduce and cease remarks and statements that wound deeply any human. Also, if anyone has knowledge of who specifically has made racist remarks in classes or activities, including the Thursday ceremony, I would appreciate knowing this so that appropriate disciplinary action may be taken."

CAMPUS TALK BY SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE CANCELLED

The appearance of Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz at Cal Poly, originally scheduled for next Tuesday (Oct. 30) at 5 p.m., has been cancelled. The university Information Services Office said the secretary of agriculture's office advised the university that a congressional hearing will require him to be in Washington, D.C., and that he must, therefore, regretfully cancel his talk. Butz had been scheduled to speak on "Our Future in the Incentive Society," as the first speaker in the University Convocation Series for the current academic year. The second speaker in the Convocation Series, William Lear, is scheduled to appear in Chumash Auditorium at 11 a.m. on Thursday, Nov. 1.
ADDRESS BY FAMED INVENTOR-DESIGNER SCHEDULED ON NOV. 1

William P. Lear, president of Lear Motors Corporation and an internationally-recognized designer and inventor, will be the feature speaker for the first University Convocation of 1973-74 on Thursday, Nov. 1. Scheduled for 11 a.m., his talk will take place in Chumash Auditorium of the Julian A. McPhee University Union under sponsorship of the university and the student council of the School of Engineering and Technology.

Best known for development and marketing of the twin-engined Lear Jet and many inventions in the fields of aviation, radio communication, and navigation, Lear will speak on "How To Be a Positive and Creative Thinker." He originally was to have been a speaker in the 1972-73 Convocation Series, but was unable to appear due to commitments for a documentary motion picture and his involvement in development of the pollution-free steam powered automobile.

Admission to the convocation on Nov. 1 will be free and the public is invited to join members of the campus community in hearing Lear's remarks.

VACANT SUPPORT STAFF POSITIONS LISTED

Vacant support staff positions have been announced by S. Milton Piuma (Staff Personnel Officer). CAMPUS VISIT SCHEDULED BY P E R S REPRESENTATIVE

The Public Employees Retirement System representative is expected on campus on Dec. 4, 5, 6. Employees desiring to arrange an interview with the representative are asked to telephone the Personnel Office, 546-2236.

MINI-ART GALLERY ESTABLISHED IN EL CORRAL BOOKSTORE

A mini-art gallery is being established in the section of the El Corral Bookstore, which currently features a display of photographs on the history of Cal Poly. Students and staff and faculty members interested in exhibiting their paintings and/or photographs in the mini-art gallery are asked to telephone the El Corral Bookstore, 546-4701.

Friday, Dec. 7, will be the last day of classes for the 1973 Fall Quarter for university students and faculty.
SABBATICAL LEAVE ALLOCATIONS FOR 1974-75

Each of the school deans has been informed of the number of sabbatical leaves positions tentatively allocated to the schools for the 1974-75 academic year, according to Donald L. Shelton (Director, Personnel Relations). The distribution of the 20 leave positions requested in the 1974-75 budget for this campus is based on the ratio of faculty eligible for sabbatical leave in each school to the total eligible in the university.

Shelton said the distribution of the tentative positions for 1974-75 is as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>School</th>
<th>Sabbatical Positions</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Agriculture and Natural Resources</td>
<td>4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Architecture and Environmental Design</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Business and Social Sciences</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Communicative Arts and Humanities</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Engineering and Technology</td>
<td>4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Human Development and Education</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Science and Mathematics</td>
<td>5</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Shelton noted that the allocations are tentative and are based on the proposed budget. Allocations to schools will be confirmed when the 1974-75 budget is approved in June or July of 1974.

CANDIDATES FOR FACULTY POSITIONS BEING SOUGHT

Candidates for positions on the faculty of the university are presently being sought, according to Donald L. Shelton (Director, Personnel Relations). Those interested in learning more about the positions are invited to contact the appropriate dean or department head. Cal Poly is an Affirmative Action Employer. Following is a description of the available positions:

Senior Assistant Librarian ($935-$1137), Library, Academic Affairs Division. Duties and responsibilities include administering of the Government Documents section of the public services department. The work assignment includes references, acquisitions, classifications and staff supervision associated with a collection of 330,000 documents. The library serves as a depository for Federal and State government publications. Candidates must have a graduate degree in an ALA accredited school of library science; must have either a second master's degree in a subject field, plus two years of professional library experience, or at least three years of professional library experience which has shown increasing ability, competence and professional growth and course work in the librarian's area of academic competence with the expectation of obtaining a second master's degree within a reasonable period of time. Position available: January 1974.

Lecturer, Range C (Part-time), Journalism Department, School of Communicative Arts and Humanities. Duties and responsibilities include instructing courses in news writing-reporting. Prefer candidates with a master's degree and with experience as a reporter and/or teacher. Position available: winter and spring quarters 1974 only.

CLARIFICATION ON THANKSGIVING HOLIDAY PERIOD

A review of the Cal Poly Report issued Oct. 16 indicates a need for clarifying the item regarding the Thanksgiving holiday period. Although Nov. 21 has been designated as an academic holiday, the campus will be open and will be a normal work day for staff, administrators and 10- and 12-month academic employees. Thursday through Sunday, Nov. 22-25, will be a university holiday for students, faculty, and staff, alike. Offices will be closed and only emergency and necessary services will be provided on those days.
APPLICATIONS INVITED FOR INTERNATIONAL PROGRAMS APPOINTMENTS

To permit more effective advance planning by persons interested in serving as resident directors of the overseas study centers of The California State University and Colleges International Programs, appointments are now made a year in advance of the year to be spent abroad. The selection process for the 1975-76 appointments will take place from October 1, 1973, to June 1, 1974.

Applications are invited for full-time assignments in France, Germany, Italy, Mexico, Spain, and Sweden, and for part-time (1/5) positions in Israel, Japan, and United Kingdom. The deadline for submission of new applications is Jan. 1, 1974. Former applicants who requested that their files be kept active will automatically be considered for the 1975-76 appointments.

Information and application materials may be obtained on campus from Robert McCorkle (Director, International Education), Tenaya 138, 546-2147, or from the Office of International Programs, The California State University and Colleges, 5670 Wilshire Boulevard, Los Angeles, 90036.

ART DISPLAY IN THE LOBBY OF VISTA GRANDE

The art of two Cal Poly art students is currently on display in the lobby of Vista Grande. Janet Jenkins, a freshman known in the community of San Luis Obispo for her talent, has 10 works on display. An interesting view of outer space is shown by the second student, Jeff Cruess. In addition to the student display, three photographs by Boyd Wettlaufer (audio-visual photographer) are also being exhibited in the entrance to the restaurant of Vista Grande. Members of the Cal Poly community are invited to visit Vista Grande and view the art display.

FOLKLORICO PERFORMANCE SLATED IN MEN'S GYM

Folklorico Mexicano, a festival of Mexican ballet and dancing, may be viewed tomorrow (Wednesday, Oct. 24) evening in the Men's Gym at Cal Poly. The 8:30 p.m. performance is sponsored by MEChA, a student organization on campus.

Folklorico Mexicano includes a cast of 75 singers, dancers, and musicians, all from Mexico. Landing a spot on the cast is considered a significant accomplishment in the Mexican entertainment world as each year over 400 applicants vie for the 75 available spots.

Tickets for Folklorico Mexicano are available at Stereo West and the Premier Music Company, both in San Luis Obispo, and at the information desk at the Julian A. McPhee University Union. General admission prices are $2 for university students and $4 for all others.

Typewritten copy intended for the next issue of Cal Poly Report must be received prior to 12 noon on Friday, Oct. 26, in the Office of Information Services, Adm-210. Copy for Cal Poly Dateline, which replaces the "Coming Events" section of Cal Poly Report and is published separately on Thursdays, is due in the Office of Information Services by 12 noon on the Tuesday before publication.
Bianca Rosenthal (Foreign Languages) attended an institute for teachers of German in Munich, Germany, during the summer. The program included lectures and discussions on German literature and culture, contemporary problems, and bilingual education. Since her return, Dr. Rosenthal has been invited by the Goethe Institute of Boston to contribute a paper on individualization for a forthcoming publication intended to inform an international audience about developments in the field on teaching methods.

Richard Krejsa (Biological Sciences), Kenneth Schwartz (School of Architecture and Environmental Design), and John Merriam (Agricultural Engineering) took part in a panel discussion on various aspects of water problems of San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara Counties in Santa Maria recently. The discussion was part of a day-long program on "What's on Tap for the Central Coast," which was sponsored by the League of Women Voters and the American Association of University Women.

Randal L. Cruikshanks (Political Science) has been invited to serve on the San Luis Obispo County Advisory Committee to the California State Framework Committee in the Social Sciences. Dr. Cruikshanks said the committee is charged with generating a new social science curriculum for consideration on a statewide basis early next year.

Robert L. Gordon (Ornamental Horticulture) was a commentator for the Christmas Show of the Twin Cities Florists Association, which took place recently in Minneapolis, Minn. About 1,000 florists from throughout the Midwest attended the show.

Donald P. Grant (School of Architecture and Environmental Design) attended a planning committee meeting on "Creating living environments for Older Adults," which took place on Oct. 10 in Washington, D.C. The meeting was sponsored by the Center for Social Gerontology.

Sandra S. Lecumberry (Foreign Languages) has learned recently from American Speech magazine that her article titled "The Relationship of Yiddish and Barrio Spanish" has been accepted for publication. Dr. Lecumberry's interest in barrio Spanish has come as a result of teaching barrio Spanish classes at Cal Poly.

Timothy A. Gaskin (Ornamental Horticulture) studied the Moghul Gardens in Kashmir, India, and Lahore, Pakistan, during the summer. Gaskin photographed the gardens, which were built by the Moghul emperors, as examples of Eastern landscaping. He expects to use them in landscape classes.

J. Handel Evans (Associate Dean, School of Architecture and Environmental Design) attended an environmental studies meeting of the Consortium of The California State University and Colleges, which was held last Friday (Oct. 19) in Los Angeles.

Alfred M. Bachman, George H. McMeen, and Allan D. Miller (all Mathematics) spoke at the third annual mini-conference of the Central Coast Section of the California Mathematics Council recently. The program, which was held in Santa Maria, was sponsored by the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics and the Santa Barbara County Schools Office. David Bullard, a Cal Poly mathematics student, was also a speaker during the mini-conference.

Joseph E. Grimes (Computer Science and Statistics) has been informed by the Graduate College of Iowa State University that he has met all requirements for the Doctor of Philosophy Degree. Dr. Grimes, who joined the Cal Poly faculty recently, formerly taught at Iowa State.
WRASSE SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM IS FOCUS OF "TIMES" FEATURE

The philanthropy of Leopold Wrasse, the German immigrant farmer who established the Wrasse Scholarships through his will, is the focus of a feature article by Charles Hillinger, which appeared on the front page of the second section of Sunday's (Oct. 21) Los Angeles Times.

Hillinger, whose feature articles are nationally distributed by the Los Angeles Times Washington Post Syndicate, wrote the article following a recent campus visit.

More than 1,300 Cal Poly students have received scholarships from the Wrasse fund in the past 20 years. The scholarships, which are renewable, provide awards of $500 per year for recipients who are majoring in agriculture or are graduates of Carruthers High School in Fresno County.

CAL POLY GRADS WILL BE SEMINAR PARTICIPANTS

Five women who earned degrees at Cal Poly will be among the featured participants when the Home Economics Department holds its second annual Home Economics Seminar on Thursday and Friday (Oct. 25-26). Speakers during the program will be from varied areas of home economics activity including foods and nutrition, clothing and textiles, education, interior design, and journalism.

The format for the two-day seminar, which will be held in the Home Economics Building, will include informal sessions, classroom presentations, and panel discussions, according to Maria Puck and Linda Shoemaker, student coordinators for the event. Kathy Frenu and Lezlie Labhard (both Home Economics) are faculty advisors for the seminar. Attendance will be open to the public.

SPEAKERS FROM STATE DEPARTMENT AVAILABLE ON CAMPUS

Faculty members interested in having a speaker representing the U.S. Department of State address a class meeting during the day next Tuesday (Oct. 30) are invited to contact Joseph Weatherby (Political Science) who is coordinating the visit of a four-member team on campus that day.

Dr. Weatherby said the visiting team will include experts in such areas as U.S.-Soviet relations, Middle East affairs, economic and trade matters, and Agency for International Development. Those interested in arranging class visits for members of the State Department team should contact Dr. Weatherby at their first opportunity.

Scheduled as part of the visit is a public lecture by Wat T. Cluverius at 11 a.m. on Tuesday in the Cal Poly Theatre. He is expected to discuss Middle East affairs. Admission will be free and the public is invited.

OCTOBER SALARY WARRANTS WILL BE AVAILABLE AT 4 P.M. NEXT TUESDAY

October salary warrants for faculty and staff employees of the university will be available at 4 p.m. next Tuesday (Oct. 30), the last day of the pay period. Warrants batched by department may be picked up at the Cashier's Office, Adm-131-E, and those picked up on an individual basis may be picked up in the Business Affairs Division Office, Adm-114, after that time.

NEH Grants and Programs  The National Endowment for the Humanities lists important guidelines, deadlines and key personnel in its booklet, NEH Program Announcement 1973-74. The following are some of the key programs it describes in detail. Project Grants, Planning Grants, Program Grants, Development Grants, and Film/TV Grants. These categories may not mean very much, but they refer to different types and stages of proposals--some for institutional development and others for interdisciplinary or interdepartmental planning. Most of the deadlines are mid-winter or early spring, depending on when the grant would begin and also upon the length of the funded period.
What's Going on in Washington ("Fund-wise," as they say)

There seems to be a somewhat brighter picture shaping up and reflecting a more sympathetic attitude on the part of the Administration and Congress. Special areas that will have local interest are:

Arts and Humanities Program. Both Congress and the Administration agree on continuing the arts and humanities program through 1976 with an authorization to spend up to $597 million through that period. The spending ceiling for this year is $145 million and appropriations for FY '74 $118.5 million. Beginning in FY '75, 20 per cent of the appropriation will go toward the arts with 75 per cent of the amount equally divided among the states with each state receiving no less than $150,000.

Drug Abuse Education. Also extended for three years was the Drug Abuse Education Act which authorizes $26 million for FY '74, $30 million for '75 and $34 million for '76. The measure is opposed by the Administration but there is every chance that bi-partisan support for the Act in the Congress could override a veto.

Animal Health Research. The Animal Health Research Act has been introduced in the Senate to provide a modest $25 million to schools of veterinary medicine and other qualified institutions over a five-year period for studying ways to reduce the estimated $4 billion annual-loss due to animal diseases.

Student Assistance Handbook. The new one is out again, explaining to high school students the availability of Federal and private scholarships, grants, loans and work-study programs. Available from your congressman, Zip 20515. If you know of prospective students who need this information, the booklet is invaluable.

Office of Federal Procurement Policy. The greatest inefficiency in the Federal government is generally considered to be in the institution of new efficiencies, but the Senate is ready to try it again. A proposal is up for a new Office of Federal Procurement Policy and if it goes through look for new efficiencies in the form of new forms, new regulations, new guidelines, new audits. On top of the old ones, of course.

NSF Travel Grants. The National Science Foundation will offer travel grants to those in the field of information processing for attendance at the triennial '74 Congress of the International Federation for Information Processing (Aug. 5-10, 1974) in Stockholm, Sweden. The Division of Mathematical Sciences of the National Research Council will administer the program and make the awards. For application, write to:
