IDAHO TRAGEDY

Fire traps 53 miners

Kellogg, Idaho (UPI) — Rescue workers with gas masks and air compressors rushed through the nation’s largest silver mine Wednesday searching for 53 men who died in a fire hidden in its 100 miles of shafts and tunnels.

A spokesman for Gov. Cecil Andrus said at least 28 miners were already dead in the Boyer-Old Sunshine Mine in the worst mine disaster in Idaho history. Another 108 escaped when the fire broke out Tuesday.

The fire poured smoke and poison gas throughout the Sunshine Mine's No. 10 shaft, overcoming miners without warning.

While grieving women and haggard survivors clustered around the main entrance, where smoke still poured from the main ventilating shaft, five bodies were brought up Tuesday night and 13 early Wednesday to be taken away in trucks.

Andrus and Interior Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton flew to the site five miles southeast of Kellogg in the penultimate of emergency northern Idaho, where the Sunshine Company, first discovered in 1884, is the nation’s largest producer of silver.

Andrus declared the northern Idaho mining area in a state of ‘extreme emergency’ and called on all state agencies to render assistance.

The fire had not been located and was still filling the No. 10 shaft with smoke and carbon monoxide. But mine officials said if the mine were filled with the emergency air pipes which line the mine, they could survive indefinitely in the smoke-filled chambers.

Student government chair’s play

That is what students at San Diego State seemed to think when they elected two-year-old Brad Tuft as Associated Student president last month.

Tuft’s campaign was run by Jack Haynie, assistant professor of journalism, and one of his advertising classes in an attempt to prove that practically any candidate could be elected in the Studentgovernment in a fashion. The original plan called for advertising the campus in signs reading “Write-in Brad Tuft — He Cares” and not telling the public anything about him until after the election.

The news media were notified of the news and the story was to be released nationally if he was elected. In a surprise move one week before the voting took place the San Diego Union broke the story of Tuft’s being the two-year-old son of an advertising manager of one of the local chain stores.

The ‘Union doesn’t get along with us very well,” said Bill Flasching, assistant news editor of the campus paper, The Ante.

“That’s probably why they spread the story. The students want Brad and elected him anyway as a protest to our Micky Mouse government.”

Tuft was 300 votes ahead of his opponent and the election was set for 7:30 p.m. Monday in Ag 323 for those who cannot attend the first.

Miss Boyce said the organization will be meeting with two unions, the United Professors of California and the California State Employees Association, in hopes of winning their support.

“In no way are the student employees trying to interfere with the wages of the full-time employees,” said Miss Boyce.

“We are only trying to improve our working conditions.”

The students plan to meet with the Finance and celebrate administrative officials some time next week, Miss Boyce said.

Face baby steals school election

Last bids before runoff

Runoff elections for the top three A.S. student government spots will be held today and Friday.

Robin Baggett and Pete Evans will vie for the A.S. president’s spot, while Denny Johnson and James Patterson run for the vice-presidency. The race for secretary will be between Laura Lampson and Max Boverl.

Polls will be located in the CUC, near the self-service post office, on the Library lawn, the 4th circle and at the entrance to the Administration Building. A booth will not be in front of the Mathematics building during this election, according to Jim Smith, elections chairman.

All of the polling booths will be open from 8 a.m. until 8 p.m. today and Friday.

Pete Evans:

Having heard directly from local faculty and administrators, trustees, state legislators, the governor, senators, congressmen, and countless students, there is absolutely no question about the most formidable problem before student government—lack of visibility.

No sensible person could deny that responsible, experienced officers can do more for you than Johnny-come-latelys with an unsupportable campaign promise.

Max Boverl (sec.), Jim Patterson (VP) and I have ignored our private lives this year for one purpose—to serve the needs of the whole student body.

This is evident from the countless hours spent in committee, consultation with faculty and staff and interaction with local, state and federal officials.

Our experience doesn’t stem from special interests or static positions on de-nomination committees, but actual work in every type of environment imaginable.

Our record speaks for our dedication—we don’t rely on campaign promises, nor should you.

Refer to yesterday’s paper (my letter) for a very brief list of these accomplishments—there are many and varied, and near yet there is some mention I support only existing programs! I have involved the A.S. officers and representatives in a more critical analysis of budgeting procedures—to save your money—and for these efforts have been criticized by archaic elements on campus that resist budgeting reform.

These elements have now joined together to defeat me and elect representatives of their interest. Several thousand of you didn’t vote last week, I ask you now to take a stand and build it up with a vote: choose big business to run your government or leave it to the people, us.

Robin Baggett:

The Baggett-Johnson coalition represents no special interest group. We do not have ties with any political party which will expect favors in return for their support. Leaders from all the major organizations on campus have come out in favor of our candidacy.

These people have worked through and with the Evans administration. From their position of responsibility and insight, they are demanding a change in your student officers. They are tired of an inefficient and ineffective A.S. office which only serves to undermine the democratic process.

Your leaders supporting Baggett and Johnson include your S.A.C. elected representatives, Finance Committee, the chairman of the Program Boards, Student Judiciary, school council chairman, presidents of clubs, and chairman of committees. These people are working for you. They know what it takes to run an effective government.

Denny and I possess the experience and dedication to work for students. I stand on my unblemished record as a three year member of Finance Committees, including one year as chairman, as testimony to the fact that I could not vote last week, I ask you now to take a stand and build it up with a vote: choose big business to run your government or leave it to the people, us.

Quake victims need aid

Editor:
The Iranian Student Association in the United States regrettably received the news of the devastating earthquake that left thousands of people dead and thousands more homeless and suffering. In an earthquake — peace country, more than 60 percent of our people live in villages of little mud huts where an average of eight people live in each room. With such poor housing a quake can easily kill thousands in a very short time. These are not just victims of natural disasters but of corrupt dictatorship of Iran.

The Province of Fars, where this latest quake hit is the same province where the Shah spent about one billion dollars on his two day “bash” to celebrate “5000 years of Iranian Monarchy”. The “tents” erected were worth 160,000 dollars apiece. This is 3600 years of Iranian Monarchy, but of corrupt leadership this is not just victims of natural disasters but of corrupt dictatorship too.

Seismologists have shown that Iran is a major earthquake region but there is no single concept of decent housing, except for the rich. The millions of peasants and workers continue to live in mud huts. The regime’s attempts to fly a few helicopters and soldiers over the debris are just a facade saving propaganda for foreign television cameras.

We are starting a fund raising drive to aid the recent victims because we feel that it is the only way to ensure that the people will receive the aid they need. We urge all concerned people and organizations to help us and therefore help the people in Iran.

The second blood drive for Pete Lemon, a leukemia victim, is scheduled on Friday between 6 p.m. and 9 p.m. in the Men’s Gym.

The 160 people who signed up to donate blood are urged to come, along with those previously signed up for April 8. Also, any person who did not sign up is welcome to participate. John Durant, chairman for the drive, says,

The 160 bottles donated April 8 have been used by Lemon. Durant said that Lemon is undergoing radioactive treatment now and needs blood every few weeks. The blood given this time will be used "to keep him going for another year."

Lemon played football for this school between 1965 and 1967 and was a graduate student in physical education during Fall and Winter Quarters. He is reportedly in the hospital.

Doctors are advised to avoid eating for four hours prior to donating. Also, preliminary tests will be given to check the capability of the donor’s blood.

have the ability to be an unbiased leader. Denny Johnson will be an informed and capable head of SAC. As a past Chairman of Intramurals, he has coordinated activities for 800 students. We stand on our record.

Do not be misled by the name—Service-Parts-Clothing. All products are quality items, but the name suggests otherwise.

Denny Johnson will be an alternative to the alienation and divisiveness that has engulfed our campus this year. We will work with you and for you.

Boogie at the Almanac

by ROBIN SHEEPFIELD

Mustang Almanac is bluegrass music. Mustang Almanac is folk music. Mustang Almanac is "happening" here. Mustang Almanac is "Black Door Man," and "Spoonful" which are well on their way to becoming standards.

Saturday, the Almanac will move down to Mustang Stadium for the country and folk performances of Ray and Iris Peterson, Bonnie Jones and the Georgia Sea Island, High Country Bluegrass Band, and more. Mustang Almanac is sponsored by the Fine Arts Committee and will cost students $7 for the two-day package, or $3 each day. People will be allowed to leave and return during the performances, Kuentzel said. For the general public, it will cost $8.50 for both days and $4 for one day.

The show is closed to dogs and all children under 14 not accompanied by an adult.

Individually, together, or with friends such as Dave Mason, Jerry Garcia, Chris Stringer, Russ Kunkel and Danny Keough, the talent of these people is undeniable. Each song is refreshingly unique yet they still seem to give an insight to Nash and Crosby's heads. Outstanding cuts include "Southbound Train," "Frisian Emilia," "Page 43," and "The Wall Song.

Regularly $6.98.

Graham Nash-David Crosby

Stills has a new band made up of Dallas Taylor on drums, Chris Hillman (formerly with the Byrds) on guitar, Al Perkins on steel guitar, Paul Harris on organ & piano, Joe Lala on Congas, and Calvin "Fuzzy" Samuels on bass. This group seems to cover music today, from country ballads to good ole rock and roll. They recently released a two album set that contains nothing but fine music. Good cuts include "Right Now," "The Seventh Son," "Back Door Man," and "Spoonful" which are well on their way to becoming standards.

Regularly $4.98.

You can find lots of other Atlantic albums at Stereo West. Roberta Finck's hit album "First Take," Arista Franklin's "Young, Gifted and Black," and Donny Hathaway's "Donny Hathaway Live."

The Mustang track team competed in the San Jose International Saturday in a tune-up for next weekend's West Coast Relays.

"It's a good preparation for the West Coast Relays," Simmon said. "It's by the best competition we've faced this year."

The competition at San Jose City College included the Pacific Coast Track Club, the U.S. Army team, Bay Area Striders, the West Valley Club, and San Jose State.

Simmons said he was taking his top field event athletes and the mile and 440 relay team. He was also entering Miller John Reardon and three-miler Dale Horton.

Horton has already qualified for the NCAA Nationals in the three-mile, but he is going to try for the six-mile also.

Dave Hamer is entered in the pole vault and high hurdles. Hamer has not run the hurdles often this season, but he finished in 18.8 at the Mt. San Antonio Relays.

Rollie McCormick, long jumper; Tom Murphy, high jumper; and Kent Taylor, triple jumper are entered in the first of five big meets.

Following the West Coast Relays comes California Collegiate Athletic Association meet and the NCAA College and University Championships.

In preparation for those meets Simmons has been bugging his relay teams to find the right combinations.

The mile relay team consists of Arthur Markham, John Haley, Bob Mark and Kerby Gold. The 440 team includes Lowell Henry, Haley, Gold and Hamer.

The Poly Royal weekend grueling experience for the team which brought them to the test of back to back meets.

The busy weekend started with the Mt. San Antonio Relays in Los Angeles on Friday. The team was here Saturday for a triangular meet with San Francisco State and University of the Pacific.

"It was a good weekend," Simmons said. "We got just what we wanted."

Simmons was also impressed with the performance of fresh­man quartermiler Markham.

Markham put it together for the nationals."

"He hasn't had a lot of problems but he's coming around," Simmons said. "I think we can load off in the low 4:1's by the nationals."

When senior John Haley pulled a hamstring before the season started, Russ Grime stepped in and won several 100 and 200-yard dashes.

Now Haley is back, but Grime and Lowell Henry are injured.

"Without Grime we're hurting. He's one of the finer athletes here in school," Simmons said.

Cuesta to host family talk

Dr. Ruth Mishoeleon, director of the Northridge Family Counseling Center in Northridge, California, will lead lectures and workshops to be conducted at Cuesta College from 7 to 8 p.m. on May 8, 10 and 11.

The annual program of the Cuesta College Community Center, "Your Family and You," is directed toward families during the improvement of intra-family communication.

Dr. Mishoeleon, a clinical psychologist, is widely recognized for her successful joint counseling of parents and their adolescent children, with an emphasis on effective discipline, guidance, and communication within families.
