Riots continue across nation

(UP1) — Thoroughly angry antia war protesters demonstrated — some violently, many peacefully — in towns of cities across the nation Wednesday. Hundreds of high school students carried the protests to Capitol Hill.

More than 900 persons have been arrested by police since Pres. Richard Nixon announced the mining of Haiphong and other harbors Monday night. Dozens of demonstrators and police have been injured.

Some 500 look a yu from a Washington high school chanted against him during the steps of the Capitol. Speaker Carl Albert ordered the public excluded from the House galleries for security reasons.

Albert told the House that police had information that further disturbances were planned. A House session Thursday was disrupted three times by outbreaks of protesters.

Prinston University students scuffled with police and tried to block entrances to the Institute for Defense Analysts, a government-supported research center.

More than 80 were arrested. Eighty students at Ohio University in Athens were arrested when, singing "God Bless America" and "Give Peace a Chance," they refused to end a sit-in at the campus ROTC. About 50 persons were arrested at Burlington, Vt., after they blocked entrances to the Federal Building.

About 150 demonstrators—using an automobile, garden hose and a fire extinguisher—smashed traffic in two lanes of Chicago's Lake Shore Drive for about 40 minutes during the morning rush hour.

Police used a "pepper-fogger" to break up a missile-throwing, garbage-dumping rampage at the University of Florida. At least 53 students were arrested and 18 persons injured.

Demonstrators swept through the student quarter at Santa Barbara, Calif., clashing with police, smashing windows and setting fires in a four-by-ten block area. An estimated $20,000 damage was done and near the 2,000-yard campus in Champaign.

More than 600 windows were broken.

Republican hopefuls speak at CU

By STEPHEN STAGNARO

Two Republican candidates for the local district turned CU into a political arena today.

Sponsored by the California College Republicans, Walt Healy, 34, and Robert Nimmer, 24, both seeking the Republican nomination in the 26th district assembly seat, addressed the student body.

In his opening statement, Healy addressed himself to the problems of youth unemployment and the rising cost of local government.

He said he had no friends and that he would probably come from Colorado, that he would probably be from Colorado, that he would probably be from Colorado, that he would probably be from Colorado.

Nimmer said he had no friends and that he would probably come from Colorado, that he would probably be from Colorado.

Kitchen utensils sought

Kitchen utensils of all kinds are needed for a service project conducted by Winner's Inc., a women's service group for prison inmates and their families.

The service group is organizing the construction of four mobile bungalows for use by families living inmates of the San Luis Obispo Men's Colony, said Randy Donant, advisor to Student Community Services (SCS), a campus service organization.

"They have everything they need except kitchen utensils," said Donant. "They haven't had any help from the community, so they asked us (SCS) to help. They felt that college students could identify with their problem."

Cheers for Baggett?

'Important issues back'

Editor:

Now that Robin Baggett has won the election, we can breathe a sigh of relief, knowing that we no longer need to worry about the fate of such beloved Cal Poly traditions as the lettermen's jackets. A true Cal Poly Mustang like Baggett would never allow such a blow to school spirit, like Baggett would never allow such a blow to school spirit, such a blow to school spirit, such a blow to school spirit, such a blow to school spirit, such a blow to school spirit, such a blow to school spirit.

Ballot box is voice box

by LINDA BARTER

With all the excitement about the Vietnam War, voting is one way to express an opinion. According to Thelma Iaola, San Luis Obispo elections room official, 48,540 people in this county will be able to voice their opinion on the ballot on the June 6 primary. Although there are 61,266 registered voters, only 48,540 people who declared affiliation with the Democratic or Republican Parties can participate in the California presidential primary.

Registration for the November election will again resume after the primary and continue until one month before the general election. After the names of the people who did not vote in the last presidential election were pulled, there were 53,833 registered voters in the county. Since that time the number has increased to 61,266 following recent registration drives. This is the first primary in which 18 to 20-year-olds can participate. A registration drive this campus to get the younger vote was headed by Melissa Green. According to Miss Green, there is no way to determine how many students actually registered.

"I think it was successful for those who are not aware of what's going on," said Miss Green. When the primary is over, the registration drive will probably begin again.

"In lieu of the recent happenings, people will probably realize they want a voice and more will register next time," said Miss Green.

The Democratic Party shows the most strength in number with 26,787 voters while the Republican Party has 21,814 voters.

The Peace and Freedom Party has 308 registered for their party and the American Independent Party attracted 168 registered voters. There are 3,146 persons who declared to have no party affiliation and 36 people who are in the miscellaneous category.

The numbers were not broken down to show the age of the voters, so there is no way to determine how many of the voters are in the 18 to 20-year-old bracket, according to Mrs. Iaola.

"We won't be able to tell just how many 18 to 20-year-olds are registered because that would mean someone would have to go through the stubs and check all the ages," said Mrs. Iaola. "But it will probably be done sometime for a survey."

After the primary, the next election for which San Luis Obispo city voters can participate will be the special city elections scheduled for June 26.

It all started here and it's not stopping.

Rodeo team competes in regional finals after win

With the National Finals coming closer and closer, the Mustang rodeo team is really turning on the heat. It smothered its opponents last weekend at Pierce College by winning the team championship with 600% points. The closest competitor, Hartnell, had 990 points.

In the last three rodeos that Poly has participated in, the Mustangs have practically doubled the score of the team in second place.

The women's team was well represented at the Pierce rodeo by Lisa MacGee, who shared the second and third place in the barrel race, and by Linda Gill and Colleen Bemna, who were second and third in the breakaway roping. The girls accumulated 200 points to take second place in the women's team standings.

The Mustangs took the all-around cowboy-category with Tom Ferguson placings first and Lee Rosser placing second. Ferguson won first in the calf roping and did it again in the steer wrestling. Rosser, a first-year man from Marysville, was first in the saddle bronc and also first in the ribbon roping.

Junior southpaw Dennis Root will attempt to become a Mustang record holder for most wins in a single season as the baseball team closes out its 1973 season today with San Diego State College at 3:30 p.m. at Poly Field. The Mustangs lost to Cal Lutheran on Tuesday, 5-4, with Mike Knabe absorbing the loss. The Garridomen, who possess a 30-18 record, will cap their second best year ever off with a game against one of the top teams in the Pacific Coast Athletic Association.

Making their last appearance for the locals will be seniors Dave Snow and Steve McFarland. Snow, who made all-league last year, is coming off his best season with a .390 average and has set a new league records and tied three in league play with 216. He leads the old record in both categories last season. First baseman Gary Knobbe is the record for most points with 314.
