DUMKE ADDRESS, DEDICATIONS FEATURED ON FOUNDERS DAY

Cal Poly's Founders Day observance on Tuesday, March 7, will include dedication of the presidential Poly House, a major address by Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke, and ceremonies to identify an historic tree planted by Cal Poly's first graduating class.

The Poly House dedication at 10 a.m. for all faculty, staff and administration will be attended by personnel who have participated in development of Poly House.

The landmark campus building, built in 1928, was last occupied by President and Mrs. Julian A. McPhee, until his retirement in 1966. When President Robert E. Kennedy was appointed president in 1967, he and Mrs. Kennedy expressed hope that the house could become an educational, cultural, and social asset for the campus community.

The facility has been redesigned, reconstructed, enlarged, and landscaped as the result of cooperative efforts by faculty and students and staff from several instructional and service departments. Major contributions were made by the School of Architecture and Environmental Design, the School of Engineering and Technology, and the Department of Ornamental Horticulture.

Expected to attend the dedication are Mr. and Mrs. Armistead Carter of San Diego, donors of new furnishings for the facility, which will be operated as a campus faculty and staff interdisciplinary center. Guidelines for use of Poly House and Poly Gardens have been issued in a revised Administrative Bulletin (71-5).

Address in Men's Gym at 11 a.m.

All students, faculty, and staff and the general public, as well as special guests, are invited to hear Dr. Dumke on Founders Day at 11 a.m. in the Men's Gym. Chancellor Dumke, who heads the California State College system which becomes the California State University and Colleges on March 4, will discuss topics of interest to all who are concerned with higher education in California.

His address, and the Founders Day observance, has been scheduled for Tuesday, rather than Wednesday (the actual 71st anniversary date) to accommodate all members of the college community who might otherwise be in classes and unable to attend the address.

Special guests at the chancellor's address and at a luncheon hosted by President Kennedy will be members of the San Luis Obispo Bicentennial Committee and San Luis Obispo Mayor Kenneth E. Schwartz, also a director of the School of Architecture and Environmental Design.

Following the luncheon Dr. Kennedy and Founders Day guests will gather in Poly Grove (1:30-2 p.m.) to place a plaque saluting the first Cal Poly graduating class of 1906 and identifying a valley oak planted by that class. The tree-planting began a 65-year-old unbroken tradition of class trees contributed to the campus. Sponsoring the event will be the Cal Poly Alumni Association, represented by Lew Litzie, president; John Lucin, vice president; and Robin Baldwin, for the Board of Directors.
CONCERT TOUR ANNOUNCED FOR SYMPHONIC BAND

The 1972 concert tour of the Symphonic Band of California State Polytechnic College, San Luis Obispo, will include 11 performances in Central and Northern California next month. The five-day tour will commence on March 20, and conclude on March 25.

Composed of 85 student musicians, the widely-known Cal Poly band will offer its programs of classical, popular, and dixieland music before audiences at high schools in Dinuba, Stockton, Sacramento, and Walnut Creek.

Evening concerts to which the public is invited are planned in Fresno, Tracy, Woodland, Richmond, and San Jose, and a special concert at the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children in San Francisco is also scheduled.

Conductor of the Symphonic Band is William V. Johnson (Music Department). The tour is jointly sponsored by the college Music Department and the Associated Students, Inc.

TWO VACANT POSITIONS LISTED BY FOUNDATION

Two vacant positions on the staff of the Cal Poly Foundation have been announced by Jack L. Fryer (Foundation Personnel Officer). Further information regarding both vacancies can be obtained by contacting the Foundation Personnel Office, CU-212, 546-2333, or the individual indicated in the position description below. The Cal Poly Foundation is an Affirmative Action Employer. The vacant positions are:

Clerical Assistant II-A ($457-$556) El Corral Bookstore Office. Must be fast and accurate typist with experience in report and statistical typing. Applicants must be high school graduates and have passed the College General Clerical Test. Applicants should apply at the Foundation Personnel Office, CU-212, 546-2333.

Graduate Nurse ($4.30 per hr.). Relief duty for weekends only. Permanent position from mid-September to mid-June. Applicants must have RN degree and a current California license. Interested persons should apply to the supervising nurse, Health Center, 546-2151.

GLEE CLUBS PLAN CONCERT FOR WOMEN'S CLUB ON FOUNDERS DAY

Cal Poly's Women's and Men's Glee Clubs will present their annual concert for the Cal Poly Women's Club on the evening of Founders Day. To be given during a general meeting of the Women's Club starting at 7:30 in the Cal Poly Theater, the program will be a preview of concerts planned by the two student vocal groups over the next several months. Both will be directed by Harold P. Davidson (Head of the Music Department). Members of the club and their guests are invited to attend.

SALARY WARRANTS AVAILABLE WEDNESDAY AT 4 P.M.

February salary warrants for faculty and staff of the college will be available at 4 p.m. on Wednesday (March 1), the last day of the pay period. Warrants batched by department may be picked up at the Cashier's Office, Adm-131-C, and those to be picked up on an individual basis will be available in the Business Affairs Division Office, Adm-114.
HANKS WILL BECOME HEAD OF MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT

Charles J. Hanks, a member of the Cal Poly faculty since 1954, will become head of the college Mathematics Department this fall. Appointment of Dr. Hanks to the position will become effective with start of the Fall Quarter in mid-September, according to President Robert E. Kennedy, who made the announcement.

Dr. Kennedy said Dr. Hanks will succeed Milo E. Whitson, who asked to be assigned to full-time classroom teaching duties after having been head of the Mathematics Department for the past 25 years.

Dr. Hanks joined the Cal Poly faculty after having been an assistant football coach at University of Arkansas for three years. Before that he taught at Drexel Institute of Technology in Pennsylvania for four years and was on active duty as an officer in the U.S. Coast Guard.

The new department head is a graduate of Pennsylvania State Teachers College at Shippenburg, University of Pennsylvania, and University of Arkansas, which granted him the Doctor of Education Degree in 1954.

He has continued as a reserve member of the Coast Guard, in which he holds the rank of captain. Presently he is chief of the USCG Western Districts Reserve Division, he has played an important role in development of the summer training program of that division for the past 12 years.

FIRST ISSUE OF NEW STUDENT MAGAZINE AVAILABLE ON CAMPUS

The traditional yearbook has been replaced by a slick paper magazine written for a special clientele at Cal Poly. Known as Outpost the new magazine is being published by Cal Poly's Associated Students, Inc., in an effort to provide a new form of communication for Cal Poly students. The 48-page premiere issue, published last week, is being sold on campus at $1.25 per copy.

Reflecting student concern for popular topics, Outpost highlights articles on student participation in municipal, state, and national elections; and the Student Tenants Association. Also included is an article on "Thank-God-Its-Friday" parties, and a revealing look at electronic-minded Cal Poly students whose hobby is outwitting the telephone company.

Contributors to Outpost are primarily students of Cal Poly's Journalism Department. Regular class credit is given to those who work on the publication. Donald N. Holt (Journalism Department) is the faculty advisor of the magazine and Nancy E. Seal, a sophomore, majoring in architecture, is editor.

Plans call for the second issue of the new magazine to be published in May to concur with the bicentennial celebration of the City of San Luis Obispo, and the city's annual La Fiesta festival.

Typewritten copy intended for the next issue of Cal Poly Report must be received prior to 12 noon Friday, March 3, in the Office of Information Services, Administration-210.
CHAMBER SINGERS ANNOUNCE PLANS FOR MISSIONS CONCERTS

Programs of early and contemporary music will be offered on March 12, 17, 18, and 19 when the 31 voices of Cal Poly's College Chamber Singers present their second annual concert tour of California Missions.

This year, the Chamber Singers, conducted by John Russell, will tour Missions of Northern California, with the musical assistance of members of the Cal Poly Chamber Orchestra under the baton of Clifton E. Swanson. Both Russell and Swanson are members of the Music Department faculty.

The concert series will open at Mission San Luis Obispo de Tolosa on Mission Plaza in downtown San Luis Obispo on Sunday, March 12. The concert will be open to the public. Admission will be free.

Also planned as part of the Cal Poly ensemble's tour are 90-minute concerts at Mission San Juan Bautista in San Juan Bautista; Mission Dolores, San Francisco; Mission San Rafael Archangel, San Rafael; and Mission Carmel in Carmel.

All of the concerts will stress musical authenticity, with many selections being presented in Latin, according to Russell. "Although we won't be outfitted in costumes of the period, the singers will be performing authentic music of that time, and in some missions we may even be singing in the actual choir lofts used at the time," he added.

Programmed for the tour performances are such numbers as Tomas Luis de Victoria's 'Missa "O Magnum Mysterium,"' Stravinsky's 'The Dove Descending Breaks the Air,' Bassett's 'Collect,' for chorus with electronic tape, and Bach's 'Concerto' in D major for harpsichord and strings.

Beside his teaching assignments, Dr. Hanks has been active as a member of the Cal Poly Academic Senate and the college-wide Registration and Scheduling Committee in recent years, and served as varsity golf coach from 1957 to 1969. He is a member of several professional and honorary societies in education, including Phi Delta Kappa.

Dr. Whitson, who became head of the Mathematics Department when he joined the college faculty in 1947, has seen its faculty grow from 8 to 45. He played a leading role in development of its two master's degree programs.

Before assuming his duties at Cal Poly, Dr. Whitson was a school teacher and administrator in Kansas, an officer in the U.S. Navy, and a lecturer in mathematics at University of Southern California.

He earned his Doctor of Education degree at USC after having graduated from Washburn College in Kansas and George Peabody College for Teachers in Tennessee.

Typewritten copy intended for the next issue of Cal Poly Report must be received prior to 12 noon Friday, Mar. 3, in the Office of Information Services, Administration-210.
CHECK IT OUT

(QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS will appear under the above heading from time to time when material is of general campus interest. Submit questions to Office of Information Services, Administration Room 210.)

Q. If and when Cal Poly becomes a university, what will its name be?

A. Assembly Bill 123 signed 11/29/71 by Governor Reagan provides specifically for California Polytechnic State University, San Luis Obispo and California State Polytechnic University, Pomona. Before any state college can change its name, it must meet criteria now being developed to determine eligibility. Reviewing bodies include the Board of Trustees and the Coordinating Council for Higher Education.

Q. What will become of the name California State Colleges?

A. Effective March 4, 1972, the system-wide name will change to The California State University and Colleges.

Q. If our office or organization is ordering forms or stationery, are we authorized to use the proposed name of California Polytechnic State University?

A. Despite the continuing rumors, no such authorization has been made.

Q. How can a department obtain student help for a public service campus project?

A. Alpha Phi Omega has asked to be advised of worthwhile projects. Dean of Students Everett Chandler will receive suggestions for this group or other student groups seeking service projects.

Q. How many students is the College scheduled to have next year?

A. The 1972-73 budget before the Legislature includes plans for 12,000 FTE. President Kennedy earlier withdrew a request for an increase to 12,500 FTE due to admissions trends, lack of facilities, and unavailability of faculty.

Q. What will be the names of the campus new residence hall and dining facility?

A. Recommended by the Administrative Council and approved recently by President Kennedy, the names are Sierra Madre, for the new residence hall, and Vista Grande, for the dining facility.

Q. What is the proposed 1972-73 Capital Outlay for this campus?

A. Cal Poly is shown as receiving $1.6 million of the $35.5 million provided for major construction in the Governor's budget. The Trustees had asked for $132 million, and Cal Poly had been seeking $17.9 million. The $1.6 million allocation will include 1) access road construction, $804,000; 2) convert Science I construction, $171,000; 3) working drawings to convert Science II, $18,000; 4) Engineering West addition construction, $524,000, and 5) working drawings for faculty office building, $90,000.
PURCHASE REQUISITION DEADLINES LISTED

All requests (Purchase Requisitions) for supplies or equipment which are to be charged to current 1971-72 appropriations must reach the college Purchasing Office within the next few weeks, according to Donald M. Vert (Procurement and Support Services Officer). Deadlines for receipt of the requests vary according to the circumstances of the individual purchase. They are:

- March 15 for those equipment items requiring further justification.
- April 15 for items which must be processed through the State Office of Procurement on estimate forms.
- June 1 for all items which can be purchased for $500 or less on a local order.

Additional information or clarification can be obtained from the college purchasing office, Adm-120, 546-2231.

"DISTINGUISHED MILITARY STUDENTS" NAMED

Four senior military science cadets have been designated as Distinguished Military Students by Col. William L. Hastie (Head of the Military Science Department). They are: Jeremiah F. Garretson, 21, an electronic engineering major; Bruce J. McCormick, 23, a business administration major; Michael J. McKay, 24, an engineering technology major; and Glenn S. Robertson, 21 an agriculture engineering major.

This is an honorary title bestowed upon senior cadets who display outstanding qualities of leadership and high moral character, have exhibited an aptitude and an interest in the military science, and have attained a standing in the upper third of their military science class and in half of the class in their particular academic major.

Many Distinguished Military Students, upon graduation, apply for, and are tendered Regular Army Commissions. This is the same type of commission received by graduates of the United States Military Academy at West Point.

STAFF SENATE RECOGNITION LUNCHEON WILL BE MARCH 15

The Cal Poly Staff Senate's second annual buffet luncheon honoring staff members who have worked at the college for 25 or more years, will take place in the Student Dining Room - East starting at 12 noon on March 15. Staff members with 10 years of service who were not recognized last year, will also be honored. President Robert E. Kennedy will present the Awards.

The Personnel Committee of the Staff Senate, which is arranging the event, is hopeful that all members of the college staff will attend and honor their co-workers. Tickets for the luncheon are priced at $2 per person. They may be purchased until March 8 from Mrs. Lucy Schmidt (General Office Supervisor) in Adm-132.

The Records Office, Adm-219, will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, March 18, to receive Winter Quarter grades.
TEXAS MAN APPOINTED TO HEAD TRANSPORTATION ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT

Andrew D. Jones, a graduate research instructor at Purdue University for the past two years and a member of the Texas Highway Department's professional engineering staff for 18 years before that, will become head of Cal Poly's Transportation Engineering Department this fall. His appointment, announced this week by President Robert E. Kennedy, will become effective on Sept. 18.

Selection of Jones to fill the post ends a search that has continued since organization of the department and its Bachelor of Science Degree program in mid-1970, according to Archie Higdon (Dean of Engineering and Technology). Various members of the School of Engineering and Technology faculty have filled the position on an interim basis in the meantime.

The new department head is a graduate of University of Houston and University of Texas and has taken additional graduate work at University of Texas at El Paso. He expects to complete requirements for his Doctor of Philosophy Degree in water resources and transportation at Purdue in July before assuming his duties at Cal Poly.

During his 18 years with the Texas Highway Department, Jones has served as district construction engineer, supervising planning engineer, and senior designing engineer. He has also taught graduate courses in civil engineering at UTEP on a part-time basis.

A registered professional engineer in Texas, the new department head is a member of Tau Beta Pi national honorary society for engineers, the Institute of Traffic Engineers, the Texas Society of Professional Engineers, and the American Society of Civil Engineers.

FORMER STUDENT IS SUBJECT FOR A A H P E R ARTICLE

Evelyn Pellaton (Women's Physical Education Department), and Linda McArthur, 1971 physical education graduate from Cal Poly who is presently a teaching assistant at New Mexico Highlands University, have co-authored an article titled "Deaf Athletes, a Challenge to the Track and Field Official." The article appears in the January, 1972, issue of the Official Track and Field Guide, a national publication of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

The article concerns the experiences of Miss McArthur at the World Olympic Games for the Deaf in Yugoslavia in 1969. It is a story of how a deaf girl competes with the hearing world and learns to adjust, mainly through proficiency in lip-reading, only to find that at the Deaf Olympics all directions for the participants were given in sign language.

Miss McArthur learned to live with the hearing on their own terms, and had not found it necessary to learn to use sign language. Because of her many track experiences prior to the Olympics, she was able to adjust readily to this new situation. The article further describes her excitement in winning for the United States a silver medal as a member of the 400-meter relay team, and in taking sixth place in the 400-meter dash.

The Personnel Office has a supply of federal and state income tax report forms available for the convenience of college employees. Those who wish may obtain copies of the reports by contacting the Personnel Office, Adm-110, 546-2236.
SURVEY WILL AID FINANCIAL AID FUND REQUESTS

A survey that will be conducted among members of the college student body during the Spring Quarter registration period is expected to provide data to support annual applications to the federal government for Financial Aid Program funds, according to a statement issued by President Robert E. Kennedy. The nine University of California campuses, several state colleges including those on the quarter system, and many of the state's community colleges are all participating in the project.

The survey form will be distributed to each of the degree-granting departments of the college and then be given to students by their advisors at the time they pick up their registration booklets for the Spring Quarter. All students will be asked to complete the forms and to return them to a specially-marked table in the registration line on March 24-25.

Consisting of 67 questions pertaining to academic and financial status, the "Student Resources Survey" is expected to take only a few minutes to complete. Students are being urged by the Student Affairs Division to obtain a copy of the form on March 9 when they preschedule, complete it by checking the appropriate boxes and items, and have the unsigned form ready to turn in when they register.

Completed survey forms will be shipped to a central state processing point. When the analysis has been completed, the resulting information will be used in applications for requests for additional financial aid funds and other funds to provide new student services and facilities. Each participating college will also receive the data gathered from the survey of its student body for its own use and analysis.

BUSINESS SEMINAR HOSTED BY STUDENTS AND FACULTY

Students and faculty of the Business Administration Department hosted 14 business executives from leading corporations in the Western United States during their annual business seminar last Thursday and Friday (Feb. 24-25). During the seminar, the visiting executives attended classes and conducted meaningful dialogues with hundreds of students interested in careers in business and industry.

A highlight of the conference was a review of the Business Administration Department's curriculum with the faculty in an effort to make it as relevant, current, and useful as possible.

The seminar was organized and sponsored by the student chapter of the Society for Advancement of Management (SAM) as a part of their program of bridging the gap between classroom experiences and the realities of the business world. William Reifers was the student seminar coordinator and Col. W. M. Boyce (Business Administration Department), the faculty advisor.

COFFEE HOUR WILL HONOR HESSE ON RETIREMENT

Friends of Raymond T. Hesse, who is retiring as chief of custodial services at Cal Poly on March 2, are invited to a coffee hour in his honor in the Staff Dining Room from 2 to 4 p.m. on Wednesday, March 1.

Monday, March 13, will be the last day of classes for the 1972 Winter Quarter.

ARTS, HUMANITIES SERIES PROGRAM PLANNED ON THURSDAY

"The Message is the Medium" will be the topic for the third program in a series of discussions on the arts and humanities on Thursday (March 2) at 11:15 a.m. in AgEngr-123. The program will feature a discussion by David Bodlak (Art Department) and John McKinstry (Social Sciences Department). Admission will be free and the public is invited to attend. The discussion series, known as "The Arts and Humanities '72," is being sponsored by the School of Communicative Arts and Humanities. Other programs are presently scheduled for April 13, May 4, and May 18.
MARCH 1 DEADLINE FOR REQUESTING CHANGE OF TENURE STATUS

Wednesday (March 1) is the last day in which probationary full-time academic employees who began full-time service during an academic year prior to Sept. 1, 1971, may request to be placed under the new tenure provisions of Title 5, California Administrative Code. Such a request must be submitted in writing to the president according to Larry Voss (Director of Personnel Relations).

Among the changes under the new provisions are (1) a shortened probationary period from the normal four-year pattern if the president finds that an early award of tenure is advantageous to the institution; and (2) an extended probationary period to five or six academic years if the president determines that more time is necessary to evaluate the faculty member for tenure purposes.

Anyone having questions concerning eligibility to be placed under the new provisions or about the advantages and disadvantages of these regulations should call Voss on 546-2844 or stop by Adm-111.

CAMPUS SADDENED BY DEATH OF GEORGE DRUMM

The campus community was saddened by the death of George Drumm, former head of the college Dairy Department, last Friday (Feb. 25). He died in a San Luis Obispo hospital following a lengthy illness. Funeral services were held yesterday (Monday, Feb. 28) in the First Presbyterian Church, San Luis Obispo. Burial services were held at the Los Osos Valley Memorial Park near Los Osos.

Drumm, who was 73, became a member of the Cal Poly faculty in 1930 and served as head of the Dairy Department until 1957. An emeritus member of the faculty since that designation was established, he belonged to many honorary and professional societies including the American Dairy Science Association. He is survived by his widow, Helen.

Memorial contributions in Drumm's memory may be sent to the Memorial Fund, First Presbyterian Church, San Luis Obispo.

STAFF CLUB PLANNING TAHOE OUTING FOR QUARTER BREAK

Three-days amid the pines and beside the shore of beautiful Lake Tahoe is available to Cal Poly Staff Club members during the Spring Quarter break. Charlie Mendenhall (Information Services Office), Staff Club president, reports by popular demand, the Staff Club has arranged with Olive Vencent for another Greyhound charter bus trip to a reknowned resort area.

Members of the faculty or student body may submit nominations. The nominee must be a member of the teaching faculty during the 1971-72 academic year. When completed, this sheet together with any supporting information should be mailed to Dr. Donald W. Hensel, History Department, Chairman of the Committee on Distinguished Teaching Awards, by March 17, 1972.

I nominate ____________________________ to receive the Distinguished Teaching Award for the 1971-72 academic year at Cal Poly.

Nominator

A statement in support of the nomination is requested. Please use the space below and on the back, or attach additional sheets if necessary.

The committee, which will select three teachers to receive the awards, is named by the Academic Senate and makes its recommendations directly to President Robert E. Kennedy.

In considering the qualities that mark a distinguished teacher, the committee uses criteria such as:

- Evident student improvement in critical and analytical ability.
- Student ability to apply learning to relevant problems.
- High degree of personal interaction between students and instructor.
- Depth and breadth of instructor competency.
- High personal standards of professional integrity.
- Subject matter consistently accurate and fundamental.
- Lectures interesting and well organized.
- Impact of own knowledge and experience in teaching.
- Teaching procedures contribute to student enthusiasm and high performance level.
