Spock calls for a total withdrawal from Viet war

By NICK SARD

Attacking the last two ad ministrations for "deceit," Dr.
Benjamin Spock, presidential candidate for the Peace and Freedom Party, called for an immediate withdrawal of all U.S. troops from Southeast Asia and the world when he spoke at Mitchell Park Saturday.

Spock, famous for his work as a day care consultant and peace activist, said President Richard Nixon and Lyndon Johnson lied to the American people about the reasons for U.S. presence in Vietnam in their speech to about 300 people, mostly mothers and their children, and students.

"The whole damn thing has been supported by lies," Spock said. "We were never invited there except by our poodles.
When a burglar enters your home and invites another burglar in, that doesn't constitute and legitimate invitation.

"I supported Johnson for president because he said there would be no escalation of the war in Southeast Asia. Little did I know what aoundrel he was," Spock said.

Fee increase to even income, outgo

By TOM MARSHALL

College Union fees will be in creased beginning this summer.

The announcement of the College Union fee increase was made at Thursday's meeting of the College Union Board of Governors (CUBO) by Chairman Tony Turkovitch. According to Turkovitch, approval of the fee increase has been received from Chancellor Glenn B. Dunkele in the turn of an Executive order.

Turkovitch said the fee will be increased because the "income from the building will not meet the operations cost."

According to Turkovitch, the CUBO has prepared a budget for the fall and winter quarter fees being raised to $79.00. Costs for Student Union Session students will rise from $71.00 for the pre-season week and $10.00 for the post-season week, 85.00 for each week session. A maximum of $120.00 will be charged for students concurrently enrolled in the Summer Quarter and Student Union Session.

According to Turkovitch, college union services has an overall average earnings between $46.00 per student from college union fees and activities fees. The CU at this college will receive only $80.00 per student for college union fees, even with the increase, became all activities fees go to ASI.

In another CUBO action, the possibility of a local boutique occupying CU 118 was discussed.

Roy Gerstein, director of ASI business affairs, said interest in the site has been shown by a local boutique. He requested authorization for the CUBO to receive bids.

Injunction halts officer approval

Complaints and counter the Student Judiciary about the

The result is an injunction

Nixon orders blockade

Washington, D.C. — President Nixon ordered U.S. forces Monday night to choke off North Vietnam's supply of weapons by mining its harbors and bombing rail links from China in new phase of the war which risks confrontation with both Peking and Moscow.

The President said mines were being dropped by airplanes in

Trustee snag good for students, colleges

It is gratifying to see that the Senate Rules Committee has listened to student leaders, both in government and in the press, and is holding back confirmation of four trustee appointments.

Mustang Daily twice has spoken against confirmation of Gov. Ronald Reagan's appointees on the basis that the California State University and Colleges board of trustees does not reflect any part of the makeup of the 265,000 students it governs.

Reagan's appointees consisted of three men and one woman. All white, politically conservative and only semi-educationally oriented. Mustang Daily in connection with other state college papers and student presidents took a position on principle against the appointments.

The Senate Rules Committee has twice taken a close look and will reopen consideration next week. All or some of the appointees may be confirmed.

Taking a position on principle is not an invincible position. It just may be one of the newly appointed trustees, Roy Brophy, may be partially qualified. As pointed out in an editorial in the Fresno State College Collegian, Brophy is a graduate of the state college system—therefore, he is not presently serving on the board—and he has taken time since his appointment to visit Fresno and this campus to find out for himself what needs and concerns of the students are.

Brophy does have a background in education through his schooling in the state and his serving on the San Juan Unified School District Board of Education and on the California Community Colleges Board of Governors.

Nevertheless, a sharp imbalance exists on the board of trustees. There is one minority and one woman and a heck of a lot of wealthy businessmen. All are over 40 years of age. The board traditionally has decided that the time to speak up is now, when your views can be heard.

Endorsement clarified

The creation of a mediation committee composed of lay officials from throughout the nation was announced this week in Sacramento by John F. Henning, executive-treasurer of the California Labor Federation, AFL-CIO.

The committee has been established to seek action on demands sought by the 5,000 California College professors, AFL-CIO. According to Henning, they will seek to improve wages and working conditions of state college faculty members and assure every college student the same educational opportunities by all Californians.

This is explained the mediation committee will seek a meeting with the state's legislative leaders the next eight days as a first step toward the development of a compensation program, "to win effective action on some of the more sorely felt needs of these workers."

Those on the list of demands which are most important to students in the state college system are a 15 percent increase, the continuation of the Educational Opportunity Program grant funds, the continuance of the non tuition policy at the state college level, and assurance of material and service fees.

Music from other places, other times settled on to the campus this past weekend during the second annual Mustang Almanac.

Disappointing crowds attended the blues portion of the two day affair on Friday night and the country and bluegrass presentations Saturday afternoon in Mustang Hall.

Almanac promoter, Doug Kuestel praised the performances on both days, but wondered openly about the future of the Almanac in light of the small turnout.

Highlighting the Friday evening performance was Willie Dixon and his All Stars. Dixon teamed with quality guitar, harmonica and piano blues performers to provide the evening's best entertainment.

"I've seen BB King and plenty of others, but what Dixon did Friday night, especially with his own songs, was the best I've ever seen," commented Kuestel.

Dixon wrote "Spoonful", "Back Door Man", "Hoochie Coochie Man", "Seven Son", and several other of the legendary Chicago songs he performed during the evening's best entertainment.

Spock says withdraw...

"The only honest reason I've heard as to why we're in Vietnam is because of the jargon and steel there," said the Peace and Freedom Party was not isolationist, "We believe all American troops should be brought home from all over the world. The rest of the world needs help from the United States in such things as machinery, know-how, education and money. And the United States and other industrial nations should provide it."

Volunteers are needed for community services

From unselfish plans with big ambitions comes realities of big accomplishments, and thoughts of even more impressive deeds. It is the student Community Service Center (CSC). "We're not doing things for projects," said Bill Davis, chairman. "Now we're organized and doing things done, and we could use more people.

"Our biggest project is with the Santa Ynez Indian Reservation," said Davis. "We've got $14,135 from Student Affairs Council to help with the project. We're starting out by building a playground.

"This is part of the whole community project. It's just the beginning. A third-year design class is doing it. They wanted to get something started on the ground floor. It'll be completed by June."

Work starts at the reservation May 11, and CSC has been busy securing materials for construction, said Davis. These include a geometrical dome used during Poly Royal containing 800 in pipes, and lumber from the construction company working on the "French" hospital. CSC is also looking into the possibility of receiving federal grants for the project.

It's been working on many other projects such as painting the Grass Route office, and making silk screens for Spanish language posters for Human Resources Development, said Davis.

Two immediate projects which need volunteers are tutoring and the community breakfast program, said Demet, advisor. The service organization is planning to use a bulletin board in the lower floor of the CSC to keep students up-to-date on the group's projects, said Davis.

"This year we're just getting started," said Davis. "We've gotten ourselves organized, and next year we'll really be able to accomplish something.

administration in the area of interference in an election. The charge against the faculty is labeled faculty misconduct in the complaint.

Several coaches encouraged and instructed their teams and classes to vote for Baggett and Johnson.

"Another coach cut an advertisement from the Mustang Daily supporting Evans, Paterson and Bower, wrote a statement implying that their campaign was racist, pleaded a Baggett and Johnson sticker was stuck across the ad and displayed it in the hall of the Men's P.E. building on his bulletin board."

Cort feels that constitutes a violation.

"There's no way we can determine how many votes were swayed it was wrong," he said.

"We're going to ask for a new election. We aren't trying to get anyone disqualified. We just want everything on the up and up this time."

Future plant to be reviewed

The environmental question has reared its head from the depths of despair to once again challenge the Diablo Canyon project.

The Atomic Safety and Licensing Board, recently appointed by the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC), will conduct a hearing into the construction activities at the Diablo Canyon nuclear power plant, Units 1 and 2.

This hearing will consider whether construction at the site should be suspended pending completion of a broadened environmental review.

According to a commission spokesman, the hearing will begin at 10 a.m. on May 17 in the Board Meeting Room, building 1518 at Cuesta College.

Parties at the hearing include Pacific Gas and Electric Company officials, the AEC Regulatory staff, and the Scenic Shoreline Preservation Conference, Inc., said the spokesman.

"On December 7, 1971, the Commission Director of Regulation made a determination, under AEC regulations, not to suspend overall construction activities at the Diablo Canyon station pending completion of AEC's full environmental impact review. On December 30, 1971, a request for hearing on the determination was filed by the Scenic Shoreline Preservation Conference, Inc., and on April 31, 1972, the Commission directed that a hearing be held," reported the spokesman.

SPRING FOOTBALL

Pettas provides spark

by ERIC NOLAND

Quarterback John Pettas continued to lead his team with excellence Saturday, but found some tough opposition on the other side of the line, as the Mustang football team continued spring workouts with a situation scrimmage in Mustang Stadium.

Head Coach Joe Harper said, "Pettas is doing a phenomenal job this spring. I'm very pleased with his progress, he has gained confidence, and his passing has improved a great deal. His work with the option is as good as any we've had here."

Without the services of receivers Mike Amos and Dan Caccavo, and running back Mike Foley (all temporarily sidelined with injuries) Pettas relied on the play of tight end Randy O'Brien and halfback Mike Thomas. Both played well and accomplished the offensive attack, and their coach was "very pleased" with their efforts.

The defense, also strengthened, turned in what Harper felt was its best day of the spring. Particularly impressive up front were linemen Tom Chantler and Wayne Robinson, along with the entire linebacking corps, led by Greg Lee and Jeff Van Dyck. Lee and Van Dyck are presently battling for the starting middle linebacker slot, and according to Harper, both have been playing as well, "they have created a dilemma as to who will get the starting role."

Spring football is a time for experimentation, and when Amos and Caccavo return to the field, a few changes may be seen in order to best utilize their talents. Amos, whom Harper considers the best all-around athlete he has on his squad, will be tried at a very critical area—the defensive secondary. The All-American junior, who has done such an exceptional job at wide receiver during the past two seasons, will be called upon to help fill the gap at safety, thus playing both pass defense and pass offense.

Caccavo, on the other hand, will be moved from slotback to slotend where his pass receiving talents can be more widely used. His talents can be more widely used.
