Women discuss new concepts in female education in a new course designed by Dean Lorraine Howard.

The class, "Current Issues for Women," focuses on a positive self-concept for women.

Trustees impose new graduate student fee

Students seeking graduate standing at the state college where they earned bachelor's degrees are now subject to a $25 fee, the California State College Board of Trustees decided Wednesday.

Currently the fee is assessed graduate students entering other state colleges.

W.H. Langendorf, vice chancellor for academic affairs, said the charge would require graduate students seeking study at one college to go through the same procedure as other students at the college.

The basis for the change as presented to the trustees was that evaluations process for graduate students has become more thorough and consequently more costly.

Trustee Alan Corey, one of four trustees opening the measure, said that in view of the increase from $15 to $25 less than two years ago, the new charge would be unjustified.

Ken Makley, president of California State College Student Presidents Association (CSCPA), said his group "is in opposition to any increase of any fee imposed on the students of the California State Colleges."

The CSCPA issued a statement stating that charges to students should not be levied indiscriminately and that if necessary are charges to cover costs, they should be levied according to the work load that they generate.

Students to air gripes on residence hall life

Student living in on-campus residence halls may soon have an opportunity to air their gripes and express opinions on dorm life.

Pending approval by the Dean of Students Office, the Student Tenants Association (STA) will set up tables in the residence halls and provide questionnaires for dorm residents to fill out.

The questionnaires, which are presently being developed by STA members and Dean of Students Everett Chandler, will be in-depth inquiries into student's opinions of residence hall regulations, the manner in which they are enforced, and particular problems individuals have encountered.

According to Chip Kelley, who is working on the committee to develop the questionnaire, a rally is planned for Friday to get residents to fill out questionnaires and give other information about dorm life.

Student movement will be held Thursday during College Hour in CU 307.

Kelley said he hopes to have tables in the dorms by Friday afternoon. He added that a petition to urge the college to give future dorm residents the option of either a yearly or quarterly housing lease with the quarterly license being slightly more expensive may also be available in the dorms.

Package partly opens as leaders will resign

Washington (UPI) — President Richard Nixon's top aides, Henry A. Kissinger, said Wednesday the United States offered a specific Vietnam troop withdrawal date in an agreement the Communists would accept to a cease-fire and release American POWs.

Kissinger said in a lengthy news conference that the offer was made during a negotiating session in Paris with North Vietnamese officials on Aug. 16.

Nixon's national security affairs adviser also told reporters that the main sticking point in negotiations with the Communist is North Vietnam's insistence that the United States overthrow the South Vietnamese government of President Nguyen Van Thieu in a direct or indirect manner.

Kissinger said that the United States would not take that step.

He said the Communists want the United States to accept the same pattern they have not been able to achieve militarily.

President Nixon made public Tuesday night the secret, three-months package partly opens as leaders will resign.

Nixon was scheduled simultaneously with that of Nixon's speech In the United States and South Vietnam.

Thieu Wednesday offered new peace package partly opens as leaders will resign.

He said that in view of the Increase of any fee imposed on the students of the California State Colleges."

The CSCPA issued a statement stating that charges to students should not be levied indiscriminately and that if necessary are charges to cover costs, they should be levied according to the work load that they generate.

Students to air gripes on residence hall life

Student living in on-campus residence halls may soon have an opportunity to air their gripes and express opinions on dorm life.

Pending approval by the Dean of Students Office, the Student Tenants Association (STA) will set up tables in the residence halls and provide questionnaires for dorm residents to fill out.

The questionnaires, which are presently being developed by STA members and Dean of Students Everett Chandler, will be in-depth inquiries into student's opinions of residence hall regulations, the manner in which they are enforced, and particular problems individuals have encountered.

According to Chip Kelley, who is working on the committee to develop the questionnaire, a rally is planned for Friday to get residents to fill out questionnaires and give other information about dorm life.

Student movement will be held Thursday during College Hour in CU 307.

Kelley said he hopes to have tables in the dorms by Friday afternoon. He added that a petition to urge the college to give future dorm residents the option of either a yearly or quarterly housing lease with the quarterly license being slightly more expensive may also be available in the dorms.

On opening day of the new CU Ice Cream Parlor, seating amidst ornate wrought-iron chairs and small white counter. We wanted a seating area on either side of a children's inn, and the ceiling with its multi-colored lights, won't shatter if it's hot. We Just dreamed up what we dreamed up in about three hours.

"That's the real value of our design," said Kelley. "It's the fun of it. So we wanted to make it look like a liquor bar." He pointed out that every other place on campus is designed to serve food, except for the Cellar. "People come in an ice cream parlor, just for the fun of it. So we wanted to distinguish it from any place else on campus."

His partner pointed at the ceiling with its multi-colored clouds of light. "We've had the idea of making the ceiling a ceiling to hide the pipes and ducts. That's where we had to be practical," he said. "We put it up in about three hours. We just couldn't figure out a way to go around it and still have a good ceiling, so we dreamed up what we have here.

"That's the real value of our design," said Kelley. "It's the fun of it. So we wanted to make it look like a liquor bar." He pointed out that every other place on campus is designed to serve food, except for the Cellar. "People come in an ice cream parlor just for the fun of it. So we wanted to distinguish it from any place else on campus."

On opening day of the new CU Ice Cream Parlor, seating amidst ornate wrought-iron chairs and small white counter. We wanted a seating area on either side of a children's inn, and the ceiling with its multi-colored lights, won't shatter if it's hot. We Just dreamed up what we dreamed up in about three hours.

"That's the real value of our design," said Kelley. "It's the fun of it. So we wanted to make it look like a liquor bar." He pointed out that every other place on campus is designed to serve food, except for the Cellar. "People come in an ice cream parlor, just for the fun of it. So we wanted to distinguish it from any place else on campus."
LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Abstentions explained

Editors:

With our alleviations of secrecy in student government confirmed by Steve Dapper's letter in yesterday's Mustang Daily, what follows is our official statement.

Yesterday's Mustang Daily, what follows is our statement.

"Busted: Possession and Sales" was the topic of Norm Stone's talk at the Project 9 drug symposium Tuesday night. Stone was a fifth year agriculture student here in 1969 with plans of becoming a teacher.

The occupants were left handcuffed in a room open to the cold while the house was ransacked. Stone said. "Drawers were ripped out and turned over, they sat up, beautified at our magazines and tore apart our bed."

The police found a half dozen marijuana cigarettes on the premises and took everyone to jail.

After 5 lines for 5 days in MUSTANG CLASSIFIED (2.50) you could sell it, buy it, announce it, or just see it in print—at that price its worth it...whatever it may be.

MUSTANG CLASSIFIEDS

("Buzzed: Possession and Sales" was the topic of Norm Stone's talk at the Project 9 drug symposium Tuesday night. Stone was a fifth year agriculture student here in 1969 with plans of becoming a teacher."

A scandal at the Jan. 19 SAC meeting..."I will not interpret your particular policy challenge, but your moral premise. To think you can sway is also appalling."

"I will not interpret your particular policy challenge, but your moral premise. To think you can sway is also appalling."

"...To think you can solve...as a disgrace to 19,000 and;...We will not help you to pretend..."..."...When you violate the rights..."..."...When you violate the rights..."...Jail.

Suez conflict

Jerusalem (UPI)—Foreign Minister Abba Eban believes Egypt would have a clear advantage if it decided to pursue the American-Bahraini effort to reopen the Suez Canal under a partial peace agreement.

Eban spoke shortly after Egyptian Premier Anwar Sadat was defeated in the Senate. Eban had again rejected the American peace initiative, calling the United States Cairo's worst enemy, in the face of student demonstrations urging war with Israel.

In the most complete official reaction to the unrest in Egypt, Eban told the 25th Zionist Congress Tuesday night that the answer for Egypt is to abandon hopes for an improvised solution and negotiate with Israel.

Legislators draft bills; hope to secure coastal line

Legislators aimed at preserving California's coastline was introduced recently by a bipartisan team of lawmakers, including the Legislature's top leadership.

Stone pleaded not guilty and maintained that stand today, though he was sentenced to 3 years probation with one of those in jail, and a $1,000 fine. He served eight and a half months in the old San Luis Obispo County Jail...While incarcerated, Stone saw for the first time in his life a man a man a man a man a man a man..."...An attempted suicide, and homosexual behavior..."...To think you can sway is also appalling."

"...Law enforcement and the jail system are tools of those em...United States Cairo's worst enemy, in the face of student demonstrations urging war with Israel."

The legislation would create a California Coastal Commission, which is directed to prepare a comprehensive plan for the preservation of the California coastline, to be submitted to the Legislature in 1978. The Commission and its regional commissions will be given strong interim power, through a permit system, to prohibit any development which may cause irreversible damage within a permit some specifically inland 1,000 yards from the mean high tide and seaward to the three mile limit. The Slieroty and Grunsky measures are similar to Sieroty's 1971 coastal legislation (AB 307) which passed the Assembly and was defeated in the Senate.
Court reverses decision

Student Judiciary has reversed its original decision regarding the retention of 10 students illegally appointed to Finance Committee according to Larry Alcorn, associate justice, administration was very easy to break its engagements.

"Women's Lib is fantastic for men, as a truly liberated woman allows a man to be himself. He can show his tears and still be masculine," said Nixon's new proposal "was an inclusive one, which includes a political settlement of the conflict."

Later SAC, on advice of Richard Carrol, ASI attorney, voted not to take any action against 10 students who had been seated on the committee without the approval of ASI Pres., Pete Evans.

Speaker testified to his pertitle maneuver to deceive the American electorate in this election year," the statement said.

The Viet Cong, in a parallel statement, labeled the U.S. plan "election propaganda."

Japan "wholeheartedly" welcomed President Nixon's new proposal, Wednesday as a "positive step," the statement said.

Chief Cabinet Secretary Noboru Takeshita said Nixon's proposals "were an inclusive one, which includes a political settlement of the conflict."

Poetry reading

A contemporary poetry reading presented by Fred Rizzo will be held on Thursday, Jan. 31, at Chumash Hall. Rizzo will also speak Friday at 7:30 p.m., in CU 315. He will discuss and analyze the poetry readings that he presented on Thursday.

The reading and lecture are sponsored by the Fine Arts Committee and are open to the public. Admission will be free.
Plagued by a flu bug that they brought back from Oklahoma, three Mustang wrestlers were removed from the starting lineup and two others battled on despite illness as the men's conquering San Francisco State, 84-0 in the Men's Gym Tuesday. Coach Virgil Hitchcock, however, felt it was the "best home match the squad has faced this year." There were some excellent efforts, he said, on the part of some wrestlers.

"Joe Nigo wrestled despite the flu and convincingly defeated Marc Likens, who had a record of 13-3. Also, Alyn Cooke was effective in pinning Joe Smith." Hitchcock is concerned about the "epidemic" currently engulfing the squad. The Mustangs face a very tough week of competition, opening against San Fernando Valley State in the Men's Gym at 7:30 p.m. Friday. Gary McBride, Pat Farmer, and Frank Ludo all sat out Tuesday's meet. Ludo's in addition, has a knee injury. More recent additions to the list include Nigo, Frank Barnhart, and Gary Greene. "Our team has excellent depth," Hitchcock noted, "but no team can suffer this many injuries without losing some matches." He said it was impossible at this time to know who would be ready by Friday.

"This is no 24-hour virus. In Oklahoma, news broadcasts called it an epidemic and were actually keeping a death toll," Hitchcock added. "Hopelessly, the California air will check the germs faster than in the South."

Following the Valley State meet, the varsity squad will travel to Los Angeles for three dual meets Saturday: UCLA, UC Santa Barbara, and Arizona State, expected to give the toughest competition. The reserves will be in The City for the San Francisco State Invitational, a tournament involving 14 schools. When questioned as to the reason that many wrestlers were not ready for dual meets Saturday; UCLA, UC Santa Barbara, and Arizona State, Hitchcock curtly answered, "Call me a pessimist."

"I'm concerned about our team's ability to keep this virus from spreading. The top teams with the best wrestlers and coaches will be ready by Friday."

"Utls la no 24-hour virus. To our knowledge, this is the first time an epidemic has spread around this area."

Hitchcock cited an epidemic that hit the school last month as "in the air," and the "most contagious virus." He said it was impossible at this time to know who would be ready by Friday.

"This is a 24-hour virus. In California, news bulletins called it an epidemic and were actually keeping a death toll," Hitchcock added. "Hopelessly, the California air will check the germs faster than in the South."

Following the Valley State meet, the varsity squad will travel to Los Angeles for three dual meets Saturday: UCLA, UC Santa Barbara, and Arizona State, expected to give the toughest competition. The reserves will be in The City for the San Francisco State Invitational, a tournament involving 14 schools.

When questioned as to the reason that many wrestlers were not ready for dual meets Saturday: UCLA, UC Santa Barbara, and Arizona State, Hitchcock curtly answered, "Call me a pessimist."

"I'm concerned about our team's ability to keep this virus from spreading. The top teams with the best wrestlers and coaches will be ready by Friday."

"This is a 24-hour virus. In California, news bulletins called it an epidemic and were actually keeping a death toll," Hitchcock added. "Hopelessly, the California air will check the germs faster than in the South."

Following the Valley State meet, the varsity squad will travel to Los Angeles for three dual meets Saturday: UCLA, UC Santa Barbara, and Arizona State, expected to give the toughest competition. The reserves will be in The City for the San Francisco State Invitational, a tournament involving 14 schools.